IN MEMORIAM

MARY BELLE DONOVAN

In the brief space of two weeks death for the second time has visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Donovan, Bayfield, this time claiming for its victim their third daughter Mary Belle, a bright and lovable child, scarcely six years of age.

She contracted that dread malady Spinal Meningitis and despite the best medical aid and tender nursing she succumbed after a short illness of two weeks and her little spirit took its flight to its Maker on Tuesday morning, July 24th.

Mr. Donovan, is at present in Gloucester which made the parting still more sad. Suffer little children to come unto Me, for there's is the Kingdom of Heaven." These words of Holy Writ were comforting to the sorrowing mother as she stood with many sympathizing friends and watched those last sad moments for her loving child.

A large funeral cortage fol'owed the remains to St. Columbia Cemetery on Wednesday morning 25th inst. where darling little Mary Belle was tenderly laid to-rest.

She leaves to mourn, besides her parents, three sisters and one brother to cherish her fond memory.

"She is not dead, the child of our affection
But gone unto that school,
Where she no longer needs our protection
For Christ Himself doth rule.
In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion
By guardian angles led,
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,
She lives, whom we call dead.

Further Details Of Quebec Railway Disaster

ST. JOHN, July 30.—Four railwaymen were catapulted into eternity, at least eight injured, four of them seriously, and many persons narrowly escaped death or injury at 6 o'clock on Saturday morning when the Canadian National Quebec Express, which left St. John on Friday afternoon, crashed into a freight train from Charney, Quebec, which was standing near Picard station, about 100 miles east of Quebec City, about to enter the siding to allow the passenger train to pass. The passenger train is reported to have been running four minutes ahead of time and to have come around the curve in the road so suddenly and so close to the standing freight that the collision was inevitable.

The dear, all of them members of the express train crew, are:

Harry L. Alexander, 79 Exmouth street, St. John, messenger.

Joseph Duchesne, fifty-two, Edmundston, N. B., engineer.

Arthur Boulanger, thirty-seven, Levis, P. Q., baggage master.

News Agent, name unknown.

The body of Mr. Alexander was brought here last evening over the C. N. R. via Moncton, and taken to Brenan's undertaking rooms, Main Street. It will be removed to his home in Exmouth street today from which the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon.

The Canadian National authorities at Moncton were requested by the Canadian Press last evening for a report of the accident but declined to give out any detailed statement until an investigation had been held. It is understood that Frank Griffin, divisional superintendent with head offices in Edmundston, will conduct the enquiry.

Piecing together the meagre details and unofficial reports of the tragedy indicates that the eastbound freight to which the divisional superintendent's car was attached, had stopped a short distance above the siding so that the brakeman might open the switch and the freight enter the siding. Suddenly from around the curve and a very short distance in front of the freight, the oncoming express flashed into view of Alexis Albert, engineer on the freight.

He shouted to the fireman and brakeman to jump. He jumped himself. The crash came. Both engines hurtled from the track. Four men were killed and from beneath the debris some time later trainmen extricated Albert, the engineer of the freight, with one of his arms badly crushed.

That possibly more people were not killed was due, it is said, to the fact that the passenger train in rounding the curve had decreased its speed somewhat. As it was, not only were both engines hurled from the roadbed but the baggage and express cars next to the engine on the passenger train were smashed up by the impact with the heavy freight.

Passengers sleeping in the first class coach were thrown violently from their seats and knocked against one another. An incipient panic developed in the car, and was prevented from assuming a more alarming aspect only by the intervention of the train crew. Calm was restored, medical aid was sought and train crews and passengers alike began the anxious task of finding and caring for the injured.

The injuries which caused the death of Harry Alexander, the St. John man, were mostly about the head. His skull was fractured and his right leg was broken near the ankle.

The engineer and fireman of the express were found under the debris of the engine but all efforts to save the life of the engineer was in vain.

After the injuries of the other victims of the accident were attended to the passengers on the express were placed aboard a special train and taken to Quebec where they arrived about 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

When W. C. Albert of Edmundston, brother of the injured engineer of the freight, heard of the accident he set out in his automobile for Picard, which is about seventy-five miles from Edmundston. He found that his brother was able to be removed and brought him back to Edmundston in the car, reaching home late in the afternoon. At his home last evening Albert was reported to be suffering considerable pain but his condition was not regarded as serious.

A wrecking train was sent from Edmundston and assisted in the work of clearing the track.

AN INTERESTING DEMONSTRATION. —A very instructive demonstration of the use of the Columbia Graphonola as an aid to teaching in public schools was given in Rochford Square School last night before an interested audience by Miss Skilling of Toronto, herself an experienced teacher and educationalist. She was introduced by Superintendent of Education, R. H. Rogers, who spoke of the wonderful possibilities of the gramaphone in this capacity and of the work being done by Miss Skilling who in the course of her demonstration gave a splendid address upon the phychology of child training in the school. The musical records used were of a special nature, being adapted to various grades, and consisted of marches, lullabies, and the simpler forms of classic music. The music was prepared with a view to aiding the children in their school work, and could be adapted to marching, physical drills, writing, exercises, etc. It was also aimed to give the child a true appreciation of the beauty and rhyme of sound. Miss Skilling explained that the graphanola is being used extensively in many Provinces and is proving of great educational value especially in rural schools.

In order to play a full nine inning game, the management has decided to start future ball games at 5.30 sharp. A large attendance is expected at this game Wednesday evening.

Doings In London

LONDON, July 30. —At the moment London is in the grip of a huge but friendly invasion. Never have the hotels been so full of visitors, from the Colonies, Continent and the United States. Everywhere one meets Americans most of them in horn-rimmed spectacles and Holland suits which look as attractive as they are cool. Meanwhile the home-grown Englishman clings tightly, literally as well as figuratively, to his conventional suit of cloth. No matter how brilliant the sun shines sergés and tweeds are "the thing." Up West top hats, stiff collars and morning coats are endured with patience if not pleasure, while the women in contempt of traditions are cool and comfortable with bare necks, bare arms and wispish draperies of muslin and crepe-dechine.

There seems to be a fashionable exodus overseas, as not only is the Prince of Wales to enjoy an autumnal holiday on his ranch in Alberta but Eleanora Duse is to visit Montreal following her appearance in New York. The increase in the number of passengers to the Dominions during the last month is possibly not unaffected by the enforcement of "dry" ships by Washington. The arrival of the Leviathan, the much-heralded t etotal liner, has caused much amusement over here. Every passenger was allowed to bring on board his or her private stock of liquor which they were permitted to hand round to their friends at meals, always providing that none of the ship's officials were asked to touch the pernicious stuff either in glass or in bottle.

Everyone is much interested in the visit of the British Ladies Lawn Tennis team to Canada. The team will first compete in tournaments in the United States arriving in the Dominion towards the end of August, when it is hoped that Canadian talent will be ready to meet the home-grown variety.

"The "Playbox", a part of the "Help the Theatre" movement started by Mr. Basil Dean, opened on Thursday last with John Masefield's "Melloney Hotspur". The play is one of ghostly interest and centres on the idea that the dean has an active influence on the lives of the friends and relatives. The spiritualists are very keen on this latest manifestation of the power of spooks and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle is likely to put in an appearance at the debate on the meaning of the drama which takes place next week. This is but one of the signs that show how the theatrical season has gained in impetus these last few weeks. A number of new productions are announced and despite the wonderful weather the theatres are full.

1873 1923 Announcement

THE FIFTIETH ANNUAL TERM OF THE CHARLOTTETOWN BUSINESS COLLEGE WILL OPEN ON WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 5th, 1923

No pains will be spared to make this—the GOLDEN JUBILEE term—the greatest, the most interesting and instructive ever presented by this popular institution of learning.

FORMER GRADUATES now among the leading professional and business men of the day—are lending their hearty support and co-operation to suitably mark this notable event.

FEW COLLEGES IN CANADA or elsewhere can boast of such steady progress and influence as that obtained by the CHARLOTTETOWN BUSINESS COLLEGE, and fewer still can produce a more notable record of results achieved The C. B. C. is known almost as well in Western Canada and the United States as at home, because of the splendid satisfaction, its graduates are giving wherever employed. This is one of the great reasons for the universal demand for C. B. C. trained young men and women. The College has established a national reputation for honest work, and the engaging public appreciate its efforts. While unemployment is engaging the minds of our public men, the most serious problem with the Charlottetown Business College is to supply the demand for trained help. Our graduates are not book worms, they are practical young men and women, trained in a school of ACTUAL BUSINESS PRACTICE and they fit into positions with the ease of experienced employees because of their business experience under the most strict discipline in College. Last term there was a good attendance but even now our graduates are nearly all located in good positions. Can YOU account for it? We can. This has been achieved not by glaring advertising, but by honest work in the class-rooms. Business and professional men know it, and nothing pays like it. Students may not realize it at the time, especially those who wish to attend where they can have—as they term it—a good time. Such usually have lots of time to enjoy themselves after their college course. Newspaper advertising brings quick results, but not so lasting as honest, practical work in the class-room. Such has been our experience during the last FIFTY years, and we are content to continue along the same lines.

Young MEN and WOMEN who desire to be independent; who desire to prepare for an ACTIVE life where their remuneration will be commensurate with their services should get into line AT ONCE and send in their applications for the term beginning September 5th.

EVERYWHERE indications point to increasing prosperity in trade, and this creates an increasing demand for trained help. IF YOU are in any way AMBITIOUS NOW IS THE TIME to arrange for your education. Your future will be bright and happy, or the reverse, according as you do this or neglect it. The Past is gone; the FUTURE is YOURS. Let us assist you in shaping it. Write today for particulars and see what we can do for YOU.—L. B. Miller, Principal, Charlottetown. 1i

MR. JAMES HENRY GREGOR

The death occurred in this city yesterday morning of Mr. James Henry Gregor aged 73.

Mr. Gregor resided for many years at Brackley Beach, where he was successfully engaged in farming.

Seven years ago he retired from active work and came to reside in Charlottetown, where he passed away at his residence, Elm Avenue.

Mr. Gregor took ill about a year ago when he underwent an operation in Montreal. Although this brought an improvement in his condition, it was unfortunately but temporary, and since then he gradually failed, until death called him to his Eternal Home.

Mr. Gregor was a splendid specimen of physical manhood and possessed qualities of mind and heart which made him a general favorite. He was a gentleman of the highest integrity whose life and work will remain an inspiration for succeeding generations.

He leaves to mourn a widow, one son Charles at Brackley Beach, also two daughters, Miss Annie Gregor of Charlottetown and Mrs. Percy Bryenton of Calgary the latter having arrived on the Island this summer.

The funeral takes place today at 3 p. m. to the Peoples Cemetery.
