Builds Up Case Against Pappin

OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP)—The Crown today built up a case in an effort to show that William A. Pappin, a clerk with 27 years in the passport office, conspired to furnish a fake passport for the use of a Soviet agent.

Pappin pleaded not guilty before County Judge A.G. McDougall. The charge was not completed in the case at the evening adjournment. Evidence had followed the same form as that presented at a preliminary police court hearing.

Igor Gouzenko, former Soviet embassy cipher clerk, testified that Sam Carr, former Labor Progressive party organizer and one of the persons with whom Pappin is alleged to have conspired, told the court that Carr had originally asked the Soviet for $5,000 to obtain a fake passport but he had later reduced the charge to $3,000.

The passport involved in the case was issued in 1945 in the name of Ignacy Witczak. A person by that name had obtained a passport properly in 1937. The real Witczak, a resident of Windsor, Ont., appeared in court today and said he had not applied for a new passport in 1945.

A large part of today's evidence dealt with practices followed in the passport office in the issuance of passports.

FIRST SOLO FLIGHTS—This past week has seen several local men take to the air for their first solo flights. First was Hason MacDonald, fifteen minutes instruction before going aloft alone. Then Ray Jolley of O'Leary who has been spending his holidays in Charlottetown, made his first trip into the air by himself, after taking just seven hours and forty five minutes of dual. Not to be outdone by these low times, Earl Crane, who is employed by the Summerside Journal, made his primary trip into the air without his instructor by his side. With just six hours and fifty five minutes of instruction, his instructor, Paul Sharpe, told him he was ready to take the Cessna for a solo circuit. Earl made a perfect three point landing, just like a veteran aviator. All pilots are enjoying the most beautiful view of the island possible these days with the woods presenting a variety of colours beyond all imagination.

Hospital Bazaar At Sporting Club

Mary O'Malley of Alberton last night was the lucky winner of the door prize at the Charlottetown Hospital Bazaar being held in the Sporting Club. The prize was two bags of Blossom of Canada flour donated by Mr. A. O. F. Gill. Heavy rain cut down the attendance somewhat but nevertheless the amusements and booths were again generously patronized. The musical portion of the program was again featured by soprano soloist Marguerite LeBlanc of Moncton who was heard in a delightful rendition of "Rose Marie" and as a request number sang "Beaucarnot". The Bazaar continues again this evening, starting at 8 o'clock and will wind up on Saturday, featured by the children's matinee at 2 o'clock and concluding with the drawing on Saturday evening for the prizes with a total value of $1000.

Films And Paintings Shown At Malpeque

The rain did not prevent more than sixty people from turning out last night to see the films and paintings which are circulating throughout this province. Presiding at the meeting, the Rev. Mr. Crowther said that the delightful singing heard in "The Voice of the Prairies" by Winnipeg school children, could not be duplicated on the same scale as that afforded by a big city but that it was an inspiration to insist on having more good music amongst our young people. This service for the rural areas is being presented by the National Gallery of Canada who sent the paintings with a lecturer, Miss Nora McCullough. Each local institute is cooperating with the Director for Adult Education, Mr. B. H. Chandler and his film technician, Mr. Jack Martin, in arranging these free programmes. The films have been loaned by the National Film Board of Canada and the next evening showing for adults will be put on at Crapaud on Monday, October 21st. Right after school the children of Crapaud and adjacent areas will assemble at the hall there for a special children's programme.

Insurance Covering Laundry Destroyed In Fire Recently

Attention is directed to the advertisement of the Prince Edward Island Board of Insurance Underwriters in connection with the Stens' Laundry fire appearing elsewhere in this issue.

The Guardian has interviewed the manager of the Underwriters' office in connection with this matter and is able to present the following explanation:

In 1942 insurance policies covering household contents in private dwellings only, and not applying to farms, summer cottages and dwellings in business premises, were broadened in coverage so as to provide, among other features, that an amount not exceeding ten per cent of the amount of insurance on household contents could be construed to cover contents temporarily removed from the premises as they remained in Canada, continental United States of America or Newfoundland. It is quite obvious that this clause would cover personal effects etc. which were sent to a laundry or dry-cleaners.

On account of the paper shortage as well as the shortage of office staff, the tremendous additional work of providing endorsement for all existing policies was replaced by an agreement, commencing on the first of June 1942, that coverage would be automatically replaced by the new one, even though the policy did not have an endorsement to that effect, until the date of expiration of the policy. It is possible that some existing policies today do not actually have the new wording, and if this is found to be so in any single case it would be as well for the person suffering the loss to contact his insurance agent or agents in connection with the matter.

It can be readily understood that there will be a great many claims to be considered and that this will, of course, take considerable time, so that it will be necessary for the insuring public to be patient in the matter. After they have once reported their loss to their agent it may be necessary for them to wait for a few days until an appointment can be arranged for them with an adjuster.

It is interesting to note that the additional insurance coverage given through the new wording, have been arranged without extra charge and no doubt the action of the Underwriters in adopting and applying the new wording will be appreciated.

Delegation To Leave This Weekend

(By R. K. Carnegie, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

OTTAWA, Oct. 17 (CP)—The Canadian delegation leaving Ottawa this week-end to attend the meeting of the United Nations Assembly opening in Lake Success, Wednesday will reserve any declaration of Canada's views on the important questions to be dealt with the questions actually are before the assembly, it was learned today.

These questions will include:

1. Have the great powers conformed with the spirit of the U. N. charter in the exercise of the veto?
2. How will the costs of the United Nations be allocated among the member states?
3. How many refugees will the various states be called upon to absorb?
4. What further demands will be required for relief of devastated areas when the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration ceases operation this year?

Foreign Minister St. Laurent will head the Canadian delegation. It is expected Prime Minister Mackenzie King will be present at the opening of the assembly but only as an observer.

It was explained here today the assembly has no authority to alter the terms of the charter as to veto powers. However, it is probable some members will seek to show that the veto has been used more often than intended and will endeavor to have the type of questions better defined on which the veto would not be exercised.

Communists Making Bid For Power

(By Robert Wilson)

PARIS, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Communist Party, making its most determined push-wad for power in France, called on the Socialists and radicals today to join in a revival of the pre-war Popular Front in the November election campaign.

This appeal was a counter thrust to yesterday's scornfully rejected bid by President Bidault's M.R.P. for electoral unity with the Socialists against the Communists.

The Socialists turned that down with the comment that the M.R.P. "must believe in Sarraute's Law."

There was growing belief here meanwhile, that Gen. De Gaulle had decided against accepting any presidential role in the election campaign, which will give France its first regularly elected government since the war.

The Communist call for alliance with the Socialists and radicals in France was similar to Communist party tactics used widely in Europe where the party objective has been to bring non-Communist votes to its support by alliances with non-Communist parties. Supporters of the Communist party have generally given the Communists control of such alliances.

The Socialists are maintaining a technical neutrality in the apparently divided front today. The majority control of France between the Communists and M.R.P.

The Government which will emerge from the Nov. 10 elections will be a coalition government in the legislature, with a guaranteed existence of two years.

Says Canada Vitaly Interested In Plans

(By James McCook, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, Oct. 17 (CP Cable)—Hector McKinnon, chairman of the Canadian tariff board, today told the 18-state trade conference here that Canada was vitally interested in world trading plans.

At the same time, delegates recited their future trade ambitions and anxieties. Clair Wilcox, a state department economist, declared that the United States could best "survive the strain" of a competitive trade war.

Mr. McKinnon said that Canada is ready to examine any proposals to reduce trade and surplus on the expanded international trade.

He was followed by Mr. Wilcox who said the United States hopes for trade development under international rules. He warned that if these were not accepted the United States could carry on but other countries could hardly keep going under the old trade restrictions.

Australia immediately replied that it was easy enough for great countries such as the United States to speak but that they should remember that smaller countries were affected by their economic vagaries.

France asked for special consideration as a country maulled by two wars and left with an industrial capacity far behind that of countries such as the United States and Canada which expanded their industry during the war.

Disclaims Any Part In Goering Case

PARIS, Oct. 17 (AP)—In an interview published today by the newspaper Resistance, Mrs. Emmy Goering declared herself innocent of any connection with her husband's police suicide.

The newspaper's Nuernberg correspondent, Georges Martin, said Mrs. Goering tearfully asserted she could not even be suspected of slipping the fatal vial because she was always so closely watched during her visits at the prison.

Mrs. Goering's landlady, Martin continued, said the widow was convinced one of Goering's American "friends" had given him the poison.

Is Again Remanded

FREDERICTON JUNCTION, N. B., Oct. 17 (CP)—George Murray Davidson, Tracy, appeared again today before Magistrate H. H. Stuart on a charge of attempted murder and was further remanded. When charged on Sept. 6 with attempting to murder his wife two days previously, he was ordered committed to the provincial hospital for examination and observation.

It was said he first tried to stab his wife and then fired a shot at her as she was running away from the house. Davidson was reported in poor health since returning from overseas.

Molotov Takes Turn At Wheel Of Liner

ABOARD THE LINER QUEEN ELIZABETH EN ROUTE TO NEW YORK, Oct. 16 (Reuters)—Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov of Russia today steered the world's greatest liner for a few seconds when he spent 20 minutes on the bridge as guest of the Queen Elizabeth's command, Commodore Sir James Blisset.

Sir James said Mr. Molotov seemed interested in the experience, although he made no direct comment.

He was shown the crew's nest and various equipment, and looked down the vast side of the hull from the bridge.

Commodore Blisset, who has a sure instinct for raising a laugh, said that when the flash-bulbs failed and pictures could not be taken Mr. Molotov "dropped the wheel, but we dashed forward and managed to get her back on her course."

Says Strike Is Illegal

SAINT JOHN, N. B., Oct. 17 (CP)—W. W. Rogers, general manager of Canada Veneers Ltd. said today that a strike of about 250 employees at the plant was illegal. The Regional War Labor Board had directed increases ranging from six to 13 cents per hour, which the company agreed to pay, and if dissatisfied with this the Industrial Union of Veneer Workers (C.C.L.) should have appealed to the National Labor Board, he said.

The men, striking for a general 10-cent increase and other adjustments in lower wage brackets, stopped work yesterday. A union spokesman described the strike as "100 per cent effective." Boiler crews and maintenance men were allowed to enter the plant, and picketing was described as quiet.

Vice-President's Party Fired On By Tribesmen

RAZMAK, North Waziristan, India, Oct. 17 (Reuters)—Tribesmen crouched behind rocks and scurried on the sun-scorched northwest frontier this morning in an outpost township as the first light aircraft bringing in Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, vice-president of India's new Interim Government, and his party arrived today.

British artillery in the town returned the fire which continued in desultory fashion throughout the day and greeted members of the party as they stepped out of their small two-seater Royal Indian Air Force plane on to the airstrip.

Nehru is visiting primitive Waziristan in an effort to bring tribal leaders into the new government.

The sniping tribesmen used at least one 20-millimetre cannon stripped from a crashed British aircraft and, it is believed, a 3.7 mounted gun, as well as rifles, but no casualties were reported.

Previous Suicide Attempt Revealed

NUERNBERG, Oct. 17 (AP)—Three months ago Hermann Goering planned to commit suicide with a piece of celluloid and was foiled, it was learned tonight. Nazi security officer close to the trial said Goering had been tampered with and Goering had extracted the inner working which contained a piece of celluloid, sharp enough to slit a vein of artery.

This development conflicts with the theory that Goering had the poison vial—which he used to take his own life shortly before he was to have been executed—for long.

Earlier, it was officially announced that the bodies of Goering and the 10 hanged Nazi war criminals had been cremated, and the ashes "dispersed secretly."
