HAS BILLIARDS HOPES
LONDON — After making a 107 break in a practice game, 17 year old Barbara Meston, telephone operator, has entered the Women's Professional Billiards and Snooker championships.
Stunning is a black lace Spanish bolero in a pink satin nightgown tied with a wide sash at the waist. Lozenges of lace cluster at the yoke and sleeves of a crepe jacket worn over a net gown.

Scout News and Notices

"There is no greater work you can do than promote the ideals contained in the Scout pledge." — Most Rev. J. F. Ryan, Bishop of Hamilton, at a gathering of Catholic Scouts and leaders in Kitchener.
In accepting a mass-troop correspondence invitation of the 1st Alford Boy Scout Group, Lincolnshire, the boys of the 1st Welland, Ont. Troop sent the Lincolnshire boys "light" picture postcards bearing views of the Niagara peninsula, and the senders' names and addresses.
The Boy Scout Correspondence Secretary at Dominion Headquarters' looked again when he received this request from a Patrol Leader in Hertfordshire: "Dear Sir, I would like to correspond with a Canadian Scout whose hobby is white mice."

In England's smallest county Rut and, there are three Wolf Cub packs, nine Scout troops and two Rover crews, with a total membership of 205. In Yorkshire, the largest county, there are 545 Cub packs, 712 Scout troops, 154 Rover crews, with a membership of 26,630.

A unique Boy Scout headquarters recently completed at Godstone, Buckinghamshire, is a composite restoration of a house of the Tudor period. The building is constructed almost entirely of material from old 16th century buildings recently demolished in various parts of England. Included was the framework of an ancient Sussex barn Tudor brick and tile, and old ship's timbers. Of particular interest to the Scouts and Rovers who did most of the work, were some timbers from Dick Turpin's birthplace, the "Old Haunted House of Hornechurch." The main room of the new meeting place duplicates a Tudor banquet hall, with a "minstrel's gallery" at one end, and below, a huge fireplace. The completed headquarters has attracted considerable news and newspaper pictorial section publicity.

There are 56,875 Boy Scouts in the City of London.

To the list of important scholarships won by Canadian Boy Scouts has been added a North American Correspondence Course award in electrical engineering, won by Rover Scout R. E. Leggett, of the 8th Oshawa, Ont., Sea Scouts. The scholarship comprises a year's tuition at Los Angeles Engineering Institute, plus $250 cash and return transportation.

A gold Scout Chaplain's sash was presented to Most Rev. Joseph F. Ryan, Roman Catholic Bishop of Hamilton, by Provincial Commissioners in Charge, at a largely attended gathering of Catholic Scouts and leaders at Kitchener, Ont. Bishop Ryan indicated the early appointment of a Diocesan Scout Chaplain to assist in the organization of Wolf Cub packs and Scout troops throughout the diocese.

There are now some 6,000 handicapped boys—blind, deaf, dumb, mental defectives, and crippled—enrolled in the Handicapped Branch of the Boy Scout movement in Great Britain. The Scout connection and training has proved of important benefit to such boys, notably in the mental result of the discovery that they can share many of the activities of physically normal boys. Canada also has Scouts, troops and Wolf Cub packs in many of its institutions and hospitals for sick and handicapped children.

Believed to be the world's farthest unit of the Boy Scout movement a Wolf Cub Pack and Scout Troop have been reported by Alberta provincial Scout headquarters at Edmonton, as having been organized at Akavik. The only possible rival is an American Scout troop at Point Barrow, Alaska. The Akavik pack and troop comprise Eskimo and Indian boys under the leadership of Principal Sherman Shepherd of All Saints' residential school and Miss Doris Nixon of the teaching staff, formerly of Manitoba. A new Scout troop also has been formed at Fort Smith.

1st CHTOWN SCOUT TROOP
This Troop has changed the regular weekly meetings from Friday evening to Saturday evenings. The Scouts are asked to note the change and further notice will be given when they are to resume their meetings on Fridays.

3rd CHTOWN ROVER SEA SCOUTS
The Rover Sea Scouts from the 3rd Charlottetown Group have been fortunate in obtaining the services of Mr. George Coffin as instructor and take this opportunity of extending him a hearty welcome in the Ship's Company. The crew also welcome Durell Murray as a new member. Last Thursday evening a formal meeting was held when all the Rovers paraded in full uniform.

6th CHTOWN TROOP
On Friday evening the 6th Charlottetown Troop held a Parents' evening at their Group Headquarters. This proved a very good means of presenting Scouting to the public and showing what Scouting is and does. The program was well prepared and consisted of a number of Scouting stunts including fire lighting by means of the "Fire Bow." This program showed what Scouting meant to the boys.

9th CHTOWN TROOP
Many and varied were the remarks heard after the Troop banquet Tuesday evening, but they all meant the same thing—a great feed and a dandy time. Once again the boys wish to thank all their friends, both ladies and gentlemen, who helped make the banquet such a success. From now till camp

DISCIPLINE THROUGH NECESSARY OF GROWTH

Children all have to be disciplined. But a wise mother realizes that discipline is not a stimulant of growth or character development.
A child can mind his parents' every word and grow into a man or woman who is totally infertile and lacking in every dynamic quality.
If a child lacks courage, self-confidence and energy, he will never amount to much, even though he was the best-behaved child in the neighborhood.
Character development is a much more complicated matter than teaching a child to do what he is told is right. Discipline is needed, but always remember—it contributes almost nothing to a child's development. It is little more than a necessary remedy—like medicine.

FASHION FLASHES

All-woolen cashmere in "dusty" colors is new—blue, pink and beige are leading shades.
Soft shetland tweeds have a coarse lacy-looking check.
Covert cloth is particularly good for suits this year. The most popular shade is cadet blue, closely followed by tans, grays and olive green.
Flowers, bow-knots, vari-size dots, lace designs, cross-stair effects, combed dots and daisy designs are shown in prints for spring.

badge work is going to be the main object of the Troop. Many have finished their Second Class Tests and are tackling First Class work so none of the boys can waste any time.
At present about half the boys of the Troop have full uniform. Most of the remainder have odd articles of clothing but still have to obtain quite a lot of equipment. Every boy hopes to be fully equipped before our Church parade in May, and to be so, they are getting together with their parents and others just to see what odd jobs they can do to raise their own uniform funds. B.P.'s wish is that every Scout earn his own uniform.
We are all looking forward to a fine weekend for our regular Saturday hike. There were twenty-two of us last hike—let's have a full turnout this Saturday fellows.
