"We, a few of your surrounding neighbors have gathered together in a social way for a short time this evening to bid adieu to you before you take your departure from among us. It is always a time of regret when friends leave. Some go one way, some another, but you chose a noble calling when you decided to serve your country.

You are going forward to defend your home and the homes of many others and to fight for those principles that are worth while. Also to endure hardships and sacrifices for us and our homeland.

While you are there we ask you to remember that we all hearts beat for you and kindly minds think of you all the way from this fair island. You will meet new friends but none will be better than those who live in the Garden of the Gods. We wish you the best of luck and the protection of Providence wherever you go.

We now, therefore, take this opportunity of presenting you with this purse, not for its value, but something whereby you will not be forgotten.

In the not too distant future we earnestly look for your safe return to us, when we will give you a glad hand of welcome.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends of North Carleton, 10-13-41.
