AT BETTER HATTERS EVERYWHERE

Cardinals Have Better Team Than Year Ago

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 20 (AP) — Eddie Dyer faces the 1947 season with a better ball club than he had a year ago. It doesn't necessarily follow that the Red Birds should win the National League pennant. However, the consensus is that the Red Birds should repeat.

Dyer thinks his club is a little stronger but he insists that Brooklyn and Boston also are better than in 1946. He says he believes Chicago can't possibly have as many injuries as last year.

Kennel Club Plans Show Here In June

A dinner meeting of the Charlottetown Kennel Club Incorporated was held at the Charlottetown Hotel last night with President Dr. E.S. Notling in the chair. It was unanimously decided by vote that a dog show would be held this June at the Forum. The subject of holding field trials for hunting dogs was discussed and trials will be held in the fall. In connection with this it was pointed out that already some outside trainers had written inquiring about reservations, etc.

Two films were shown, one of sheep dogs in England and the other on the behavior of dogs in cities, the latter being of particular concern.

An open discussion followed the main meeting and was concerned with the dog nuisance in Charlottetown. Mr. Walter Shaw brought out some details in an informal talk and it was decided by the club to back any effort to curtail the dogs which are causing discomfort to the public at large, and also to approach the City Council. It was suggested that dogs which were allowed to run wild might spread distemper and that owners who take pride in their canine companions should, as many have already, have them inoculated.

Several Y.M.C.A. groups have used the camp all-season building during the spring months for overnight hikes and vacation outings.

A donation of dining room and kitchen equipment received from the Y.M.C.A. Ladies Auxiliary will be a great addition to the camp this season.

A training course for Camp Counsellors will begin in the near future.

Kensington Hockey

The Darnley "Sea Gulls" and the Kensington "Silver Wings" put on an exciting game of hockey for the fans on the night of March 18th. The Silver Wings emerged victorious by a 5-3 score but it was nip and tuck all the way.

The game was rugged and "Silver's Row" was visited quite often by the too aggressive players on both teams.

The first period saw some splendid plays executed and the goalies on both sides were overworked, as the forwards worked right in on their doorposts. The period ended Kensington 3, Darnley 2.

The second period produced only one goal and that by Kensington as Darnley seemed to have lost much of its punch of the first period.

The third period saw both teams trying in vain to add to their total but were unrewarded until the half-way mark when E. Harding scored and beat Kennedy cleanly. Kensington matched this goal at the seventeen minute mark when Jackie Bernard, playing his best game of the season, scored his second goal of the night to end the scoring. For the winners, the stars were Jackie Bernard and Eric Thompson while for the losers E. Harding was the pick.

Referee, O.B. Darrach.

Abbott And Costello To Appear In Court

CHICAGO, March 20 (AP)—Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, Hollywood comedians, have been subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury investigating income tax returns of a Chicago night club owner.

Joseph M. Solon, assistant United States attorney, said today the comedy team was ordered to appear April 1. He said they had given cheques totalling $5,500 to Michael (the Greek) Poulos, owner of Colosimo's restaurant on Chicago's south side, during a period from 1940 through 1943. Poulos' tax returns for the period are under government scrutiny.

HAPPENED BEFORE

YORKTON, Sask., (CP)—Dr. George Dion, Saskatoon soils expert, told an agricultural meeting here that when the snow goes this spring it will not be the first time Saskatchewan has been under water. He said that in the pre-glacial days the country was below sea level and later the land was elevated.

Artillery Ass'n Banquet Held Last Evening

Lieut.-Col. P.W. MacNevin, D.C.M., president of the Artillery Association and Lieut.-Col. G.G.K. Peake, D.S.O., Commanding Officer of the 28th A.A. Regiment, acted as co-chairmen at the banquet of the Artillery Association held last night in the Charlottetown Hotel.

Lieut.-Col. D.A. MacKinnon, D.S.O., gave the forty members present an interesting sketch of the development of artillery from its first beginnings in Charlottetown up to and including the first World War.

Commenting on the large number of artillery trophies assembled in the dining room, Lieut.-Col. MacKinnon said the artillery regiment of Charlottetown had more trophies to its credit since 1900 than any other artillery regiment in Canada.

The story of the part played by the army camp at Petawawa in the first World War was told by Lieut.-Colonel J.P. Hooper and C.L. MacKoy.

Lieut.-Col. J.H. Shaw, Commanding Officer of the 21st Field Ambulance, gave an interesting talk on the part played in Canada's war effort by the medical division of the Canadian Army.

Others who spoke on artillery operations either at home or overseas included Lieut.-Col. W.W. Reid, S.O., Commanding Officer of the 17th RECOE Regiment; Lieut. Col. D. Bell, Commanding Officer of the 5th Division Signals; and Lieut. Col. P.S. Fielding, M.M., who was for a time Commanding Officer at Petawawa during World War II.

Major D.L. Mathieson acted as president of the dinner. He was supported by Lieut. C.W. Currie.

Group To Climb Mount McKinley

EDMONTON, March 20 (CP)—"Operation White Tower", a scientific expedition, was preparing today to scale Alaska's 20,300-foot Mount McKinley, highest peak on the North American continent.

Bradford Washburn, director of the New England Museum of Natural History, will head the expedition, which also will study cosmic rays at the 18,000-foot level. Mrs. Washburn will accompany the party.

Many Americans Hold Grand National Tickets

WASHINGTON, March 19 (CP)—The Grand National sweepstakes will be run over the stiff Aintree course March 29 and many an American holder of an Irish hospital sweepstakes ticket like this Canadian counterpart, is counting the days until the sweep draw is made March 24.

An American citizen lucky enough to draw a winning number in the Irish Sweep or any similar lottery will not be in conflict with federal law so long as he gives the income tax collector a proper "cut."

But any person using the United States mails or common carriers in the operation of the sweepstakes or lotteries violates the federal criminal code and is liable to heavy penalties.

Then there are 46 varieties of state legislation, differing in detail but all effectively preventing the legal operation of sweepstakes within the United States.

But American citizens may do come into possession of sweepstakes tickets—particularly the Irish sweepstakes on the Grand National—and the sale in this country, in pre-war years, was enormous. So were the winnings. Mere possession of lottery tickets, even by a person travelling on a common carrier, does not constitute a violation of federal law.

Presumably, apart from whatever state laws may apply, a courier with sweepstakes tickets from Eire, might travel through the United States, leave them with salesmen and Americans could buy them and win money and have nothing but the federal income tax on their consciences.

But if the transaction violates the federal statute against use of mails and common carriers the guilty party is subject to penalties ranging up to $1,000 or two years' imprisonment, or both, for the first offence and five years' imprisonment for a subsequent offence.

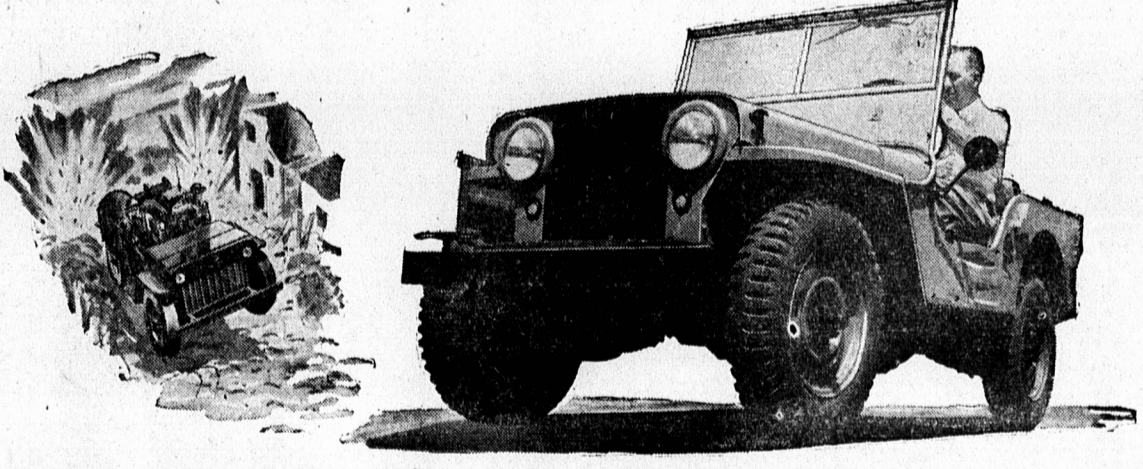

For most of the United States' history lotteries played a big part in its public financing.

George Washington, Benjamin Franklin and many others used the system to raise money for public necessities such as war, schools, canals, roads.

Such universities as Harvard, Yale, Columbia and Dartmouth are said to have been beneficiaries of lotteries.

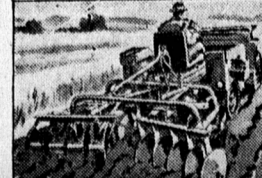

In 1822 the records indicate that 432 different lotteries were operating in the United States.
