MILK AS FOOD.

One reason why milk is so excellent as a food is that it contains much calcium, which is the principal mineral of the human body contributing to the make-up of the bones and teeth. A grown person carries in his skeleton about four pounds of it, says an exchange. The body contains about three ounces of sodium, combined with chlorine to form common salt. There are also about two ounces of magnesium, which is a silvery-white metal. Another highly inflammable metal contained in the body is potassium—about two and one-half ounces of it. The body contains about fifty-five ounces of phosphorus, seven eighths of the phosphorus is in the bones (going to form phosphate of lime); half an ounce is in the brain tissues; the rest is in the red corpuscles; of the blood of sulphur there are about four ounces in the bones and teeth. The body is three-fifths water and one-fifth carbon.

HELPFUL OKLAHOMA FROGS

Frogs assisted federal and county officers to locate a moonshiner in an Ozark mountain, near here. The officers were hunting a little lake, beside which the still was said to be operating. They had searched for some time, when they heard the croaking of frogs. "Follow the sound and we'll find the lake," one of the officers said. Finding a sixty-gallon capacity still and a quantity of corn meal on the banks of the lake was the result.—Muskogee Correspondence of the Oklahoman.

BANK RAISED THE ANTE.

A farmer while doing business in a Semykhill (Pa.) bank the other day discovered a waste basket an envelope containing $1,499 in cash. The money was found by a scrub woman, who returned it to the bank. The farmer gave her $8 as a reward. The bank, realizing that the woman might have kept all the money, and being ashamed at such a tiny reward, gave her a liberal present in token of their honesty.

AN ARKANSAS PATRIOT

There are two monuments on the grounds surrounding the new capitol at Little Rock, Ark. One of them is a figure of victory crownning a Confederate soldier bearing a furled flag. Beneath it is a tablet presenting the following lines: "Our furled flag wreathed with glory. And though conquered we adore thee. Weep for those who fell before it. Pardon those who trailed and tore it." While a group of tourists were reading them, an old gentleman of military bearing and with an empty satchel stopped and looked at the monument. After reading the inscription he said: "The defeat of the South in the war between the states was the best thing that ever happened to this country. If the Confederate armies had been victorious by this time there would have been twenty-five or thirty little republics scattered over this fair land, each of them pecking at the other like a lot of young game cocks after a shower." "Pointing to the flag on the top of the capitol, he continued: "That is our emblem. I did my best to take a few stars out of the union and failed. Now, I thank God that I did." With a salute to the party, the old veteran marched down the hill and took a trolley to the center of the city.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE WASHINGTON CONFERENCE

With the signing of the various agreements between the nations at Washington lately, the most able international conference in history came to an end. In spite of the cynical criticisms of Mr. H. G. Wells, at an early stage of the conference, the practical fruits of the conference are of the greatest moment to the world. In the brief space of three months, more has been accomplished in settling international differences and the conserving of world peace than in former treaties which took two or three years to negotiate. The agreements arrived at in Washington for the limitation of armaments and the settlement of delicate Eastern problems would have been regarded a year or two ago, as beyond the range of possibility. "Would Great Britain," it has been asked, twenty years ago,

BRIEF FILLERS

There are now a total of 646,673 freight cars idle in the United States because of business conditions, the number increasing 27,998 during the last month.

The total yield of wheat in Canada for the year 1921 has been finally estimated at 300,858,100 bushels from a sown area of 23,261,224 acres.

The London Times reports that a serious dispute has broken out in Palestine between Moslems and Jews as to the ownership of the tomb of Rachel. The British high commissioner has decided if the tomb needs repairs the work will be done by Jews, but in such a way as not to prejudice any of the rights which the Moslems now enjoy.

Sells Out Properties To Work for Zionism

BOSTON, Feb. 18.—Julius Nesson for years a holder of much real estate and a prominent Zionist, is selling at auction $3,000,000 worth of property in this city in order to realize the cash without delay, preparatory to his departure for Palestine. The action is being held in Lotimer Hill, in the Tremont Temple. Nearly half his properties have already been disposed of. The Longfellow apartments in Back Bay, were sold for $121,000 to the New York East Side Realty Trust. They are said to be worth easily $200,000. The same concern also bought the Majestic on the Regent and units near the city hall in Cambridge, paying $15,000 and for under the real value it is said. The New Yorkers took the Rockingham apartments at 821 Beacon Street at $15,000. Nesson has been an enthusiastic worker in behalf of the Zionism movement. As soon as his business affairs are cleared up he will devote himself entirely to the upbuilding of Zion. There was a touch of sentiment in the auction when it was announced that the three-story brick tenement at 90 and 92 East Lenox street had gone to Joseph Friedman who had been its tenant a tenant of Mr. Nesson. The terms were not made public, but are assumed to have been nominal. Motion pictures of the properties were shown.

HOME RULE FOR EGYPT

While Great Britain will not be coerced by irresponsible agitators into relinquishing her suzerainty over Egypt before that country gives satisfactory evidences of a capacity to govern itself, the British government has "explicitly" stated its readiness to terminate the Protectorate declared in 1914 and to recognize the existence of Egypt as a sovereign state, provided that Egypt in her turn gives full and effective guarantees that the Empire's communications are assured, that the foreign communities are protected and that Egypt is herself guarded against the aggression of some foreign power. The British occupation of Egypt has been an unqualified blessing to that country. It has raised it from a state of bankruptcy to a condition of great prosperity. Public works of great and permanent value have been constructed. Instead of the lawlessness and oppression under Turkish rule, a reign of law and order, of liberty and equal rights for all has been introduced. Life and property have been made safe, and slavery or what was equivalent to it, has been abolished. The Egyptians know this and must realize the reasonableness of the conditions insisted upon by Great Britain before her withdrawal. One great difficulty in the granting of independence to Egypt is the lack of competent native leaders. But we may feel sure that the gift of self government will not be delayed a single day after Egypt shows herself worthy of such a responsibility and able to use it in her own true interests and for the good of the world.

LIQUOR AND UNITER STATES

When there are so many conflicting reports and opinions as to the success or failure of prohibition in the United States, it is very difficult to get at the truth. In this as in other fields of investigation, men generally find what they are looking for and are often blind to parallel facts and conditions. An acute observer, who has made a survey of conditions in all but nine of the states, gives to the

New York Independent the conclusions to which he has come after carefully sifting all the information which has come into his possession. This writer says that it does result in fewer bad cases, in taking the country as a whole, the progress made towards actual enforcement of prohibition is certain as great as a surely optimistic dream. He not wrecked any city, either in the law anything about it but talks says that while intoxicants can be obtained in every state in the United States, the effect of Much of the drinking is comparative ease, yet efforts to quite notable. There is less distasteful by prohibition and much of the law have received very little support. "Many of the claims made for prohibition by those who advise the writer believes that prohibition borders.
