House Overrides Truman Veto Of Labor Bill

U. S. Senate To Consider Matter Today

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, June 20 (CP)—President Truman today sent the Taft-Hartley labor-curbing bill back to Congress with a stinging rebuke and a veto which a resentful House of Representatives promptly over-ruled 331 to 88. The Senate tomorrow will take a similar vote in which the bill's proponents hope for a majority which will enact the measure over the White House veto. Thus for the second time in a week the President turned down a major legislative effort of Congress and widened the gulf that separates the White House and Capitol Hill on domestic policies. Last Monday he vetoed the $4,000,000,000 tax-reduction bill, but the House was unable to rally the necessary two-thirds majority to pass it over the President's opposition. President Truman himself asked for legislation curbing the power of labor organizations, to tie up the country's economy and defy the rights of the people as a whole.

Sees Threat In Bill

But the bill finally produced went much farther and, in his words, is "a clear threat to the successful working of our democratic society," violating principles "essential to our public welfare" and "completely contrary" to the basic policy of "economic freedom." The President followed his veto message with a national radio broadcast to give the people the arguments he presented to Congress, and Senator Robert Taft (Rep. Ohio), who is mainly responsible for the tough labor-control law, followed immediately with his side of the argument which seems certain to have a strong influence on next year's presidential elections.

Promises Freight For Halifax, Saint John

HALIFAX, June 20 (CP)—The ports of Halifax and Saint John, N. B., will have all the export freight they can handle during the winter shipping seasons of the next two years was the belief expressed by port manager Ralph W. Hendry today on his return from a visit to Ontario and Quebec. The port manager, who said he had discussed shipping with exporters and railway officials, remarked that his only fear was the port of Halifax might not be able to handle all the freight offered during the next two seasons. He quoted railway executives as saying that Halifax had not received the best freight service 'last winter but they had assured him steps were being taken to effect improvements next season.

Dionnes Lending New Color To Congress

OTTAWA, June 20 (CP)—The Dionne quintuplets arrived here today from their home at Callander, Ont., to lend new color to the Marian Congress, marked in its third day by a Pontifical mass in the ancient eastern rite of the Roman Catholic Church and a luncheon tendered to the quintuplets by the Normal School of Callander. The quintuplets, dressed in identical pink frocks, arrived in mid-afternoon after motoring from their Callander home with their parents and other brothers and sisters in two cars. The sisters were taken to the Normal School where they had been converted to their use as living quarters during their stay in the Capital. They were given a special welcome by Samuel Adolphus Cardinal Stritch of Chicago. They are scheduled to make a public appearance at the Congress in connection with the closing-day banquet Sunday at Lansdowne Park. They had also been supposed to sing at a banquet tomorrow night in honor of Most Rev. Alexandre Vachon, Archbishop of Ottawa, but their appearance was cancelled when the program was simplified by elimination of musical features.

Newfoundland's Fisher Folk See Union With Canada Bringing Better Days

Depression days in Newfoundland saw families living in abject poverty. The war years brought a boom which still continues but residents fear even a minor drop in the price of fish could spell ruin to thousands who live in the island's 1,300 communities. Union with Canada, which is being recommended now, would bring $8,000,000 annually in family allowances to help children.

Famous Churchill Plane Only Scrap

LONDON, June 20 (CP)—The Evening Standard said today that the luxurious Skymaster aircraft used by Winston Churchill during the war (and in which he visited Canada) now is "nothing more than a piece of scrap in Shanghai." The airplane was returned to the United States two months after Churchill ceased to be prime minister. It was estimated that it would cost nearly $50,000 ($200,000) to overhaul the plane, and Churchill decided the cost was too high. The airplane therefore was given to Gen. George C. Marshall for his personal use in China. "While taxiing on an airfield at Shanghai it ran into a hole and was badly damaged," the Standard said. "Engineers pronounced it unfit for further use."

Canadian Poultry Going To The U. K.

LONDON, June 20 (CP)—Heavy shipments of Canadian poultry, valued at $32,440 ($2,129,760), were made to the United Kingdom in the first five months of 1947 as against none last year, the Board of Trade said today.

C.W.L. Convention Opens In Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 20 (CP)—Dignitaries of the Roman Catholic Church from as far away as India were present today at the opening of the 27th annual convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada, the first national meeting it has held in Ottawa. Recalling the many war services of the C.W.L., Archbishop William Duke of Vancouver, national chaplain of the Society, praised the organization which the Government "many times" had invited to share the responsibilities of the common good. "When the war broke out the C.W.L. was one of the first national organizations to offer its services," he told the 300 delegates representing 60,000 women across Canada.

Newfoundland Delegation Strongly Favors Union With Canada

CORNERBROOK, Nfld., June 20 (CP)—Union with Canada is the only solution to Newfoundland's difficulties, J. R. Smallwood, a member of the delegation from the national convention on its way to Ottawa for talks on possible federal union, said in an interview here today. "We have been 450 years waiting for this opportunity and we intend to make the most of it," added Mr. Smallwood whose views favoring confederation are well known in Newfoundland. There was no indication, however, of the feelings of the other five members of the delegation who accompanied him.

Russia Walks Out Of U. N. Meeting

By Max Harrelson
LAKE SUCCESS, June 20 (AP)—Russia today resorted to the walkout for the second time in United Nations history to emphasize her disagreement with the other four members of the big power military staff committee on a question of procedure. The walkout occurred at a closed meeting of the generals and admirals who have the responsibility for drafting plans for a global police force and carrying out orders of the Security Council for the use of such a force. Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister, explained to reporters afterwards that the withdrawal of the white-jacketed Soviet representatives applied only to this morning's meeting and that it was not intended as a general boycott of the military discussions. Some delegates expressed the belief, however, that the new move reflected a stiffening Russian trend toward refusal to participate in deliberations where the Soviets were outvoted.

Makes Inquiry About Port Of Churchill

OTTAWA, June 20 (CP)—R. R. Knight (OCF-Saskatoon) asked the Government today if, in view of concern in British shipping circles, there would be a sufficient labor force to handle shipments of grain and other goods at full capacity at the port of Churchill, Man. Transport Minister Chevrier said the National Harbors Board, in charge of that port, was not responsible for supplying stevedores but had always been willing to do so. Gordon Innes (L-Halifax) interjected that Halifax would be glad to get any business Churchill could not handle.

WINNIPEG, June 20 (CP)—More than 500,000 Western Canada farmers tomorrow celebrate Farmers Day—a day set aside two years ago to honor the agricultural worker but which is fast becoming an institution on the Prairies. For the most part it will be a day devoted to sports, picnics and dances in scores of rural communities in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

Works Minister Tests Draft From Seat Of Queen's Co. Member

OTTAWA, June 20 (CP)—Works Minister Fournier today traded seats in the Commons with W. Chester S. McLure (PC-Queens) who complained about a draft fanning Progressive Conservative benches. Mr. McLure rose on a point of order during study of the Health Department estimates to complain about the draft which he said forced some members to leave the chamber in order to avoid catching cold. He asked that Mr. Fournier have his department do something about it. When Mr. McLure concluded he left his seat and Mr. Fournier crossed the floor to occupy it. He stayed in the seat for a few moments but made no comment on his personal survey. Later, during study of Works Department estimates, Mr. Fournier said the learned a window had been left open in the Opposition lobby and may have been responsible for the draft. He had asked that the fans in the cooling system be turned off. John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, said it was not fair to ask members to sit in the draft. G. H. Golding (L-Huron South) said the draft was felt on the Liberal side as well as on the Opposition side.

Put Price Ceiling On Bagged Western Grain

OTTAWA, June 20 (CP)—The Prices Board announced today the establishment of a price ceiling on the sale of bagged Western feed grain and feed screenings when sold in Eastern Canada and said the action was aimed at maintaining "reasonable price levels." The new prices, which Western shippers may charge to cover costs of grinding, handling and other processing, are based on the Fort William bulk price in store, as set by the Canadian Wheat Board, and are effective immediately.

Vote Down Schools

WINDSOR, N. S., June 20 (CP)—Windsor ratepayers today voted down almost two to one a proposal that $450,000 be borrowed for erection of three new schools here.

Testify Bride Had Fear Of Disaster

(By Ron Gadsby)
BRIDGEVILLE, Ont., June 20 (CP)—Ronald Barrie, best man at the wedding of Christina Macon and Jack Kettlewell, took the witness box today to be subjected to grueling cross-examination on contents of two "fantastic" statements filed with a coroner's court inquiring into the death of the pretty bride at Dinnertime Rapids May 20. The inquest was adjourned late tonight until next Wednesday after Barrie was subjected to exhaustive questioning. The 25-year-old former ballroom dancer alleged in a 3,000-word statement that Christina had tried to commit suicide and murder his life-long friend before the marriage; that she was being blackmailed by persons unnamed following a criminal attack on her in April 1946 by five men; and that she had borrowed from him sums of money totalling $12,000. In a repetitive statement—some what lengthy as the first he typed in Orillia—Barrie admitted being a party to unnatural acts with Jack Kettlewell but insisted these improper relations lasted only a short time and had "terminated a long time ago." He also alleged that before her marriage Christina had confided to him she had been intimate with Kettlewell. Other evidence given in the bizarre case today was to the effect Christina was drugged prior to her wedding and "came to married" also that she had a premonition of impending disaster should Barrie accompany them on their honeymoon. A handwriting expert testified suicide notes filed as exhibits unquestionably had been signed by the 22-year-old blonde. Helen Macon, sister of the girl whose body was found in shallow water on the shoreline of the Severn River not far from Barrie's cottage, told the court Christina had been drugged immediately preceding her marriage and had decided "to make the best of it." She said Christina feared both Barrie and Kettlewell. R. C. Thomas of Mimico, in whose home Barrie and Kettlewell lived together, described Kettlewell as Barrie's "man Friday" and quoted Christina as having said she feared something would happen if Barrie accompanied them on their honeymoon. Appearing perfectly poised under the barrage of questions Barrie calmly recited the sources from which he obtained some $12,500. Asked why he would be so glib as to believe a bank employee earning $25 a week could ever repay such huge sums, he insisted he advanced the money strictly because of his friendship for Christina. At the night session Barrie said the money was repaid by Christina, but he had no explanation where she got the money except that it may have been returned by the "blackmailers."

Soviet Union Requires More Data, Tass Says

(By Tom Williams)
LONDON, June 20 (AP)—Russia is "considering" the Marshall plan for aid to Europe at the urgent request of Great Britain and France for action by Europe's three chief powers, the Moscow radio said tonight. The broadcast, quoting an announcement by the official Soviet news agency Tass, said notes appealing "very urgently" for three-power initiative to relieve economic distress in Europe had been delivered to the Kremlin by British and French diplomats. The Soviet Government is "of course interested" in receiving more information on the proposal of State Secretary Marshall of the United States, but thus far has received insufficient data on the plan, Tass said. The agency declared that while the American press had described the plan as involving several billion dollars, it had remained silent "about the conditions of the credits or about the relation of the United Nations to this question." (At Lake Success, N. Y., Secretary-General Trygve Lie of the United Nations received on Friday a message of assurance from Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain that Anglo-French talks on the Marshall plan were in no way an attempt to by-pass the United Nations.) The Tass broadcast was the first inkling to the world that the Soviet Government would consider the Marshall proposal, if only to the extent of studying all the aspects of the plan. Meanwhile, hopes for Soviet participation in the plan brightened here, but Scandinavian and Central European countries remained cautious in committing themselves. An Associated Press survey of European capitals indicated that the proposal of State Secretary Marshall of the United States will run into difficulties and may come to nothing unless Soviet participation is forthcoming.
