Three young ladies bent on pleasure started out from the suburbs of the City with a well tried old family horse to hear the music of Worth's Band in the gardens last night. While passing one of the dark places in the suburbs a short distance from the home, the horse who was more cunning than the occupants either got scared in the dark or didn't want to go any further and concluded to go back home. He immediately stopped, backed up, and turned round and deliberately walked home despite all efforts of the less cunning drivers, who were sadly disappointed at the sudden break in their plans.

Rev. Mother St. Brenda is now teaching in St. Mary's Convent, Newcastle, N. B. She has replaced Rev. Mother St. Mary Edith, who has been transferred to Charlottetown, P. E. I., after being the first-class teacher in the convent for about 3 years. —Newcastle Advocate.

All six classes of the races on the Charlottetown Driving Park, the entries to which closed on the first instant have filled. The only remaining class is the 23rd race. The entries to which close on the tenth instant, and it is believed will well fill. This will make seven classes for the Exhibition week. In the window of Mr. Hutcheson's jewelry store may be seen a very handsome cup. One shield bears the inscription "Agnes C. R. A. 1908. The opposite inscription awaits the name of the fortunate winner. On Saturday week the club shoots its final match. The ranges are 200 (mealing) 500 and 600 yards any position, closing with seven rounds in one minute at 200 yards prone. A handicap which ensures a chance of winning to each participant, has been arranged. Extra series targets will be provided. A grand days sport is assured if weather conditions are favorable.
