SILHOUETTE RULES CHOICE OF FABRIC

The woman who worries about her mature figure would have fewer worries if she wore colors and weaves of fabrics which minimize her size.

Sleazy, soft or sheer fabrics are usually an unwise choice because many are unable to hold the last line in clothes which a mature figure needs. Wiser to wear for their slimming effects are fabrics of close weave and crisp finish, such as worsted woollens, faille, sharkskin, linen, sleek cottons and heavy crepes.

Colors play as important a role as fabric weaves and finishes in minimizing ample curves. Bold colors, of course, should be ruled out by the woman who wants her outlines minimized. For silhouette-whittling there are no better choices to make than navy blue, black, dark-brown and dark gray.

Print fabrics are apt to be of no help in slenderizing a figure unless the patterns are small, closely spaced and used to create an inconspicuous design on a dark background. The lady who wants to look pounds slimmer than she actually is never accomplishes that object by wearing bold prints.

140th Anniversary Of Princetown United Church

The following historical sketch of Princetown United Church, Malpeque, is of timely interest in view of the celebration on Sunday, July 18th, of the Church's 140th anniversary:

Princetown and Malpeque are old historic names. They are fraught with significance and invite a study of their applications. The Aborigines called this district "Malpek" meaning the "big water" and referring to the bay beside it. The French in their day slightly more euphonistic name of "Malpeque" and when the noted Surveyor General Holland by the order of King George the third came to make it ready for British settlement he called it Princetown, after Prince George who became George the Fourth. So by whatever name we call our church it is one that stirs the imagination and starts us dreaming back to its beginning.

Malpeque was the chief Indian village on the Island and from this centre from the early days there was much travelling to and fro between it and the mainland, and the route taken today is the same as that travelled by the pioneers, viz. through Borden, Badesk (sultry place), and on past the traditional scene of the battle where the Mohawks met the Micmacs on the banks of Indian River.

Probably the earliest description of this locality was penned by Pictou of Marcellus, secretary to the Governor of Louisbourg, as in 1782 he sailed around the Island to report on the harbors and the navigable rivers. The following translation is from his journal:

"From Rustico we set sail for Malpeque where we arrived that evening, after having enjoyed a prospect of charming coast. But we were greatly inconvenienced by gnats, whose stings are more pungent here than in any other part of the country. They bite with such venom and fury that persons not accustomed to their insalubrious are apt to lose their patience. The harbor of Malpeque is very convenient for the cod fishing, nature having former several Islands sanctuary, and it was decided to purchase material for six suits and six supplies. The ladies kindly offered to meet to repair altar linens, vestments and etc. It was planned to take an active part in the re-opening of the Western Hospital on August sixteenth. It was moved and seconded that a mass be offered for Mr. Joseph Perry, lately deceased. Mrs. Mallet and Mrs. Murphy kindly offered to take charge of the refreshments at the entertainment on July 5th. Mrs. John A. Callaghan, asked the members to meet at her home for the August meeting. The following committees were appointed: Lunch, Mrs. James O'Brien, Mrs. McKenna. Entertainment, Mrs. Frank Dunn. The Reverend Chaplain closed the meeting with prayer, after which dainty refreshments were served by the hostess.—A.

The Alberton Auxiliary of the W. M. S. met on Tuesday afternoon at the church hall. In absence of the president, Mrs. Carl Weeks, v. president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Charles Johnston was appointed to act as recording secretary, as the latter was also absent. The opening devotional period was conducted by Mrs. James Hodgson, assisted by Mrs. Fred Leard, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. Lyman Leard and Mrs. Heber Hardy, who read passages of the scripture. Mrs. Weeks then conducted the business part of the meeting. Plans were made for the next meeting, when the devotional leader will be Miss Annie Leard, the study leader, Mrs. Carl Weeks, and the Watchtower reporter Mrs. James Hodgson. Miss Annie Leard gave the Watchtower report for the day. Mrs. Fred Leard conducted the study period, after which Mrs. Carl Weeks in a few well-chosen words expressed their thanks of the Auxiliary to the Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Leard, who have been in Alberton for the past three months, also for their interest in the W. M. S., and its work and expressed regret that they must leave so soon. Mr. and Mrs. Leard replied saying that they had enjoyed their stay at the Alberton Parish, and their work among the people of Alberton and other sections of the charge. The Rev. L. J. Leard brought the meeting to a close with prayer.

remarkable one which extended for over fifty years.

Jubilee Service

The climax of Dr. Keir's pastorate was reached in a great Jubilee Service held July 20, 1938, when on the appointed day the whole community from miles about crowded together in a magnificent tribute to a great man and his great work. That autumn Dr. Keir passed within the veil and to the reward of perhaps the greatest pastorate this Island has known.

Dr. Keir was succeeded by Rev. Robert Laird who ministered with great acceptance and great success for the next nineteen years. There may be some in the congregation today who can recall him, his fine physique, his inspirational sermons, his noble life. During his pastorate the New Church, so called, the church in which we now worship was built and dedicated. Hence for 77 years it has adorned this corner and has stood the fitting and conspicuous symbol of the faith and character of its people, and of their privilege of worshipping God in spirit and in truth.

Rev. Robert Laird was succeeded by Rev. George MacMillan of sacred memory who was inducted June 20, 1880. Many will recall his dignity, his polished sentences, his devotion to his work and are still grateful for the minister of their childhood.

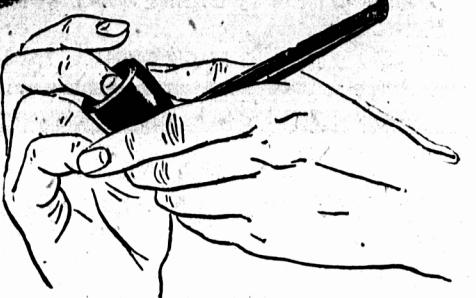

Most of the congregation will recall Rev. J. M. Fisher, Rev. E. J. Rattie, Rev. J. M. Murchison, Rev. A. M. Gillis, Rev. D. M. Grant, Rev. E. M. Aitken, Rev. M. A. MacMillan, Rev. George Murray, Rev. Norman Thomas, Rev. C. J. Crowdis, who in succession have ministered to this fortunate congregation. "To whom much is given of them shall much be required."

At the 140th anniversary service on Sunday next the preacher will be Rev. E. Melville Aitken, a former minister. Rev. James Cross, B.A., is the present minister.
