

Rain Curtails Second Day's Racing Program

Balance Of Heats To Be Raced In Conjunction With Today's Card.

Packed Stands Sit Through Rain To Witness Racing Of High Order In The Five Heats Run Off.

A downpour of rain that followed intermittent showers all afternoon yesterday caused postponement of the second day's harness racing program of Old Home Week after the fans had witnessed five heats being run off. The remaining heats of yesterday's card will be raced this afternoon in conjunction with the scheduled classes with the second division of the 2:25 Pace set down for today's program being pushed ahead to Friday afternoon the last day of the four-day meeting.

But despite the wet conditions prevailing yesterday a massed crowd of fans sat through it all and as a result saw close, exciting racing in every heat raced with five different winners chalking up heat wins leaving the outcome of the classes still very much in doubt.

Naturally disappointed at the unfavorable turn in the weather nevertheless it was a sight to behold to see the big crowd sit through it all the way and despite the almost steady rain braved the elements to help cheer their favorites on to victory. It reminded one of Upper Canadian and United States sports fans who can't be chased away no matter what conditions prevail.

Wilkin, pacing a mile in 2:10 1-2, couldn't make the grade. As they very fast considering the wet, slippery track was the winner of the only heat raced in the Junior Free-For-All. The bunch of beat-up cars in the race promise to give the fans plenty of money before the winner is decided.

In the First Division of the 2:24 Trot Buddy Moko, as was expected, came through to win the first heat, which split matters up. Another split occurred in the two heats of the 2:23 Pace 1st Division, when Scotty Budlong came through in the stretch to win the first mile only to have the second mile won by the Queen's Treasure in front. In the 2:22 Pace 1st Division, when the Queen's Treasure was in front in a stirring stretch duel as has been witnessed on the Island this season.

But despite the unavoidable postponement racing fans are looking forward to outstanding racing this afternoon by the half which is headlined by the big Free-For-All Trot and Pace to be followed by the 2:22 Pace and the much-looked forward to 2:14 Pace. Then as mentioned above the remainder of yesterday's card will be raced off and such were the performances yesterday that fans are looking forward to almost anything occurring.

Following is a brief account of the heats raced yesterday:

2:22 PACE—1st Div.
1st Heat: Aky on the third score Scotty McKane and the race was a close one. Just after the wire saw Margaret Jean take over the lead followed by Scotty Budlong and Scotty McKane. As they passed the quarter pole they started to tuck in and coming by the half mile Margaret Jean was in front followed by Scotty Budlong, McKane, Queen's Treasure, Hilda Budlong and Lee Reynolds. Scotty McKane made a bid to move up halfway down the backstretch but

2:24 TROT—1st Div.
1st Heat: It was a battle between Geo. Mac, Peter Reamore and Buddy Moko. Peter Reamore they got the word with Buddy Moko, after going to the front. Scotty McKane and Hilda Budlong were in the stretch. The first time they were in the stretch drives of the other two to cop the heat by half a length. Geo. Mac had the lead in the stretch. Going up the backstretch Buddy Moko went to a drive; he raced on even terms to the three-quarter pole with Geo. Mac. Peter Reamore was finally half a length in front. The half it was Buddy, Geo. Mac, Billy Aubrey, who had moved up, Mickey Volo, Peter Reamore, Jolly Harvester and Bluenose. Hitting into the backstretch Peter Reamore started to move up fast. McKane got into place on the outside of Geo. Mac and about a length back of Buddy Moko. Geo. Mac and Peter raced like a team right through the stretch. The latter, sticking strictly to trotting, still had half a length to the wire. Geo. Mac was fourth, with Peter by a head to cop second place with the remainder of the field back to length in battles all their own, for the remaining positions.

2nd Heat: The crowd saw another upset when Jolly Harvester after taking the lead halfway down the backstretch trotted steadily from there on to win the heat by a two-length margin over Peter Reamore. Going away Buddy Moko had the rail only to lose it to Peter at the first turn. Going to the backstretch Jolly Harvester pulled out to trot by the two leaders and from there on was never in any danger of being headed. Hitting into the three-quarter pole both Peter Reamore and Buddy Moko got out after Jolly Harvester but it was no good. Peter and Buddy had quite a battle of their own with the former half a length to the wire. Geo. Mac was fourth, Mickey Volo fifth, Billy Aubrey sixth and Bluenose, who was not behaving right seventh.

JUNIOR FREE-FOR-ALL
1st Heat: The eight horses went away on a line with Gaye Law at the rail. In the drive to the first turn Joe O'Brien took the Great G to the front, but going up to the backstretch Harry Bailey, teaming Wilkin, went to a drive to take over the lead. Just past the quarter pole and from there on every post was a winning one for Wilkin who won by a length with the next three horses very close in battles for position. At the half it was Wilkin, followed by Gaye Joe Direct, the Great G, Harry L. Nate Hanover, Harry

2nd Heat: The eight horses went away on a line with Gaye Law at the rail. In the drive to the first turn Joe O'Brien took the Great G to the front, but going up to the backstretch Harry Bailey, teaming Wilkin, went to a drive to take over the lead. Just past the quarter pole and from there on every post was a winning one for Wilkin who won by a length with the next three horses very close in battles for position. At the half it was Wilkin, followed by Gaye Joe Direct, the Great G, Harry L. Nate Hanover, Harry

3rd Heat: The eight horses went away on a line with Gaye Law at the rail. In the drive to the first turn Joe O'Brien took the Great G to the front, but going up to the backstretch Harry Bailey, teaming Wilkin, went to a drive to take over the lead. Just past the quarter pole and from there on every post was a winning one for Wilkin who won by a length with the next three horses very close in battles for position. At the half it was Wilkin, followed by Gaye Joe Direct, the Great G, Harry L. Nate Hanover, Harry

4th Heat: The eight horses went away on a line with Gaye Law at the rail. In the drive to the first turn Joe O'Brien took the Great G to the front, but going up to the backstretch Harry Bailey, teaming Wilkin, went to a drive to take over the lead. Just past the quarter pole and from there on every post was a winning one for Wilkin who won by a length with the next three horses very close in battles for position. At the half it was Wilkin, followed by Gaye Joe Direct, the Great G, Harry L. Nate Hanover, Harry

5th Heat: The eight horses went away on a line with Gaye Law at the rail. In the drive to the first turn Joe O'Brien took the Great G to the front, but going up to the backstretch Harry Bailey, teaming Wilkin, went to a drive to take over the lead. 3,000 Fans See Fine Race Card At Sydney Yesterday

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 15 — (CP) — More than 3,000 race fans crowded the stands today as the second race card in 10 years was run off at the track here.

Walnut Abbe, owned by C. McLeod of Westville, N.S., captured the free for all, romping home in straight heats to take the feature event of the card.

Highland Northy, oldest active race horse in Cape Breton, with 70-year-old Bill Rudderham at the reins, put up a fine fight but was unable to do better than fourth in the free for all, although the veteran put up a classy second in the first heat, forcing Walnut Abbe to the limit.

Pearl Bumpus took the 2:23 trot and pace two heats to one over Doctor L. B. while Rullo Bars took the 2:26 trot and pace two heats to one over Violet Ray.

In the 2:19 class, Margaret Ross, veteran campaigner from North Sydney, came through with two wins, putting up a fine fight with Bay-owned Grace Abbe and a strong field.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15 — (AP) — Baseball got away to a running start today on its post-war planning by making room for returning veterans in the world series and other post-season play.

Two-day officials opened their two-day major-league meeting in St. Louis as a result of a member of the American League umpiring staff, disclosed that he has been "fired" by W. Harridge, league president, as a result of a squabble over salaries.

The action on the war veterans, in the form of a recommendation, must be approved by the league and will apply to the Little World Series and Shaughnessy playoffs in minor leagues as well as the World Series.

If a player comes back any time in September he can play in the series, and no limit was placed on the number of veterans each club may sign after Aug. 31, the normal deadline for establishing the roster for these for a 1946 expanded season.

limit of 26 insofar as veterans are concerned.

The question of holding the World Series was not discussed in the two lengthy sessions, but officials said they were "proceeding on the assumption that it's going to be played."

The office of Defence Transportation has indicated that the external affairs department will soon be sufficiently relaxed to permit such events.

Baseball reiterated its determination to do so that returning veterans enjoy the same status they previously held, plus any advantages they would have gained had they not gone into service.

Time in military service will be counted the same as if it had been spent in baseball, and will apply in particular to the baseball draft status of players.

Approximately 7,000 to 8,000 ball players are in the armed forces, and the military service will be a preliminary meeting tomorrow morning, will prepare for the return of many of these for a 1946 expanded season.

Letter Forms For Next-Of-Kin Of Jap Prisoners

OTTAWA, Aug. 15 — (CP) — The Canadian Red Cross has prepared special air letter forms for next-of-kin to communicate with prisoners of war and civilian internees formerly held by the Japanese and the first batch will go to the Far East by Aug. 25, the External Affairs Department announced today.

The air letter forms will carry 50 words and have a space for replies and may be obtained from Canadian Red Cross offices.

The first batch will be flown to the orient by the U.S. army air force's transport command and will be delivered to the prisoners by the Japanese and made up mostly of prisoners taken at Hong Kong.

In addressing the air letters, the external affairs department said the last known addresses of the former prisoner, either the camp or even the district, should be used. It would be "some days" before relatives in Canada could expect any direct word from friends and relatives released from captivity.

CONGER SEES HAEGG AS 4-MINUTE MILLER
ST. ALBANS, Pa., Aug. 15 — (CP) — Ray Conger, one of America's top millers 15 years ago, says the four-minute mill isn't far away. "I wouldn't be surprised if Gunder Haegg turned the trick this summer," says the one-time conqueror of Paavo Nurmi.

Conger believes the Swedish runner is now approaching his peak as indicated by his new record of 4:01.04 recently in Sweden. "I've never seen Haegg run but he apparently has all it takes to run a four-minute mile," says Conger.

Free-For-All Expected To Provide Upsets In Today's Racing Program

Six of the bearcats of Maritime racing ovals will take part in today's big Free-For-All as the Old Home Week program of racing swings into its third day and according to those who have followed the horses all year anything is liable to happen before the ultimate winner is decided.

It looks to be the best Free-For-All to be brought together here in years with Josedale Hoosier, Lew McKinney, Tip Abbe, Rhea Mae, Widow's Pride, and Mighty Hanover, the latter a slight favorite, expected to give the hot-up Island racing fans together with large crowds from the two neighboring provinces and the United States, thrill after thrill in what has already been two thrill-packed days, as they battle it out from wire to wire.

Then there is the 2:22 Pace second division with eight evenly matched entries; again anything can happen here. The 2:14 Trot and Pace with eight more starters including Sonata, Sandy D., Jean Henley, Giptline, Alcyone, the popular little Bonnie Budlong, the old campaigner Major Bowes, and the Baker, a horse that can easily upset the apple cart. Then in addition there will be the balance of yesterday's program raced.

The entire card is bound to be an all-star one with favorites again very likely to take a licking when the final results are announced: Here is how they will take the word this afternoon:
