CHAPTER XLIV

Myra's Decision

"Let me go," she said in a small voice, and as he stared down at her he saw that her eyes were veiled against him.

Usually they were wide and starry. Looking into Sally's eyes was like looking into the romantic-loving heart of hers, but tonight—tonight—oh, what had he done.

"Sally—" he began.

But she shook her head slowly. "Please don't say anything more; just let me go. I don't want to talk."

His arms dropped to his sides. There was something about her that made him realize the futility of talk. He had held a butterfly in his hands and had stupidly, clumsily rubbed the bloom from its wings. He knew only too clearly that he had failed her. He doubted if she would ever forgive him.

Her slim shoulders drooped as she turned toward the door. Then without a word to him she was gone.

He went up on C deck and sat alone staring out to sea. Surely, surely, those few words of his hadn't robbed him of Sally forever. He was exaggerating things because he cared so much. And yet there had been an ominousness about the way she had left him.

He understood her reaction. He had captured her heart because she had thought him a king. She was romantic, and his brutal suggestion had hurt her. Knowing Sally, he might have realized how much it would hurt her, and yet the thought of losing her had been with him all evening.

Once she would have flown precipitously to her cabin. She would have flung herself on her berth and sobbed aloud. But not now.

On leaden feet she walked deliberately to her stateroom, and was about to enter it when the sound of voices halted her. Myra was in there with some one else.

She stared at the door almost unseeingly. She wanted to be alone. Behind that door lay sanctuary and she needed it. Then she saw that the door was slightly ajar, and words began to float out of her.

"It will be much the simplest way. Your husband can divorce you, and in the meantime we'll be together. You will do it, Myra? Tell me you will. I swear I'll make you happy."

Sally strained her ears for Myra's reply, and when it came she flung her hand up to her mouth and bit into it to keep from screaming out.

Myra's voice was low, husky, and warm with feeling.

"Yes—I'll do it."

There was a silence while Sally leaned against the partition. She knew what was happening now. Myra was in John Rigby's arms. He was kissing her. Myra had agreed to stay in Buenos Aires?

A port hole at the end of the corridor was open and Sally went to it. The salt air, warm as it was, was still refreshing. She could hear the swish-swish of the sea, and feel the tremor of the boat under her.

Richard—Richard!

Her heart still cried his name.

A porthole at the end of the corridor was open and Sally went to it

She stumbled blindly down the corridor and out on deck. She leaned against the rail, and looked out to sea. Richard was gone. Myra had been right. He had gone to Buenos Aires. Sally was alone.

God Save the King.

At the conclusion of the program a hearty vote of thanks was tendered all those who so ably assisted in making the concert such a success, a snug sum being realized.

The Spring Time is Tonic Time

Something is Needed to Quickly Improve Your Health

With the passing of winter many people feel weak, depressed and easily tired. There is no particular disease, but the system lacks tone. You find yourself tired, low-spirited, often unable to get sound sleep at night. All this is the result of closer in-door confinement of the winter months, and shows that the blood has become thin and watery. New, rich, red blood is what you need to put you right and there is no other tonic medicine can give you this new, rich blood as surely and as speedily as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This new blood goes to every part of the body and quickly improves the general health. The digestion is toned up, and you have better appetite, the nerves are strengthened and sleep is refreshing. The special value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at this season is shown by the statement of Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke, R. R. No. 1, Hastings, Ont., who says:—"I know Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a great blood builder for I used them in the spring, when one naturally feels run-down after our long winter. Last spring I was feeling weak and easily tired, and again used the pills with the result that I have had splendid health since. The pills also restored my daughter, Mae, who was badly run-down, and seemed almost bloodless. She used the pills faithfully for a time and has since enjoyed the best of health. Naturally I never hesitate to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to people who are run-down."

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Read the Message of the Bagpipes!

Down the street, in gay array, march the Campbell Highlanders, led by the famous Campbell Band, whose pipers are playing one of the best known Scotch airs. Can you read the words of their message? Start at the top left, and this is what you see: "HET BELLCAMPS RAE COGMIN OT REFFO YUO SLAVUE." The letters in each word are a little mixed, but the words in the sentence are correctly placed. Rearrange the letters in each word, put each one into its right place, and you will see that the bagpipes' music is a message from the famous Campbell Hosiery Mills. For instance, the second word, BELLCAMPS, when the letters are correctly placed, will read CAMPBELLS. Can you solve the puzzle of the other words? Take your pencil and try it NOW. This advertisement may never appear again. Act now! $1500 in cash money prizes will be awarded to the winners of this fascinating puzzle contest.

HOW THESE CASH PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED

The highest possible total any competitor can secure is 500 points. For each of the 37 letters you place correctly you will receive 10 points—a total of 370 points. 50 points will be given for general neatness and appearance, 80 points will be awarded for fulfilling the terms of the contest.

The persons securing the total of 500 points, or nearest thereto, will receive the first prize—$1000 cash. The other cash prizes will be awarded—in order—to those obtaining the next highest totals.

Why These Splendid Cash Prizes are Being Given

The Campbell plan is a new pioneer achievement in direct selling. It puts into the discard the oldstyle, costly, middlemen and retail methods of supply. It brings to every home and to every individual, important savings in essential things, because it brings MILL values direct to you. That's the reason for this fascinating contest—to bring these new economies to your attention, to awaken public interest quickly, and so save the cost of expensive national advertising campaigns, and that's the reason we offer these wonderful cash prizes. If you want to win $1000 spend a little time to solve the bagpipes' message. You do not have to sell anything in order to win any of the prizes offered.

Why 'IMPERIALS' Hold First Place:

1. ECONOMY—

At one cent per meal, "Imperials" cost considerably less and give much better results than feeding a restricted meat dit.

2. A BALANCED RATION—

Imperial Cod Oil Fox Biscuits are required to balance the fox's ration at this season.

3. VITAMINES—

Contained in larger quantities in Cod Liver Oil than any known food.

4. HEALTH—

"Imperials" produce a laxative condition of the bowels, ensuring perfect digestion.

5. ENERGY FOODS—

Are only supplied by carbohydrates. Dietitians recommend the fox's diet to consist of from 33 to 50% cooked cereals, containing cod liver oil, during the gestation period.

For sale by leading distributors or direct from the factory.

Check up your stock today and make sure of having a liberal supply of "Imperials" always on hand. They ensure success.

Her Worst Worry Ended for a Dime!

A Body Sweetness that Even Perspiration Can't Spoil

All the trick laxatives in the world can't tempt people who understand the properties of cascara.

A hundred different drugs will purge the bowels, but a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew!

Your grandparents took "salts," and slowly washed away the mucous membrane with the waste! Mineral oils are better, but they leave the coating that your blood must then carry off through the pores. But when you cascarize the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.

Don't get in the habit of taking medicine for constipation—or even for auto-intoxication. If you have the habit, stop it. A candy cascaret is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them and the taste tempts most grown-ups to take "more." And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascaret tonight! All druggists, 10c & 25c.

"WHAT A JOY it was to find such an aid to utter cleanliness! My system is so purified, perspiration doesn't stain my garments and I just forget self now, after I've taken one or two—
