Norma Talmadge in Gripping Drama "Within the Law"

"Within the Law," which began an engagement at the Prince Edward Theatre last night, makes even more secure the leadership of Norma Talmadge as a dramatic star.

A classic of the American stage, in which Jane Cowdell made her biggest hit, this Bayard Veller play is now a classic of the silent drama, with Norma Talmadge winning fresh laurels. Love, romance and thrills combine to make it as fascinating and as exciting as a motion picture can be. Much credit, of course, must go to the genius of the director, Frank Lloyd, and to the splendid support of an unusual fine cast.

Norma Talmadge, in the role of Mary Turner, a department store girl railroaded to prison for a theft she did not commit, is a heart-stirring figure. On the completion of her prison term she goes to "get square" with the store owner who was responsible for this miscarriage of justice, but determines to stay always "within the law."

This does she become the head of an organized band of blackmailers and homebreakers and entraps Dick Gilder, the son of the merchant, only to learn that she herself loves the young man.

A stool pigeon endeavors to get Joe Garson, accomplice of Mary Turner, into a frame-up to rob the Gilder home. Though Mary refuses to go into the affair on the grounds that it is "outside the law," Garson goes ahead with the plans.

She follows to prevent the robbery. The son, Dick Gilder, is horrified to see Mary, whom he had secretly married with these crooks. The stool pigeon becomes terrified and is about to blow his whistle for the police when Garson shoots him. Mary stays on the scene with her husband, but the others flee. The police inspector doubts Mary's story that Dick did the shooting in defence of his own home. He has them taken into custody and also ferrets out Garson. When he accuses Mary of murder Garson confesses in order to save the woman he loves.

The tangled threads of the powerful plot are straightened out. Acquitted, Mary and Dick start home with a letter that removes the stigma of theft from Mary's past.

Jack Mulhall gives a fine performance as Dick Gilder and Lew Cody makes an admirable Joe Garson. Eileen Percy has a "strong part as Aggie Lynch, a blackmailer befriended by Mary in prison. DeWitt Jennings distinguishes himself as Inspector Burke. Others who contribute their histrionic talents to this unusual production are Joseph Kilgour, Arthur S. Hill, Helen Ferguson, Lincoln Plummer, Thos. Ricketts, Wards Crane and Catherine Murphy.

Today at 3.15, 7 and 8.45 p. m. your last chance to see this great dramatic picture.

D. C. S.—The eightieth annual general meeting of D. C. S. was held in St. Paul's Parish Hall last evening and was very largely attended. After the reports and financial statements were adopted, the officers and executive committee were elected for ensuing year: The following representatives to the Domestic Mission Board at Halifax were elected: Rev. Rural Dean White, Rev. H. D. Raymond, Charles C. Rand and W. L. Cotton. The Rev. Dr. Boyle, president of Kings College, Halifax then delivered a splendid address on Kings College, the oldest college in the British Dominions or Colonies. The address was full of information on such College details as the public are interested in, and will do much to increase the interest of those who heard it. A much fuller account of Dr. Boyle's address will appear later.

ST. PATRICK'S AT EMERALD

The Benevolent Irish Society held the usual entertainment in their hall at Emerald on the evening of St. Patrick's Day, the following program being successfully carried out:—Instrumental music; Duet—by Mr. and Mrs. DeRoche; Address by Dr. McGuigan; Drama in four acts entitled "The Master Hand," of which the following is the cast of characters:—Olliver Morard, fearless and pitiless, Mr. B. DeRoche; Harmon Van Dorn, wealthy artist; Ray Mulligan, Jack Minton—Montford's ward, Russel Deighan, Old Key "der most honest man"—J. J. White, Hawkins, a servant—Alfred White, Bella, Jack's sister, later Mrs. Van Dorn, Alice Deighan, Lizzie, Jack's wife—a popular actress—Mrs. B. DeRoche, Mrs. Dibble, a positively positive widow, Mary White, Hannah, a servant, Katherine White, Specialties between acts included step-dancing by Mr. Parnell Murphy, others were omitted owing to weather and road conditions. Mr. Patrick Cash, President of the B. I. S. did the honors of the chair in his usual good form, and introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. McGuigan of Charlotte town who, as the local physician here for several years, was in perfect sympathy with his audience, and delivered a most scholarly address in a very pleasing manner. The music especially the songs by Mr. and Mrs. DeRoche were very much enjoyed. The play, without exception took their parts well, Miss Alice Deighan, J. J. White, Russel Deighan and Mary White having been before Emerald audiences on previous occasions. Following the address, a vote of thanks was moved by Mr. P. F. Hughes, in a short speech of appreciation. This was seconded by Mr. Peter Sinclair in a few well chosen words, to which Dr. McGuigan responded in a very happy manner and the entertainment closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Cheese and Butter Makers Short Course

The short course for cheese and butter makers for the season has just closed.

The cheese course was put on to demonstrate to the makers the different grades and also the principal defects in each grade. Samples of each grade were set out for this purpose—and the defects were fully gone into by T. J. Hicks of the Graders Staff, Montreal, who had a large experience both in grading and the manufacture of cheese. It was the opinion of those present if our milk was delivered in a sweet condition and a pure culture and starter used, with the best method of manufacture would remove most of the objection to our cheese.

The butter course consisted of practical work in butter making and cream of high acidity was used to demonstrate the advantages of pasteurization and neutralization on the flavour and keeping qualities of butter. For the further education of the butter makers we had samples of butter made from both raw and pasteurized cream, which plainly showed the superior keeping qualities of butter made by up-to-date methods and modern equipment. This work was in charge of J. A. MacDonald formerly of Orwell and who had a large experience in Western Canada where the greatest improvement has been made in the butter industry. Mr. MacDonald is now present on the graders' staff in Montreal and has an opportunity of seeing samples of butter made in all parts of Canada and is of the opinion that if cream was graded on, and paid for on quality basis it would put our dairy industry on a better footing.

noted that each has its own Chamber of Commerce and everyone is boosting the advantages and opportunities of his own place. They are spending considerable money in advertising these advantages and attractive literature is a part of their advertising program. The long trip covering two days and nights from Chicago to Los Angeles is made into a pleasurable one by the splendid train facilities. On the train there were shower baths, a barber shop, telegraph, telephone and radio communication, a library, a club car and an observation car. They served dinners for $1.50 on the train that no restaurant could duplicate for $5.00.

In Los Angeles there is a big demand for laborers of all kinds, and particularly those familiar with building operations. There are no trade unions, but the men receive $12, $15 and $20 a day. There is a big demand for school teachers. The examinations are simple for those who have already teachers' certificates. The salaries are $125 a month upwards. There is such a demand for teachers that children have to attend school in relays—those going to the morning classes remaining away in the afternoon. New school buildings are going up continually.

The only class of people who are really suffering, says Dr. Frank, are the girls who have aspired to become movie actresses. The supply is far greater than the demand and quite a number who left comfortable homes to follow this profession are now glad to accept employment as kitchen servants and waitresses. Among them are numbers of Canadian girls.

One of the big men at Hollywood is Mr. Elmer Harris, who visits this province during the summer months. He was delighted to meet Dr. Frank and inquired about all his friends here.

The splendid roads in and around Los Angeles are financed by a taxation system which taxes car drivers $3 a year for car license, and two cents a gallon on gasoline. The number of cars in California runs into the millions, and it is computed there is a car in the State for every four inhabitants. Residents with investments in foreign countries are taxed double on these investments, the idea being to boost home securities.

There is a strong prohibition law, but boot-legging is rampant. Permits are issued allowing residents to manufacture their own wine to the extent of 200 gallons a year, but there are no brewing privileges.

Dr. Frank said he had a wonderful trip, but it left a big hole in his pocket book. He returned, he said, with a dollar and some odd cents. But it was worth it!

For the first time in over twenty years, says an official summary the estimate for the civil government, which provides for salaries of employees at Ottawa, has been reduced. Sums allotted to departments have, in nearly every instance, been decreased below amounts provided for in 1923-24.

Civil government estimates show a total decrease of $369,750, despite the necessity to provide large sums to cover statutory salary increases. Large reductions are provided in the Departments of National Defence $20,126; Interior $14,244; Immigration $35,022; Marine and Fisheries $34,940; Public Works $10,440; Post Office $18,930; Trade and Commerce $50,840; Patent and Copyright $34,270 and Labor $19,220.

Of twenty-nine departments only five show comparatively small increases. Under the civil government salaries the total number of positions provided is 5,470, as against 5,730 for 1923-24 a decrease of 260 in this service. Cuts have been made in the administration of justice $17,460; penitentiaries $21,993 and legislation $33,328. For agriculture $5,850,500 has been provided against $7,119,500—a reduction of $1,259,000. Immigration and colonization is reduced by $339,190. Immigration contingencies and the British Empire exhibition are cut by $221,000 and $350,000 respectively. Provision for the Empire Settlement Scheme is increased from $600,000 to $750,000.

More farms, more cultivated lands, more farm production, more post offices, more miles of railway, telegraph or telephone lines, more shipping ports, more churches, and church attendance, per square mile than any other province. It has the greatest per capita wealth, and the most healthful, invigorating climate in the world. We have a mass of wealth, pleasure and society at our doors. All we need is more faith in the finest bit of red earth in all America, a real honest-to-goodness effort to develop our opportunities, a greater appreciation of the land we live in, and Prince Edward Island will not be producing men for the cities of United States and Canada, but leading the world in intensive cultivation of natural resources. Canadians were never lacking in initiative, and Prince Edward Island, "The Cradle of Confederation" should point the way. cost of production by several hundred percent or go broke, because labour is the most expensive item in production costs. The less labour and the more machinery employed the cheaper the cost of production, to increase the output, to lower the selling cost and to increase the profit, cheap operating machinery must be substituted at every turn for manual labour. The farmer knows this from experience. Machines, unknown 50 years ago have enabled him to work a longer acreage, and at a cheaper rate than his grandfather could possibly have done, but there is a very long way to go before the farmer will be on an equal footing with the Manufacturer in point of cheapness, and utilizing ease modern methods of production, but by co-operation we will make a start right now. This plan of co-operative merchandizing is so sound and so practical that it will be immediately recognized as a revolution in future methods to be adopted in cutting down overhead expenses, increasing production and bringing a new standard of comfort and safety for Country Dwellers.
