THE MORNING GUARDIAN

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 8, 1903.

THAT SALE OF STOCK.

The following return was laid on the table of the Legislature yesterday.

DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE, April 7.

Sales of fat cattle from the Government Farm during the present year:

March 7. To the Dominion Packing Company 7 aged cows weighing as follows: 900 lbs, 960, 1260, 1350, 1370, 1260, 1170, at the price of $3.75 per cwt live weight.

(Signed) B. ROGERS, Commissioner of Ag.

The Guardian is informed by a well known butcher doing a large trade that the weights quoted are surprisingly low for Stock Farm cattle. He also asks why the cattle were not weighed on the City scales? The price paid is also suspiciously low, our informant states. Mere scrubs, he says, will now command $3.75 per cwt, and he has within a few days paid as high as 6 cents per pound live weight. For the most part of a carload of cattle he recently paid 5 cents per pound live weight. He further states that he has paid at public competition for Stock Farm cattle as much as $105 to $110 each instead of the average of $43.77 paid by the Packing Company in this case.

In view of these facts the following questions become doubly pertinent: Why was the unfailing custom of 25 years of offering the stock at public auction departed from? Why was a "slaughter sale" at such prices made to the Packing Company? What do our farmers, who know the value of fat cattle and the prices that are paid them by our tax-paying butchers think of such a sale? If the Company can buy the best stock in the country at these prices, ought not the Company to be willing to pay (taxes the same as other dealers? Moreover, if the Company, having the Government in their power, can buy fat cattle of the Government at two thirds of their value what are the chances of them serving the people any better when they get the people in their power? The matter appears an eminently proper one for further Legislative inquiry. Let the facts come out.

INSPECTION OF STATIONARY BOILERS.

In a conversation a few months ago with an official inspector of boilers the latter stated to The Guardian, "Some day you will have a tragedy in Prince Edward Island. One of your stationary boilers will blow up and kill somebody and then perhaps your legislators will wake up to the necessity and importance of inspection. It is a wonder that an explosion has not occurred long since." On further inquiry the inspector related facts that had come within his knowledge as to the condition of boilers which were supplying steam-power in various parts of the Province. Many were old and worn-out, badly cared for and attended by incompetent or unskilled persons. These are conditions that ought not to exist. The tragedy at Coleman now reminds us painfully of the conversation referred to. Stationary engines and boilers need skilled inspection from time to time precisely as do locomotive or steamship engines and boilers. We know nothing of the conditions existing in the mill at Coleman, but we do know that an inspection law is needed in this Island.

Is there a case in British or Canadian Parliamentary history in which when the conduct of a Minister of the Crown has been impugned, his colleague in the Government has been permitted to sit on the Committee of Inquiry? If so we would like to be informed of it. This is what we have here. Ministers must stand or fall together by the verdict of the House. Hence Mr. Rogers has something more than an ordinary interest in the acquittal of Mr. Wear. And again; it may be quite in order before the session ends to inquire into the official conduct of Hon. Mr. Rogers. In such case shall we have Hon. Mr. Wear for chairman of Committee?

Here is what His Worship the Mayor reported to have informed The Examiner as taking place at the first meeting of the Council with Messrs Wiley and Pearson: "The meeting was an entirely informal one and no vote was taken. The Council as a body certainly appeared to want them to come. Mr. Wiley and Mr. Pearson were asked dozens of questions. No objection was made by any one at the meeting to either Mr. Wiley or Mr. Pearson. I think Councillor Stewart was the only Councillor not present." If His Worship tells truth, and we see no reason to doubt it, then Councillor Stewart will need to revise his statement made at the citizen's meeting. That statement was that the Council agreed to grant the promoters exemption from taxes. It is up to Councillor Stewart to explain.

JOHN BALL'S LUMBAGO

Couldn't Stand Before Dodd's Kidney Pills—Hocan Work and Sleep Now.

QUINCY, P. E., April 8.—(Special)—John Ball, bricklayer, of 57 Little Champlain Street, this city, suffered from Lumbago, one of the most painful forms of Kidney Complaint for two years. His urinary organs were also affected so that he had frequently to rise at night. Now he works all day and sleeps all night. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it.

Speaking of this cure, Mr. Ball says: "I purchased a box of Dodd's Kidney Pills and after I had used them I began to see and feel a change. I used three boxes and was completely cured. You can tell anyone you like I said so."

Lumbago is only one form of Kidney Disease, Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Kidney Disease in any form. They don't claim to cure anything else.

KAISER SAILS FOR KIEL

COPENHAGEN, April 5.—The German Emperor concluded his visit to the Danish court to-day and went on board the Imperial yacht, Hohenzollern at half past nine o'clock this evening. A large crowd witnessed the Emperor's departure for Kiel during the night.

OUR SPRING MILLINERY OPENING!

THURSDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 9th.

The New Spring Millinery will get first showing Thursday, April the 9th. This event will doubtless, prove of the most absorbing interest to the Ladies. Active preparations are in progress to make it a more successful event than any previous opening.

At this opening we will show a larger number of imported Pattern Hats and Bonnets than we have shown at any previous opening.

Children's Trimmed Millinery—of which this store makes a special feature—will occupy a prominent part in the display.

Our showing of Ready to Wear and Outing Hats will eclipse all others.

Miss C. Helen Wallace

Will give her personal attention to your orders. Come in Thursday afternoon and see the display of Millinery the Trimmed, the Ready-to-Trim and the Material to trim it with. Don't forget the day.
