Thrilling Sensational Story of the Russian Revolution

"MOCKERY"

LON CHANEY'S SENSATION

The fortunes of revolution throw Serge, a poor Russian peasant, into a new world of hate, tempered only by the softening influence of the girl who brings a redeeming beauty into his life.

A powerful story of contrasts—swirling drama and sacrificial redemption—a role that Chaney just glories in!

HAZELBROOK CIRCUIT services for September 8th, will be as follows: Cross Roads 11 a. m.; Alexandra 3 p. m.; Hazelbrook 7 p. m. Pastor Lindsay will speak God's message.

ENGAGEMENT—Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. McKinley, North River, announce the engagement of their daughter Kathleen Adele, to Mr. Aubrey McPhail, of the same place, marriage to take place the middle of September. 7788-9-6-11

POLICE COURT—Two drunks appeared before His Honor yesterday morning, and were fined $10 or 20 days, and $5 or 10 days respectively. A case of non-support was adjourned. A Prohibition case was withdrawn. A speeder was awarded $50 fine.

SECOND YEAR P.W.C. STUDENTS ENROLL—About 80 second year students enrolled at Prince of Wales College yesterday afternoon, about the same number as enrolled last year. In the first year 211 students have enrolled to date.

TOURISTS TO THE ISLAND.—Among the tourists who motored to P. E. I. were Mr. and Mrs. John T. McManus and their children: Eileen, Leonard and Gerald of Athol, Mass. They were accompanied by Mrs. J. A. McManus of Leominster, Mass. They left for their homes in Massachusetts, after spending three weeks vacation visiting friends and relatives. While on the Island they made their home with Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Murphy, Nine Mile Creek. It was twenty-six years since Mr. McManus left the Island. He sees many improvements, but says there can be greater improvements on the roads. Mr. McManus is manager of the First National Store in Athol, Mass. They were accompanied back by their niece Miss Marguerite Driscoll, R. N. of Mt. Herbert, P. E. I.

EXCELLENT BAND CONCERT—The Legion Band, under the leadership of Bandmaster Thomas McFarlane, gave a varied and well balanced program of music in Queen Square Gardens last evening. The various waltzes and marches were rendered with pleasing harmony. A baritone solo "When you and I were young" was played magnificently by bandmaster Nicholas McFarlane. It may be mentioned here that Mr. McFarlane is reputed to be one of the best baritones in Eastern Canada. His solo last night was thoroughly enjoyed, as was also a vocal solo by Mr. Leo Dolron. He sang "One Fleeting Hour" very acceptably.

POTATO NOTES From King's County. Like a bolt from the blue has the very informative statistical report of President McDonald, at the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade, this week, struck the potato growers. All felt the potato crop was short this year, but nobody was prepared to learn that the shortage amounts to one-half last year's crop of approximately ten million bushels, or a shortage of five million bushels. That the higher prices will compensate for the lesser yield depends on the inspection. Mr. McDonald states the average yield is only 65 per cent, of the average yield of last year, and that there is a shortage of 15,000 acres.

This 5,000,000 shortage is a serious situation. Last year about five million bushels were fed to live stock. What is the live stock on the farms to do this fall and winter, for no potatoes can be fed to live stock this year. Farmers must necessarily cut down their live stock, for feed of all kinds, straw, hay, turnips and such bulky feeds, are short and meagre. Compulsory inspection of potatoes, if done on government measurements of the individual tuber, same as last year, will mean the turning down or rejection of practically half the crop, for the run of potatoes this year is very, very small owing to the drought. This compulsory inspection of table stock so widely called for by the dealers, will prove a boomerang. Unless a radical change or more in measurements, as now obtain, only a small percentage of the crop will pass inspection.

It's up to the Boards of Trade, and all interested, to approach the Federal Minister of Agriculture to get an order-in-council passed reducing the size of the tubers that may pass inspection. The inspectors must be guided by the present size, regulations, which mean that not over 50 per cent of the crop can be sold. This is a very important matter. In years of shortage the size limit is always greatly reduced. Buyers take everything in the form of a potato. But this compulsory inspection will prevent this now, hence the necessity of changing the legal size limit.

SAFETY SECTION OF C. N. R. WINS OUT MONTREAL, Sept. 5.—In the past four years the railways of Canada and the United States have decreased accidents by fifty per cent, according to figures brought out at the sessions of the American Railway Association safety section, Canadian branch, which have just closed here. Four years ago the railways set themselves the goal of cutting accidents down 35 per cent by 1930. In a year less they have accomplished fifty per cent. "The railways," one speaker said, "are doing their part." The public is being educated, too, but there are still too many people who insist on being negligent. Unless the public co-operates and learns the rule of safety first, we must still have accidents, no matter to what lengths we go to protect it. Prominent among the speakers at the convention, attended by 200, were Mr. H. A. Rowe, chief claims agent of the Delaware and Lackawanna; Mr. C. E. Hill, general safety agent of the New York Central lines; Mr. C. R. Moore, general manager of transportation, Canadian National Railways, Toronto; Mr. E. R. Cotti, safety agent, Hooking Valley, Columbus, Ohio, and Mr. T. H. Carrow, safety supervisor of the Pennsylvania; Mr. F. R. Haney, chief claims agent, Canadian Pacific welcomed the visitors. Mr. W. A. Booth, director of safety, Canadian National Railways, was

That Car of Yours

BY WILLIAM ULLMAN Start-to-Start Talks With Automobile Owners and Drivers on How to Get the Most Out of Their Cars at the Least Expense

BUT, SUMMER WILL DO

Spring, normally, is clean-up, paint-up time. However, if the owner forgot to give a protective coating of paint to the track on which the garage doors operate during the conventional season, the present time will do. The rainy season for most of the country is not far distant and rain means more rust and deterioration if this garage appurtenance is not properly protected. It is a brief task at the most.

SHACKLING THE SHACKLES

On a majority of the older cars, the spring shackles are adjustable. Some motorists entirely overlook this fact when protesting about the poor spring action of their cars. Others, going to the other extreme, take too much advantage of it. Getting the shackles too tight is an excellent way to shackle spring movement. That is just as uncomfortable as too much movement.

OWNERS PROBLEM, TOO

The fact that self-energizing brakes, although they compensate for it in another way, are prone to cause drum scoring has given automotive engineers a problem. It is a problem for the car owner, too. He should recognize the possibility of the drums being out of round when he figures the car needs a brake relining.

FENDERS AND WHEELS

In these days of lacquered automobile bodies, it often is only the fenders and wheels that need repainting. They are enameled and this finish frequently does not stand the wear and tear that merely leaves the body in need of a washing and polishing.

ROUGE THE REFLECTORS

If the headlight reflectors are smudged and weathered, the task of cleaning them is a delicate but not difficult one. If a cleaner must be applied, an effective one advocated by many car companies is jeweler's rouge. It may be moistened slightly with alcohol if necessary. The cloths used must be soft and but slight pressure applied upon the reflectors.

NEW BLADE IN ORDER

Windshield wiper blades, indifferent motor car owners to the contrary, will not last forever. They are made of rubber and rubber is susceptible to hardening in the sun. Once the life of the blade is thus exhausted, efficiency of the cleaner requires its replacement.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING WITH CANADIAN TOUR

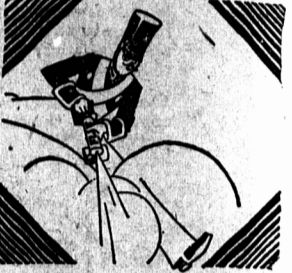

(Canadian Press) MONTREAL, Que. Sept. 5.—To celebrate their golden wedding at home in the bosom of their family is the ambition of the majority of married couples but it was not so with Mr. and Mrs. Alexander G. McLaren, of Aird-An-Darich, Sandbank, Argylshire, although they were 77 years old. Their way was to come to Canada and travel from one end of it to the other. Eighty years ago Mrs. McLaren had been to Canada to visit her married sister in Saskatchewan, at Nether Hill, on the Canadian National line between Saskatoon and Kindersley. Nether Hill, named after the old family home in Argylshire, Mr. McLaren who, by the way, is a retired sheep farmer, had never visited Canada. When the fiftieth wedding anniversary approached, the old couple did not stay at home nor go to Argylshire where they were wed, but instead went to the Canadian National offices in Glasgow and planned a tour that would take them from Montreal to Victoria and back. Tomorrow they will sail for home on the Letitia, after what they describe as the trip of their lives. They reached Montreal early in July and since that time have seen the Rockies, the Pacific coast, Niagara Falls and all the Highs making stops at Nether Hill and wherever else took their fancy. chairman, and Mr. W. H. Jones, assistant director, moved the vote of thanks to the speakers. The safety section had its birth in Montreal eleven years ago.

The Boys Scout Great Jamboree

And such a tale as is told and retold with editorial enthusiasm in the press of every land. To many observers the movement is the sunrise of a happier era. Its spirit, writes Alex Waugh in The Sunday Times (London), is the antithesis of militarism; it is one of fellowship. "The Scout is the friend of all other Scouts. Scouts are drawn not only from all classes, but all countries. The Scout is brought up to think of foreigners not as enemies, but as friends. The movement is a League of Nations." Consider, for example, the thanksgiving service in which German Boy Scouts participated with boys from nations that were arrayed against Germany in the World War, says the South Bend Tribune, which tells us that—

"About 30,000 Scouts heard Cardinal Bourne and the Archbishop of Canterbury comment on the significance of the service, which was held on the anniversary of the World War outbreak. Only fifteen years had elapsed since the Scouts' fathers and brothers were called upon to fight each other and the last battle of the Great War was less than seven years away. Now, in 1929, the younger generations upon whom fall the responsibility for maintenance of peace were gathered under the banner of friendship, good fellowship and service.

"This was a striking exemplification of the value of the Boy Scout movement. It was but one of many significant episodes in the Jamboree. The contribution by American Scouts of $50,000 to the treasury of English scoutdom was another evidence of international comradeship. At home in twenty-one nations were about 2,000,000 Boy Scouts who, like their comrades assembled in Birkenhead, typify a dream come true. Fortunately, the dreamer, Baron Robert Baden-Powell, was alive and present at the Jamboree. And it is easy to agree with him that 'the sight of boys of forty-two different nationalities, differing from each other in color, creed, and language, but wearing the same kit and obeying the same Scout law, surely opens up a great vision for the future.'"

The spectacle, says the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, "meant more to the human race than its potential value as an assemblage of hopeful youth."

"In such a gathering it is not difficult to perceive the nucleus of a mighty influence in sustenance of the Kellogg treaty. Reconciliation after war's ravages thus becomes complete in a new generation that had no share in the bitter controversies that ennobled the world in an orgy of carnage and destruction. The triumphs of peace are the true objectives of the young generation, and the Boy Scouts and their coevals hold the keys of the future."

"In the intermingling and fraternizing of boys of so many nationalities, drilled in the ideals of human conduct," comments the Charleston Mail, "is to be seen fertile ground for the growth of a universal brotherhood that will lift the world to a higher plane. These youths are free of prejudices and racial antagonisms that mark the thinking of their elders. Their vision is not yet clouded, and the underlying principles of their training have been stimulated and founded largely on the Golden Rule." The movement, echoes the Toronto Globe, "is an agency of peace and good-will. By its emphasis on honor and service to mankind it is helping to break down barriers between races, and cementing the bonds of fraternity in a closer relationship throughout the earth. If it is nothing else, the Jamboree is a splendid gesture of international amity and good-will." So the press generally on two continents, which sees in this revised Babel of fifty tongues more hope for the future than is put on paper in all the archives of the world, and unanimously bestows on the founder a generous tribute for the ideal he has sculptured in the heart of youth.

Gleanings From Tryon And Vicinity

Harvesting is now general in Tryon and vicinity.

The early grain promises a fair yield, but the late grain seems to be the best, due to the recent rains. Potato crops are only fair in this locality, everyone complains of their potato crops being infested with a green-colored louse, which seems to be working havoc with the crop.

Miss Edith O. Lord, of Tryon, who has been one of Messrs. R. T. Holman's staff for the past four years and had resigned her position only a week ago previous to her departure for Calgary, Alta., was taken suddenly ill on Monday morning of last week and was operated on later for appendicitis in the Prince County Hospital. The young lady is pleased to know that she is doing as well as can be expected and will probably be able to return home in another week.

Mr. Keith Clark, of Victoria, was a visitor to Tryon on Thursday evening.

Miss Pearl Weeks, of Salisbury, N. B., arrived last week and has entered upon her new duties as Principal of Tryon Consolidated School.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker Kline, of Boston have returned after spending their vacation the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mabey, of Tryon.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McLeod, of Victoria, are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the arrival of a bouncing new baby.

Her many friends are glad to welcome back one of our former Tryon girls, Miss Frankie Gillis, of Amesbury, Mass., who intends remaining until next spring at her home here.

Miss Hildegard Oldfield, of Millford, Mass., left on Monday for her home after spending the summer months the guest of her grandmother Mrs. Sarah McKenzie, of Tryon. Miss Oldfield, who made a host of young friends during her stay here, will be very much missed, but we hope she may return again next summer to our fair little Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Stewart, of Amherst, N.S., are spending a pleasant visit at their old home in Victoria.

The Misses Marion Howatt, Katherine Dobson and Mr. Nell Bradshaw motored to the Provincial Capital on Thursday evening.

An unfortunate accident occurred on Friday afternoon when the little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Howatt, of West Tryon, fell and broke his arm. Medical attention was called at once and everything possible done to relieve his suffering. At the time of writing he is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. Fred Scurrah, of Boston, is spending a pleasant holiday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Robinson, of Augustine Cove.

Professor W. and Mrs. Jones, of New York, who have spent their summer holidays at Tryon, returned this week to their home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Janie Gamble, who intends to spend some time visiting in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Laval, of Lowell, Mass., and Mrs. Ulric Dawson, of Bedeque, were motorists to Tryon on Thursday last week. Mr. and Mrs. Laval have since returned by motor to their home after passing a delightful vacation with relatives on the Island.

A motor party, Messrs. Wallace Stewart, Charles Logan, Harry Sentner, Stanley Stewart and Le Roy Howatt, were visitors to Georgetown on Thursday, Aug. 29.

The Mission Band Picnic of the Trinity United Church was held at Mr. H. Inman's shore at Augustine Cove on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 31. It is estimated that about one hundred were in attendance. A very dainty supper was served to all present by the C.G.I.T.

The Misses Isabel McFadyen and Hildegard Oldfield and Messrs. Eric and Horace Mabey attended Yeo's Movies "The Better Way," at Victoria.

Born.—To Mr. and Mrs. Ed. McFadyen, of Augustine Cove, a daughter. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Steeves and son Sayre, of Summerside, motored through Tryon on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morley M. Bell, of Summerside, spent the week-end and Labor Day with relatives in Tryon.

Mrs. W. T. Bowness and son Walter, of Bedeque, were Sunday visitors to Tryon.

Rev. and Mrs. M. O. Brinton and family (pastor of Baptist congregation at Tryon) are spending their holidays with relatives in New Brunswick.

His many friends regret to learn that Mr. John Thomas, of Tryon, was quite severely injured when he was thrown from a wagon, when the horse became frightened of a car. His speedy recovery is hoped for.

Mrs. Douglas, of Boston, is now visiting in Tryon with relatives and friends.

The local sports enjoyed a good day's sport on Monday on the opening of the duck shooting season, but I am inclined to think it was more pleasant than profitable.

Mrs. Dillingham, of Portsmouth, N. H., returned to Tryon on Sunday after visiting relatives in Summerside for the week.

A very pleasant afternoon was spent on Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Neider, when their daughter Miss Elizabeth, entertained a number of her school chums on the occasion of her tenth birthday. After a very daintily arranged supper the children left for their homes well pleased with their afternoon. Miss Elizabeth received a number of gifts which added to the pleasantness of the occasion.

Mrs. Fred Scurrah, of Boston, is spending a pleasant holiday, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Robinson, of Augustine Cove.

Professor W. and Mrs. Jones, of New York, who have spent their summer holidays at Tryon, returned this week to their home. They were accompanied by Mrs. Janie Gamble, who intends to spend some time visiting in New York.

On Sunday evening special music was furnished by the choir of Tryon Baptist church, under the direction of Prof. W. Jones, of New York. Music lovers were furnished with a rare treat which they will not forget for a long time.
