

THE MEN'S STORE

Every Man To His Taste!

GOOD many men have a settled taste as to the cut of the coat. They want the new suit to be pretty much like the old.

Other men are a bit adventurous and enjoy wearing the latest novelties like our waist seam suits.

We never attempt to guide a customer's selection--we simply carry all the good styles and give him what he wants.

At Our Economy Prices

$11.00 to $50.00

And besides suiting him as to style in our Clothes Shop, we save every customer money because we haven't high rents and expenses to allow for in our clothes prices. Come to the Men's Store when you need a suit or coat and you'll see what we mean.

Another Strike Develops In Montreal

MONTREAL, July 10.—A new strike developed in the local labor situation this morning and two others came to a satisfactory close.

The latest strike is that of the marble workers, whose ranks are strengthened by marble setters and helpers. The men are asking for an increase from the present rate of thirty-five to forty cents an hour to sixty. Three hundred men are out from six of the leading firms in the city.

Retiring Pastor Honored

On the evening previous to their departure from Cornwall, Rev. J. Heaney and family were waited upon by a large number of friends, and presented with an address and a purse of money. This act of the people was a pleasant surprise and was much appreciated.

Soon after the company arrived, Mr. Harry M. Hyde was appointed to the chair, and in a short speech explained the object which had brought them together. He then called upon Mr. John A. Murray, who read and presented the address, while Mrs. Herbert Frizzell presented the gift. Mr. Heaney and Mrs. Heaney did their best to thank the friends, and Mr. Heaney expressed his pleasure at the fact that the address and accompanying gift included not only names of representatives of his own church, but other denominations as well. The address follows:

Rev. and Dear Sir—We, your friends of Cornwall and adjoining district, feel that we cannot allow you to leave our midst without in some way expressing to you our appreciation of your valued services during your three short years among us. Your untiring efforts for our spiritual and moral welfare and the loyal and unselfish support which you gave to every patriotic movement for the prosecution of the great war have called forth our warmest appreciation, and have been an inspiration to us to do our best. We feel that the success achieved in the different phases of that work has been due largely to your energy and zeal. We also feel that not only were we highly favored but also richly blessed by your ministrations during that dark and trying period. Your zeal tempered with good judgment and prudence in the work of the church has made your services most acceptable, while the genial friendship which always characterized your relations with your fellow citizens makes us regret the parting.

Your esteemed partner in life has also proved herself to be of great help in the various organizations of church and community. We therefore come together tonight to bid you farewell and to present you with the accompanying purse as a small token of the esteem in which you are held by all. We ask you to accept it in the spirit of love in which it is given; and our parting wish to yourself, Mrs. Heaney and your two boys, is that God may prosper and bless you all in your new field of labor and grant you continued years of health, happiness and usefulness in the great work to which you have been called and that you will receive the same respect and good-will from all classes of people which you enjoyed during your sojourn in Cornwall. Yours on behalf of your many friends. (Patriot please copy.)

THE EX-KAISER'S FUTURE

EXETER, July 8.—Referring to the proposed trial of the former Kaiser, the Bishop of Exeter, speaking in the cathedral here yesterday, declared with regret that a character of the greatest contempt should be dignified and martyred by an international trial.

The bishop added it would be better to leave the ex-emperor to "a life of shame."

Also Regrets.

LONDON, July 8.—Sir Valentine Chirol, the veteran expert on foreign affairs, says: "The announcement that the ex-kaiser is to be placed on trial fills me with dismay, as it is a blunder of first magnitude. It is like picking him out of the mire in which he now lies and investing him with a halo of martyrdom the moment he springs up for air and proclaims as a factor in the Napoleonic legend which derived a large part of its potency from St. Helene."

"If on the other hand the prosecution falls we shall incur immeasurable ridicule and possibly suspicion from our friends and Allies. I deplore Premier Lloyd George's announcement, because I am convinced that a Prussian junker, above all, will welcome it enthusiastically, as holding out the one great chance of rescuing this wretched war lord from the contempt which is rapidly sending him to the oblivion which is the worst penalty that can be inflicted on a man of William's monumental vanity, and the best guarantee against the rehabilitation of his evil dynasty."

Strong Opposition.

LONDON, July 8.—Strong opposition continues to develop in the British press against the project of trying the former German emperor in London, or trying him at all. Paris dispatches saying that the United States and Japan are opposed to the trial and that Italy is lukewarm apparently have had an effect on sentiment here.
