Prince County Fish and Game Ass'n Meeting

Mr. E. N. MacQuarrie, Summerside, was elected president of the Prince County Fish and Game Association at the annual meeting held in the Town Hall, Summerside, last evening.

The retiring president, Mr. John E. Campbell, who presided at the first part of the meeting was elected honorary president.

The following members of the association were also elected: Fred Semple, Kensington; Frank Platts, Tyne Valley; Douglas Bell, Carleton; R. C. Dennis, O'Leary; Omar Bernard, Tignish; D. H. Gallant, Miscouche; W. R. Oulton, Alberton.

Two directors were elected to serve with the president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer on the Provincial executive and are: Richard Wood, Bideford and Charles MacFarlane, Bedeque.

Mr. John E. Campbell in his presidential report said that when he took office when the Association was organized about a year ago, conditions were bad as regards the breaking of the law in regard to the trout fishing regulations.

When a warden was appointed by the Association last summer he was instructed to advise the people breaking the law and the penalties for that this brought good results but he felt that this year prosecutions would have to be entered against persons who persist in disregarding the regulations.

There are four practices, he said, which are hurting the sport, netting, pumping out and putting potatoes in streams and rotten lime in streams as the result of washing potato utensils.

Mr. Campbell advised hunters and fishermen to be courteous towards the farmers on whose property they are trespassing and give cooperation. He said that if headway is not made against the dangerous practices of law breakers in a few years trout fishing will be a thing of the past.

He suggested that holes be dug in streams with mud diggers which would provide the trout with hiding places.

Mr. Norman MacLeod reported that during the year three lots of Chukker partridge were released in the County and reports indicate they are doing well.

Mr. Campbell advised hunters and fishermen to be courteous towards the farmers on whose property they are trespassing and give cooperation. He said that if headway is not made against the dangerous practices of law breakers in a few years trout fishing will be a thing of the past.

Mr. MacNaught Returns From Fisheries Talks

Mr. J. Watson MacNaught, M.P., Parliamentary assistant to the Minister of Fisheries said yesterday on his return from the annual east coast fisheries conference held in Fredericton, N.B. that he was pleased with the part delegates from this Province took at the meeting.

He commented that it was the feeling of the conference that if the fisheries of the east coast are to expand as they should, then the Provincial Governments and industry must be prepared to bear their share of the responsibility along with the Federal Government.

Mr. MacNaught said that since his return he had received word from the Federal Department of Public Works that the idea of changing the site of the new Federal building from the Allen property on Summer Street to the Saunders property on Central Street has been approved in principle and only the details need to be worked out.

The Allen property was purchased by the Dominion Government for this new building. Recently the idea was suggested that an exchange should be made with the Town which owns the Saunders property and which is much larger and more suitable in many ways. It is understood that only the amount of money involved in exchanging the properties remains to be settled. It is thought that as soon as the deal is concluded a contract will be let for the building and construction commenced this spring.

PROTECTED QUEBEC
The Quebec Act, passed in 1774 by Britain after the conquest of the French colony, was aimed at preserving the old French civilization against changes by English settlers.

such conditions would amount to increased sales. As a result of a contract made by the Department of Agriculture during the past week the last of the 1949 cheese make has been disposed of. This cheese was not No. 1 grade which disappeared a long time ago at a fairly good price. The fact that the remnants of the 1949 production had to be held to this late date with storage costs added and sold at a reduced price is evidence of the need of efficient cheese factory operation.

The butter and cheese factories will soon be opening for the spring and summer with increased volume of trade and it is suggested that factory and creamery managements get together at the earliest opportunity to employ qualified personnel and manufacturers, and lay out a programme destined to produce products that will challenge competition.

The feed market has undergone no material change since last week.

It is estimated that as a result of the improvements in the establishment of high analysis fertilizers instituted within past years Maritime farmers saved almost $180,000 in 1949.

Under date of January 27th, Nova Scotia reports a factory price of 63c P.O.B. Halifax with local jobbing at 65c.

The Montreal price of 60c f.o.b. Montreal on No. 1 solids has been unchanged for the past six weeks, and Toronto butter is unchanged at 60c.

Quotations from New Brunswick state that creamery butter levels remained the same on all markets during the week of January 27th. Creameries to wholesalers 1/2 pound flats were 62c with price to retail stores at 64c. The jobbing price on the Charlottetown market dropped on January 30th to 62c. The wholesale price remained steady at 61c. For the week ending January 21st, 52,817 pounds butter were manufactured compared with 44,641 pounds in the same week in 1949, an increase of 18 per cent.

A somewhat similar situation exists across Canada. The demand for print butter from all markets in Nova Scotia appears extremely dull and the price quotations from the neighbouring Provinces was surprising in view of the general market conditions.

With the exception of two or possibly three creameries, current manufacture in this Province is definitely very well. There is a definite difficulty today in disposing of print butter particularly in two pound prints. At the same time No. 1 solids have been sold in larger creameries on the Mainland and in New Brunswick much easier than prints may be sold. In view of this demand there is no justification in continuing the manufacture of prints and lowering the price of prints to or below the level that can be secured for solids.

One of the greatest factors contributing to the slow sales experienced at present in Nova Scotia's market is the interprovincial trade in butter from the west. Apparently considerable quantities of butter were produced in the early part of last summer by some industrial concerns for a price less than that of the floor price established by the Dairy Products Board. This butter is now coming into the Maritimes and can be sold at a price considerably below that of the price established by the Board. It is questionable whether a drop in the Island price under

TO THE ELECTORS
At the request of a large number of citizens I have agreed to offer as candidate in the East Ward as Councillor in the forthcoming civic election.

Having been born in Summerside and lived here all my life, I feel that I am familiar with local conditions and it is my opinion that the Town affairs can be financed without raising taxes. If elected I agree to work in the best interests of the Town in general and the East Ward in particular and I hereby solicit your support on election day, February 7th.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

The St. Dunstan University hockey team which comes to Crystal Rink in Summerside Saturday night has representatives from four different centres in and around Prince County.

Belmont, is from Wellington; Rodgers hails from Borden; Allison Farmer comes from Kinkora and Stanley "Hammer" Deignan hails from Summerside. We almost forgot that sensational young player, Bernard who calls Tignish home. Yes, and there's Mark McQuaid from Kensington. You might almost call them the Prince County All-Stars.
