This booth contains a sample of nearly every kind of cereal fox feed obtainable and all kinds of fur farming supplies. The line that is featured most prominently is the Ross and Miller Standard Meat Fox Biscuit, which is now being offered at special prices. The booth is equipped with a Westinghouse Radio and some other special features which we believe would interest fox men. Wm. E. Forbes, Vice President, is in charge with Earle Campbell an able assistant.

CHILDREN FOUND AFTER LONG SEARCH-Last Thursday afternoon the residents of Abram's Village were much alarmed at the disappearance of the three small children of Mr. Peter Gallant, Supervisor of Schools for the western district of Prince County. Mr. Gallant was away from home at the time and his wife became alarmed when the children did not return home for supper. They had gone into the woods looking for rabbit snares. Their names were Eric, 13 years, and his two younger brothers, Melvin, aged 8 years and Jerry, six. The little fellows had wandered into the woods about two miles from the railroad. The eldest boy when he realized that they were lost and that darkness was coming on, looked round for a sheltered spot to camp for the night. It was raining and he made his little brothers as comfortable as possible and told them to say their prayers, which they did, they then laid down and after a while, tired out by their long walk they were soon fast asleep. Thus the searchers found their about nine o'clock and took them home to their anxious mother. They said they were not afraid and thought when morning came they would be able to find their way home. S.

SUPPER AND ENTERTAINMENT-The L. O. L. and L. O. B. A. of Summerside held a most enjoyable evening on Monday in their lodge rooms. Mr. W. W. Muttart, Grand Master for P. E. Island, presided. The social was in the form of an oyster supper and entertainment. The affair was put on by the losers in a campaign for members, the winning teams being the guests of the former. A short program preceded the supper and opened with a piano solo by Miss Meadows; reading, Mrs. Dalton; selections on the mouth organ, Clifford Boundy; solo, Mr. L. B. Crue; dialogue, Geraldine and Gilbert Rayner; reading, Miss McPherson; instrumental music, Mr. Boundy and Mr. Rayner, short address by Mr. A. S. McKay. After supper Mr. Muttart called upon Bro. James Connell, who presented the captain of the winning team for the male members with a chart of the Orange Order. Mrs. Arthur Leard then presented Mrs. Dalton, captain of the ladies' team, with a box of chocolates. Mrs. Duncan McDonald, Worthy Mistress, read the address. The evening closed with games and singing. S.
