BROADCASTED PROGRAM.—A very pleasing program was given in the C. N. R. radio studio, Moncton, Tuesday night by a party of artists from Summerside, P.E.I. The program consisted of vocal solos by Mr. and Mrs. J. Pogson, Mr. George Bowness; duets by Mr. and Mrs. Pogson, also solos by Sandy MacGregor. Mrs. I./Malcolm of this city, was the accompanist of the evening. Following the studio program there was the usual program of popular dance music by the CNRA orchestra led by Geo. Stiven, during the course of which Mr. Stiven himself sang several vocal numbers.—Moncton Times.

ISLANDERS WED.—The following item is from the Kimberley Press of Kimberley, B. C. Mr. T. E. Pierce who left here on July 2nd on a visit to his old home at Prince Edward Island, returned to Kimberley on Monday afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Pierce. They were married at St. Margaret's Roman Catholic Church, at St. Margaret's, P. E. I., on July 29th, Rev. Father MacPherson tying the nuptial knot. The bride was formerly Miss Mary Gillis, of St. Margaret's, P. E. I., where she was one of the leading young ladies of the community. Mr. Pierce has been a resident of Kimberley for the past two or three years, being employed at the Tunnel mine. He is a brother of D. J. Pierce, also with the C. M. & S. Co. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce will take up residence on Howard Street West, where Mr. Pierce has had an attractive and cosy dwelling erected. They have the best wishes of a large number of Kimberley people for a long and happy wedded life. Miss Helen Gillis, sister of Mrs. T. E. Pierce, arrived here from Prince Edward Island on Monday last, and intends remaining in Kimberley for some time. This is her first trip to these parts and she is very much taken up with the optimism and the signs of prosperity which prevail in several of the places she visited since coming to the west, and she is of the opinion that Kimberley's progress is in keeping with the general spirit of Western Canada.

JIMMIE GOODE RETURNS. — Theatre-goers of this city will be delighted to hear that their old friend Jimmie Goode, Canada's foremost blackface comedian, has rejoined his old overseas theatrical comrades, The Originals, again this season after a year's absence from the stage, when he stayed home in Vancouver. Jimmie is perhaps one of the most popular stars of the Canadian soldier shows and he was much missed from the cast of the Originals when they played here last spring. His return to the company will be greatly welcomed when the boys make their annual tour of the Maritimes again in the Spring, prior to their departure for a long tour of the British music halls. Mr. Goode was born in Charlottetown and lived here until his school days when the family moved to the Pacific Coast. He went overseas with a Vancouver battalion, and after a long term in the front line he served with the first division concert party during the latter war days. When the Originals organized their own separate company a few years ago Jimmie Goode was one of the star members of the group. The Originals will make their annual tour of the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland in the spring, the cast of which includes Gene Pearson, "The Male Galli Curci," who now holds the distinction of being the world's greatest female impersonator; Bob Anderson, the famous English comedian; Alan Murray, Lionel Broadway; Thomas Dunn; Bertram Langley; Percy Campbell, Jerry Brayford; Leonard Young; and a new-comer, Stuart Callaghan, an extremely clever exponent of the art of terpsichore.

PERSONALS

Irish Leaders To Meet

President Cosgrave of the Irish Free State, and Premier Sir James Craig are about to meet to effect a final settlement of the boundary problem it is rumored.

Surprise Among Newspapermen At Attractions

MONTREAL, Sept. 2—There is a general expression of surprise among the ten British newspaper men concerning the Maritime Provinces, stated H. Read, of the South Wales Daily News, Cardiff, one of the delegates representing the British Press, who are now touring Canada.

"It was a matter of great astonishment to us that the attractions of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick are not made more generally known in the old country. We found stretches of park-like land and all admirably suited for settlements. There are numerous farm lands available at very cheap rates and a community composed of most friendly people evidently very anxious to welcome and help newcomers. One of the most remarkable features was the cheapness of cleared land, obtainable on freehold possession at from £4 to £10 per acre in many cases, although of course this did not apply to the farms in the more favorable situation.

They noticed the fact that both these provinces share in the depression of business due to the universal slump in trade, he said although there were signs of prosperity and contentment. "Owing to the magnificent resources, we came to the conclusion that any immigants who were willing to work and adapt themselves to local requirements would gain, not only a livelihood but would be assured of prosperity in a substantial degree," said Mr. Read.

Halifax Harbor pleased them immensely, and they were delighted to have the opportunity to see the principal points of interest. One of the most interesting events of the tour was the excursion to the north and south mountains, bounding the Annapolis Valley, whose beautiful scenery aboudant orchards and general air of prosperity was a source of great delight to the tourists.

Ruth Confesses He Did "Wrong"

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—Babe Ruth, suspended from the New York Yankees for "unbecoming conduct," repented of his "sins" in the office of Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees and left Ruppert's office this afternoon to "explain" to Miller Huggins, Yankee manager.

Ruth was lectured by Ruppert in the presence of newspapermen, and then told he would have to "settle it with Huggins."

Ruth answered that he was "always hot-headed," and left Ruppert's office for the ball park to see the manager, who disciplined him.

Asked whether he would apologize to Huggins, Ruth answered that he "would talk it over and explain to Huggins."

"You have always been the idol of the boys all over the country," Colonel Ruppert told Ruth. "And now, think how they feel to hear scandal about you, it will break their hearts." Ruth listened to the lecture soberly, keeping his eyes on the floor.

I don't want to play for anyone but the Yankees," he told Colonel Ruppert when Ruppert emphasized that he would do nothing in the matter and that, "it is up to you to fix it with Huggins."

When Ruth left Ruppert predicted that the trouble would be "fixed up," and said he expected to see Ruth back in uniform in a few days.

Ruth and Mrs. Ruth both broke down and cried together just before Ruth left his apartment for Ruppert's office. This followed their denial that domestic troubles existed.

Mrs. Ruth, who is ill and under a physician's care, began to sob, whereupon he gathered her in his arms and the two gave way to weeping for several minutes.

This afternoon Mrs Ruth was reported in a state of hysterical collapse.

The Rev. Father Joseph Quinn, an old friend of Ruth, and also of Mrs. Ruth, spent much of the day with them.

CALCULATING ADMIRATION.

"Some men's admiration for an honest man," said Uncle Eben "consists entirely in deir belief dat he makes aneasier mark foh a cheater."

WE WONDER.

"Here's a question I'd like to propound," remarked the Observer of Events and Things: "Does a bowlegged soldier become knock-kneed when he faces the enemy for the first time?"

Queen Began Mother's Work When Only Girl

ROME, Sept. 3.—Discussing the duties of a mother with a visitor recently, Queen Helena told her guest that she had always been a mother. "When I was a baby," said the queen, "I mothered my dolls, loving them, bringing them up and educating them as though they were living creatures. As a young girl, I was a mother to my youngest brother. When he was born my mother was seriously ill, and the infant was turned over to me. I did more for him than I did for my own children, because for them I had the aid of nurses."

Queen Helena recalled a story of the crown prince when a toddling tot. The youngster had been crying and quickly dried his tears when his mother invited him to aid her in a minor domestic task.

"Now you are a fine little man," said the queen to her now smiling son. "And to think just a little while ago you were crying like a naughty child."

"Oh, mother," replied little Humboldt, "that was not I crying, it was another little boy."

Huge Power And Paper Plant Now In Full Operation

MONCTON, Sept. 2—Sir Glyn West, president of the Newfoundland Power and Paper Company, passed through the city today en route to Montreal from Corner brook, Newfoundland. Sir Glyn West and party attended the official opening of the huge new power and paper plant at Cornerbrook recently. The plant is now in full operation and its daily capacity will shortly reach 400 tons.

The other members of the party were Lady West, G. H. West, Miss E. West, Major D. E. Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bowater, Colonel E. C. Duffin and F. N. Dobbler. They will spend a few days in Montreal and will later proceed to New York where they will sail for home on the Majestic on September 9.

RIGHT THROUGH.

"Here is something queer," said the denist. "You say this tooth has never been worked on before, but I can find small flakes of gold on my instrument."

"I think you have struck my back collar button," moaned the victim.

CROSS-WORD ELOQUENCE.

First Lady: "You rotund decangular, eolithic, ferruginous, neuropathic cassowary, you!"

Second Lady: "An' would ya listen to the langwidge of 'er since she's been doin' cross-word puzzles."

Dr. Addy Chairman Receives Appointment

HALIFAX, Sept. 2—Dr. G. A. B. Addy, of Saint John, was elected chairman of the Maritime section of the American College of Surgeons now meeting in convention here. Dr. McAulay, of Saint John, was elected secretary, and Doctors Alex. McNeil, of Summerside, and Ross Millar, of Amherst, were elected councillors. This morning's session of the conference was spent in clinics. The conference concludes tonight.

Catholic Hospital Nursing Sisters Meet In Halifax

HALIFAX, Sept. 2—The Maritime conference of the Catholic Hospital Association opened a two day session today with an attendance of about forty sisters from Catholic hospitals in Antigonish, Saint John, Moncton, Chatham, Tracadie, Campbellton, Charlottetown and Halifax. This morning's session was given over to registration and attendance at a hospital board conference, held in connection with the Maritime section of the American College of Surgeons now meeting here.

Fish Swam 800 Miles in Four Weeks' Time

OTTAWA, Sept. 2.—The Department of Marine and Fisheries has marked a considerable number of Atlantic salmon by attaching silver tags to their dorsal fins for the purpose of learning something regarding the movements of these fish.

A salmon that was marked and liberated off Burns' Point, Port Maitland, Yarmouth County, N. S., on June 11 last, was killed in the Mosis River, Que., in the early part of July.

If the fish took the most direct route, it traveled in the vicinity of 800 miles, but if it followed the larger indentations of the shoreline it traveled over 1,200 miles.

POET TOO ARTIFICIAL.

In the same year as Lovelace, or just three centuries ago, was born Abaham Cowley, who published his first book of poems at the age of fifteen and to whom fell the posthumous honor of leading off Samuel Johnson's "Lives of the Poets." Johnson ranked him among those he called the "metaphysical" poets and expressed a dislike for his far-fetched conceits with which the present-day reader would heartily coincide.

CHEATED DEATH—LIVES TO BE 102

Mr. J. C. Corbin Weld, a remarkable Englishman living at Enfield recently celebrated his 102nd birthday and told how once when a young man he was "drowned" in the Thames, and had sunk the third time when he had a fleeting glimpse of the agonized face of his fiencee. With a superhuman effort he bestirred himself and rose to the top for a fourth time and was seized by a friend. He was revived with artificial respiration. A few years ago he was ill with a serious disease and was given two weeks to live. He is still hale and hearty.
