Reports Success Of Convention

Interesting Report Of Rotary International Convention Submitted By Rotarian J. W. Boulter.

Following is the conclusion of the report of President J. W. Boulter, representative of the Charlotteville Rotary Club at the Rotary International Convention held in Boston recently.

Wednesday's discussions were on "International Service," discussed under the following topics: "The New World Order," "The New World Order from a Vocational Standpoint," "From an Economic Standpoint," "The New World Order from the Standpoint of Intellectual Co-operation," and the "New World Order from a Rotary Standpoint."

This last was given by Frank Milner, a member of the Rotary Club of Oamaru, New Zealand. Such a presentation one has seldom the privilege of hearing, and so enthused were the delegates, that at its conclusion everyone rose in a body and gave the speaker a most enthusiastic applause.

Dr. Buning asserted that the last three years have taught the world that the welfare of a nation, no matter how strong and self-sufficient it may seem, depends on the prosperity of the rest of the world. Admitting it is always darkest before dawn, Dr. Buning declared that the dawn of a new world order is already painting the horizon a hopeful blue. The new world order is here, he said, and men will not be able to step back into the past.

Narrow-minded nationalism will make place for world consciousness, declared the Rotarian from the Hague; the great modern inventions will again develop world industry and commerce, and natural science and culture will advance the welfare of the community of nations.

Dr. Buning referred to the world transition as "Slow and irresistible," pointing out that "much water will have to flow under the bridge before this end is attained," and that "much misunderstanding and ignorance has to be cleared away, many prejudices to be fought, many visions to be widened. Here it is where Rotary International has to fulfill a task."

In discussing the new world order from the standpoint of intellectual co-operation, Mr. Walter D. Head of Montreal, N. J., said that in the world of tomorrow "we look forward confidently to a rising level of human intelligence—the scales of ignorance, prejudice, and passion slowly but surely dropping from men's eyes in a world in which individual and national action and reaction will be ever more largely based on co-operation guided by truth, knowledge and reason."

Quoting from the Bible the passage, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," Mr. Head summed up the transition of world thought as "first, knowledge, then truth, and then freedom in a new world."

Joining in the discussion from a vocational standpoint, Mr. P. H. W. Almy of Torquay, Devon, England, said that the business men of the world do not realize their strength. "Business lies prone," said Mr. Almy, "bound with bonds of straw, which it credulously imagines are shackles of steel. It has only to rouse itself, and its fetters will fall from it like the things of stubble they are."

He said that all power and dominion are in the hands of business; that "its ships are on every sea; its treasure chests overflow. But it is the prisoner of its own fears and hesitations. The business man who knows his vocation, as a master of fence knows his sword, needs no other instrument for the accomplishment of the ends desired. The value of Rotary service is the willingness with which it is rendered; its strength is in its simplicity, the instrument of its accomplishment is in our hands."

Speaking from an economic viewpoint, Mr. Maurice Dupuyre of Paris, told Rotarians that the interdependence of nations no longer needs to be proved because the present world crisis in itself is the most striking demonstration of this fact. "At the present moment," M. Dupuyre said, "there is sitting in London one of the greatest world conferences that has ever been held, and if—as I sincerely hope is the case—the many nations taking part in this tremendously important discussion, have the will to sacrifice some of their individual views in favour of their common interests, then we can verily ex-

Statler. There were over two hundred took breakfast, which was prepared by Paul H. King, of Detroit, Michigan. Several very interesting addresses were given, after which there was a demonstration by Dr. Brackett, a noted orthopedic doctor of Boston, who had several patients from the different homes which care for handicapped people, to demonstrate work they were able to carry on. He also gave a short explanation of the ailments of each patient present. He felt that this work should not be confined to children only, but should take into consideration older persons, who because of some sickness were left in a crippled condition and had lost all initiative. It was the work of those who were strong to restore this initiative,—to make life again worth living, and to find some occupation which would take the attention of the patient.

Over fifteen hundred Rotary Clubs have as one of their major activities, aid for people thus handicapped. Let me quote from an address of Will Rogers, before the International Society for Crippled Children, delivered in April last:

"In seriousness, I want to say that I hope some good comes from this meeting you are holding here, this splendid work that you are doing. I don't know of any possible thing in the history of charity that would draw anybody together any more than a crippled child. When you see a crippled grown person you would say 'well, perhaps they got crippled in later life, or they are able to aid themselves,' or something like that, but for a crippled child, I don't know anything in the world that could possibly be invented that could have more sympathetic appeal than what this organization is doing. If there is I don't know what it could be. You can't imagine another thing that would be more appreciated than the work you good people are doing because, by golly, with all their afflictions, I have never yet seen one that the little rascal wasn't smiling. They are the gamest people in the world. They may be in pain, but you look at one and he will grin back at you. They are as game as the deuce. Mr. Chandler was telling me that absolutely around fifty per cent you cure and you help all of them."

"I am not personally acquainted with the achievements of the various men and women in this organization, but if I had given half, if I had given one-tenth of the distinguished service that some of the people in this convention have, I would feel that I had been worth while."

It made your representative glad that the major activity of the Club he represented, was in line with this great work.

At 10 o'clock we arrived at the assembly meeting, where they were dealing with the resolutions. Time does not permit me to discuss these with you, nor to deal more fully with the other addresses which were given.

As to the resolutions, the reduction of the per capita tax, sent in by many clubs, was unanimously voted down. The resolution to change the classification, was likewise voted down. These perhaps are resolutions which concern us more than any others.

The election of officers resulted in the election by acclamation, of a Canadian, John Nelson, as President of Rotary International.

President-elect Nelson is supervisor of the public relations department of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada. He is a native of Ontario, where he received his early schooling. Moving to British Columbia, he entered the newspaper profession eventually becoming managing director or editor of several outstanding journals. He has been twice named delegate to the Imperial Press Conference at London, and for two years was a member of the Institute of Pacific Relations meeting in Honolulu. He is an honorary member of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs. Last year Mr. Nelson was third vice-president of Rotary International.

DEADLOCKED FOR TENNIS HONORS

WIMBLEDON, Eng. July 13—The first skirmish in the English-Australian tennis battle for the right to go to Paris to meet the United States in the inter-zone Davis Cup final ended all square today when the two countries divided the opening singles matches.

Jack Crawford, present king of the tennis world by reason of recent defeats of Ellsworth Vines and Henri Cochet, sent the Australians away to a lead with a 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3 victory over Henry W. (Bunny) Austin. But Fred Perry evened accounts for the Mother Country by turning back young Vivian McGrath in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

With much depending on the outcome of the doubles tomorrow, Australia today named Crawford and Adrian Quist, another youngster, to oppose the veteran English internationalists, Perry and Patrick Hughes. The selection of Quist came somewhat as a surprise as McGrath was expected to pair with the Wimbledon champion as he did in the English championships. The shift, however, will leave McGrath fresh for his singles match against Austin Saturday.

But there's much more than words can tell. So, thanking you, we'll say "farewell."

Prizes were then awarded to the following pupils standing highest in their grades by their Teacher: Grade VIII, Sr., Lois Coles; Grade VIII, Jr., Rena Younker; Grade VI, Roland Roberts; Grade V, Eleanor Moreside and Clayton Cudmore; Grade III, Alton Younker; Grade II, Margaret Orswell; Grade I, Each child receiving a gift.

Prize for Department, Ruth Cudmore.

Prize for Perfect Attendance, Margaret Orswell and Alice Younker.

A special gift was given to Miss Helen Younker, who kindly assisted in teaching during the days the teacher was confined to her home with the flu. The teacher was then presented with a pair of white kid gloves and purse to match by the pupils, followed by a nicely worded address.

Dear Teacher: The time has come for our summer holidays and probably for some of us the end of our school days. Your work among us for the past year has been most successful and we, your pupils appreciate it very much. We know that at times we did not do our best, but you had great patience and carried on what we will call a very beautiful year. So please accept these small tokens of love and esteem and if you see fit to come back another year, you will be most warmly welcomed by your pupils of Winsloe North School.

Signed on behalf of your pupils who wish you a very pleasant vacation,

Rena Younker,
Helen Roberts.

The teacher thanking the pupils for their thoughtfulness toward her wished them all a pleasant vacation.

Remarks were then made by the Chairman and K. G. Moreside, Trustee, and Mrs. Leonard Cudmore, who spoke very highly of the progress and work done during the past year. The teacher then treated the pupils and visitors with ice-cream and cake. The singing of the National Anthem brought a very pleasant afternoon to a close.

WINSLOE NORTH SCHOOL CLOSING EXAMINATION

The semi-annual examination of Winsloe North School was held on June 29th, with a large number of parents, visitors and ratepayers present. Mr. Oliver Saunders kindly acted as Chairman. By the prompt and ready answers, the pupils showed that they had been well and patiently trained by their teacher, Miss Marion Frizzell and much regret was expressed by the people that she was leaving Winsloe. After a nicely prepared programme given by the pupils alternately with their classes. Following is the program:

Recitation, Welcome, by Vera Nunn; Music, by 4 girls; Dialogue, Learning to say yes; Recitation, by Shirley Nunn; Song, by Senior girls, Moonlight and Skies; Dialogue, Getting Acquainted; Dialogue, Animals in the Circus; Song, by School, Marching to Healthland; Recitations, by Rena Younker, Marion Ford, Eric Laird; Chorus, by School, The Maple Leaf Forever; Recitation, by Layton Smith; Solo, by Veda Roberts; Dialogue, City Ignorance; Recitation, by Keith Cudmore; Dialogue, The Arkansas Traveller; Recitation, by Leigh Roberts; Trio, by Roland Roberts, Clayton and Keith Cudmore; Recitation, by Lauretta Smith; Dialogue, Feminine Bravery; Music, by Girls; Recitations, Elaine Nunn, Roland Roberts; Acrostic Vacation by 9 yrs.; Chorus, Welcome Vacation.

Eight Public School Certificates were presented to the following in grade VIII, Jr. in order of merit, namely: Rena Younker, Alice Younker, Helen Roberts, Ruth Cudmore, Reginald Nunn, Norma Orswell, Leigh Carter, Jjoyce Younker who then recited the following Valedictory:

We're here, kind friends, as you may see
To say our Valedictory.
Our examination now is through,
We've tried to please each one of you
And if we've failed in any part
Lay it to head, and not to heart.
Before we close, we now propose
To tender thanks to each of you
Who've seen our examination through
Thank you for your presence here
With kindly smile our work to cheer

Mr. Frank Pidgeon, Victoria, is building a summer cottage on the beautiful shore of Mr. Arthur Inman, Hampton. It is hoped that in time this shore will become a popular summer resort as its boating and bathing facilities are excellent and for beauty and landscape scenery it is unexcelled.

A large number of the young people of Victoria held a very enjoyable picnic at Pleasant View Beach, Hampton on Wednesday, July 12th. Mr. H. R. Proffitt, the genial proprietor of the Orient, very kindly conveyed a number of the merry-makers in his motor truck, while "Jiggs" Miller and Dan MacLeod took the remaining number in a motor boat. After a dip in the briny, several games of soft ball and base-ball were indulged in, then a fire was built on the shore and the picnic boxes provided by the young ladies were opened and needless to say all did justice to the appetizing spread. As the sun slowly sank in the west the ones who went by motor truck returned happily home, while those who went by motor boat found out the truth of the old say-

Piles Go Quick

Itching, bleeding or protruding piles go quickly and don't come back, if you really remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower bowel and hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby almost dead. Salves and suppositories fail because only an internal medicine that stimulates the circulation and drives out the impure blood can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr. J. S. Leonard discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After prescribing it for 1,000 patients with success in over 900 cases he named it HEM-ROID, Hughes Drug Co. Ltd., and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets with guarantee they will end your Pile misery or money back.

Before her marriage in 1929, Lady Wilkins was Suzanne Bennett, an Australian actress.
