WAREHOUSES DESTROYED AT ALBANY

The fire started in the roof of Affleck's building and the flames were breaking through the roof when the fire was discovered. A call was put in to Summerside and some of the firemen went out with some of the old fire fighting equipment, but there was no water near to fight the flames.

It will be remembered that Mr. Lord lost his residence and warehouse in Tryon a few years ago. Mr. Affleck was also burnt out two years ago. Both gentlemen are large exporters of potatoes and also handle fertilizer and their loss is a heavy one at this time of the year.

THE LAND OF LOERNE AND THE ISLES OF REST

There are many men and women scattered throughout the world, especially of Scotch descent, who would like to wander round the western Isles of Scotland, but to various reasons are not in a position to do so. Mr. Barrett, in this book describes the beautiful scenery and the many historical landmarks of these Isles most realistically. The reviewer can thoroughly recommend the reading of this book as the next best thing to a personal visit to these beautiful and interesting Western Isles of Scotland.

MILITARY

Drives to Camp

Deciding upon their programme leaders of the movement informed Herrera by telephone of their demand. The President, summoning Herrera and others of his intimates, drove swiftly to camp Columbia, where the demand was formally presented by Captain Mario Torres Menier Chief of the Aviation Corps.

Secretary of State Orestes Ferrera, a member of the Presidential Party, asked that time be granted for determination how the abdication could be legally carried out. High officers of the revolutionary movement went into session to decide the matter.

Counter Proposal

While the President's Liberal party was preparing the counter proposal to the suggestion of Welles, the army, navy and aviation corps acted swiftly and smoothly to carry out their programme without firing a single shot.

Artillery Battalion No. 1, stationed in Cabana Fortress under the command of Captain Patricio De Cardenas, led the way. It demanded the resignation of the President within 24 hours. All other battalions were invited to join in the movement and broadcasts to this effect went out addressed to the Interior.

The response was unanimous. Detachments stationed at Cabana, Castillo De La Fuerza—the location of army headquarters—Camp Columbia, Dragons barracks and throughout the Island announced their accession to the movement. Artillery at Cabana Fortress was moved in position to bear on the Presidential Palace.

RE-OPENING OF TRINITY CH. AT GEORGETOWN

Inspiring Sermon By Rev. G. T. Spriggs—Appreciative Remarks By Archdeacon White.

The re-opening of the Church of the Holy Trinity at Georgetown took place on Wednesday evening. The Church had been closed for services for a period while it was being renovated in the interior. The service was said by the Rev. Canon Malone of St. Peter's Cathedral, Charlottetown. The lessons were read by Capt. Kelly and Capt. Wittig of the Church Army. The sermon for the occasion was preached by the Rev. G. T. Spriggs of Kensington and the Benediction and closing prayers by the Venerable Archdeacon White. During the service new front gates and choir rail were dedicated to the Service of Almighty God by the Rev. Canon Malone and clergy in procession.

The Rev. G. T. Spriggs preached a most wonderful and inspiring sermon based upon the 1st verse of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans: "Paul a servant of Jesus Christ called to be an Apostle, separated unto the Gospel of God". The preacher called to remembrance the historic connection of the church and the part played by its founders and that the present congregation were successors to their endeavors and must carry on the work commenced. We have gathered together tonight in thanksgiving for the renovation of this church and also to re-dedicate it as it were and I am sure and voice the good wishes and congratulations of the other churches on the Island to the Church at Georgetown.

While we are witnessing the re-dedication of the building ought we not also to re-dedicate our hearts and minds to the service of Jesus Christ. The temple of God is in the being of man.

St. Paul in this Epistle calls himself a servant of Christ. Not as the slave we might think of but one who finds joy in being a bond servant of the Lord. Called to be an Apostle, one who has experienced a definite call from God. From the day of his conversion onwards St. Paul found joy even through afflictions in service. We also will find joy in the service of our Lord and Master.

The Message of our Church has always been the one topic from age to age Jesus Christ and His Gospel and the Salvation he has procured for us. The Message from this pulpit has been the same, my predecessors preached it and those following them and will continue to be the same. St. Paul was separated unto the Gospel of God. We are separated unto the same Gospel and all those who have had changed lives through its power. It is through the power of the Gospel that we find peace and contentment. We proclaim from his pulpit salvation through the blood of Christ. Here on this important occasion let us present ourselves unto God that he might make us new creatures in His service. Carry on the work begun and see it complete, put self aside and put God where He belongs, proclaim to all the Salvation which is in Christ Jesus.

During the service remarks were also made by Capt. Kelly C. A., who is in charge of the church, and to whom credit is due for the work besides acting as pastor he also undertook to solicit funds for the undertaking and then he donned old clothes and spent his time and energy in working at the task. Captain Kelly thanked all those who had contributed to the work of restoring the church, for those who laboured with him, for new gifts and he also welcomed the visiting clergy to Trinity Church. He reminded also that the work was not yet completed, though the interior is decorated, there is yet the roof to attend to and the tower and supports. We have prayed to God to bless our endeavours and he has seen fit to do so. We ask you to pray that the work on the exterior may be completed.

The Venerable Archdeacon White, Archdeacon of P. E. Island, said that he intended to say nothing but as the service progressed he felt that he must say a few words or he could not go home contented. The building is very beautiful and the workers are to be commended. Myself and other clergy who have visited here before have always longed to see this old building brightened and now I congratulate you on the undertaking and don't stop until you have the building

SUCCESSFUL FIELD DAYS THIS WEEK

Rose Valley, New London and Rustico were the scenes of very successful Illustration Station Field Days on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week. Increased attendances as compared with last year featured all three gatherings. At the farm of Mr. Malcolm MacKenzie, Rose Valley, 125 people assembled, at the farm of Mr. William Johnstone, New London, 300, and at the farm of Mr. John L. Clark, Rustico, 200.

Each station was found to be in good order by those who inspected it.

The Experimental Farm exhibit was conducted by Mr. R. C. Parent. A special experiment was put on by each of the stations for brown hen in turnips, as it is claimed that a loss of $50,000 is sustained each year as a result of the ravages of this disease. At Rustico an experiment was made to determine the relative resistances of different varieties of turnips to club root. At New London and Rustico, Hon. Thos. MacNutt, Min. of Agriculture was present and delivered an address at each meeting. Addresses were delivered on all three days by Dr. J. A. Clark and Mr. D. F. Tinney, of the Experimental Farm.

At New London and Rose Valley, discussions were held by the farmers regarding the Illustration Stations, and resolutions were passed signed by a number of people, asking that the work be continued.

At New London the ladies of the United Church served tea, thereby adding to the success of the occasion.

strong and firm again. Even though the workers are few and you are but a Mission church remember that you are doing the work of God. Don't think that you are in the Eastern Section all by yourselves and that the clergy and members of other congregations forget that there is a needy church at Georgetown which is in our own province. That might have been true in the past but now I think we are getting past the stage of being purely parochial and I trust that you yourselves are getting over that outlook. The two churches I have charge of are glad to see this building getting the attention it so much needs and I dare say the other churches also. Carry on and be loyal to your church and he who is in charge, put your pettiness and jealousy and controversies aside and do the work of God, that is what you are here for and that is what your faith stands for and the person who truly works for God has no time to think of narrowness and pettiness. We wish you every blessing and carry on the services of Almighty God according to our Anglican Rite. Miss Myrtle Ross presided at the organ for the service. On Thursday morning a Celebration of the Holy Communion was held. The Rev. Canon Malone was Celebrant.
