...It pays to buy in this Province
 ...Harvey Mitchell, Maritime Representative of the Dairy Division, will attend the King's County Agricultural Fair and will address an agricultural meeting in the afternoon in the interest of Cow Testing Associations. Mr. Mitchell needs no introduction to the farmers of King's County and everyone should make it a point to be present to hear him speak on Friday afternoon, March 3rd.

DISLOCATES JAW IN BARBER'S CHAIR

SUMMIT, N. J., Feb. 27—Before George Wright, a hackman, could get his mustache cut off in a barber shop, the services of a doctor were required to set a dislocated jaw. Wright started to pose of while the barber was removing the mustache, and gave a great yawn.
 The barber waited until Wright should get over the yawn, and when he did not close his jaws, he asked him what was the trouble. His answer was a terrified look from Wright. The barber became frightened and a physician was called. Wright's jaw was set back in place and the barber finished removing the mustache. Wright remained awake.

RAILROAD SUED AS PROFANE BY WOMAN

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Feb. 27—The agents of the Northwest are sued over a suit filed by Gertrude Hatch against the Great Northern Railroad Company to recover $200 damages because of language she asserts an agent used when selling her a ticket to St. Paul, Minn., recently. She declares that she was so badly shocked that she became speechless and had to give others a lift in the purchase.
 It is likely that the case will be fought stubbornly, as it is the first of profanity by employees before a court of a public service corporation.

GOLDEN JUBILEE TO BE HELD IN BOSTON 1913

BOSTON, Feb. 27—Colored citizens of Boston and vicinity have commenced a movement for a "Golden Jubilee to take place in 1913, on the 50th anniversary of emancipation. By that time the hope to have raised the sum of $1,000,000 to be used for the purpose of building an industrial school for the education of colored children and also to finance a home for aged and infirm colored people.
 The movement was recently started by William B. Hall, of this city, who has been a student of the negro question for years.
 Already 5,000 badges bearing a portrait of Lincoln and the legend "Golden Jubilee, Boston, 1913" have been purchased. As the movement grows more badges are to be ordered. It is estimated that among the 25,000 colored people in this city a large percentage will wish to join the ranks.
 A church in Somerville will be used as the "Cradle of Liberty." At a meeting held in this church the programme of the movement was mapped out by Mr. Hall, who said that he proposed to do everything in his power to make it a success.
 Mr. Hall called the attention of the audience to the need of a school for the industrial training of colored children. He said if the proper enthusiasm is shown there is no need to worry about the outcome, for the million dollars could be easily raised by 1913.
 Assistant District Attorney William H. Lewis said last night that he did not care to make a statement regarding the 1913 movement, but that he should take no matter up very fully at an early date.

MARITIME UNION—THE CASE FOR P. E. ISLAND.

By W. S. Taunton in the Canadian Century.

Maritime Union is again in the air. It is an old question—older than Confederation—for the latter was the outcome of a conference held to discuss Maritime Union.
 Prince Edward Island wanted Maritime Union Previous to Confederation. She wanted it afterwards. She does not want it now.
 After the Island entered the union and when she felt that justice was not being done her, she saw in Maritime Union a means of making her opinions change with time.
 Maritime Union is now being discussed because the Provinces are slowly but surely losing representation at Ottawa.
 It is to be the panacea for this particular ill.
 Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island each send a smaller number of representatives to Ottawa than at the time they entered the Union.
 They will send less, unless the British North America Act is changed, and that is not likely. If the British North America Act is changed to-day to suit the Maritime Provinces, the guarantee is there that it may be changed tomorrow to suit the Province of Quebec, for where will Quebec stand when the Western Provinces are allied up?
 The Maritime Provinces have lost direct representation at Ottawa, but it is surely worth taking into account that the thousands of people who have moved from the Maritime Provinces to the Western Provinces carry their representation at Ottawa with them. They cannot be represented on Prince Edward Island and in Alberta at the same time.
 And what is the scheme of the Maritime Union? It is to form a Parliament of all three Provinces, representation to be based on population, of course.
 Nova Scotia has a population bordering on half a million, New Brunswick something less, and Prince Edward Island one hundred thousand. Nova Scotia would have five times and New Brunswick four times the representation of Prince Edward Island, which would then stand somewhat in the same position in the new Parliament as the Maritime Provinces stand.
 That is the reason the Islanders are not enthusiastic over the proposition. It is true a resolution was passed at a meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade held in Charlottetown last year favoring the idea of a union of the Provinces. But it cannot be quoted as an expression of opinion. It is fashionable, to pass all resolutions submitted at such meetings, and this was passed as a token of good will to some enthusiastic New Brunswick members.
 Again, Nova Scotia has a Provincial Parliament. It has a system of county municipal councils. It has numerous incorporated towns and cities. Prince Edward Island has a Provincial Parliament, but it has no system of County municipal councils, and it has only one incorporated city and one incorporated town. The Island's Provincial Parliament does the work the county councils do in Nova Scotia; it does the work the incorporated cities and towns do in Nova Scotia. It is a provincial body, and it is a municipal body, so that unlike the sister Provinces, the Island is not burdened with over government.
 Should Prince Edward Island enter into any scheme of Maritime Union it would be necessary to establish some sort of parish or county system to deal with matters of local import.
 Today the Island makes its own laws so far as its powers go. What are the Islanders to gain by transferring that power to the people of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick? The survival of the fittest is the surest thing next to death.
 To illustrate: Prince Edward Island today has a prohibitive liquor law. She has it because her people want it. It may be good or bad, but that has nothing to do with the question. Suppose Maritime Union an accomplished fact, a Nova Scotia member could move for the repeal of that act and the motion carry, reversing the temperance policy of the smallest Province.
 It is contended that under Maritime Union the older Provinces would become a better customer for the products of the island. Islanders heard that same argument when they entered Confederation. Ontario was simply yearning to buy the whole potato and oat crop, but she has not bought a bushel of it so far.
 The Island was swallowed up in Confederation. She would be swallowed up in Maritime Union. Nobody knows this better than the Islanders themselves.

MANITOBA GOVERNMENT OWNED TELEPHONE LINE MAKES GREAT STRIDES

WINNIPEG, Feb. 27—The annual report of the Manitoba government telephone system shows that the public owned plant has made wonderful strides and has now passed the experimental stage. The number of subscribers increased by no fewer than 8,335 so that today the total number of subscribers is 35,475. Winnipeg's increase was the greatest, there being a growth of 27 per cent. in the number of telephones in this city. However, the rural subscribers also showed nearly as great a growth and more than 3,722 farmers were connected with the government system. The revenue has also shown a proportionate increase of 21 per cent. increase last year to $3,108,366. The growth of the long distance lines is also a feature. Today there is hardly a farmer's telephone in the province that cannot be connected with Winnipeg. In the last year no less than 1,181 miles of long distance lines were added to the system, while the increase in revenue from this source was 19 per cent. The government system now owns 350 offices and 111 exchanges.
 It will interest eastern Canada to know that the government commissioners hope soon to be able to secure a satisfactory service with eastern cities, both Canadian and American. A step in this direction was taken during the year when a new copper line was built from Winnipeg to the boundary line connecting with the Northwestern Telegraph Co., and forming a through circuit from Winnipeg to Minneapolis and Chicago.

NEW GLASGOW IS OUT WITH A STRENUOUS KICK

NEW GLASGOW, Feb. 28—There is no doubt in the world but that New Glasgow got the lemon in the professional hockey league this year. They were certainly handed the short end of the deal for fair. The series of games for the Starr trophy between Moncton and Halifax is a raw deal to New Glasgow. It was New Glasgow that was principally responsible for the professional league. Had New Glasgow not put forth a special effort the league would not have gone through, neither would it have finished. Only ten days before the league ended, Halifax and Moncton arranged games to suit themselves and New Glasgow was begged by telephone and telegram to let the change of schedule slide, and New Glasgow would be helped out later on. And here is the way it went. For the sake of the league New Glasgow let Halifax and Moncton arrange games to suit themselves on the promise of the professional league. The first of the second round of games, the one called the Starr trophy game, not only behind the game in Halifax, but the game in New Glasgow by telephone but came here personally and urged New Glasgow to strengthen her team for the second series. At a big expense New Glasgow did get men to strengthen the team on the assurance of the second round, but then the Canadian games were sprung along with the Starr trophy games to the mutual benefit of Halifax and Moncton, and New Glasgow gets the "freeze-out," the lemon, and the pippin.

STARVES SELF TO JOIN DEAD WIFE

DANVILLE, Ill., Feb. 27—To join his wife in death, from whom in life he had never been separated as long as 24 hours, John Park Hunter, 33, the wealthiest citizen of Attica, near here, literally starved himself to death.
 Eighteen days ago, Mrs. Hunter, who was 36 years old, was taken ill. Her physicians told Mr. Hunter that she could not get well. He remarked that if she must go he would follow. From that day until he died this morning not a morsel of food or a drop of water passed his lips.
 His wife died 10 days ago, and since then he grew gradually weaker until death came. His physicians attempted to force food and drink on him, but with his feeble strength he fought them.
 RUMOR OF TRANSCONTINENTAL.

MONTREAL, March 1.—It is now semi-officially announced that the Transcontinental Railway will be opened from Levis to Moncton by July, 1912.

CANADIAN KILLED IN THE MASSACRE IN THE CAUCASUS

LONDON, Feb. 27—The details which have now come to hand show that the murder of James MacGarvey, the Canadian oil manager, who was developing the Russian oil wells at Greshney in the Caucasus was accomplished by the fierce marauders of the mountains, under circumstances of fiendish atrocity and the brutal and indiscriminate slaughter of the other members of the household.
 It appears that Mr. MacGarvey, with Talbot Barnard, had only recently returned from Canada to the same control of operations in the Caucasus, which were showing such splendid results that there was every prospect of his being able to return soon to his native country with a handsome fortune when the outrage was perpetrated.
 Mr. MacGarvey, his wife and Mr. Barnard were at supper when the armed bandits made their descent upon his home. Their approach had been noticed by a boy outside the house and he rushed off to give the alarm but was interrupted by the robbers, who killed him as well as the watchman who was on guard.
 Then they attacked Mr. MacGarvey, gashing his body in a fearful manner with Caucasian knives. Mr. Barnard tried to place a safe but was overtaken by the barbarous miscreants and murdered in the same manner as Mr. MacGarvey. The lady was stunned and left unconscious, then the robbers stabbed the cook, who continued to resist them. Finally they decamped with one hundred pounds in cash and other booty which they found in the house. Two natives of the Caucasus, who were implicated in the crime have been arrested, a third shot himself.
 Mounted Cossacks are still scouring the country in search of the brigands. Mrs. MacGarvey is in the Vladivostok Hospital. Her condition, although at first precarious, is not now considered serious.

Shiloh's Cure

Wide chins indicate permanency and fidelity. Narrow chins denote fickleness and erratic tendencies. Will power and determination are shown by the length of the jaw downward from the ear, before it turns in its angle to form the chin. Large lips always denote greater capacity with regard to taste than narrow ones. Sympathy, philanthropy and benevolence are indicated by the width of the red part of the underlip at the angles of the mouth. All disproportion between the under and the upper lip upward is a sign of folly or wickedness. Projeering under jaws, when accompanied by receding forehead, imply stupidity and criminality.
