GRAVE SITUATION IN AFGHANISTAN

AMIR'S APPEAL FOR ARMISTICE WAS ONLY A RUSE.

IN ORDER TO GAIN TIME

To Stir Up Trouble Among the Tribes—Bolsheviks
Behind Afghans

(Special to The Guardian)

LONDON, June 14.—A grave situation has developed in connection with the Afghan war. It is suspected that the appeal of the Amir of Afghanistan for an armistice was simply a ruse to gain time for the completion of Afghan concentration for incitement of the tribes of the northwest frontier of India and for the arrival of assistance of various kinds from Russia.

It is certain that the Amir has entered into close relations with the Bolsheviks of Turkestan and, presumably, those of Moscow also. Russian emissaries have been sent into Afghanistan and an extensive propaganda is being carried on throughout that country. The fact that the Bolsheviks are behind the Afghans is considered in competent circles, to open up serious possibilities for the future.

It is believed from Moscow, that such men as Lenin, of course see in the Afghan conflict unique opportunity for raising embarrassment through the British Empire and for spreading Bolshevik doctrines throughout all the inflammable population of the near east and widening the basis of its own influence.

The acting Prime Minister said it was the intention of the Government if Parliament approves to pass an effective tariff.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 13.—The Stationing Committee was in session Wednesday afternoon and evening and Thursday morning. The case which seemed to cause the most discussion was that of Woodstock which is making request that its minister be returned for a fifth year. Up until the last general conference the church has zealously guarded its time limit in the pastorate but at that conference the door was opened for an extension of time, although the terms of the legislation did not seem to be very definite. After a long discussion it was decided by a necessary two-thirds vote to recommend that the request of the Woodstock Circuit be granted. This will now require a majority vote of conference. 50th ANNIVERSARY OF ST. PETER'S

CANON SIMPSON DEALT WITH HISTORY OF THE CHURCH

IN SERMON YESTERDAY

Letters Read From Bishops, and Other Extolling Work of St. Peters

In St. Peter's Cathedral on Sunday morning, it being the fiftieth anniversary of the opening of the Church, Rev. Canon Simpson in his sermon dealt with the subject. Although the jubilee is to be observed in September he thought it hardly fitting that the anniversary should pass without some reference to it. As the church had been built for the glory of God he thought it well on the Festival of the Trinity that thanks should be given to God for the guidance and protection granted by the Almighty during the half century.

He traced the history of St. Peter's, which had been built as a Mission Church in what at that time was a very undesirable portion of the city called "the Bog," inhabited by a lawless element of white and colored people. While he could not claim that the great change which has taken place in that neighborhood was due entirely to the church he declared that it certainly had a great influence in improving conditions.

As the rector of St. Paul's at that time objected to having his parish divided the Bishop of Nova Scotia made St. Peter's a Cathedral, as St. Peter's Island was outside of his diocese.

Young in years as St. Peter's is, said Canon Simpson, it is yet the oldest church edifice in the city, with the exception of the Methodist, all the others having been built at a more recent date.

The church services at St. Peter's drew large congregations of those who desired a brighter form of worship than that to which they were accustomed, and others came at first for the "amusement" it afforded them, but even to those it was often the case that "those who came to scoff remained to pray."

Outside the Church of England there was no observance of the church's seasons—never such crowded congregations here on such occasions as Christmas or Easter. In the course of time the various denominations began to make their services more attractive—they put in powerful organs—enlarged their choirs—introduced anthems and quartettes—published their programmes of Easter and Christmas music and introduced all sorts of novelties. In the meantime the service at St. Peter's has never varied. The church's seasons have been reverently observed—no efforts have been made to draw crowds by promising them musical treats or by substituting entertainment for worship.

It is sometimes said, continued Canon Simpson that our congregation is much smaller than it used to be but this is not the case. I have a list of members left by my predecessor and it is just as large an adult membership as in his time. There are more communicants and our income has more than doubled. It is true that the church attendance is considerably smaller than formerly—those who were attracted by the novelty of the services or by the oratory of the first incumbent, or the desire to make some recognition of the great festivals of the church come no longer—the crowds who used to attend on Easter Day for instance, have no need now to leave their own places of worship.

Has St. Peter's justified its existence during the past fifty years? What it has done for individual souls will never be known till the Day of Judgment, but, said the speaker, we can see some results of its teachings.

It has set forth the worship of God in the beauty of holiness—its services are conducted reverently—there is an atmosphere about it which conduces to reverence—witness the congregations even on such occasions as fashionable weddings. The chapel, which is the most beautiful in Canada—impresses everyone with the feeling that it is indeed a House of God. St. Peter's, too, has taught the Faith definitely and clearly. It has impressed upon its members that it is a real spiritual home and it retains their affections long after they have left here. Although it has suffered by the exodus of our young people year after year the Church in other parts of Canada and in the United States has profited by our loss. It has set an example to the whole diocese for generous giving for church purposes. It has had an influence exceeded by few churches in Canada upon the church life of the adjoining provinces.

Erzeberger Enters A Protest

(Special to The Guardian)

BERLIN, June 14.—Mathias Erzeberger, head of the German armistice commission, has written General Dupont, Chief of the French Mission in Berlin, protesting against a Polish army order declaring that Poland is in a state of war with Germany and that Poland purposes to distribute two divisions of General Haller's army along the frontier. Erzeberger says this is opposed to the terms of the armistice and he advises General Foch that unless the order is rescinded Germany will be compelled to suspend the transport of General Haller's army across Germany.

Council Will Head Turk Delegation

(Special to The Guardian)

PARIS, June 14.—The Council of Ten on Tuesday morning will receive the Turkish delegation now at Vaucroisson, a suburb of Paris, in the cloak room of the Quai Dorsay and hear their statement concerning Turkey. The drafting of the peace terms for Turkey will be postponed until after the delegation is heard.

Have Wilson's Sympathy

PARIS, June 14.—Messrs Walsh and Dunne of the Irish American delegation have received from President Wilson the assurance of his sympathy but no promise of aid. There is no indication that anything will result from the request of the Washington Senate for an Irish hearing before the Conference.

from several letters. The Bishop of Fredericton wrote:

"It would be a great delight to visit you and to take part in your jubilee celebration next September. I feel that St. Peter's has made a valuable contribution to the life of the Canadian church during the last fifty years, and I should much like to have a hand in recognizing the fact."

The Bishop of Columbia wrote: "St. Peter's has, under God, accomplished a truly great work—a work which has had influence far beyond the borders of its own city. I realize that personally I owe much to lessons learnt under its shadow. In St. Peter's there is just that same admixture of teaching, ritual and practice which to my mind the church in Canada might so powerfully and adequately supply to the upbuilding of the Faith. For all these reasons you will appreciate how much I should like to join in your jubilee and will do so if the way be open."

Bishop Osborne, retired Bishop of Springfield, O.—"Nothing could give me greater pleasure than to help your Jubilee at St. Peter's."

The Rev. G. F. Scovill, Guelpch, Ont.—"I owe so much to St. Peter's and those associated with it, I would make a considerable sacrifice to take part in the Jubilee."

Numerous others have written to the same effect. Eight of St. Peter's members have entered the Sacred Ministry and three others are now preparing. It has prepared for matriculation 13 young men from other congregations wishing to take Holy Orders; and has helped in the training of eight others who assisted here as lay readers or school teachers before they were ordained.

In conclusion Canon Simpson said, "No one more than I realizes our short comings and deficiencies and how much more might have been done, if only we had been more earnest and devoted in our efforts, but in spite of these I cannot but trust that St. Peter's has justified its existence during the last fifty years and I hope that the Jubilee will inspire us to fresh zeal, greater unity, increased earnestness and deeper devotion. Let us pray daily for the blessing of God on the services to be held in September."

FIRST QUEENS CONVENTION

LIBERAL-CONSERVATIVES RE- NOMINATE STANDARD BEARERS.

KENNEDY AND McNEVIN

Largest and Best Convention Ever
Held in First Queen's County.

If the tone of a nominating convention is an index of political opinion throughout a constituency, and it unquestionably is, the road between the Liberal-Conservative candidates for First Queens and their former seats in the legislature should be comparatively smooth.

The Liberal-Conservative Convention at Bradbane on Saturday afternoon to select candidates for the forthcoming election, was declared by many veterans of previous conventions the largest, the most harmonious and in every way the most satisfactory ever held in the district.

Each of the thirteen polls was fully represented and in addition to these there were many present from the vicinity and the outlying districts.

Mr. W. H. Hogan, the Convener, in calling the meeting to order, explained that he was filling the position only temporarily and that it would be in order for the convention to appoint a permanent convener for the riding. He suggested that an executive be formed consisting of the chairman or convener of each poll, this executive to meet as often as they deemed necessary, to confer with the representatives of the district and keep them informed as to its various requirements. This, he said, would prove of great advantage to the district, would keep the representatives posted at all times and be a guarantee that the needs of the district be looked after. It was unreasonable, he said to expect representatives to keep in touch with all the needs of the district unless assisted by such an organization as he proposed.

Premier Arsenault, asked as to his opinion of such an organization, heartily concurred in Mr. Hogan's suggestion; he had experience in his own district of such an organization, and he found it very satisfactory.

The two sitting members, also, Hon. Mr. Kennedy and Mr. A. J. McNevin, expressed their approval of the idea. On motion of Mr. J. T. Bradley seconded by Mr. Ernest Holmes an executive consisting of the conveners of each of the thirteen polls was formed.

Mr. Thomas Wigmore was appointed secretary of the convention and Messrs. James O'Connor and W. R. Taylor were appointed scrutineers.

Mr. W. H. Hogan, the convener, then asked for the appointment of a permanent convener.

On motion Mr. J. T. Bradley was unanimously chosen Convener. Before taking the chair, Mr. Bradley moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Hogan for his untiring zeal in the interests of the party and the constituency. This was seconded by Mr. A. J. McNevin, who paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Hogan, whose intelligent labor and untiring efforts had done so much for the party and for the constituency.

Mr. Hogan made a graceful and eloquent reply. He had been associated with the Liberal-Conservative party for many years, he said, and had never seen any reason why he should change his allegiance. The line of steel, to be seen from the windows of the Hall, connecting the different centres in the province with every point on the continent was only one of many reasons why the people of this province should be grateful to the only Dominion Premier that had ever kept his promise to the people of this Island. And we have on this platform today, he continued, the only provincial Premier in Canada who financed his province during the war without incurring a debt, and Premier Arsenault had not only not incurred a debt, but he brought the province through with a substantial surplus. Moreover, the present provincial government had done more for the province in the matter of public works than their predecessors had done in twenty years. He concluded with an optimistic prediction as to the result of the coming election. From every quarter, he had kept in close touch with public opinion, he was confidently informed and he was quite satisfied that the Arsenault government would be returned with a bigger majority than it had in the last parliament.

Mr. Hogan's eloquent speech was loudly applauded throughout. The nomination of candidates was

British Squadron Bombarding Bolsheviks

STOCKHOLM, June 14.—A British squadron is bombarding the Bolshevik base at Kronstadt with heavy guns according to a report published in the Afton Bladt today. The Bolshevik batteries however are not replying to the British fire. The Bolsheviks have placed floating mines in the nearby waters.

Lieut. Doull Home From Overseas

Lieut. Arthur K. Doull, R. A. F., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Doull, city, arrived home last week from England to spend several weeks furlough with his parents. Lieut. Doull has been in khaki since early in August, 1914. He was in the first company of artillerymen to leave the Island after the declaration of war. After serving at Canso he proceeded in December, 1914, to Halifax, where he joined the 2nd Heavy Battery, going overseas with them in September, 1915. From then until June, 1917, he served continuously as a gunner, and took part in the various battles in which the battery was engaged. He then, though still a member of the battery became attached to the Canadian Wireless Corps for signal duty and line work and was engaged in testing a new type of wireless for the Imperial army which was later adopted. After Passchendaele he returned to England joined the Royal Flying Corps and after training at Rendcombe Gloucestershire, received his wings and commission in September, 1918. He was afterwards made an instructor in flying "Bristol" fighters and in March, 1919 went to Belgium and was later engaged with the army of Occupation in Germany. He left Cologne May 28th for England. Lieut. Doull has had a wonderful experience as an aviator, being assigned to duties of exceptional responsibility and daring and has made good in every undertaking in which he was engaged. The many friends of the gallant young lieutenant are delighted to see him home once more, looking the picture of healthful and vigorous young manhood.

TRY TO RAISE INTERNAL HAIR CROP.

SAN JUAN, June 13.—Hair tonic has leaped into favor as a drink in Ponce. In one week more than 4,350 bottles of a kind manufactured by a local firm under a formula registered with the Insular Government, was sold in that city.

The tonic is said to contain more than sixty per cent. alcohol; it is reported to have been selling freely at fifteen cents a drink, despite the fact that it contains drugs which, although reported to be of benefit to the hair when externally applied are said to be somewhat harmful to the system, when imbibed.

The existence of the tonic was discovered by a detective who on sampling a bottle, reported the matter under the impression that he had discovered a shipment of pure rum. As the formula was registered with the Insular Government by the manufacturer no legal action has been taken against them, but the manufacture has been stopped and the police have been endeavoring to round up all the supplies of the hair tonic that can be found. It is reported that about 75,000 bottles have been shipped to Ponce during the last few weeks, of which the greater part has been recovered.

ROUNDING UP THE RIOTERS

AUTHORITIES AFTER THE MEN WHO STARTED WINNIPEG TROUBLE

C. N. R. CALL FOR TENDERS

FOR TWENTY MAIL CARS AND TWENTY FIRST CLASS COACHES

(Special to The Guardian)

WINNIPEG, June 14.—City and special police aided by Provincial and federal police organizations have started a round up on the men who were responsible for the rioting which took place on the city streets Tuesday and Wednesday. Several suspected ringleaders are now under arrest. Warrants were issued for three more this afternoon. Other rioters may be apprehended later. The police assert the authorities believe they now have in the toils the man responsible for the injuries to Sergt. F. C. Copps, V. C.

Tenders on twenty mail cars and twenty first class coaches are being asked by the Canadian National Railway. If the order is placed it will constitute the largest rolling stock order placed by any railway since the outbreak of hostilities. At an estimated cost of $20,000 per car the order is worth $800,000 according to Canadian National officials. The whole order is to be placed in Canadian shops, owing to the unsettled condition of the steel and labor market. Nobody has an idea within thousands of dollars what the new cars should cost the country. It is said that the C. N. R. office that the cost seems unreasonable. The order will be held over for a lowering of prices.

SPENT TWENTY-SIX YEARS IN JAPAN

MONCTON, N. B., June 14.—At the annual meeting of the N. B. and P. E. Island Methodist Woman's Missionary Society, held here in the Central Methodist Church, an interesting speaker was Miss Mira Veazey, a New Brunswick lady, who has spent twenty-six years in Japan as a missionary. She has been working under the auspices of the New Brunswick and P. E. Island Woman's Missionary Society. "As with us, Victory Bonds are a sure investment in Japan at the present time," said Miss Veazey. "So is the money we have contributed towards missions. Our contributions remain there as principal, and the interest is always being re-invested in the form of Bible workers and other missionary help, and the Christian homes established in the Orient."

Miss Veazey spoke of the case of six Japanese girls, who were in her class when she went to Japan. Five of the six spent several years under her tuition. They are now all engaged in Christian work. One is the wife of a Presbyterian minister. Another is in charge of a native kindergarten school. Another, who had been a poor girl, is now at the head of a Christian home, and her daughter is in the kindergarten work. Before Miss Veazey left her mission station for Canada she met all of these six at an alumni meeting. "If I have not accomplished anything else in my mission work except to influence the lives of these useful Christian women, I will feel that my life has been by no means in vain," said Miss Veazey.
