EYE STRAIN THE PRINCIPAL CAUSE OF HEAD-ACHES

Some authorities say 90 p.c. of all headaches are caused by eyestrain; no authority puts it less than 70 p.c. Leave it to your own experience.

When getting a headache, you close your eyes, don't you? Of the twelve pairs of nerves in the skull, six have some connection with the eye.

WEDDING BELLS.—A very pretty wedding took place at the residence of Mr. W. G. Simpson, Kensington, on Wednesday evening, January 30th, when his second daughter, Jenny Vesta, was united in the holy bonds of marriage to Robert Scott Humphrey, son of Mrs. Andrew Humphrey, Kelvin. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. A. W. Robertson. There were about fifty invited guests present, and at seven o'clock the bride entered the parlor leaning on her father's arm to the strains of the wedding march beautifully rendered by her cousin, Miss Miriam Profit. The bride who looked charming, was dressed in ivory satin with georgette and pearl trimmings, with a bridal veil caught by orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white carnations and maiden-hair fern. She was attended by Miss Adelaide Humphrey, sister of the groom, who, wearing pink silk crepe-duchene with lace trimmings, and carrying pink carnations, made an ideal bridesmaid. Mr. Richard Simpson, brother of the groom, supported the bride, ably the best wishes of all present had been presented a sumptuous wedding supper was served. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in music, and all enjoyed the favorite selections rendered by Rev. J. M. Murchison and Mr. Garnet Profit. Among the many and handsome gifts were a substantial cheque from the groom's mother and a silver black fox from the bride's father, the groom's gift to the bride was also a very substantial cheque, to the bridesmaid a beautiful onyx ring with pearl setting, and to the groomsmen a set of gold cuff links. The happy couple will reside in Kelvin, where Mr. Humphrey is a prosperous farmer and successful fox rancher.

COLD DRIVE.—On Sunday afternoon Mr. Phillips of Souris accompanied by the Rev. Robert M. Brodie left for Bridgetown a distance of sixteen miles with quite a gale blowing. However they arrived safe and sound. In the evening the Pastor was delighted to see so many present in Church on such a cold evening. Especially so as the majority of the congregation had travelled miles to be present, one young lady even walking five miles each way to be there. After the service Mr. Phillips and the Rev. gentleman returned to Souris.

SAD BEREAVEMENT.—It is with deepest sympathy we chronicle the death of Miss Dorothy Keys, whose death occurred at her home in Souris on February 1st, deceased had been ailing but a short time and bore her suffering with patience and resignation to God's holy will. She was a bright and cheerful disposition, possessed many great qualities of mind and heart and her death at an early age came as a severe shock to her wide circle of friends and acquaintances. All that medical skill and kind nursing could do was done to alleviate her sufferings but God in His goodness saw fit to call her to Himself and with perfect resignation and fortified by the rites of the Catholic Church she calmly breathed her last. Dorothy is well known in Georgetown being with the firm of the J. J. Hughes Co. for some time. Sincere and heartfelt sympathy is extended to the family in their sad and sudden affliction. May her soul rest in peace, Amen. Her funeral was one of the largest seen for some time.

Eye Sight and Production Costs

Defective Vision amongst employees, is responsible for a serious increase in Production Costs. A blinded machinist would be a drug on the market; no employer would want him, and yet there are thousands of PARTIALLY blind workers, whose productive efficiency is out in half, by some correctable form of eye defect. Industrialists are becoming alive to the serious loss thus incurred, and as a result, Eye Clinics are now conducted in many large shops and factories throughout the land.

SAD DEATH.—The death of Joseph A. McDonald, Baltic Station, was a particularly sad one. A young man, apparently in the prime of health, he was strong and able, fished lobsters last spring and worked at the haying with vigor but tuberculosis however set in last fall. His funeral to St. Columba, took place Saturday morning. A young wife and children mourn his untimely death.

FUNERAL SERVICE.—The funeral of Dorothy Keys, daughter of Mr. James Keys, Souris, took place Monday afternoon at St. Mary's Church. Much sympathy is felt for the father who lost his wife less than a year ago. Dorothy was a great favorite and will be greatly missed by the customers of the Hughes Store, Souris, where she waited on them so obligingly for so many years.

Eat No Sweets If You Are Rheumatic

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat no sweets for awhile, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid or body waste matter, and is often generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this toxic acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste and stimulate the kidneys, thus helping to rid the blood of these rheumatic poisons.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism.

In the face of seemingly insuperable difficulties they have built up a world-wide trade—trade that grew and flourished in spite of the limitations of those primitive burden-bearers, the native carriers, the mule train and the camel caravan. Ford carries the burdens of Empire trade on the hill-trails of India, on the African veldt, on the sheep-stations of Australia and New Zealand, on the plantations of Ceylon and Burma, on the rubber estates of Malaya and on the jungle-paths of Borneo. THE SALVATION ARMY HELPS PRISONERS

Over 20,000 were interviewed during the year and assisted in many ways to become good citizens

Some very interesting figures have come to light through the report just issued by the Salvation Army Headquarters, Toronto, regarding the Prison and Police Court work for the year ending September 30th.

When it is noted that interviews with prisoners totalled 20,784 some idea of the tremendous effort put forth by this Organization on behalf of the unfortunate of society will be gained. But these figures do not pretend to tell the whole story. One of the chief functions of this branch of the Salvation Army is to meet prisoners on being discharged, the purpose being to help them get back into civil life among new companions, new surroundings and new conditions so that the temptation to commit a crime will be as far removed as possible.

To provide work, sometimes in a distant part of the country, is another phase of the work, all looking towards the reclamation of a citizen. Last year 1,234 discharged prisoners were helped and encouraged to become an asset instead of a liability to society. Of this number, employment was found for 607.

Another insight into the workings of the Salvation Army in regard to prisoners is found in the fact that 11,012 meals and 3,276 beds were supplied to ex-prisoners. Toronto alone, the Army paid the rent for prisoners' families in 125 cases, to say nothing of handling 6,889 letters and 'phone calls.

Such an organization, equipped and efficiently managed to do such work, commands the respect and admiration of all.

THE MUNICIPAL REVIEW OF CANADA, MONTREAL

The story of "The Union of Canadian Municipalities," which appears in the current issue of "The Municipal Review of Canada," makes interesting reading, as it describes how the Union was formed in 1901, and the valuable service it has given, in protecting the rights of Municipalities, from utility companies, in the last twenty years. The article is written by Harry Bragg, who has followed the course of the Union since 1905, when he established their official organ, and who has materially contributed to its success.

In addition to this interesting story, which appears in Supplement form, as Chapter 2, of "Municipal Who's Who of Canada," there is an article by E. W. Beatty, President, Canadian Pacific Railway, on "Municipal Immigration," and also an interesting message on the same subject, by Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration. There are also several particularly interesting articles on "Municipal Finance," including one by J. W. Mitchell, President, Bond Dealers Association of Canada.

Through such a class of articles, the exchange of ideas will prove helpful to our Municipal men, for like the subject of Taxation, there is much discussion, but little published on the subject and "The Municipal Review" is certainly choosing its Editorial matter with great discernment.

The importance of Municipal work is brought out very strongly in each issue, and there is no doubt "The Municipal Review" is accomplishing a great deal for the national welfare, by means of the Municipal Institutions of this country.

The next issue will contain a Supplement, Chapter 3, of "Municipal Who's Who," devoted to the subject of "Newly Elected Mayors" and in addition, articles will feature the subject of "Water and Drainage." The Supplement of "Municipal Who's Who" is making known the Municipal men and his qualifications, and aspirations while in office. Through the means he is becoming a national figure, instead of being an unknown quantity to his fellow Mayors throughout the Dominion of Canada.

Advertisement for MA JONG game. Features an image of the game board and text: 'MA JONG The Popular Old Chinese Game 50c and the Ma Jong coupons (printed elsewhere.) It Is Not Hard To Play The two popular fallacies about the game is that it is expensive to purchase and difficult to play. By introducing this 50c set we have brought the game within the reach of everyone, thereby eliminating the objection of high cost, while the book of directions which accompanies our game makes the rules clear and the game ready to master. Ask The People Who Play they will tell you that it requires no special talent to play—no technical skill is needed. The people who play will tell you too, how fascinating it is to match the playing pieces to make three or four of a kind or three of a sequence, how satisfying it is to "pung" a piece, and to win the game. Understand What People Mean when they talk of the "loose tiles", the "East Wind", "forming and opening the wall", "chowing", and the few other terms of the game. There is one thing sure—other people can play it, you can—and all you need to do in order to become an expert is to buy and use this 50c set we are now offering. Our Supply Is Becoming Exhausted In contracting for an unusually large number of the games, we felt we had gauged the local demand but we evidently were mistaken. The interest in the game and the desire for a popular-priced set were much greater than we anticipated. The result is that our supply is diminishing rapidly and, as we are not sure we will be able to get more of them at the advantageous rate of the first lot, we urge you to use the coupon at once. BETTER COME IN TODAY. The Charlottetown Guardian'
