Eye Comfort
Comfort in spectacles or eye-glasses cannot be confined to the frames alone. The degree of comfort received from wearing glasses must be divided equally between the lenses and the frames. While the frames may be a perfect fit and look attractive it is the lenses which are responsible for discomfort in strong light or glaring sunshine. Such a strain on the eyes is unnecessary and can be relieved by wearing Genuine Crookes Lenses ground to your own prescription. We will be pleased to tell you more about the famous lenses which make uncomfortable eyes comfortable. Have your Eyes Examined and know the Facts.

WHY THE PARADE?
(From The Forbes Magazine.)
Two Irishmen watching Shriners' parade.
"Who are those fellows, Mike?"
"They're Shriners."
"And what are Shriners?"
"Why, they're Masons."
"Sure and what the devil do they want now? They're gettin' '18 a day."

She gets relief from
DR. CALDWELL'S LAXATIVE SYRUP PEPSIN
And so do the children
Some Families Are Never Ill

FORTUNATE are the children whose parents fully realize the seriousness of constipation. Hospital records prove that 75 per cent of all disease originates in bowel obstruction or constipation. Young children cry because of it; school children are hampered in their studies; grown people are made 25 per cent less efficient; elderly people's blood pressure increases 25 per cent. Clara M. Smith, Big Valley, Alberta, recommends Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin for all, and especially for children and old folks; Mrs. Bettles, 8 Napanee St., Toronto, keeps it always in the house for family use.

We guarantee that if you will give Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin to a child or for a few nights to an adult it will relieve any case of constipation no matter how chronic, or your money will be refunded.

10 Million Bottles a Year
Use it once and you will never again take coal-tar drugs in candy form, calomel or salts. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a vegetable laxative free from opiates and narcotics. It can be safely given to infants, yet it effectively moves the bowels of adults. It acts gently; does not cramp or gripe. Keep it in the house and use it for any indication of bowel obstruction, such as constipation, biliousness, torpid liver, dyspepsia, pimples and like skin eruptions. Give it early and it will break up a fever or a cold overnight. A spoonful proves it.

Largest Selling Laxative
Every up-to-date family medicine chest should contain a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, a compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and palatable aromatics, a prescription written 30 years ago by Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who practiced medicine 47 years. You can buy a bottle in any store where medicines are sold, and the cost is less than a cent a dose.

Notes By the Way

are high. So the suffering consumer is hit three ways at once.

And there are other things that are high beside coal. On a cable despatch the other day the Toronto Globe had the headline, "How high is a High Commissioner?"

The despatch went on to tell that the status of the High Commissioners whom the several Dominions maintain in London have never been clearly defined; that the Baldwin government had been considering it, but had left the question as a legacy to their successors. In the meantime the High Commissioners had been getting higher in their pretensions and claims for social and official recognition from year to year. They now have attained to a special bench on which to sit among other notables when the King opens Parliament; they wear unbecoming uniforms, and now Mrs. and Miss Larkin, wife and daughter of the Canadian Commissioner, claim and are given seats among the Peereses. Possibly some of the high flyers may receive a check to their soaring ambition under the new regime now established in London.

There are Commissions and Commissioners galore in Canada under the King Government in these days. Never before were they so numerous, or so useless, or so costly, as the taxpayers know to their cost. Apparently the first and main object of their creation has been to provide fat jobs for favorites of the government. To pay them and their living expenses their travelling expenses, and their secretaries and stenographers and print their reports costs a mint of money for which little or no value is received by the country. Truly the King government commissions are high up among the things that have become so high since the war.

Thanks is due to the kind friends who sent and served refreshments. The League has an attractive series of items including lectures etc for the rest of the winter.

Secrets of the Forbidden City
(By Dominion News Service.)
LONDON, Jan. 21.—Dr. W. M. McGovern, the young man of 25 who recently introduced a cinematograph to visit Lhasa in the "Forbidden City" of Lhasa, is the third European to be received by the Dalai Lama.

He is a fully-ordained Buddhist priest and vice-president of the Buddhist Society of Great Britain, and he originally tried to reach Lhasa from Darjeeling, as the head of a British Buddhist mission. This was turned back by the British military officer at Gyantse, acting on instructions from the authorities at Simla, who had been telegraphic communication with the Tibetan Government.

On his return to Darjeeling, Dr. McGovern took lessons in cinematograph from Mr. Harcourt, the cinema man employed by the Buddhist mission, having already decided to visit Lhasa in disguise. He obtained a pass which enabled him to proceed to Sikkim, but precluded him from entering Nepal, Dr. Bhotan, or Tibet.

Dr. McGovern, being a Buddhist priest, felt that these prohibitions did not apply to a Buddhist on what might be called his "native" ground. He had, however, no doubt that he would have to disguise himself as a Buddhist on several occasions during his second trip, and he was forced to make his servants proceed by the aid of his fists. The cold was so intense that the oil froze in the hinges of his camera. The Indian Government by this time had heard of his expedition, and informed the Tibetan Government, as they were bound to do, that Dr. McGovern was again loose in their territory. On the top of a lonely mountain pass, the doctor revealed to his party his scheme for reaching Lhasa. He told his servant to take charge of the expedition, stripped and dyed himself in the characteristic tint composed of Mongolian yellow and native grime, donned the thin clothing of a peasant, and took on the duties of cook in addition to pack carrying.

On one occasion, while in a rest house, he actually overheard Tibetan natives discussing his chances of reaching Lhasa alive. While the others were asleep, he drew charts from memory of the unmappped country through which he had passed.

He fell ill with dysentery before reaching Lhasa, which he entered on February 15, the Tibetan New Year's Eve, when the streets were full of drunken fanatics. He was so ill that he had to be carried to bed, and decided to reveal himself to the babu in charge of the telegraph.

It was through this means that his identity became known in the city, in which he remained for nearly two months, taking films secretly and interviewing Tibetan dignitaries. The full story of his adventure forms one of the most remarkable Odysseys of our time.

IN MEMORIAM
MRS. MARGARET BRENNAN
On Thursday, January 17th, there died at Souris, Margaret Connolly, aged 79, widow of the late Capt. James Brennan, who deceased had been ill for some months but nevertheless her death was a surprise and a source of great sorrow to her family and friends. The late Mrs. Brennan was remembered at Kildare, Murray Harbor and Cardigan, where she taught school before her marriage. She is survived by two sons and one daughter,—William J. Brennan, of J. J. Hughes Co., Souris, Adolphus Brennan, executive driver, C. N. R. Charlottetown and Miss Bessie at home. The funeral which took place on Sunday afternoon to St. Mary's Church was very largely attended. Rev. P. L. McMahon officiating. The pall bearers were—Senator John McLean, A. E. Clarke, Bernard Creamer, S. P. Campbell, John McQuaid and Patrick St. John.

MRS. JOSEPH MOISAAC.
On January 15th, inst, the people of Gloucester and vicinity learned, with much regret that Margaret, the loved wife of Mr. Joseph Moisaac, of that place, had passed away at the early age of thirty-one years. Her illness, of short duration, was borne with Christian fortitude and she died consoled by the rites of Holy Church, administered by her beloved pastor, Rev. R. D. McGuigan. The late Mrs. Moisaac was a general favorite with all who knew her and her demise will be a distinct loss to her large circle of friends. She leaves to mourn her sorrowing husband, Mr. Joseph Moisaac; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward McKenna, Iona; four brothers, James at Ottawa; Harold at Cambridge, Mass.; Edward at St. Dunstan's University, and Wilfred at home; also two sisters, Mrs. H. Heckler, Cambridge, Mass., and Miss Alice McKenna of that place. The funeral, which was largely attended, was held on January 18, at St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River, where all that was mortal of this exemplary young woman was laid to rest. Rev. P. D. McGuigan, the pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. P. Duffy, Iona, her former pastor, and Rev. Michael Rooney, Tignish. The pall bearers were Messrs. Daniel McPherson and James Praught, Vernon River; P. J. Hughes and John Connolly, Iona; J. J. McLean and Joseph Morrison, Earnsccliffe. The Guardian joins with Mr. Moisaac and his many friends in his sad bereavement. May she rest in peace. (Boston papers and Patriot please copy.)

Grand Division Sons of Temperance
The Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance met in first quarterly session in Springfield Temperance Hall with the members of the Union Division, No. 45 on 16 Jan. at 2.30 p. m., Grand Worthy Patriarch, Robert Howard, presiding.

The following officers were present: G. W. A. Murdoch MacLeod; Patron, Rev. R. H. Stavert; G. Sec., Mrs. MacKay; G. Com., D. M. MacDonald; Office filled by: G. Chap., Rev. E. S. Weeks; G. Sent., John D. MacDonald; P. G. W. P., Peter Sinclair.

The sessional committees were appointed as follows: Credentials, John Haslam, Ruth Howard, John D. MacDonald, Finance, Ernest Haslam, Wellington Haslam, D. M. MacDonald, State of Order, Rev. R. H. Stavert, Rev. E. S. Weeks, Peter Sinclair.

The session was well represented from the neighbouring Divisions, as the day was all that could be desired and the road very good. Surely we could well say, "The Heavens Declare the glory of God, and the firmament showeth his handy work." The session was both interesting and profitable, and pray that it may be to the lasting good of each one present.

Considerable discussion took place when the committee on the state of the Order presented their report which was adopted as follows:

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON STATE OF THE ORDER

We, your Committee, on the State of the Order in undertaking to make our report, would before doing so, take time to pause and say that we are very glad indeed to see old Union Division carrying on with renewed vigor, and we believe this should be an inspiration to all surrounding districts.

(1) In looking over the reports of the Grand Worthy Patriarch, and of the Grand Scribe we find that while there has not been a great deal done to inspire us, yet there is nothing whatever to discourage us, while our Order is not growing as we would wish, yet these who are in the ranks are proving themselves faithful.

We were very glad indeed to hear that one division has been reconstituted. We heartily welcome Hamilton Division back into our ranks again.

(2) We agree with the G. W. P. in believing that our judicial machinery on P. E. I. is not what it should be. We fear and we believe we have good ground for our fears that the sympathies of some of our magistrats are not with the Temperance people.

We wish that some movement could be set on foot whereby some new judicial machinery could be brought into existence.

(3) We regret to discover that an organizer has not yet been secured to put new life into the old order and would suggest that the Committee appointed to continue to search for such an officer, we would assure that some work should be undertaken among the young, with an organizer on the field, we know that considerable work would be done along this line.

(4) We would call the attention of the Grand Division to the fact that our quarterly expenses are exceeding our revenue and if this be so what about our future existence; this no doubt, is a challenge for the untiring efforts and zeal of every Son of Temperance.

The public meeting at 8 p. m. Programme was well rendered. The following are the items: Opening Chorus—Lord of the Lands.
Address—G. W. P., Robert Howard.

Minard's Lintment for Headache
Zoo in Eruption
(By Dominion News Service.)
LONDON, Jan. 21.—London has its own volcano—on the Mappin terrace at the Zoo. It is in violent eruption. It is a cross between Fujiyama and Vesuvius, but it has more precipitous sides than either. A representative climbed up close to the crater, and clung to the hot mountain side, while smoke and ashes belched forth.

It was a perilous climb. Denizens of the wilds prowled around the base of the great range of hills. Musk ox and deer grazed on the plateau, bears growled from amid the rocky fastenings. Great white objects sat sullenly by frozen lakes below the slopes. They were polar bears. The distant bark of a sea lion came through the fog. Now and again, as the mists cleared, forests showed dimly.

It was an eerie experience. The wild mountain sheep that leap from crag to crag were the only other living things up on those slippery heights. No one knows what they think of their mountain once cold rock and now glowing with heat.

As they believe it to be a funeral pyre for their leader, who fought a lone hand for his harem the other day, and was beaten by a better fellow. He was unable to take it like a sport, so rough justice shot the monarch, Barbary Bill, in his tracks.

What has actually happened is that the Zoo authorities, desiring to wash away the old and to have it well aired before the fish have, have staked up the furnaces below the Mappin range.

A tall chimney stack had to be thrust through the mountains. Why not run the mountain slopes up higher, and turn the chimney into a volcano?

It was a happy thought, realistically carried out. Now the Barbary pinnacles are on fire.

PEARLS OF THE DEAD EMPRESS IN THE SEA
GENEVA, Jan. 24.—Wanted: a pearl fisherman who can find a complete string of superb gems at one dive.

It has been revealed that a necklace of inestimable value, once the property of the assassinated Empress Elizabeth of Austria, lies at the bottom of the Mediterranean. It was submerged on the empress' instruction in order to regain its lustre.

A few days before her assassination an expert advised Empress Elizabeth to bury the necklace under the sea. The expert said this was the only plan by which it could regain its brilliancy.

The necklace was a wedding gift of the emperor to his bride, and among the most prized of all her possessions. So she sent to a Corfu monk, with instructions to hide it in the deep blue waters of the Mediterranean.

Aided by an old fisherman, the monk carefully buried the pearls in the sand in a deep excavation near the shore. He took every precaution that none but the old fisherman and himself should know the hiding place. This took place in June, 1898. At the end of that year both the monk and the old fisherman died. It was long believed that their secret had perished with them.

It is now reported that the fisherman told a comrade where the pearls were buried and that eventually the necklace may be recovered from the sea.

Poem "In Flanders Field"

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—That C. Stead's poem, "In Flanders Field" was the greatest poem published in Canada during the war, and, in his opinion, the best of the renowned poet John McCrae. "In Flanders Field" was the view expressed last night by Dr. L. A. Pierce, literary editor of the Methodist Publishing House of Toronto, during a lecture on Canadian literature. Dr. Pierce said that McCrae, were he alive, would desire to alter the line "up our quarrel with the foe."
