MADAME EMMA CALVE AT B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE, BOSTON.

The world's most famous "Carmen," the renowned grand opera singer, Madame Emma Calve, will make her vaudeville debut at B. F. Keith's Theatre the week of April 26th, for a positively limited engagement of one week only. Madame Calve is the climax of a great array of headliners booked at this famous playhouse this season. Never before has there been such a galaxy of stars, and Calve is by far the greatest and highest salaried entertainer ever seen in vaudeville. She will offer a programme of operatic selections, including the famous "Habenera" from "Carmen." One of the most popular numbers in Madame Calve's repertoire, which she will sing at B. F. Keith's Theatre thisweek, is "Swanee River." Calve's engagement will be positively limited to one week only. Another brilliant offering of the week will be Pat Rooney and Marion Bent, the universal favorites and cleverest of all eccentric dancers, in their latest skit, "Twenty Minutes with Pat and Marion" and other features will include Stuart Barnes, the premier monologuist; The Gladiators, a stupendous Roman novelty; Emily Darrell and Charley Conway in a bare stage skit, "Behind the Scenes;" Eddie Carr and company in "The New Office Boy;" Leightner and Jordan, two clever girls; and Samoyna, a wonderful Japanese equilibrist.

May 3rd, Nora Bayes will head the bill at B. F. Keith's Theatre.

ARBOUR DAY.

Arbour Day is not observed in Canada to the extent which its importance warrants.

The people of Canada must ever keep in mind their dependence upon her forests. With large areas suitable only for forestry purposes, it is essential that the value of trees and their protection should be thoroughly impressed upon Canadians.

While Arbour Day is observed in the rural schools, and in some city schools, its recognition by the general public is not as general as it should be.

In the province of Prince Edward Island, Arbour Day is celebrated to a limited extent in the schools. This is not sufficient, however. The observance of Arbour Day should be general. There is need in every part of Canada for the education and instruction which Arbour Day represents. The day should be observed as a public holiday, at a time most suited to the climatic conditions of the locality. Public recognition should be given to Arbour day, and the planting and protection of shade trees, the preparation of flower and vegetable gardens, and the thorough cleaning up of homes and surroundings should be advocated as special duties for the day.

Arbour Day has its justification in the value of trees, from whatever point of view they may be considered. Nothing contributes so much to make the world a pleasant place to live in as trees. The true home feeling is not satisfied without the presence of the trees, with their shelter and shade, their beauty of form and leaf, their blossom and fruit, their varying shades with the passing of the seasons, and their fulness of colour in the autumn days. They also afford homes and shelter for our feathered friends—the birds—during their annual visits to us.

There is nothing which will add beauty and value to a home or the schoolhouse more than the presence of trees; there is likewise nothing which adds more to the comfort of the pedestrian than shade trees on the roadside. The way may be long and dusty, but under the cool shade of the trees relief is found.

It is hoped therefore, that the celebration of Arbour Day will become more general; that the planting and care of trees and shrubs around schoolhouses, homes, public spaces and by roadsides may have the effect of developing a keener appreciation of the value and beauty of trees; and that in thus enlarging the field of Arbour Day activities, greater interest may be created in the protection of our Canadian forests from the reckless destruction by fire and the axe with which they are threatened.

CORONATION OF THE MIKADO ON NOV. 10.

TOKIO, April 17.— The cabinet today fixed Nov. 10 as the date for the coronation of Emperor Yoshihito. The ceremony was to have taken place last November, but a postponement was made necessary by the death of the Dowager Empress. The Diet already has appropriated 4,000,000 yen ($2,000,000 for the expense of the ceremony.

ROOSEVELT DEFENDANT IN BIG LIBEL SUIT.

SYRACUSE, N.Y., April 19.—The prospect of witnessing the opening of the trial of the $50,000 libel suit Wm. Barnes, of Albany, brought against Theodore Roosevelt, drew a great crowd to the court-house here to-day before even the first of the special panel of 75 talesmen appeared.

Mr Barnes, after his arrival here last night, held a conference with his attorneys in a hotel. Col. Roosevelt spent the night at the home of his friend Horace Wilkinson.

Before court opened he was visited by several of his attorneys, and he conferred with them until he prepared to go to court.

SOME OF SOLDIERS CANNOT GET KILLED

PARIS' April 20.— (Correspondence.)—"Many of us, soldiers and officers," says an official who has been at the front since the beginning of the war, "have faith in a mysterious power analogous to antique fatality which disposes of our sort. Those that it favours we say are in luck.' The greatest imprudence does not affect their invulnerability. Others seem fated to sacrifice; if they escape from a pitched battle, a spent ball or a fragment of shell will get them the following day, miles behind the trenches, while they are in apparent security.

"This instinctive belief brings a certain tranquility, not only to those who think that they are 'in luck,' but as those also who are in doubt whether they possess a lucky star. 'No one escapes his fate,' they say, 'if one is slated for death, what is the good of taking precautions; the bullet that's intended for me will find me.'

"Certain cases seem to bear out this superstition. One of them was related by an officer of the general staff, tall, cool, almost as phlegmatic as an Englishman behind his eyeglasses, and so careful to exaggerate nothing that he seems to contemplate the most tragic events with the wrong end of his spy-glass.

Determined to be Killed

"'I ought to have been killed a hundred times," he told me, 'At the moment of the general mobilization I was in the staff of the general of division, to whom I was personally attached after years of very close collaboration: he treated me some what as his personal aide-de-camp, I went everywhere with him. A few days after the declaration of war he was informed of the death of his wife, whom I knew he adored. He concealed his pain, but I understood at once that the blow had crushed him and that he had made up his mind to get himself killed. He took me with him where the bullets were thickest. The division was on the eastern frontier, and alongside the storms of shrapnel that burst above our heads the German bombardment of today are small incidents. Every other day we went to the first line, and while the men lying round us fired at the Germans, we remained erect to encourage them.

Courts Death in Vain

"'One afternoon we had passed four hours under the enemy's shells. From time to time I said to myself "In ten minutes or even in 5 minutes perhaps it'll be my turn." But we were neither of us touched. Another day, after a very violent engagement in which we had been obliged to give way, one of our batteries remained stuck between the two armies. I proposed to reconnoitre the positions to see if it was possible to bring it back. I intended to go alone and to come back quickly. But the general declared he would go along. It was vain to remark that it was not his place. He replied with some feeling that he had no orders to receive from me.

"Everything went well, and we reached the position of the battery without any troubble. There remained only two men, a major and a private soldier, guarding the battery, firing with all their energy to make the enemy believe that the position was still occupied in force. We succeeded in getting the pieces into shape and dragging them out of danger, but instead of following the direct route toward our lines, the general proposed that we make a little detour, "in order," he said, "that the men may not have the impression that we are retreating." We followed a route on the side of a hill, which during several hundred yards passed over a space of absolutely uncovered ground, between tthe two firing lines. If I had been alone I should have covered that space at double-quick. The general, though, declared that this precipitation would have produced a bad effect upon the troops, so it was at a walk that we crossed this exposed ground, offering ourselves as targets to the German infantry.

Bullets Avoided Him

"The balls whistled around us incessantly—so thickly that the leaves on the trees along the route fell as in an autumn storm. Neither of us received a scratch, neither were our horses touched. I asked the general if he did not think it marvellous that we should have passed unscathed through this storm of bullets. He shook his head sadly and said: "The bullets don't seem to want me." As for me, since that trial there is nothing that surprises me, I sincerely believe I'm in luck' and am quite sure that the Germans will never get me."

WAS AIDE-CAMP TO LATE LORD MINTO

LONDON, April 19.—The Press Bureau announced yesterday that among the officers wounded in the recent fighting in France was Brigadier-General F. S. Maude. As Colonel Maude, General Maude was military secretary too Lord Minton in October from 1901 to 1904.

INTERNATIONAL OFFICER OF SALVATION ARMY ON IMPORTANT MISSION

HALIFAX, April 20.—There is today an interesting visitor in Halifax and he comes on a most important mission. He is Colonel Hammond, Salvation Army Immigration and social service representative from international headquarters in London, and he will make a tour of the Dominion in the interest of a matter now engaging the attention of the International Institute, as well as the Salvation Army—the matter of immigration at the colse of the war, when industrial readjustment will confront Britain and the empire.

It is generally recognized that the effect of army life on the men is unsettling. Once the conflict is over, there will be thousands who will reject office life, having become thoroughly wedded to life in the open, and many distinguished Englishmen of large wealth, as well as the Salvation Army, are already planning means of locating these men on farms in the Dominions, and also of paying the expenses to those Dominions of young women widowed by the war. This is a true sort of patriotism—we have such a debt to pay to our men when they return to us from the struggle in which they gladly offered their lives, and Lord Lytton is also right in reminding the nation of its debt to the wives, who made the supreme sacrifice also in imperial defense.

The colonel is an Australian and is a veteran officer of the army's social department.

He has a strong and earnest face, and told The Mail this morning much that was interesting about the proposals advocated by the Salvation Army to deal with the vast problem of unemployment after the war.

He will leave Wednesday evening for Cape Breton.

SAY HUNGARIANS WANT PEACE BADLY.

BUDAPEST, April 19.— How absorbed the people are in the idea of peace can be seen at a glance in the Budapest papers. The Netszava, in a recent number, says;

"When they declared war they did not ask the people if they agreed. They did not care a jot if the people gave their consent or not. Now it is about time to speak of peace, and if the people want peace those in power ought to recognize at once the wishes of the people."

Az Est is just as emphatic. It says: "The people want peace, and want it very badly. We are certain that never has a writer's pen, never has a printing machine served a more human and greater cause than in the attempt to quicken these feelings of longings for peace after the most terrible war that ever ravafed the ranks of civilization."

In fact, the whole press is beginning, feebly as yet, to sound the bugle in favor of peace. Every day, and in almost every Hungarian paper, one can find vague or pronounced allusion to the subject, and in calling for it they this time really do represent public opinion as well as that of men of authority. I believe that all this peace talk is going on systematically, with the knowledge and approval of the Hungarian Government.

I have no definite ground for saying this, but, indirectly, there are a dozen reasons one can bring up in support of the theory. First and most weighty is that the Hungarian press is entirely in the hands of the Government, and pronouncedly Government organs like Az Est are the ones that lead the campaign.

BABIES CANNOT BE IDENTIFIED.

PARIS, April 21—Wiliam T.P. Hollingsworth, representative of the Westinghouse interests in France, has returned from Schaffausen and Zurich, where he investigated the conditions of returning civilian prisoners on behalf of the American clearing house for relief.

Germany has already sent back 30,000 of these civilian prisoners, stating that between 150,000 and 200,000 are yet to be returned. Two trains are arriving in Switzerland from Germany daily, each carrying 500 of the returning prisoners. Three-fourths of these are women and girls. No boys over thirteen years of age are being sent back.

The most extraordinary point in Mr. Hollingworth's report is that the trains bring 100 babies, a week old and upward, daily. These are unclothed, but are wrapped in fragments of skirts and shawls. There is no means of tracing their identity. Mothers returning with their children say they received no medical attention at childbirth. Swiss women are supplying babies, clothing at the railway stations for the unfortunates. Many of the older children who have arrived also cannot be identified.

The Swiss began supplying money and food for the returning prisoners and babies, but their funds were insufficient to continue the work. They are uow placing hot water and soap on the station platforms for the washing of clothing. The released prisoners seem cowed, and unwilling to describe the treatment they received in Germany.
