O, So Good!

DEACON W. C. MACLEOD HONORED.

The home of Deacon William McLeod was the scene of a joyous event on Monday evening, June 11th, when upwards of fifty of the Dudson-Baptist people and other friends gathered there to congratulate him on the attainment of his eighty-fourth birthday.

The earlier part of the evening was spent in social intercourse and singing the Bridgetown Quartet with Miss Ruth Strass at the piano furnishing excellent music. There came the most entertaining part of the program when Deacon A. D. Matheson, on behalf of the Church presented him with an address and an elegant Morris Chair.

Mr. McLeod although unprepared for the surprise sprang on him, responded in his usual happy manner and feelingly thanked the friends for their kind wishes and remembrance of him.

The ladies then served a delicious luncheon which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. The rooms were decorated with bouquets of May flowers and carnations. The latter being a gift from his daughters in U. S. A. and on the centre of the supper table was a handsome birthday cake—a special gift of the ladies.

After lunch was over Mr. Edwin Burdett tendered a vote of thanks to the ladies and the pleasant evening they had all enjoyed and after singing "Take the name of Jesus with you" the company dispersed wishing Mr. McLeod many more happy birthdays.

ADDRESS

Dear Deacon McLeod

This being the anniversary of your 84th birthday, the company present, being your brethren and Sister and friends, take this occasion to express our felicitations for you and our appreciation of your commendable qualities as a Christian citizen during the many years of familiar acquaintanceship. As the past years rolled on our regard for you increased because of the spirit in your life and conduct and withstanding human imperfections.

As a man among men your friendly helpfulness has been uplifting. As a neighbor you have been de-

Wentworth Park Lodge Near Pictou, N. S.

Think of a playground so situated that all the advantages of a vacation holiday, a lake-hore holiday and a holiday amid the pines and hemlock of a beautiful woodland may be had all in one. Such is Wentworth Park Lodge, Bayview, Nova Scotia, four miles from Pictou—owned and operated by Canadian National Railways.

A more ideal spot for a holiday resort could hardly be imagined. Deep-sea fishing and yachting, salt water bathing, broad, sandy, sub-steeped seashore, a beautiful fresh water lagoon separated from the ocean by a narrow strip of land, fresh water bathing, boating, fishing and golf, and overlooking it all—situated at the edge of a pine hemlock woodland, Wentworth Park Lodge, offering splendid accommodation to vacationists.

The Lodge consists of a group of rustic log bungalows with four and six rooms, grouped around the main Lodge, with central dining room, lounge room and spacious verandahs. The bungalows are furnished in excellent taste—electric light, running hot and cold water in every room—every convenience. Rates $6.00 a day or $35.00 a week. American Plan, open July 1st.

Descriptive literature and complete information may be had from any Agent of the Canadian National Railways, or write to the General Passenger Department at Moncton, N. B. 9775.

servidly praised and in helping the needy and giving counsel in the true spirit of the neighbor. As a citizen you have been loyal in observing all righteous laws. As a father in your own house, ruling your family in the fear and love of God, you have the example and teaching given in the great love and reverence for a father by all your sons and daughters who are following in the way of His Commandments.

In your home there was always a welcome to receive the true Preacher of the Gospel.

You have used hospitality without grudging to friends and strangers.

Your continuous advocacy of truth and temperance, your effort for the suppression of the soul destroying traffic in intoxicating liquors, your advocacy of total abstinence from its use as a beverage and your righteous condemnation of the unchristian tobacco habit in all its forms as earned for you an enviable reputation and standing with the temperance reforms of our Dominion. You have been interested in all matters affecting the betterment of conditions of community life and conduct.

In your early years of your responsibility to God and humanity you made the only wise choice and enlisted as a soldier of Jesus Christ to serve Him as He would lead you by His Word and Spirit. You then engaged in the teaching of the word in the Bible School and by your unswerving loyalty to Christ, always pointing to His word as the only guide in Christian doctrine and practice many have been greatly benefited thereby.

You have been S. S. Superintendent for many years and thank God that your interest is no less now at 84. As the word of life never loses its power over Gods children, your work in the vineyard has never ceased, the prayer meetings and social services of the Church always finding you in your place and taking part in their privileges.

You have filled the office of Deacon most acceptably for fifty years and by your much study and meditation of the scriptures and scriptural literature you have gained knowledge and spiritual discernment above many who have had greater educational advantages and thus you could successfully contend for the "Faith" once for all delivered to the Saints.

The Christian duty and desire to support the Gospel was generously attended to by the various calls in His Service made on you.

And now has a tangible though faint expression of our esteem for many years of faithfulness in the Master Service for you.

I have the pleasure in behalf of the company assembled to present you with this chair hoping it may ease your weariness in time to come and thereby your well wishes may not be forgotten.

Opposed to Campbell Bill

H. J. Symington, K. C. of Winnipeg, representing a number of privately owned elevators in the West, spoke strongly against the proposed bill to amend the Canada Grain Act before the Committee on Agriculture and Colonization. The proposed measure, he said, was unfair as it would create a monopoly for the Wheat Pool.

General Assembly

(By Our Special Correspondent)
MONTREAL, June 9.—The report upon Sunday Schools and Young People's Societies occupied the attention of the General Assembly for nearly two hours on Monday night and Tuesday afternoon. It was one of the best reports ever handed into this venerable court. Dr. Rannawin, of Hamilton, the convener of this committee, reported great progress in Sunday School work during the past year, and strongly urged a return to the teaching of scriptural passages and the shorter catechism. These, he believed, would stand the younger people in good stead in after years. An attempt had been made with great success to introduce the memorizing of passages from the scriptures and the shorter catechism among boys and girls and it had been taken up with enthusiasm all over the country. Today, Dr. Rannawin said there were 88 Sunday Schools under the guidance of the Presbyterian Church, and more were being started by 105,729 pupils. There were 9,588 teachers on the cradle roll of the church there were 11,010 names of which 2,051 were registered in the home department. The results obtained were exceedingly encouraging in comparison with those of last year. During this period a series of discussions had been held in connection with the Sunday Schools. Dr. Rannawin concluded by saying that the Church held the future with great courage.

Rev. Mr. McEachern, of Winnipeg, in recording the report, said: "Some people said that the Presbyterian Church would only be an 'old people's church.' This report showed that the Sabbath schools had had the most successful period in the last 25 years. A number of recommendations were made, including the suggestion that Dr. Rannawin be released from his charge and set free to devote his whole time to Sunday School work at a salary of $1,000 a year. Another recommendation was that the Church must maintain its own Sunday School and teachers' publications in Canada to escape 'American atmosphere.'"

The Rev. Bruce Muir, of Charlottetown, spoke in similar terms, and the Sunday School and Young People's Societies of the Assembly amid great enthusiasm.

The report on Knox College, Toronto, produced a warm discussion, but after the freest exchange of views resulted in the appointment of Rev. Dr. Eakin as Principal. The Rev. Dr. Cunningham, of Windsor, in the chair of New Testament exegesis, and Rev. Dr. Morrow, of Ottawa, in the chair of Systematic Theology.

VALUABLE NEW VARIETY OF FIELD PEAS.
(Experimental Farms Note.)

Announcement is made by the Experimental Farms' Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, of the introduction this spring, of a valuable variety of Field Peas called MacKay. This variety is a selection from a cross made at Ottawa many years ago between a variety known as Muny and another known as Black Eye Marrowfat.

MacKay is a very vigorous growing white flowered variety producing a rather dark cream colored pea with a black hilum (eye).

On the average for the past five years at the Central Farm at Ottawa the above variety has yielded over 10 bush more per acre than the well known variety called Arthur. In length of straw it has exceeded the latter variety by thirteen inches, averaging only one inch less than the famous variety called French Blue, which variety it has exceeded in yield of grain by over 6 bush per acre. The new introduction gives a consistently high yield at most of the Branch Farms and Stations throughout Canada and is recommended for trial wherever peas are grown, except possibly where a very early maturing sort is required.

For growing with such varieties of oats as A. 4, 7, 2, Banner or Victoria for the production of hay, MacKay is the variety now recommended. The rate of seeding, when grown for a bush of oats is 1 bush of peas to 2 bush of oats. The peas are ready for the cuts have reached the early dough stage. This mixture, under reasonable favorable conditions, may be expected to produce a very good tonnage of even ripening corn as a product of food units per acre in some districts.

When allowed to mature, MacKay which is a relatively late maturing variety, will ripen well with any of the above varieties of oats, which are the variety now recommended. It is also possible to allow a mixture of MacKay and some other variety to mature in any case, to provide seed for the following year.

When grown alone for the production of silage, three bush per acre is the rate of seeding recommended in most districts, owing to the large size of the peas.

The Secretary of the Canadian Seed Growers Association, Ottawa, has made arrangements for supplying, in small quantities, a limited amount of this new variety.

Spring Brood Production.
(Experimental Farms Note.)

A colony of bees can only store surplus honey in proportion to the number of bees it has available for field work during the time the main honey flow is on. The greater this force of bees the larger will be the crop stored, provided all other conditions in the colony are equal. Nature may supply an abundance of nectar and favourable weather conditions for gathering, but it rests with the beekeeper to furnish the bees and to produce them at the proper time. To furnish the largest possible force of bees of the right age for the harvest, maximum brood production must take place during the six or eight weeks just prior to the commencement of the main flow. Colonies that do not reach their peak of brood rearing until after the flow has started are now maximum honey producers. The beekeeper's task during the spring and early summer then, is to so manipulate his colonies that the entire energy of the bees is devoted to brood rearing. The main essentials necessary to stimulate high brood production are: (1) Prolific queens. All weak failing or drone-producing queens must be replaced immediately, as a lost time in egg-laying means less bees for the harvest. (2) Sufficient room for the queen. At no time must the brood chamber be allowed to become clogged with honey or pollen, there must always be room for free expansion of the brood nest. (3) Plenty of stores. Just enough for immediate needs is not sufficient; large amounts are needed for the developing brood and any storage will cause a check in production. (4) Protection. Cellar wintered hives should be protected immediately they are brought out from winter quarters and until warm weather is assured. Outdoor wintered hives are provided for by leaving them in their cases.

PERENNIALS FOR THE FARM GARDEN.
(Experimental Farms Note.)

Perennials for the farm is a subject of interest to at least some of the members of every rural home in the Maritime Provinces. There are few places in which a more practical application to the Superintendent of the nearest Experimental Station.

Directions covering the best methods of planting will shortly appear in application to the Superintendent of the nearest Experimental Station.

Supplanting the Moon.

Moonlight has always been regarded as conducive of the tender sentiment which breeds love. Luna is the patroness of the lover. Comes now a French scholar who claims that a sunny location of the home is a preventive of divorce.

True enough, gloom is a grouch breeder. Sunshine in the home—not just around the outside—marks for home happiness. On a summer's day, sunlight is "free as air." Hoist the shades and

Gleanings From Tryon And Vicinity

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Thos. Stordy's at Crapaud on Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock when J. Lee Gamble was united in marriage to Miss Ethel Blanche Newcome. There were present only the immediate friends of the bride. The marriage service was performed by Rev. J. B. Daggett, Miss Mary Newsome played the wedding March. The bride came into the room upon the arm of her brother-in-law Thos. Stordy. The bride was dressed in Rose Brocaded silk Crepe Marocain.

After the ceremony a dainty bridal breakfast was served, after which they left for a short auto trip on the island. The bride and groom are very popular and a host of friends wish them bon voyage through life.

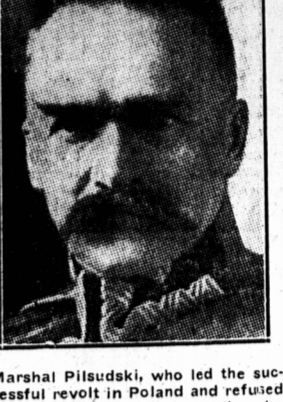

Rev. J. B. Daggett left on Thursday for a fortnights visit to New Brunswick and Maine. Mr. Daggett will deliver a number of addresses, while absent at a Bible Conference that will be held in Maine next week.

A new joint stock company has been organized at Augustine Cove. It will be known as The Harold Co. Ltd. The business of the company will be confined to the moving of buildings by an entirely new process. The equipment of the Company consists of a brand span, new Ford Tudor. On Monday evening they undertook to move the residence of Geo. Pratt on factory hill. Mrs. Harold was at the wheel and Mr. Harold was acting as Superintendent. The results were very satisfactory. The house was not moved, but the good old Ford proved again its strength and sturdiness. It is still running with a buckled fender and a somewhat mangled mud guard. Mrs. Harold assures the Guardian that she is not in the least discouraged, but will try and try again. Mr. Pratt thought there was an earth quake. The stock of the company is not for sale.

There is a bad hole in the road at the foot of the hill at DeSable, near the Church of Scotland, it is a decided menace to autos, as it cannot be seen being on a turn until one is on it. Already one spring has been broken and other damage done. Why a road superintendent would leave a place like that on our main highway is a mystery, when an hour's work would put it in shape. It is up to our representatives to see that their officials do their duty and if they do not remove them on short notice. We are paying sufficient auto tax to have places like this looked after. Arnold Lefurgey of North Tryon was taken seriously ill on Saturday. Mr. Lefurgey has not been in good health for the past two years. His many friends regret to learn of this recent bad attack.

During Mr. Daggett's absence the pulpit of the Baptist Church will be supplied as follows. Sunday 13th by Rev. Neil Herman, Monday at 11 a. m. Tryon at 3 p. m. and Westmoreland at 7.30. P. M. Sunday 20th, Bonshaw at 3 p. m. by Rev. Neil Herman. Tryon at 3 p. m. by Rev. A. McLeod.

Ambassador Says League of Nations Necessary

"The question of European peace is the most urgent and immediate problem of all at present, even overshadowing the stupendous Asiatic Pacific problem," stated Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to Washington on his arrival at Toronto recently on a Canadian Pacific Railway train from the American capital. "In order to assist in maintaining peace in Europe," Sir Esme continued, "we must continue to be intimately connected with all its affairs. Great Britain cannot profess indifference to European politics as the inhabitants of the North American continent can. For this reason Britain is practically compelled in every way to support the League of Nations. If the League should disappear tomorrow we would be compelled once again to join some European combination against any country which threatened to dominate the continent."

Sir Esme was a guest at the Government House in Toronto and addressed a joint function of the Canadian Empire and Rotary Clubs. He later left for Ottawa in the Canadian Pacific private car Montreal on his way to Montreal. At the left of the ambassador, above, is Major General Charlton, military attaché to the British Embassy at Washington. At right is Colonel Fraser, aide de camp to the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Ontario.
