NOT AFRAIDS AGAIN WINNERS

The "Not Afraids" not afraid to throw their hats in the ring with any lady bowling aggregation in the Maritimes, again won their match last Wednesday night, defeating a team of men bowlers. This fine quintette won fifteen straight games last year from girls teams from the L. O. C. and "Y" by large majorities, besides beating several men's teams and mixed teams. They have never been defeated by a girls' team, yet.

This is the second victory over the "Spartans" this year in a series of three games. First game by a majority of 135 pins with a total of 2449, and Wednesday night, second game by a majority of 50 pins, with a total of 2387. Jewar Clow rolled high single and high three, 272 and 671 respectively. Third games will be rolled next week.

It would be a good idea to get a league formed and draw a schedule with a team representing the L. O. C. and one from "Y" for this season's championship.

Dr. Christopher Has Fast One

We are pleased to learn from the American Horse Breeder that Dr. F. W. Christopher, who for years has taken an active part in harness racing in the Maritime Provinces, is also a well known figure in the Bay State racing circles.

On Saturday, Oct. 12th, at the Charles River Speedway, he drove Emma Azoff, by Azoff, dam Miss Emma by J. Malcolm Forbes, Granjomo Mendoza Worby, by Axworthy, and made a strong bid for first money in the two-year-old $1500.00 stake. It is the opinion of good judges that the Dis two-year-old filly fully make quite a trotter in her 3-year-old form. It was a wonderful showing out of an entry list of 21 horses, when one considers that the mare has had little training this year and was beaten by a horse that won seven out of nine starts under the tutelage of the veteran, Harry Brusie, the largest money winning driver in the Eastern States this season.

Endurance tests indeed exact heavy tolls quite often.

ector of the Canadiens, is in St. Louis in connection with turf affairs, and Cecil Hart, the manager, is in Philadelphia.

Leo Letourneau told the Star that in the absence of his co-directors, he did not feel justified in discussing the matter just now.

Other Reported Deals.

Canadiens have purchased Gordie Fraser from Detroit, and he is expected to play on their defence in a substitute role this winter. Fraser is best known as an effective stopper. He was with Detroit Olympics last winter and has had considerable experience, having for years been with Victoria in the old Coast League.

Martin Barry, former well known local amateur, is to be given a chance with Boston Bruins this winter. Barry was known as "goal a game" Barry when he played as an amateur around these parts.

Maroons are still in the market for players, and endeavored to secure Art Duncan from Maple Leafs but the latter refused to part with their big defence man.

"Neway" Lalonde left for Ottawa to be present at the governors' meeting and will confer while there with Ottawa directors. Senators are seeking another forward, and if they secure him Joe Lamb will be played at centre.

COVEHEAD RIFLE SHOOT

There was a small attendance at the last shoot on Oct. 12, and no arrangements could be made for prize shoot, so will all members try and be there on Saturday, Oct. 19th, and get ready for prize shoot. All were pleased to have Mr. Berrigan with them again, after his serious illness. The scores for last shoot were as follows:

B. Mays	95
J. Mays	93
J. McMillan	90
I. D. Carr	89
J. Berrigan	88
H. Marshall	86

A Boy Scout's Diary Of The Great Jamboree

August 25

Got up this morning at 7:30 feeling dicky. Mostly everyone was seasick, but I went down to breakfast and ordered puffed rice. As soon as I raised the spoon to my mouth I felt as shaky as there is any need for; however, I determined to stick it out, took some rice, then had tea with rolls. I left the table hurriedly for deck and soon was as sick as anybody. It sure was rough; they call the place the Devil's Hole and it is worthy of its name. At dinner I was satisfied with biscuits and tea, and by supper time I began to feel better and had a good meal. Out on deck I surveyed the scene, and could still see the Adorick ahead of us. I went to bed early, there being few scouts on deck, and none up to any fun.

August 26

Rose at 6:10 feeling like my old self again, and had a good hearty breakfast. A few places at the table were still unoccupied, I guess the others did not yet feel like eating. By dinner time, however, there was quite a few up, and by supper time we were almost all back to normal. Professor Pugh started a course of instructions for qualifying as cub masters and I entered it. After supper, when we thought we had got our sea legs, it began to blow and the boat heaved like anything. We could still see the Adorick. I went to bed early.

August 27

Rose at 5:30 and went on deck. It was very rough. The Adorick had steered farther south and was almost out of sight. We had a good breakfast, and at 10 o'clock we had the cub course under Professor Pugh. After that we had walking exercise on deck, and then dinner, at which there was practically a full attendance. Class in Cub lore resumed at half past two and proved very interesting, consisting of lectures and games suitable for Cubs to engage in. After supper I went to the picture show; it was very good, especially the funny picture. After I had got into my pyjamas I had occasion to leave my cabin and when I returned I found the door locked. I knocked but got no response. Then I started to shout, but still no reply. You see cabin's had been raided and perhaps they thought it was a dodge on the part of invaders to get in. So I became persuasive and shouted: "Come on fellows, its Spud, let me in!" Immediately the doors of the other cabins opened, heads popped up and there was a chorus "Its Spud, fellows, let him in!" There was such a hullabaloo that the Assistant Commissioner came along and got the door open, and I went in, feeling rather ruffled, to the welcome, "Hullo Spud we've let you in!" I got into bed, and slept better than I had done since boarding ship.

August 28

Rose at 7 o'clock and went on deck. The Adorick had again crossed our bows, and was now to the north of us. Breakfast at 9 o'clock, and at 10 we had more instructions in Cub work which occupied us all forenoon. We had a jolly dinner, and after some walking exercise resumed our course in Cub-ery. After supper we were entertained by the Devonshires who put on a splendid concert on "G" Deck, consisting of songs, card tricks, talks and chorus singing. Afterwards had some fun and then to bed.

August 29

Rose at half-past six to find we had run into a heavy fog which may delay us. After breakfast we had Cub instruction till noon; meantime the fog cleared and the sun shone brightly. This gave us more heart, and there was more fun. After supper a concert was put on by the Byngs which was very good. Mr. Coombs made a speech, giving us our instructions on leaving the boat. If the Letitia is up to time, the Maritime Scouts are to embark at Quebec, the others at Montreal. I should have mentioned that at six o'clock, just before supper, land was sighted much to our own delight. We all went to bed feeling good and hoping to rise in the St. Lawrence tomorrow.

August 30

Got up at 6 o'clock. The sun was shining brightly, the first real good morning we had had for a long time. Sure enough we are now in the river. We had breakfast at nine o'clock and everyone was jolly and happy. We resumed our Cub course at 10 o'clock and continued at it till luncheon time, and again resumed till dinner time. We have made great progress, and extensive notes which are to be submitted to Professor Pugh for his examination. After dinner we had a farewell concert put on by the Connaughts and Willingdons combined. Our Patrol put on a funny sketch which caused roars of laughter. Mr. Coombs gave one of his amusing addresses which we all enjoyed, but concluding in a serious note said he was sorry we had to part after having had such a good time together—a sentiment with which the applause showed we all agreed. After some sky-larking we retired to bed.

Cleghorns May Be In Montreal This Season

(Montreal Star)

There is a rumor that both the Cleghorn brothers may be engaged in new pro, hockey capacities in this city during the coming winter.

Odie is said to be a likelihood in the capacity of coach on the Maroon outfit, and Sprague is reported as being considered in a similar manner for the Canadiens. The stories could not be confirmed because of the fact that Leon Dandurand, managing director of the Canadiens, is in St. Louis in connection with turf affairs, and Cecil Hart, the manager, is in Philadelphia.
