Yesterday, the anniversary of Her Most Gracious Majesty the late Queen Victoria, was observed in Charlottetown in much the usual manner. The customary fishing expeditions by team and train were organized and some good catches were made, though generally they were not up to last year. One party from Murray Harbor brought in a five pound fish but it was of the cod variety and the bait used in its capture was neither worm nor fly. The usual exodus to the country was somewhat lessened by the overcast appearance of the sky in the morning and the rain in the afternoon did not in any way improve to opportunities for enjoyment of those unfortunate (?) ones who still remained in the city. Quite a number attended the horse races in New Glasgow, N. S., which was really the only sporting attraction of the day, and the Harland and the Rocky Point boat had less than the usual 24th of May crowds to transport from the city. The Rifle shoot in the morning at Kensington range furnished some diversion for a number of rifle enthusiasts.
