Ninth - Inning Card Rally Falls Short And Bronx Bombers Cop Verdict 7-4

(By Judson Bailey, Associated Press Sports Writer)

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30—(AP)—In a wild and turbulent beginning to a World Series that had been expected to be one of the tightest in history, the powerful New York Yankees stilled St. Louis Cardinals for eight innings today and won 7-4 after smothering an almost incredible ninth-inning outburst by the Redbirds.

Charlie (Red) Ruffing thrilled a capacity crowd of 34,385 with one of the finest pitching performances in his long and lustrous career, establishing two World Series records while shutting out the indomitable Cardinals till the game was within one out of being over.

Mort Cooper, bearing all the hopes of the National League on his broad shoulders, had been steadily shelled and finally removed from the scene—and thousands of fans were on their way out of the park.

Then the Cardinals suddenly showed spirit and spark that had earned them a place in this year's baseball classic. They hammered Ruffing out of the box and continued their assault on Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler until the crowd was near hysteria and they had four runs across, the bases loaded and one of the hitters, rookie Stan Musial, standing at the plate with what represented the winning run if they could get it across.

But the pink-checked freshman missed a chance for fame by grounding out and the Yankees thankfully short to load the bases when the ball took a bad hop and hit little Phil (Scooter) Rizzuto squarely in the eye.

This convinced the noisy, demonstrative crowd that fate had turned in the Cardinals' favor. But Musial snuffed out their hope by sending an easy grounder down the first base line and getting thrown out, Buddy Hasset to Chandler.

As it turned out, the Cardinals were not better so much by Cooper's failure to live up to his great National League season, during which he won 22 games, as by the four errors committed by the team.

Cooper, 10 years younger than his rival, battled Ruffing gamely through the early innings, even after he had been knocked around in the fourth frame.

DMaggio Leads Yankee Attack

Joe DiMaggio, the great Yankee Clipper who made three hits to lead the Bombers' 11-hit offensive, established the lead by hitting Cooper in the fourth, leading off with a sharp single to left. The next two batters popped up, but Bill Dimech and Hasset tied the score through with a scorching double down the left field foul line to bring DiMaggio home.

Then in the fifth, with one away, Rolfe singled, Roy Cullenbine doubled against the right field wall and Rolfe scored, as DiMaggio immediately singled base runner Kurovski, who tagged Cullenbine on the base path but could make no other play.

DiMaggio again led off with a single in the eighth and after Charlie Keller and Joe Gordon had fanned in succession, Dickey singled a runner in right, Ruffing and Hasset ranned over another run with a single to right.

These were all the earned runs the Yankees had, but in the eighth they were given later provided them with a winning margin to withstand the Redbirds' rally later.

With one out in the eighth, two on and two out, Ruffing lifted a long fly to Slaughter, who let the ball bounce out of his glove for a two-base error, scoring both runners.

Chandler Rushes To Red's Aid

The smart leader of the defending champions wasted no glance on his usual relief hurlers. Instead he called for Chandler, one of his best starting pitchers.

But even the Georgia right-hander could not cool off the Cardinals immediately. Terry Moore singled and Kurovski, who tagged Cullenbine on the base path but could make no other play.

Gumbert Relieves Cooper

This was where Cooper left the game. Manager Billy Southworth summoned Harry Gumbert to nail the final out, but he was taken out for a pinchhitter and Letty Max Lanier pitched the ninth inning and personally made two errors in the final out.

Rolfe opened with a single and Cullenbine sacrificed, but Lanier whiffed the ball neatly, three whiffs over first baseman Hopp's head letting Rolfe come all the way around and Cullenbine reached third. After getting the batter out, Lanier walked Keller and then tried to pick him off first. When Hopp returned the ball to the pitcher, Lanier let it slip through him and trickle over toward third while Cullenbine scampered home.

It would have been a crushing knockout for most any club except the Cards. For seven innings they had not been able to touch Ruffing with anything resembling a hit. The big veteran walked five men, twice giving two passes in an inning, but during his air-tight span he never allowed another Card to reach base.

But as soon as he reached his record of 7 2-3 innings of hitless ball, passing the mark set by former Yankee hurlers, Herb Pennock and Monte Pearson, he was rapped for a single by Moore. This removed the suspense of a no-hitter as things that came in the next stanza.

Bombers take Victory soberly

By Charles Dunkley, Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30—(AP)—The power-hitting, naughty New York Yankees accepted today's 7-4 victory in the first game of the World Series with a matter-of-fact calmness, as if they had it coming.

Manager Joe McCarthy, 56-year-old manager of the Yankees, immediately sought out Charles (Red) Ruffing, the winning pitcher, to congratulate him. The players swarmed around Ruffing, and with perspiration, to shake his hand.

McCarthy praised Ruffing's performance, one of the most notable in World Series history. Ruffing eclipsed the achievement of Herb Pennock, a Yankee of the 1927 team, who held Pittsburgh Pirates without a hit for 7 2-3 innings.

Ruffing bettered it by one-third of an inning today before he tired, just got popped out," said the 38-year-old pitcher, oldest of the team. "I pitched a fast ball all afternoon and threw myself out."

The players pulled off their uniforms in silence. They were plain tired.

A photographer lined up Joe DiMaggio, Joe Gordon and Buddy Hasset for a shot. Their arms around each other, their faces showed a sober expression and the photographer yelled for them to sing.

"To hell with that," barked DiMaggio.

In the Cardinal dressing room, not a word was spoken until all the selected players lined up and seated themselves on the benches in front of their lockers.

Manager Billy Southworth was the first to speak. He said he and seated themselves on the benches in front of their lockers.

Captain Terry Moore, who realized an eight-year dream when the Cardinals won the National League pennant, spoke in silence with an explosive outburst.

"That ninth inning was a sample of what we can do. We can do that every time," he said, giving them many runs next time.

The defeat was dismissed with the comment, "that's baseball," by Mike Gonzalez, the Cardinals' Cuban coach. "I said the series was going six games. We're going to lose one more. But we'll win tomorrow."

Southworth chirped an encouraging, "chins up," and coach Eddie Vares, puffing fiercely on a cigar, yelled, "we'll hit back at them tomorrow. We had them cracking at the end."

Mort Cooper, the Cards' losing pitcher, was far from downhearted. "I'm glad I lost," he said, "but I'm glad I didn't get hit."

Navy Juniors Whip Moncton In First Game

MONCTON, N.B., Sept. 30—(CP)—Halifax Navy Juniors gained the jump on Moncton Brookfields today when they won the first game of the Maritime Junior baseball championship. The second contest, and a third if necessary, will be played Sunday at Halifax.

Brilliant 18-strikeout hurling by Joe Foster led the young Navy lads to victory after they scored three unearned runs in the first inning. The count stood 8-0 before Brookfields squeezed all their runs into the sixth.

Loose fielding, failure to bat in the clinches and Foster's outstanding performance added up to defeat for the New Brunswick champions.

White Sox Whip Cubs In City Series Opener

CHICAGO, Sept. 30—(AP)—The White Sox mastery over the Cubs in Chicago City Series competition continued today in the opening game of the 1942 meeting as Ted Lyons buried the American League team in a 3-0 victory.

Lyons allowed the Cubs only three hits in a one-hour, 18-minute contest. Bill Lee of the National League team gave the Sox only six hits but the Southsiders combined two of them with a walk and a long fly in the first inning to score two runs.

Remember When

Dr. J. Lee Richmond, who pitched the first perfect major league baseball game on record, died at Providence, R.I., 13 years ago today. On June 12, 1880, Richmond, then on the mound for Worcester, then holding a National League franchise shut out Cleveland, allowed no hits. Not a man reached first base.
