Charlie CHAPLIN

CITY LIGHTS

Still the elusive, intangible genius of joy, Chaplin does not talk and yet speaks volumes with his deft pantomime in the greatest side-splitting sensation the motion picture has known.

Again the forlorn figure with the bulging brogans, wobbly clothes and bamboo cane hobbles through hilarious adventures that transport him from the freedom of the back alleys into the gay, glittering glamor of smart society. You'll chortle, giggle, gurgle, howl and scream as Charlie trips up the ladder of success, bidding for fame and fortune first as a prize fighter, then a white wing and finally a man about town. It's the treat of treats for the whole family.

3 YEARS TO MAKE

2 HOURS OF JOY

IN MEMORIAM

THOMAS H. PAYNTER

Deep regret was felt among a large circle of friends when it became known that Thomas H. Paynter had passed peacefully away at his home Anagnag Ridge, at 10 o'clock Monday night, April 27, aged 85 years. Two years ago Mr. Paynter suffered a severe shock of paralysis from which he never fully recovered. He became suddenly ill on Thursday, April 23, with an attack of heart trouble from which he never rallied.

The late Mr. Paynter was born in New London, P. E. I., March 10th, 1846, a son of the late William and Mary Ann Paynter. He came to New Brunswick more than sixty years ago, residing for some time in New-Town. Later he moved to Anagnag Ridge, where he became a farmer. Mr. Paynter was a member of the United Church of Canada and took an active part in the work of the Sunday School, leading a class of boys for some years until advancing age and failing health compelled him to remain much at home. He was one of the oldest members of the Local Orange Lodge in the province, becoming a member sixty years ago. He was one of the strongest advocates for the Temperance Alliance and tried to do all he could for the cause of temperance. Besides his wife he is survived by one son Colbourne, of Anagnag Ridge; and three daughters: Miss Annabelle at home; Mrs. Joseph Coates, of Knightsville; Mrs. Willis Payne, of St. John, fourteen grand children and four great grandchildren; also one brother Edwin, of Kensington, P. E. I., who was present at the funeral. The funeral service was held from his late home on Tuesday afternoon, April 30th at two o'clock, conducted by Rev. Cator Windsor, pastor of the United Church Petticoat.

ELMSDALE

The many friends of Mrs. Henry Williams are pleased to know she is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. William Wallace, teacher of Foxley River School, spent the week end at his home here.

Mrs. Rankin, whose home is in the Bermuda Islands, is here at present visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sinclair.

Mr. Fred Currie, one of the C.N.R. trainmen from Charlottetown, spent Sunday here visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Irving Williams and Mrs. Mary Ann Paynter. He came to New Brunswick more than sixty years ago, residing for some time in New-Town. Later he moved to Anagnag Ridge, where he became a farmer. The Elmsdale Dramatic Club staged their play "After You, I'm Next," in the hall here on Tuesday, May 5th. The hall was crowded with people, who enjoyed to the full, a good play splendidly acted. Despite the handicap of a small stage, the actors although amateurs, took their parts very well indeed and carried the play through to a very successful close, while from a financial standpoint, the play was also a splendid success.

The death of Joseph Rix occurred at his home here on Saturday, April 18th. He was sixty-three years of age and although he had not been enjoying good health for some time, his death came suddenly and was a shock to his many friends. He was of a quiet unassuming nature and was respected by everybody. There are left to mourn his loss, a wife and four small children. One little daughter predeceased him several months ago. He was laid to rest in the United Church Cemetery at Elmsdale on Monday, April 20th. The funeral service was largely attended and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Elliot, who took as his text "Be ye therefore also ready." The hymns sung were "The Lord is My Shepherd," "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," and "On Christ, the solid rock, I stand."

Papermakers May Retire From Senior Hockey

FREDERICTON, N. B., May 13—Stan Burgoyne, who handled the Fort William team that won the Allan cup and was coach of Truro Bearcats two years ago when they were the most serious contenders for the amateur hockey championship of Canada, arrived in Fredericton at noon today and is the prospective new manager and coach of the Fredericton Hockey Club for next season.

Burgoyne's arrival was the big shot in a busy day of the off season for Fredericton's hockey magnates. Other events today included announcement that Bathurst is out of senior hockey for next season and the arrival of E. Pillon, big defence player for the Fredericton Club, from Trenton, Ont., and the first appearance in town for some weeks of Joey Beaton, who has been at his home in New Glasgow, N. S., undergoing medical treatment and having a vacation.

Fredericton's Complete Line-up

Three more players have yet to arrive before the Fredericton Hockey Club's roster will be complete, these being Sammy McManus and Russell Bowman, who are coming tomorrow from Toronto, and Ernie Mosher, who is due here tomorrow night from Kentville. Harry Bartlett, who was captain of the Fredericton club last winter, is still on relieving duty in the Bank of Nova Scotia service and will not be here permanently again until next autumn. But the line-up is now complete and is as follows:

Goal—Daddy Bubar and Cliff Young.

Defence—Harry Bartlett, E. Pillon and Russell Bowman.

Forwards—Ernie Mosher, Sammy McManus, Aubrey Webster, Joey Beaton, Hymie McArthur and Clint Gammon.

It was suggested here tonight that Did James may be added to the Fredericton Club's roster. The Bathurst star is said to have gone to Dalhousie, whereas it is said that the Fredericton Club has what is virtually an option or at least first claim on his services. There were three players on the Bathurst Club last season whose services any club in the league would have been glad to acquire. There was an agreement, however, that clubs in the Southern New Brunswick League would not tamper with one another's players and they all respected that agreement.

Retirement of Bathurst Club

The Bathurst management has not as yet notified their fellow members in the Southern League of the retirement of the Bathurst Club from senior hockey, meanwhile clubs in other leagues have been permitted to step in and grab off the desirable players until it is now said that Bond, the goalie, is the only regular of last winter's team remaining in Bathurst.

Neither Stan Burgoyne himself, nor officers of the Fredericton Hockey Club, could say tonight whether he will remain in Fredericton and take charge of the local club. Locally the feeling of hockey followers is that no more desirable candidate for the post of manager and coach of the Fredericton team could be found and Burgoyne says he would be delighted to spend the coming hockey season here. It, therefore, becomes a mere business proposition, as to whether the Fredericton Club can offer the inducements required to get Burgoyne's signature to a contract. The most ardent hockey followers here seem to feel that the Fredericton Hockey Club, after last winter's disappointments could make no better investment than to sign such a capable and experienced pilot as Burgoyne. With all these situations to keep the atmosphere surcharged it can truthfully be said that hockey interest in Fredericton

Keeps Entrance Well Guarded

(Special to the Guardian)

GENEVA, May 13—Soviet Russia is keeping its side door entrance through the Dardanelles thoroughly well guarded, according to the annual report just made to the League of Nations by the International Straits Commission at Constantinople. The Russian fleet remains at all times the most powerful one in the Black Sea. It consists at the present time of one capital ship, formerly belonging to the Baltic fleet, two cruisers one of which also came from the Baltic fleet, five torpedo boats, five submarines, four mine sweepers, eleven patrol boats, two auxiliary vessels, three training ships and twenty-one training hydroplanes.

Island Doctor Secures Radium Cures Patient

The following is taken from May Modern Medicine and the Dr. McNeill referred to is a brother of Mr. A. E. McNeill of this City.

"Far off in the isolated hamlet of Cabri, situated in a remote part of the province of Saskatchewan, Canada, a woman suffering from cancer listened to her physician solemnly pronounce her death-knell.

"Madame" he said, in the somber note of a doctor who must admit that he cannot cope with the unfathomable ravages of Nature, "I am helpless. Our battle is done. There is only one possible means of saving your life. It is radium."

Dr. A. L. H. MacNeill, who ministers to the bodily ailments of the sparse population of Cabri, went on to say, "Madame, I have heard of the wonders of radium. If we could only get some of that precious substance, I am sure you could be cured."

The patient's eyes brightened with hope. It was decided that every possible risk would be made to bring the radium cure to this distant outpost. Thereupon began one of the multitude of radium's glorious adventures.

Dr. MacNeill immediately got in touch with Radium Emanation Corporation in New York City, explaining the situation and telling them that it would be impossible for his patient to travel to New York, so acute was her illness.

The medic furnished the complete diagnosis and details of his patient's condition and in turn he received, post haste, via airmail, train and dog-sled, several tubes of radium emanations—a radium gas called radon—and full directions. The heroic adventure resulted in a cure.

Canada's Meat Production On A Low Basis

(Canadian Press)

OTTAWA, May 13—Beef is practically the only human food at the present time that is not in excess production, states the eleventh annual live stock market and meat trade review, which will shortly be published by the Dominion Livestock Branch. The review observes Canada's meat production at present is on a comparatively low basis but that this does not necessarily guarantee a maintenance of good prices during the present year. It takes the view that a general business revival is necessary as well as an alternative outlet, which it considers essential to any marked stable trade and improvement in the beef trade market.

CAMOUFLAGE

Cover up the heartache. While the wound is new, Share the pain with no one. It belongs to you; Touch your eyes with laughter. Paint your lips with song, Scatter carefree petals. All the way along; Spare no time for teardrops. And no memories keep. They are nought but torture, Better buried deep; Cover up your heartache. While the pain is new, Face the days with courage. See what time will do.

COLLEGE MISTAKE FOR SOME GIRLS, SAYS AGED DEAN

WELLESLEY, Mass., May 13—(U.P.)—For some girls it is a mistake to go to college, in the opinion of Dean Alice Waite of Wellesley College, who is soon to retire after 3 years' service.

Young women should consider their futures seriously before committing themselves to four years of academic activity which might prove of little benefit to them, according to Dean Waite.

"It is a great pity that girls feel there is a stigma attached to not going to college, and that once in college they feel it is a disgrace to leave and make other plans," she says.
