ST. DUNSTAN'S COLLEGE

A view taken looking at the building from the South.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY CLOSING OF ST. DUNSTAN'S

The closing exercises of St. Dunstan's College yesterday afternoon were largely attended by friends of the Institution and were most enjoyable.

The beautiful day made the surroundings almost ideal and nothing occurred to mar the pleasure of the occasion. A large number of the clergy were present besides ladies, prominent citizens and leading educationalists.

The music by the College Glee Club and the solos by C. E. White, B. Gillis, and J. Toupin were excellent and met hearty applause.

The Prize Essay in advocacy of the study of the Classic, read by B. L. Cahill and the Valedictory by J. C. McKenzie each reflected much credit on these students as on the College itself. The following was the PROGRAM:

Opening Chorus "Old Farmer John"..... C. E. White
College Glee Club.
Alumni Prize Essay..... B. L. Cahill.
Vocal Solo—Selected..... B. Gillis.
Distribution of Special Prizes and..... Diplomas
Valedictory..... J. C. McKenzie.
Vocal Solo—"Canada"..... J. Toupin.
Address to Graduates..... Rev. P. C. Gauthier, D. D.
Chorus—"Softly the Night Breeze is Sighing"..... C. E. White
College Glee Club.

Rev. Father Gauthier, the talented French Canadian divine and former Rector of the College in addressing the graduates alluded in eloquent language to the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of St. Dunstan's by the late Bishop of revered memory, and the sending out this year of the largest Graduating Class in the history of the College. The founders of the college were strong men in the faith and the College has ever stood by the essentials of learning and she has chosen well for the colleges are discarding the fads and frills which some had adopted. Addressing the graduates on the subject of Philosophy to which they had devoted their attention largely in the past two years he delivered an impassioned dissertation which held the audience in rapt attention and was closed amid prolonged applause.

Took Place Yesterday Afternoon—Eloquent Speeches, Good Music and Excellent Essays Read by Graduates.

Dr. Curran, the Rector, thanked all who had shown their interest by attendance and especially His Honor Lieutenant Governor McKinnon who was present for the first time since his elevation to the gubernatorial chair. The year had been fully up to the standard. The chief feature of this occasion was the 50th anniversary of the founding of the college. He was glad to see one who had assisted on that occasion, Rev. James Phelan who had shown a great interest in the college. The graduating class was the largest in the history of the college, six were from the Island and ten from abroad. This year 48 students from abroad are in attendance; the college is thus bringing money to the Island, and also affording a means of education to our Island boys. The students, acting on the suggestion of his Lordship, had pledged themselves to total abstinence during the year. All had taken this pledge and all were glad to see it. He then called upon a number present for short addresses.

His Lordship Bishop McDonald congratulated the graduates and felt sure they would do credit to the College and to themselves. He expressed great pleasure especially at the opening essay which advocated the study of the classics.

Lieut. Governor McKinnon also congratulated the students upon their graduation. He was glad to see students coming from the other provinces. He emphasized the remarks previously made regarding the study of classics.

Dr. Anderson, Superintendent of Education, turned from the realms of Philosophy and urged better handwriting and better spelling which was urgently necessary, judging from the recent licence examination in which he had to look over the papers. He congratulated the students upon their success and hoped they would look back on the college days as the pleasantest days of their lives.

Justice Fitzgerald congratulated the students upon their good conduct, their gentlemanly bearing and their commencement exercises. He lauded highly the readers of the Essay and the Valedictory for the tone which each had displayed and gave some advice to the students for their after life.

Professor Robertson, Principal of Prince of Wales College, referred briefly to the benefits, financially and morally, of St. Dunstan's College to Charlottetown. As a parting word of advice to the students he urged them to keep before them the principles inculcated by the Rev. Rector and his associates during the years they had been in attendance at St. Dunstan's.

The proceedings were brought to a close by the National Anthem.

A THUNDERSTORM AND BIG BILLOWS

Alarmed Passengers on Steamer from St. John, to Boston, but All Reached Their Destination in Safety.

BOSTON, June 7—(Special).—Through a wild sea with the waves riding mountains high, the thunder roaring and lightning flashing, the Eastern Steamship Company's big steamer St. Croix, passed on her way to Boston from St. John, N.B., while her seventy-five passengers were huddled together in scanty attire in the cabins, thinking that any moment the vessel would be struck by lightning and set a fire or sunk.

Captain J. E. Thompson says the storm was the most severe he ever experienced. It came suddenly as the vessel was sailing from St. John to Portland and reached its height at about two o'clock in the morning. The Captain had much difficulty in calming the terror-stricken passengers. The vessel reached Portland safely and arrived at her berth in Boston only a few hours late today.
