Senate Rejects Truman's Strike Legislation

WASHINGTON May 29 —(AP) —President Truman's strike-draft plan was rejected by the Senate late today, a short time after Congress sent him a sweeping anti-strike and Union control measure which some leaders said he might veto.

The drastic provision authorizing induction of anyone who persists in striking in an industry seized by the Government was knocked out of the President's emergency labor bill, 70 to 13. A powerful coalition of Republicans and Democrats argued it would violate national traditions of freedom and convert the army into a "penal institution."

The vote came shortly after the Government announced a settlement of the coal strike, which with the railroad tieup that ended last Saturday, had aroused clamorous demands for legislative action.

city of building material and the high cost of building lots within commuting distance of the City.

With reference to the charges of vandalism being committed in the area, one resident said there had been several acts of petty thievery but that the thefts had not been committed by the tenants but for the most part by non-residents of Maple Hills, some of whom had come out at night with trucks and had carried several articles of value away.

Would Mean Tie-up

In the meantime, according to Mr. A. V. Ainsworth, local general manager of the Maritime Electric Company, there is nothing definite known as to when, if ever, the shutting off of the electric power from the Maple Hills area will become a fact. But if and when it does, Mr. Ainsworth said, "...ere will immediately arise a serious health problem as there will be no means of disposal for sewerage and no water for the three or four hundred children now at Maple Hills.

However, Mr. Ainsworth said, the Maritime Electric Company "could not be expected to hold the bag for any department of the Dominion Government or for any other agency or corporation involved in the project." If payment for the supplying of electric power to the area was not guaranteed by some responsible authority, then the power would be shuit off, Mr. Ainsworth said.

Other Viewpoints

Others interested in the project said when interviewed that the supplying of electric power to the 99 families now at the airport was the direct responsibility of the Provincial Government. The shutting off of power from Maple Hills would, they said, be a catastrophe just as much as if the residents of any rural community in the Province were suddenly deprived of water and of heating facilities.

Last Tuesday night, the residents of Maple Hills held a meeting and formed a council to look after the welfare of the community. That council comprises J. L. McDonald, president, and the following executive: L. Higgins, Allan McKay, Fred Purcer, Victor Douse, Lloyd H. Wigmore, and Lloyd O'Brien. None of the members of the council would definitely commit himself last night as to whether or not they would present their case to the local branch of the Canadian Legion at its monthly meeting which is being held this evening.

Mayor B. Earle MacDonald said last night the reconversion of the airport for the housing project had cost the City $15,000.

by another gentleman. Since that time, the work of the board has not been nearly so satisfactory to the exporters who are interested in this matter in the Maritime Provinces."

While assuring the Saint John member of continuance of the Board's operations, Mr. Gardiner declined to answer the implied criticism of Mr. Tucker's successor. A successful potato-grower in Ontario prior to entering the government service, Mr. Tucker has enjoyed international repute as a potato expert for many years past and in Ottawa is considered as the chief official responsible for the high quality and repute enjoyed by Canadian certified seed potatoes in many countries.

Lobsters For B. C.

Shipment of large numbers of lobsters from the Atlantic seaboard to British Columbia to start a lobster industry there, has revived the old charge that the reason former experimental shipments of these crustaceans did not survive in the Pacific was sheer carelessness in handling.

The claim is made, and even whispered around the offices of the Department of Fisheries in Ottawa, that earlier shipments of lobsters were sent with wooden pegs in their claws, according to standard practice. When the lobsters arrived at their British Columbia destination, their handlers, unfamiliar with the habits, neglected to remove the pegs from the claws with the result that all died of slow starvation.

There will be no danger of this situation recurring with the present shipments, it is said. Experienced lobstermen will be associated with biologists in the transfer of the shipment from the eastern to the western sea.

Site selected for the new Pacific lobster industry, The Guardian is informed, is geographically not unlike that where lobsters are found in Prince Edward Island. On the east shore of Vancouver Island and protected from heavy Pacific storms, the 95 acres set aside for the new lobster-farm lies on the Strait of Georgia, some 50 miles from Vancouver. One of the most interested parties to the new experiment is Major-General G. R. Pearkes, V.C., C.B., Progressive-Conservative member for Nanaimo, constituency in which the experiments are being carried out.

Woman In Coma Gives Birth To Normal Child

ALLENTOWN, Pa., May 29—A 24-year-old wife of a soldier in a condition of "suspended death" for six months gave birth to an apparently normal child, her physician reported today.

Mrs. Leland Wenger's four-pound daughter spent its first day in an oxygen tent at Allentown hospital. Attendants said the baby is in good condition.

The mother suffered a brain injury last November when she and her husband, a corporal then stationed at Indiantown Gap, Pa., were in an automobile collision.

Still in critical condition, she had been fed through a stomach tube and until recently physicians had been anxious about chances of the child surviving. However, delivery was normal after rapid labor. No anesthetics were used.

Dr. Gabriel A. Schwartz said Mrs Wenger is not in a coma but that only vital organs of her body independent of the brain appear to function and maintain life.

The condition was caused by severe multiple brain hemorrhages he said, which resulted in complete paralysis of her limbs and facial and throat muscles so that she cannot move, talk, eat or even smile.

However, Dr. Schwartz observed that the mother apparently is semi-conscious because her eyes move, tears sometimes overflow them and they indicate occasional recognition of visitors.

Beagan-Vessey Nuptials

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Dunstan's Basilica on Tuesday morning, May 28th at eight o'clock when Miss Mary Mildred Vessey, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Vessey, Charlottetown was united in marriage to Mr. Everett Owen Beagan, also of Charlottetown, and son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Beagan of Mt. Ryan.

Rev. L. A. Dougan performed the ceremony and also celebrated the Nuptial Mass.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. William J. Vessey, was winsome in a floor-length gown of heavenly blue taffeta with small matching hat in halo effect and fingertip veil. A bouquet of red roses completed the charming ensemble.

Miss Evangeline Vessey, who was her sister's bridesmaid, was wearing a floor-length gown in dusty rose and carried a bouquet of pale yellow roses.

Mr. Thomas A. McAdam supported the groom.

During the Mass, appropriate hymns were sweetly rendered by Master Elmo Beagan and his three little sisters, Betty, Beryl and Margaret, while Mr. Martin Power of Mt. Ryan sang several hymns very effectively. Mrs. Joseph Dougan presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served at the Charlottetown Hotel to the immediate relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. J A Bentley and responded to by the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Beagan left by plane on a wedding trip to New York, followed by hosts of good wishes.

For travelling, the bride chose a gold wool suit with top coat, hat and accessories in brown. On their return, Mr. and Mrs Beagan will reside in Charlottetown where the groom holds a position as engineer with the C.N.R.

Comments On Bacon Trade

OTTAWA May 29—During the agricultural discussion in the House of Commons tonight, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Canada could not hope to compete with Eire and Denmark for the British bacon market if all the good bacon was retained in Canada and the poor quality product sent to the United Kingdom.

He added that Canada was sending between 75 and 85 per cent of her bacon to Britain, with the amount boosted to 90 per cent during the last two months of 1945. If the best bacon was turned to the Canadian market the bacon price would decline.

A Pimple Covered Face Kills Many a Romance

The lives of many young people are made miserable by the breaking out of pimples, and you probably know of cases where a promising romance has been spoiled by those red, white, festering and pus filled sores on the face.

The trouble is not so much physical pain, but the mental suffering caused by the embarrassing disfigurement which very often makes the sufferer ashamed to go out in company.

The quickest way to get rid of pimples is to improve the general health by a thorough cleansing of the blood.

Burdock Blood Bitters helps to cleanse the blood and with the blood cleansed the complexion should clear up.

Kinsmen Spring Carnival Away To Fine Start

The Magician Himself

The Spring Carnival got off to a big start last night with the largest opening crowd in many years.

Held at the Armouries, under the auspices of the Kinsmen Club, it was officially opened by His Honour, Lieut.-Governor J. A. Bernard. His Worship, Mayor B. Earle MacDonald was also present. Both His Honour and His Worship commended the purpose for which the Carnival was being held, that of raising funds for playgrounds for City children and also for the support of local charities.

Auburn of Montreal, internationally known magician, performed feats of legerdemain which had the crowd mystified and thrilled. This afternoon, he will entertain the patients of the Provincial Sanatorium with some of his mystifying card tricks.

Last night the midway, bingo, home-cooking booths were well patronized. The door prize was not drawn last night but there will be a double drawing tonight.

The Carnival will conclude tomorrow night.

Butter Prices Are Discussed

OTTAWA, May 29— (CP)—Discussions have been reopened as to whether the margin between the floor and the ceiling price of butter should be narrowed, Agriculture Minister Gardiner said today in the Commons.

Mr. Gardiner said the discussions had been reopened after the price of butter dropped on some markets.

"Under the price ceilings and price floors a margin of four cents had been allowed, and at the time four-cent advance was made in the ceiling there was a question as to whether we were raising the floor sufficiently high when we made that advance of four cents.

"While that matter was under discussion butter was selling at a certain price and immediately the discussion was dropped butter did go down. It might have been two cents at one point, a cent-and-a-half somewhere else and two-and-a-half-cents in some other place.

"Immediately that was reported to me by one of the members of the House I opened discussions again as to whether we should have a narrow margin between the floor and the ceiling, and that question is under consideration at the moment. If we narrow that margin it will have some effect on the present situation."

Ukranians Debate Before Senate Group

(By The Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, May 29—The Senate Immigration Committee today provided a forum for a hot argument between rival Ukranian factions on the admittance of displaced persons in Europe to Canada with two priests charging that the labor faction was presenting the official view of the Kremlin.

The Ukranian Canadian Committee, claiming to represent 95 per cent of Canada's 300,000 Ukranian population, presented a 10,000 word brief saying that their compatriots in displaced persons camps in Europe were anxious to escape Russian "dictatorship" and come to Canada.

The Association of Canadian Ukranians claiming to represent 20 per cent of Canadian Ukranians, said the displaced persons were mostly war criminals and former collaborators who should not be admitted to this country.

Steve Macievich, Toronto editor of a Canadian Ukraine labor paper, urged that great care should be taken because the ranks of these displaced persons were shot through with Nazi collaborators and war criminals.

Rev. Dr. B. Kushnir and Rev. S. W. Sawchuk, respectively Greek Catholic and Greek Orthodox priests of Winnipeg, said Mr. Machievich spoke with the voice of Moscow and gave the official Communist Party line which was that all the Ukranians should return to Russia.

They should not have to be forced to return to that country where they had no religious freedom the priests said.

Keep Siamese Plea Off U.N. Agenda

NEW YORK, May 29—(AP)—Trygve Lie, United Nations Secretary General, has decided not to lay before the U. N. Security Council a Siamese plea for help against France but the way still is open for any of the 51 members of the United Nations to call for Council action.

The spokesman said Mr. Lie regarded the telegram asking "assistance" against "unjustified aggression" by France as a request for sympathy and not as an official complaint.

Acquitted In Death Of Island Soldier

OTTAWA, May 29 — (CP) — Lionel Groulx, 30, of suburban Eastview, was acquitted of a charge of manslaughter by an assize jury in Ontario Supreme Court here today.

Mr. Justice E.R.E. Chevrier upheld a motion for acquittal on grounds there was no proof Groulx was driver of a car which struck and fatally injured Cpl Myron Wesley Cole, of Spring Valley P E I, here last March 15. He ruled there was insufficient circumstantial evidence upon which a jury might convict. The jury returned a verdict of acquittal without leaving the court.

Defence Loses In Day-Long Rose Trial Battle

By ALAN RANDAL

MONTREAL, May 29 — (CP) — A decision from the bench that testimony and documents provided by Igor Gouzenko do not enjoy diplomatic immunity and instead are admissable evidence today sent the conspiracy trial of Fred Rose into its first full flush of evidence-taking.

With this ruling, coming after hours of rapid-fire defence argument that in law the question of diplomatic immunity was involved, Gouzenko started unfolding for the jury his story of a Soviet espionage ring operating in Canada, a story he learned while he was a secret cipher clerk in the Russian Embassy in Ottawa.

Actually it was the legal battle between chief defence counsel Joseph Cohen, K.C. and Hon. Philippe Brais, K.C., special prosecutor for the Federal Attorney-General, that caught attention rather than Gouzenko's introduction to his espionage story.

The 27-year-old Russian, linch-pin in the Crown's case against Rose on charges of conspiring to communicate information to Russia, has told his story before—at the preliminary hearing here last March of the Labor-Progressive member of Parliament and at Ottawa, in court and before the Royal Commission on Espionage.

Mr. Cohen sprang to the attack early in the day after Gouzenko had been brought to the witness box from his secret, police-guarded hideout and after the public had been cleared from the courtroom.

He went back to the days of Queen Anne, to a British law passed in 1708, to back up his contention that an ambassador and his retinue enjoyed diplomatic immunity and argued that if Gouzenko's story was based on documents taken from the Russian Embassy in Ottawa and on knowledge he gained in his job then the court should uphold the law of diplomatic immunity and rule the Gouzenko evidence inadmissable.

Mr. Brais, on the other hand argued an ambassador enjoyed immunity only insofar as he did nothing prejudicial to the country of his appointment and he and Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure were in agreement that the documents in question were not diplomatic documents but papers of a secret spying organization.

Mr. Justice Lazure, presiding over Court of King's Bench, ruled: "The privilege of diplomatic immunity is superseded by the safety and welfare of Canada. What was done was against the safety of Canada."

When the court rose, it was announced tomorrow would be observed as Ascension Day — a holiday in Quebec Province—and the adjournment was until 10 a.m., Friday after which there will be a half-day sitting Saturday.

14 Nazis Hanged By U.S. Army

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

LANDSBERG, Germany, May 29 —(AP) — Fourteen more Nazis were hanged by the United States Army today in a grim four-hour drama, completing the execution of 28 men found responsible for the sadistic torture killing of 300,000 prisoners at the infamous Dachau concentration camp. The first 14 were hanged Tuesday.

In the shadow of the cellblock at old Landsberg Prison where Hitler wrote "Mein Kampf," his followers walked one by one up the 13 steps to one of the twin scaffolds and oblivion. Most died in silence.

They came from all walks of life. Among them were scientists; artists who played Bach and Brahms; ham-fisted brutes who delighted in sadism; men like Anton Endres, who aided in experiments in the effect of freezing on the human body—experiments which ended with the death of unnumbered victims.

Here were men like Christoph Knoll, 50-year-old habitual criminal, a pre-war Dachau prisoner who, because of his specialty of brutality, was made a trusty and given authority to beat prisoners into unconsciousness.

Flag Decision Left To Sub-Committee

OTTAWA, May 29 — (CP) —The Parliamentary Flag Committee today left the next step in choosing a distinctive national flag design to a sub-committee of nine who will report a recommendation in mid-June.

This decision was reached at a session where disagreement was expressed on a compromise, where Jean Francois Pouliot (L—Temiscouata) suggested the Union Jack be retained as the Empire flag with a distinctive Canadian design as the national flag, and where Rev. E.G. Hansell (SC—MacLeod) suggested the two designs remaining in the field be made the object of a national plebiscite.

HOUSE BRIEFS

OTTAWA, May 29—(CP)—Transport Minister Chevrier said today in the Commons no action was "indicated" on a section of the Canada Shipping Act dealing with seamen who desert their ships or neglect their duty. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, yesterday asked Mr. Chevrier to consider removing an "anachronism" which he said permitted the arrest of striking seamen as deserters.

Defence Minister Abbott said there were some 12,000 to 14,000 wives of Canadian servicemen still in Britain and awaiting transportation to Canada.

The Senate gave third and final reading today to the Canadian Citizenship Bill which has already passed the Commons. With Royal Assent, it will become a statute, giving Canadians for the first time a nationality of their own.

The Canadian permanent Navy had recruited 5,115 officers and ratings up to May 1—a figure only about half its establishment, according to a return made in the Commons today for John Diefenbaker (PC-Lake Centre).

PITTSBURGH, May 29 — (AP) —The American Baseball Guild today petitioned the Pittsburgh regional office of the National Labor Relations Board for certification as collective bargaining agent for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The petition, first of its kind in the history of major league baseball, was filed by Robert Murphy, of Boston, Labor Relations director of the Guild.

Bush Squash Grow Fast And Give Big Variety

For gardens which have room for them, bush squash provide an early and all summer harvest of delicious vegetables, which are increasingly popular as new ways to cook them become familiar.

In two months from the time seed are sown, many forms of summer squash are ready for the table; and all may be served at any stage, from tiny fruits a week old to full maturity.

A favorite with many gardeners is the Italian marrow, which grows to a weight of several pounds, but can be used when only a few inches long, for a dish which only the home gardener can enjoy at its best since these baby squash will not retain their quality when shipped to the market.

Bush squash should be planted in hills, three to four feet apart, and separated by at least that distance from neighboring plants, otherwise they will overrun and smother their neighbors. A handful of plant food mixed well with the soil under the hill will speed up growth, and increase the yield. Sincethe fruits are largely water, provision for supplying water to the plants during dry spells should be made. One planting is sufficient, as the plants will continue to bear, provided the fruits are not allowed to mature, until frost kills them.

Squash are among the tenderest of plants and should not be planted until the ground is warm and all danger of frost is over. The principal insect enemy is the squash borer which lays its eggs at the base of the plant, where it emerges from the ground. Dusting at this point with D. D. T. dust during June and July will protect the plants from this pest.

The striped cucumber beetle often attacks young squash plants; and dusting with D. D. T. or rotenone from the time they start growing until they have grown a foot or more is advisable to protect them.

Winter squashes which grow as vines are planted at the same time as summer squashes, but most varieties require 100 days to mature Among them are a group which can be baked and are as sweet as melons, including Butternut, Buttercup Sweet Potato, Acorn (Table Queen) and others.

Italian Marrows may be served at all stages of growth

Trio Found Guilty In Boxer's Death

NEW YORK, May 28 — (AP) — A jury late today returned a verdict of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy against three men accused of the slaying of Al (Bummy) Davis, former boxer, in the holdup of a Brooklyn tavern, last Nov. 21.

The defendants, Vincent Giarraffa, 23, John Romano, 24, and Russell Donohoe 23, were left pale and speechless by the verdict.

Under the jury's decision Judge Samuel S Leibowitz may sentence the men either to life imprisonment or death. Date for sentencing was not announced immediately.

BUSINESS IN HALIFAX BOOMED

HALIFAX, May 28 — (CP) — Business in Halifax boomed 15% per cent above normal in the war years, the Nova Scotia Department of Industry disclosed today in a report on bank transactions for 1938-45. The increase was the largest proportionately of any clearing house centre east of Ottawa.

A coating devised in paint laboritories during the war for use on the famous mosquito fighter bombers is forecast as an aid to improving bowling alleys of the future. The coating is said to make the boards tougher and faster.

More "didu'ts" than "dids" came out of the Big Four foreign ministers' Paris parley to draft peace treaties for the Axis satellites as shown on the map above. In addition to disagreements indicated, the conferees failed to decide on Italian reparations; disposition of former Italian colonies; fate of the Italian fleet; and continued occupation of Italy.
