

The SUMMERSIDE AND PRINCE COUNTY CHRONICLE

THE WESTERN GUARDIAN

AGENT—Mrs. John Pond, 44 Water Street East—Phone 289
SUMMERSIDE AND PRINCE COUNTY

News, Subscriptions, Advertising should be left with Mrs. Pond
The Guardian may be bought daily at any of the following stores in Summerside:
Bell Bookstore, Water St. Gourles Drugstore, Water St.
Toronto Bakery, Water St. Mark Gaudet, of Grandville St.

The Guardian will be delivered to any home in Summerside by Carrier Boy at 2c per day or 10c per week. Phone 289. Write to the boy responsible for deliveries on your route.

This column is reserved for news of local interest but advertising on a new basis may be inserted at a cost a word strictly payable in advance.

—BARGAIN in a H. P. Electric Motor at Braces. L-430-6-12-21.
—SALE ENDS Saturday night. Major Lusk Co., Kensington.

—SHINGLES, matched boards, planed lumber, nails, etc., at a special price at the new factory. L-435-6-10-31.

—ATTENDED MEETING—Mrs. Bay Clark and Mrs. G. de W. White gave a very interesting and well-attended meeting. L-434-6-12-21.

—LOADING HOGS Albany June 12. Loads of hogs were collected for shipment to the coast.

—ENJOYABLE DANCE—The Summerside Ladies' Association held a very enjoyable dance at the gymnasium. The music was furnished by the O. K. Orchestra. Many guests attended from outside the town. The proceeds will be used for uniforms for the girls.

—MAGISTRATE'S COURT—A man appeared before Magistrate Day yesterday on a charge of having undersized lobsters in his possession. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. A man named Grant was fined five dollars and costs for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. A party from Vernon River was charged with driving a car that had no registration plates.—S.

—WINS I. O. D. E. CONTEST—Thirteen-year-old student of St. Alphonsus school in Edmonton, Edna Sylvia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sayers, 11636 88 st. won the contest last week as winner of third prize in a dominion-wide essay contest sponsored by the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire. She is a student in grade eight at St. Alphonsus school, where she is an outstanding student according to her teacher, S. S. Aylward. In winning the award, she was the only girl in the Maritime Provinces. There were nine contestants from Edmonton, each writing on "Our King and Queen." Announcement of the result was made in Toronto by the national executive secretary of the I. O. D. E. Prize known as the Sarah Maxwell memorial prize, a book, was presented to the girl at a ceremony in the school recently by city members of the I. O. D. E. Miss Sayers is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frances H. Hammill, Central Bedoune. Her mother was formerly a student at Miss Sayers on her success.—S.

—Mr. and Mrs. Glen MacPherson, who have been out of town for some time, have returned to their home in Summerside.—S.

—Mr. and Mrs. Brenton Rankin, of Summerside, are visiting in Toronto for a two weeks' sojourn.—S.

—Winnipeg Alderman Taken Into Custody
WINNIPEG, June 12.—(CP)—Attorney-general W. J. Major today announced that Alderman Jacob Penner had been taken into custody pending a decision on his imprisonment by Dominion officials of the Winnipeg City Council.

Also confined to the provincial jail at Headingley is Dr. F. K. Schneider, Lockport, Man., said Major Schneider, former German army officer, recently was released from Kananaskis in the north-west of Calgary.

The attorney-general added that the department is checking up on other members of the Communist Party here but no further detentions have been made.

Penner was one of four men elected to the city council and school board by the Communist ticket in Winnipeg's north end ward three. The others are Alderman M. F. Rankin and school trustees A. Billew and W. C. Ross.

In addition, James Litterick was elected to the Manitoba legislature as a Communist member in 1939.

Many people from Borden motored to Cape Traverse United Church on Sunday evening where service was conducted by Rev. Arthur Organ, former pastor of this church. Rev. Organ gave a splendid discourse, taking his text from Acts 27:23. "Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer, for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me. This was the only speech given by Paul when he was sailing with other prisoners for Rome. A heavy storm came on and for 14 days they were blown about with sun and stars to guide them. They threw overboard all their cargo to lighten ship, expecting every moment to be driven on the rocks, but when they were all was lost. Paul exhorted them to be of good cheer. Mr. Organ contrasted the vessel sailing with no apparent hope to the warrior world of today, when everyone except the smallest children were so anxious and hope that right and liberty would prevail was almost lost. He wished to give the people the message of St. Paul. Be of good cheer, for I believe God!

—Mr. McTellan of the Old Age Pension Board, was a visitor to Alberton.

—Miss Rose Francis, Lot 7 was a visitor to Alberton the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McQuaid.

—Rev. S. J. Davies was a visitor to O'Leary last week.

—Mr. Gordon Keir, teacher at O'Leary School, was a weekend visitor to his home here.

—Mr. J. S. Taylor, Charlottetown, was in Alberton on business last week.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

—The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile does not flow freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up in your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons collect in your body and make you sick and the world looks punk.

—BUSHACH FLEA POWDER sold at Braces. L-430-6-12-21.

—VISITING S'IDE—Mr. R. H. Hegan of New York is visiting his aunt, the Misses Hunt and Mrs. Mussen, at their home in Summerside.—S.

—RE-APPOINTED—Mr. Mark Gaudet, was re-appointed to the Summerside High School Board at the recent meeting of the Town Council.—S.

—TAKES POSITION—Mr. Vernon J. Clow, who has been employed for the past six years in the Hall Manufacturing Company, Summerside, has obtained a position with the National Fish Company, Halifax.—S.

—NEW ARRIVAL—Shipment of men's suits just received. Smart Modern Dry Cleaners and Clothiers, Water Street, Summerside. L-530-6-13-21.

—TRIDUUM AT ST. PAUL'S—A triduum opened at St. Paul's Church, Summerside, on Monday evening for the married ladies of the parish, and will conclude on Thursday morning with a special Mass. Rev. Fr. MacDonald of the Holy Redeemer Parish, Charlottetown is conducting the Mission. There was a large attendance at the opening service.—S.

—SPOKE HIGHLY OF EDWARD DICKS—Rev. Dr. Ryan in his address on Sunday evening at the anniversary services at Trinity United Church referred with deep regret of the report that Edward Dicks had been reported missing in the retreat from Flinders. He said that Edward Dicks had joined Trinity Church during his pastorate and that he is one of the finest of young men.—S.

—BORDEN
Mr. Reginald MacAleer, of Borden left on Wednesday morning for Saint John, N.B., to join the crew of the S.S. Charlottetown, which is returning to Borden this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leard, who have been touring the Maritimes, returned to their home in Borden on Monday evening.

Messrs. John Jay and Kenneth MacAcer, of Borden, were visitors to Moncton on Saturday.

Private Robert Buchanan, of the P. E. I. Highlanders, arrived at Borden on Tuesday evening from the mainland. He was met here by his wife and little daughter Shirley with whom he motored to Charlottetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Carford, of Charlottetown, were visitors to Borden on Tuesday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hegan.

On Monday evening, the Swiss Bell Ringers staged a fine musical show to a large audience in Borden Hall. Their musical selections on the piano and voice were much enjoyed by all. Norman Thomas was fine in cowboy, Scotch and popular numbers, and Albert, the female impersonator charmed all hearts as he sang "Oh Johnny" costumed in a gown modelled from the one which Scarlett O'Hara wore in Gone with the Wind. He sang with great effect, "He's Making Eyes at Me" with new additions to this show since previous years are Frank Carlton and his talented wife. This company is now touring here for several years and all in all we consider this one of the best travelling shows that come here.

Many people from Borden motored to Cape Traverse United Church on Sunday evening where service was conducted by Rev. Arthur Organ, former pastor of this church. Rev. Organ gave a splendid discourse, taking his text from Acts 27:23. "Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer, for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me. This was the only speech given by Paul when he was sailing with other prisoners for Rome. A heavy storm came on and for 14 days they were blown about with sun and stars to guide them. They threw overboard all their cargo to lighten ship, expecting every moment to be driven on the rocks, but when they were all was lost. Paul exhorted them to be of good cheer. Mr. Organ contrasted the vessel sailing with no apparent hope to the warrior world of today, when everyone except the smallest children were so anxious and hope that right and liberty would prevail was almost lost. He wished to give the people the message of St. Paul. Be of good cheer, for I believe God!

—Mr. McTellan of the Old Age Pension Board, was a visitor to Alberton.

—Miss Rose Francis, Lot 7 was a visitor to Alberton the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McQuaid.

—Rev. S. J. Davies was a visitor to O'Leary last week.

—Mr. Gordon Keir, teacher at O'Leary School, was a weekend visitor to his home here.

—Mr. J. S. Taylor, Charlottetown, was in Alberton on business last week.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

URGES BAN ON ANTI-BRITISH PUBLICATIONS

Reveal Details Of Moves By 1st Division

(By Edwin Johnson, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, June 12.—(CP)—President Roosevelt by implication has condemned all anti-allied propaganda in the United States, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader declared to the Senate today.

Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, objected for the second time in a week to what he called the "mendacious lies" of the Saturday Evening Post concerning Great Britain and its ally, Canada, and its attack on the circulation of "such awful rubbish" throughout Canada.

In reply to the Opposition Leader's demand for immediate action of the Government to ban the magazine in Canada, Senator Dandurand said there were political factors to be considered. He referred to the Saturday Evening Post on Monday night, pledging moral and material support of the Allies.

He said that no doubt the President expressed the general sentiment of the United States people "from coast to coast," and that the President's attitude would have a moral effect upon such journalists as Senator Meighen referred to.

A force of about 1300 including members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the Edmonton Regiment with certain auxiliaries was placed at Col. Sanson's disposal. The Scarborough High School, which was to be part of the British force under the command of Maj.-Gen. P. E. Hotblack, but on the night before its assembly he was found unconscious in a London street. It was believed he suffered a stroke. Brig. Bernie Ficklin took over the command as a matter of urgency which could not be delayed.

After a conference with his unit commanders, Brig. Ficklin took off by plane for the port of embarkation. On the way north the plane crashed injuring Ficklin and the members of his staff. The command as senior officer, then was placed in charge pending the arrival of a new commander.

Every member of the Maple Leaf detachment was given a hazardous drill in preparation for the hazardous task. They were taught a first-hand knowledge of the rugged Norwegian coast line, the nature of the country through which they expected to fight and the particulars of the batteries guarding the fjord's inlet.

The troops were all set to embark when Col. Sanson received the advice that "it is not likely the Canadian force will go for a sail." At the very moment his men were being entertained at a farewell concert at the embarkation point.

Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

URGES BAN ON ANTI-BRITISH PUBLICATIONS

Reveal Details Of Moves By 1st Division

(By Edwin Johnson, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, June 12.—(CP)—President Roosevelt by implication has condemned all anti-allied propaganda in the United States, Hon. Raoul Dandurand, Government leader declared to the Senate today.

Mr. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, objected for the second time in a week to what he called the "mendacious lies" of the Saturday Evening Post concerning Great Britain and its ally, Canada, and its attack on the circulation of "such awful rubbish" throughout Canada.

In reply to the Opposition Leader's demand for immediate action of the Government to ban the magazine in Canada, Senator Dandurand said there were political factors to be considered. He referred to the Saturday Evening Post on Monday night, pledging moral and material support of the Allies.

He said that no doubt the President expressed the general sentiment of the United States people "from coast to coast," and that the President's attitude would have a moral effect upon such journalists as Senator Meighen referred to.

A force of about 1300 including members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and the Edmonton Regiment with certain auxiliaries was placed at Col. Sanson's disposal. The Scarborough High School, which was to be part of the British force under the command of Maj.-Gen. P. E. Hotblack, but on the night before its assembly he was found unconscious in a London street. It was believed he suffered a stroke. Brig. Bernie Ficklin took over the command as a matter of urgency which could not be delayed.

After a conference with his unit commanders, Brig. Ficklin took off by plane for the port of embarkation. On the way north the plane crashed injuring Ficklin and the members of his staff. The command as senior officer, then was placed in charge pending the arrival of a new commander.

Every member of the Maple Leaf detachment was given a hazardous drill in preparation for the hazardous task. They were taught a first-hand knowledge of the rugged Norwegian coast line, the nature of the country through which they expected to fight and the particulars of the batteries guarding the fjord's inlet.

The troops were all set to embark when Col. Sanson received the advice that "it is not likely the Canadian force will go for a sail." At the very moment his men were being entertained at a farewell concert at the embarkation point.

Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

On April 25 they were on their way back to Aldershot where with their comrades they now await the command for the next adventure.

Admitted Doubts
Col. Sanson admitted having his doubts as to the Trondheim project could have been pursued. Public attention had been focussed on a possible Allied thrust at this strategic port and the element of surprise was removed. The Germans were known to have brought up strong reinforcements. Furthermore the Allied position had been materially improved at other possible landing points.

With this turn of events Col. Sanson jotted this entry into his diary: "It will prove a bitter disappointment to the men when they learn tomorrow their comrades have departed and they are left behind with the prospects of campaigning in Norway becoming more remote."

When confirmation came next day that Canadian participation had been cancelled the men could scarcely believe it was true. They set about the work of repacking with heavy hearts.

ALBERTON

Messrs. Keith Lewis and Alvin Wallace left recently for MacAdam Junction, N.B., where they are to be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Murphy, Summerside, were recent visitors to Alberton, attending the funeral of the late Messrs. Foley of Central Kildare.

Rev. Father Francis, Lot 7, was a recent visitor to Alberton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McQuaid.

Mrs. S.R. Burke was a recent visitor to Charlottetown.

Mrs. Joseph Larter is visiting in Charlottetown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Bathurst, N.B., accompanied by Mr. George Fawcett were week-end visitors to Alberton, the guests of Mr. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Clark.

Mrs. Fraser Wells, was a recent visitor to Charlottetown.

Miss Janet Foley who has been visiting in Montreal, has returned to her home in Central Kildare.

Mr. Basil Johnson of the Alberton Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has been transferred to Parrsboro, Nova Scotia. He will be succeeded there by Mr. Murray Willett of the Summerside Branch.

Mr. Eric Corbett, who has been visiting in U. S. A. has returned to his home in Alberton.

Messrs. Cedric Gallant and Karn Lewis left recently for New Brunswick where they are to be employed.

The Alberton Boy Scout softball team rang up their first victory of the season on Saturday afternoon at O'Leary when they defeated the O'Leary Scout team by the close score of 23-22. Alberton showed marked improvement over their previous starts as they bunched their hits for several runs and gave the field O'Leary on the other hand made numerous errors in the field which sent several unearned runs over the plate. Lineups: O'Leary—Catcher A. Matthews, pitcher, Matthews, first base, K. Matheson, second base, E. Matthews, third base, K. Turner, shortstop, B. Brooks, fielders, B. Williams, D. Lidstone, G. Matheson, Alberton—Catcher, R. Jeffrey, pitcher, F. McQuaid, first base, J. McQuaid, second base, E. Milne, third base, D. Curry, shortstop, A. McQuaid, fielders, L. Callaghan, K. Wells, M. Ramsay, Umpire, John Rochford.

The citizens of Kildare Central and vicinity were shocked to hear of the passing on Monday evening, June 3rd of Mr. Moses Foley at the age of 73 years. The deceased had been in poor health for the past two years but his condition was not thought to be serious but he took a sudden relapse and passed away on the above date. Besides his wife he leaves three sons, Mary, and Ada in U. S. A.; Claude at home; Clifford in U. S. A.; one brother, Alonzo Foley in Bloomfield. The funeral was held from his late residence on Thursday morning to the Sacred Heart Church, Alberton. Rev. Dr. W. V. MacDonald celebrated the Requiem Mass. The church was filled with sympathizing friends. From all denominations, testifying to the high esteem in which Mr. Foley was held by the citizens of Central Kildare and vicinity. The pallbearers were Messrs. Hugh J. Cahill, E. Shew, Joseph Morrissey, James Foley, James Whelan, Everett Cahill. May his soul rest in peace.

Mrs. V. L. Curry, was a visitor to Summerside this week.

Mrs. J. J. McQuaid, was a visitor to Summerside the guest of her sister, Mrs. Edward Harrington.

Mr. Brenton Matthews, Summerside, was a weekend visitor to Alberton the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Matthews.

Mr. Graham Bennett, Halifax, N. S., was a visitor to Alberton, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Larkin.

Messrs. Fred Barrett and Joseph McDugal were left for MacAdam, N. B. where they are to be employed.

Mr. McTellan of the Old Age Pension Board, was a visitor to Alberton.

Miss Rose Francis, Lot 7 was a visitor to Alberton the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McQuaid.

Rev. S. J. Davies was a visitor to O'Leary last week.

Mr. Gordon Keir, teacher at O'Leary School, was a weekend visitor to his home here.

Mr. J. S. Taylor, Charlottetown, was in Alberton on business last week.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

The regular weekly meeting of the Second Alberton Girl Guide Troop was held in the Credit Union Building, Friday evening. Meeting was opened by singing O Canada followed by roll call and invocation. This was followed by a lively game and plans for a hike next Friday.

Daily War Survey

(Canadian Press)

A wide extension of aerial warfare was the first direct consequence of Italy's entry into hostilities against Germany.

British aircraft, however, have objectives in northern Italy, in Libya and Italian East Africa. South African aircraft, participating in the attack on the first time attacked Ethiopia and the Italians showered bombs on the British island of Malta.

As the exposed position of Libya and the African possessions brings the German air force to the Italian people more quickly and more forcefully than it has yet been brought home to the German people, the pressure of the western front shows little indication of improvement from the Allied point of view. The pressure of the powerful German attack on the western front is unrelenting. The French are still resisting, but have nowhere broken their formation nor their discipline.

The enemy's encircling movement directed against the Allies continues to progress. Despite the efforts of the British and French air forces in bombing transports, supplies and roads behind the German lines the mechanized divisions of the German army are able to get the fuel and equipment to enable them to move on.

In the course of the afternoon many relatives and friends of all denominations visited the home and presented to the honored couple greetings