THE PREACHER'S FRUIT

(By Peter McArthur)

Once upon a time—you see I know how to begin a story in the right way—a barefoot boy danced by the roadside and shouted gleefully. It was in Canada, back in the nineteenth century, in the pioneer days. The little boy was healthy and frolicked and what he lacked in clothes he made up in the kind of body one would have inside of clothes. And he was very, very happy. In fact he was so happy that a passing friend stopped to ask him the cause of it all.

"Hurray!" shouted he of the frolicker. "Why so happy?" asked the friend. "The preacher is coming to dinner!" "I didn't think you were so fond of him."

"I ain't, but whenever the preacher comes to dinner we always have peach preserves. 'Tis really is not much of a story and I am giving it on account of its archaic-sounding interest and not because it is so very funny. It dates back to the days when people merely knew that peaches are the best of fruits and had not discovered that Canada is the best place to raise the very best of them. The woman who was fortunate enough to get some from a sheltered orchard or from a lone tree that was so fortunately situated that it escaped the frost put up a few to have for such special occasions as the visit of the preacher. In those days the minister was a much more welcome visitor on the farm than the agent of get-rich-quick concerns and mining promoters; and there is a moral to that if I only had time to work it out. Because peaches were saved for such extra special occasions a tradition has grown up about them in many parts of the country. Some housewives, otherwise very bright, and a credit to the Farmer's Institutes to which they belong, consider it an extravagance to preserve peaches unless they get them at sacrifice prices. Yet these same women will pay from ten to fifteen cents a quart for currants and berries that need far more sugar to do them up than the already sweet peaches. As peaches usually come in eleven-quart baskets you will find if you divide the price by eleven that peaches cost less per quart than any other fruit. But because they were once so great a luxury housewives are slow to realize that they should have more of them than of any kind of fruit, for they are both the cheapest and the best. There is no reason why every farmer's wife in the districts where peaches cannot be grown should not buy them as freely as they do other fruits and have them not only when the preacher comes to dinner but when the boys and girls come home from the city, and at all other times when they want to have something luxurious on the table.

Also it should be remembered that for eating from the hand the peach is the best fruit of all, but you should use for this purpose only the peaches that you buy in the full light of day. Once upon a time, or perhaps you should say "Once upon another time," a newly arrived Irishman went out with a friend to steal peaches. It was dark and Pat had been told to grope along the branches for the fruit. Presently he whispered, "Molke! His friend answered, "Phwat!" "Has peaches got legs?" "Naw!" "Then begobhs I've swallowed a straddle bug."

SPRING BLOOD IS WATERY BLOOD

HOW TO GET NEW HEALTH AND NEW STRENGTH AT THIS SEASON.

Spring ailments are not imaginary. Even the most robust find the winter months most trying to their health. Confinement indoors, often in overheated and nearly always badly ventilated rooms—in the home, the office, the shop and the school—takes the vitality of even the strongest. The blood becomes thin and watery and is clogged with impurities. Some people have headaches and a feeling of languor. Others are low-spirited and nervous. Still others are troubled with disfiguring pimples and skin eruption; while some get as tired as when they went to bed. These are all spring symptoms that the blood is out of order and that a medicine is needed. Many people take purgative medicines in the spring. This is a serious mistake. You cannot cure yourself with a medicine that gallops through your system and leaves you weaker still. This is all that a purgative does. What you need to give your health and strength in the spring is a tonic medicine that will enrich the blood and soothe the jangled nerves. And the one always reliable tonic and blood purifier is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These Pills not only banish spring weakness but guard you against the more serious ailments that follow, such as anaemia, nervousness, debility, indigestion, rheumatism and other diseases due to bad blood. In proof of this Mrs. E. Hughes, Hazenmore, Sask., says: "About a year ago I was laid up, and I could not go up stairs without stopping to rest. As I was a long way from doctor I determined to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in the course of a few weeks I felt like a new person. As an all-round restorative I can hardly recommend this medicine."

If you are ailing this spring you cannot afford, in your own interest, to overlook so valuable a medicine as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"SHOT PAPA TO PUT HIM OUT OF MISERY."

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 6.—"I shot papa to put him out of his misery; it was an act of mercy," hysterically explained Aunt Lee Stitzel, after she had fired a bullet into the breast of her father, William Stitzel, 75, a Federal veteran of the Civil War, at their home here last night. Mr Stitzel died thirty minutes later at the hospital. For several weeks Miss Stitzel is said to have brooded over her father's loneliness and growing infirmities, and physicians who have attended the young woman believe she is suffering from dementia. The aged man was seated at the table when his daughter entered the room, revolver in hand, and without a word fired one bullet into her parent's body. Miss Stitzel is held in custody at a hospital on a charge of murder.

FOX CROP.—Reports of fox hunters from the different ranches in this vicinity are current at present, but at this season of the year, an investigation is rather dangerous, however, it is the opinion of experienced foxmen that this spring's crop will be a good one.—H.
