THE MARKETS (Canadian Press) MONTREAL, July 29.—Owing to the majority of foreign bids for Canadian grain business being out of line, importers the export trade on Montreal market to-day was again curtailed. Only an odd lot of oats and barley were sold. The domestic trade in oats was also quiet. No. 2 Canadian western were offered at 56 3/4 cents per bushel. The feature of the flour trade was the stronger feeling that developed for wheat grades of flour and prices were advanced three cents per bushel. Cash lots of first were quoted at $9.10. The demand for the grades was extremely dull. The winter wheat situation was quiet, but prices were unchanged. Extreme dullness marked the trade in alfalfa but the under-tone to the market was steady. The demand for standard grades of rolled oats and prices ruled steady. The local export trade in butter was quiet and values easier. No. 1 was quoted at $2 1/2 per pound. The receipts were 4,683 packages. Under a continued small enquiry cheese prices exhibited a weaker tone and western grades were offered at 16 1/2 to 16 5/8 per pound. The receipts were 8,293 boxes. The egg market was without any new features to note. Prices were unchanged and the trading was quiet. Fresh extras were quoted at 37c to 38c and firsts 31c per dozen. The receipts were 1556 cases.

Institute Picnic A very enjoyable picnic was held at Canoe Cove on the afternoon of Saturday July 17. The event marked the annual outing of the St. Catherine's Women's Institute, one of the most wide awake and energetic branches of the Women's Institute group in the Province. In the early afternoon, the members accompanied by their menfolk families and a number of out-of-town guests, with the institute tug Jack unfurled in the van, proceeded to the shore farm of Mr. Duncan Darrach. No more convenient and enjoyable location could have been selected for joy-making. Every convenience for cooking was near at hand, and the more practical in the group soon had the necessary equipment under way to serve the wants of the innerman. The surf beckoned to some and their gambols in the briny, supplied an experience of unalloyed pleasure. Others enjoyed the cool of shady nooks, while the more active tried their hand in the field of athletic endeavor. And then the feast, who can describe the toothsome morsels prepared and served in the inimitable style of the ladies of this district. All the skill for which they are noted was apparent in the making of the production placed on the festive board. The delicious ice cream served during the evening was a fitting climax to the delicacies that had preceded it. To terminate the outing races were called off and all entered into the various classes with pep and enthusiasm. Married and unmarried old and young tried conclusions, and many were the surprises meted out to over confident aspirants. As the sinking sun shed its fading but glorious radiance over the hill, it escaped from the Lynch school, which were recently on the other side of the pond. Others say there are "bull" snakes, which are harmless, in the province. However, the one killed was not a "rattler" but a people in that section of the city are now walking their lawns without that creepy feeling. PERSONALS Mr. E. G. Vauable Pictures For B. C. Museum VICTORIA, B. C., July 29.—Casts of a number of historic petroglyphs or Indian pictures on the rocks near Bella Coola, British Columbia, have been presented to the provincial museum here by the Victoria Memorial Museum at Ottawa. They now adorn the Anthropological room. The origin of these petroglyphs is still a matter of uncertainty, although several authorities have come forward with their theories. It is the general belief that the petroglyphs were the forerunners of the wooden totem poles, which were built to record the history of the various Indian families on the west coast of British Columbia. In the petroglyphs have been carved in walls of solid rock and have withstood the weather of centuries. Within the past few months, large numbers of totem poles have been removed from their original setting in Indian villages and sent to various museums. At one time, totem poles stood in most of the British Columbia, more particularly the northern coast and Queen Charlotte Islands in the vicinity of Masset, Skidegate and other villages. Several of the totems have been transferred to the grounds of the lieutenant-governor's residence in Victoria. Victoria Hotel One of the largest and best equipped Hotels in Eastern Canada.
