The Stranger in Your Cup

Those stalks you see in your tea cup have no business there at all. They contain absolutely no tea essence; they are like stones in fruit, adding to the weight and price, but you cannot digest them.

The best Tea is Rakwana Tea

because it is made from carefully selected leaves from which the stalks have been extracted.

That is why it is so richly flavoured so healthful and more economical than most Teas.

It is all Tea, the good part of the Tea leaf without the bad waste-ful parts.

IN MEMORIAM
JOHN McTAVISH.

On Sunday morning Oct. 14th the community of Belfast was shocked and saddened to learn of the death of John McTavish, in his 73rd year. Although not in robust health for a number of years, his passing away was sudden, being confined to his bed only one day. Deceased was a man of exceptional character, honorable and upright in all his dealings, and his quiet unassuming manners won for him a host of friends, as was plainly visible at his funeral, where such a number were present, and with saddened hearts followed the remains to their last resting place everybody feeling that a good and valuable neighbor had gone to his reward. In his home he was a kind husband, a loving and patient father, and being of a cheerful disposition, the smallest children loved him. Although suffering a great deal at times, he never complained. In religion he was one of the old Presbyterians. In politics a Conservative, and being an extensive reader, he always took an active and intelligent part in all that was for the advancement of the community in which he lived. His funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, and was conducted under the auspices of the Thistle L. O. L. of Eldon, of which order, he was one of the oldest and most devoted members. Rev. J. W. McKenzie officiated at the home. He was laid to rest in the Belfast Cemetery, in the shadow of the old church, in which he loved to worship when health permitted him.

The pall bearers were six of his brother members of the L. O. L. viz. A. D. Ross, J. MacLellan, M. Finlayson, C. MacDougall, J. F. MacDonald, and R. MacIsaac. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing widow and the following family:—Mrs. Rod, Gillis, Eldon; Tom and Harry of the 98th Siege Battery, Somewhere in France; Gerlie and Harold at home, and three sisters viz. Mrs. Christy McKrao and Sarah and Katherine all of Eldon, besides a wide circle of friends. The sympathy of the community is extended to them in their bereavement. But their loss is his gain. Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord.

SUBMARINE CREW CAUGHT
Base of the American Flotilla in British Waters, Nov. 29.—(By the Associated Press).—It is now per-assistance was immediately sent from this port. The ferry boats plying between Quebec and Lewis had a busy time cutting through the sheet, ice which formed during the cold wave, and a number of buoys were carried away from their positions, but were immediately replaced.

missible to give the details of the capture by Americans of the entire crew of a U-boat sunk by the depth charges. The explosives had disabled the U-boat and forced it down, leaping along the bottom of the sea and striking terror in the hearts of the crew when the crew and the commander, in order to lighten her, emptied the tanks.

To the great relief of the crew the U-boat responded and rose to the surface with such a rush that some of the Germans were thrown about and injured. The U-boat appeared on the surface within several hundred feet of an American destroyer. The submarine's hatch flew open and the Germans scrambled out of the conning tower coatless and shoeless ready to swim for it. They lined up along the narrow deck with hands in the air, shouting "kamerad."

The U-boat remained stationary and then the destroyer moved close up and heaved a line to which the Germans made fast. This was no sooner done than it became apparent that the crew had succeeded in opening the sea-cocks for the submarine began to settle, at first slowly, then more rapidly. As she did the Germans leaped into the water and swam toward the destroyer. Some of the American bluejackets jumped into the sea to rescue the injured.

As the last German was lifted aboard the destroyer the hawser attached to the U-boat parted under the strain and the U-boat disappeared. All the Germans were given steaming hot coffee and dry clothing, and were otherwise made comfortable for the run to the base. But one of their number, a machinist, had suffered greatly from shock and exposure and died on the way. He was buried with full military honors from the deck of the destroyer, the American commanding officer officiating at what was the first funeral service so far held in this war on an American destroyer.
