Uniforms Teach Dress Smartness

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP)—Toronto style-makers say that Canadian women are going to be smarter, better dressed when this war is over, all because so many of them are now in uniform.

The wearing of the khaki, air-crew blue or navy blue has made women — quite literally — pull up their socks, and the women themselves say they'll never go back to gaudy, frilly and drippy glamor styles.

There are groves of them a few miles away. Grapes grow almost everywhere on the island and cactus as the fruit of the cactus known as prickly pears is very tasty. Sicilians received us very well and were delighted at the fall of Mussolini. The Germans completely denuded Sicily. Many people were bare-footed and wearing a pair of shoes that weren't patched or at least shabby. Many had bits of rags tied about their feet. The people blamed everything on Mussolini and the Germans.

MEET ME AT THE GREEN LIGHT Like the railroad's girl who wanted green lipstick, the go-ahead signal, a green light, is standard for the convenience of the travelling public to mark the place where they can reclaim their baggage from the Canadian National Central Station in Montreal, Que., is being used for meetings of those joining friends or departing.

WHERE WERE THE OLANAUCHE An experiment in fish culture back in 1833 seems only now to be bearing fruit. The experiment was brought to attention of fish experts by the discovery of our native or landlocked salmon, in northern Ontario waters, according to Ernie G. Poole, fish and game representative for the Canadian National Railways.

FIRST CAR OF WHEAT SHIPPED TO LAKEHEAD WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 15 — The first car of 1943 wheat was loaded August 28, at Jordan, Manitoba, a station on the Canadian National Railway between Rossbank and Roland not far from the North Dakota border. It was shipped in Canadian National cars to the Manitoba Wheat Pool at Port Arthur, the load containing 2,683 bushels of grain furnished by seven farmers.

Thrills, Excitement, In "A Gentleman After Dark"

Brian Donlevy plays the title role, a sympathetic one for us first time in his career, even though it is that of a level-headed, burly Irishman, who is seen on the screen for the first time in a year, during which time she has been on the stage, plays a very difficult part of a mother who preters excitement to the care of her daughter, Preston.

ballots to elect one Liberal and one Progressive Conservative, Hon. J. A. Campbell, Minister without Portfolio, was the successful Liberal in the 4th King's area.

A similar split in the vote also sent back to the house Hon. W. F. Allan Stewart, Minister of Education, and Hon. Horace Wright, Minister without Portfolio, in 3rd Prince, in each case the Liberal running mates lost out.

Hon. William Hughes, Provincial secretary and Treasurer of the Queen's riding, was re-elected as assemblyman for the 5th King's area. Hon. Ma K. R. MacGuigan went back as councillor for the 3rd Queen's riding, defeating J. J. Trainor, President of the P. E. J. Federation of Agriculture.

Highways Minister, George Barbour, gained reelection as assemblyman for the 2nd Prince district. Rounding out the list of re-elected Ministers was Hon. Martin Gallant, Minister without Portfolio, who went back as assemblyman for 3rd Prince.

One of Gallant's opponents was Napoleon Arsenault, President of the East Prince Association, who ran under the C. C. F. designation after being defeated for a Liberal nomination.

Leading the C. C. F. group into the election was Irving Tombs, who ran for councillor in 4th Prince. He polled 123 votes, about 10 per cent of the total of Hon. Horace Wright, who was elected.

The Independent Liberals included P. A. McIsaac, former member of the Legislature, who filed independent in 1st King's. He received 97 votes. The other Independent Liberals were G. D. Warrea and W. E. Arsenault, who was in 1st Prince.

Fox W. H. Dennis, veteran Liberal councillor of 2nd Prince, this election marked his eighth consecutive win. He was first elected in 1915 and has never been defeated since that time. Dennis was named Minister of Agriculture in 1932, but he left the cabinet in a shuffle last May that accompanied the transfer of the premiership.

Anti-submarine device expert of the First Great War, Frederic Bacon, 63 died at Newbury. He also served as a naval lieutenant in the department of Portsmouth Dockyard which deals with enemy mines in relation to ships.

Abolition of peace treaties and the formation of a scheme whereby the United Nations would have unlimited powers to deal with Axis countries were urged by M. de Baer, President of the Belgian Military Court, in "Messages" a Belgian review published in London.
