CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

'Penny Serenade' At Capitol Theatre

Irene Dunne and Cary Grant, two of the screen's most popular stars, are excitingly reunited in George Stevens' new romantic drama, Columbia's "Penny Serenade". Based upon Martha Cheav-er's delightful magazine story of a carefree, irresponsible newspaperman and his wife, and adapted by Morrie Ryskind, the film which opened yesterday at the Capitol Theatre is an absorbingly human and tender love story as heartwarming as life itself. Concerned with such delightful elements as the ecstatic courtship moon and their early years together, "Penny Serenade" possesses a ring of reality which makes it romance that is every-thing a love story should be. The newspaperman's casual attitude towards life, the demands of his job, the near-disaster which ends his adoptive home, the infant they adore and the small country newspaper, these and more provide the dramatic material for a vivid and memorable film. You should not fail to see this delightful picture.
