NOT ABLE TO
enough, but Prince Edward Island has come a long way in its claims when she can give public services equivalent to other Provinces. I do not yet say that we get more than 85 per cent of the average public services in Canada, but this is an improvement over what we used to get, which was about 60 or 65 per cent."
This Province, he maintained, is fortunate with regard to Federal taxes. For every dollar collected by the Dominion this year, 15 1-2 cents goes to war veterans for medical services, re-establishment, etc.; 24 cents goes to paying the interest on the national debt; 13 cents goes to pay family allowances which come to this Province at the rate of about $2,228,000 annually; 1 1-3 cent on every dollar goes to pay the Federal contributions to old age pensions; other 12 cents to maintain the army, navy, and air force.
Premier Jones thought it was "hardly to be expected" that Federal taxes would be lowered very much under present conditions. They were, he maintained, not so onerous compared with other countries. He instanced Great Britain and United States in this connection.
So far as Prince Edward Island was concerned, "even if we produced a great surplus on current account I wouldn't be too sure that you would find it could be distributed; because the 'Bible' of our provincial departments is the report of the Reconstruction Committee, and only on two projects—education and grants to hospitals—have the recommendations of that Committee been carried out. The money will be put by us over this year until the Dominion can proceed with the other elements of the Dominion-Provincial agreements—namely, social security and public investment."
"We have received a promise already that if a national highway is built, it will go from ferry to ferry on this Island, and a Federal contribution will be made."
Dealing with education, the Premier said the amount recommended by the Reconstruction Committee had been expended. Figures published by the Canadian Educational Association indicated that the percentage of increase for rural teachers was greater than in any other Province. Up to last year $730 was the average here, and it has now been raised to $1,008.75, an increase of about 38 per cent.

Grants To Hospitals
In hospital grants the Premier said that the full amount asked for—75 cents per patient per day—had been given to all the hospitals. The Government in its election campaign had promised to extend this grant to rural places where a qualified nurse was conducting an establishment approved by the Government. "I am inclined to think the Government might favorably consider the establishment of more of these hospitals," he said. "If rural doctors can handle patients near their own doors they can effect great savings, especially in such cases as maternity. He instanced high hospital expenses. In one case amounting to $25 a day. "The Premier questioned whether any hospital in this Province charged that amount.
Premier Jones said this included three nurses a day at $5 each. Dr. MacMillan: "Did you say the hospitals get 75 cents per patient per day? That is incorrect. We asked you to increase the grant by $1.00, but actually we are getting only 50 cents now."
Premier Jones maintained that the amount was $75 cents. (Later he explained that a regrettable clerical error had occurred. An order-in-council had been passed on April 25 last year, fixing the amount at 50 cents, but on the following May 20 this order had been rescinded and the grant to each hospital raised to 75 cents per patient per day. Through an oversight the order-in-council did not change the original figure, and the hospitals have only been receiving the original grant. This matter would be rectified at once, and the increased grant paid as from the date of the order.)
The Government, Premier Jones maintained, had treated Charlottetown generously. Last year it paid the city a bonus of $150,000 per head, also amounting to $150,000 per head. He said the engineer states that if the conditions are favorable, there would be no difficulty of putting the city getting the fines which amounted to another $110,000. The Government purchased an "eyesore" at the east end of the city, filled it up and levelled it at a cost of several thousand dollars. This winter the provided three big machines for snow fighting on the city streets. They also built a parking space around Queen Square at a cost of $2,000, and assisted in constructing a Memorial Track at Victoria Park. There were also the various public buildings and institutions in and around Charlottetown, towards which the Government contributed.
"I was just thinking that if Georgetown were the seat of Government, enjoying all these advantages, its population would go up immediately by three or four thousand and the population of Charlottetown would decline," the Premier said.
Mr. Sayers: "That is where Captain Holland wanted it to go."
Premier Jones: "If Summerside had it I can imagine that their population would now be 10,000 and Charlottetown's would decline proportionately."
Ch'town & Royalty
Referring to the Opposition leader's statement that on a population basis Charlottetown should have three additional members in the Legislature, the Premier interpreted this as meaning that the representation of some of the smaller districts should be wiped out.

NOT ABLE TO
Dr. MacMillan: "That was not the statement I made. I didn't say that the representation of any country district should be wiped out."
Premier Jones: "But you said Charlottetown should have more members?"
Premier Jones: "Certainly. That is plain to anyone."
Premier Jones said this argument was based on representation by population. The leader of the Opposition had put up a different argument. Four years ago at a King's County meeting, when he claimed that King's County, based on its ten seats in the House, should have three Cabinet members.
Dr. MacMillan: "So they should; and you have got a good chance now to take another member from King's County, and give them justice."
Premier Jones: "That is not representation by population. The two things are not in line."
Dr. MacMillan: "You had five wards discriminated against King's County. You had better straighten it out."
Premier Jones: "What about representation by population?"
Dr. MacMillan: "You are just putting up a straw man and trying to batter it down."
Premier Jones said that if the constituency of Charlottetown and Royalty were divided, two of the proposed new members would be for Royalty. Such a division might be an improvement because of the questions that have arisen with respect to building and sanitary requirements in suburban areas.
Dr. MacMillan: "That is not a City responsibility."
Premier Jones said the Government had spent some $8,000 in Royalty, in the interests of health, and this was just a beginning. "I understand that the people of the Royalty do not want to incorporate, even though, by doing so they could draw $5,000 from this Government annually, and that they would pay the interest on the money which would be necessary to install the water there."
Dr. MacMillan: "What are you going to do about it?"
Premier Jones: "It is up to you; you represent them."
Dr. MacMillan: "Oh no; I am not the Government."
Premier Jones referred to a speech made in Georgetown by the Opposition leader, criticizing the Civil Service Act. The Liberals were responsible for bringing that Act into force, but the present Government had also reason to find fault with it, because it involved appeal to the Courts before an official could be dismissed. "If we do dismiss a man, and we appeal to the Courts, the Courts do not support us," he complained. "Some of us feel that we might at least have authority to dismiss an incompetent servant. Maybe that Act could be changed?"
Dr. MacMillan: "You want to overrule the Courts?"
Premier Jones: "You wanted to do that in Georgetown, but for a different reason."
Mussel Mud Prospects
The Opposition leader had asked him to join with the two other Maritime Premiers in making representations to Ottawa, referring specifically to the recent conference between them and members of the Cabinet regarding reclamation of marshlands. The Premier referred in this connection to dykes constructed in this Province by the early French settlers and to subsequent attempts made at reclamation. He pictured the advantages of restoring such lands to be used for growing cranberries, etc. There would be an opportunity, he presumed, of getting Ottawa to such a purpose from Nova Scotia as well as Brunswick are doing. He understood that a proper thing to do under the same grant would be to raise some of the immense quantities of lime which exist in the form of mussel mud in the river beds of the Island. Millions of tons of the best natural fertilizer were there. In his experience as a farmer he had observed that mussel mud contained potent elements to cure deficiency diseases in crops.
"I am making every effort I can this year to have a survey made and locate some suitable spot where a section dredge can come and work here for a month or so as a cooperative experiment between the Province and the Dominion, to see whether this mud can be put on shore," the Premier said. "The engineer states that if the conditions are favorable, there would be no difficulty of putting the mud up half a mile from shore, 5,000 square yards of it a day at least."
The Premier took a side shot at the C.O.F. and other socialist parties, criticizing them for their "intellectual snobbery" of their leaders in regarding the general public as "common men" to be ordered about from the cradle to the grave. He detested the phrase "common man," and said it was to the "average man" that governments should cater in this Province. This he maintained was being done. That was why the people had re-elected his government last December.

The Government purchased an "eyesore" at the east end of the city, filled it up and levelled it at a cost of several thousand dollars. This winter the provided three big machines for snow fighting on the city streets. They also built a parking space around Queen Square at a cost of $2,000, and assisted in constructing a Memorial Track at Victoria Park. There were also the various public buildings and institutions in and around Charlottetown, towards which the Government contributed.
"I was just thinking that if Georgetown were the seat of Government, enjoying all these advantages, its population would go up immediately by three or four thousand and the population of Charlottetown would decline," the Premier said.
Mr. Sayers: "That is where Captain Holland wanted it to go."
Premier Jones: "If Summerside had it I can imagine that their population would now be 10,000 and Charlottetown's would decline proportionately."

Grants To Hospitals
In hospital grants the Premier said that the full amount asked for—75 cents per patient per day—had been given to all the hospitals. The Government in its election campaign had promised to extend this grant to rural places where a qualified nurse was conducting an establishment approved by the Government. "I am inclined to think the Government might favorably consider the establishment of more of these hospitals," he said. "If rural doctors can handle patients near their own doors they can effect great savings, especially in such cases as maternity. He instanced high hospital expenses. In one case amounting to $25 a day. "The Premier questioned whether any hospital in this Province charged that amount.
Premier Jones said this included three nurses a day at $5 each. Dr. MacMillan: "Did you say the hospitals get 75 cents per patient per day? That is incorrect. We asked you to increase the grant by $1.00, but actually we are getting only 50 cents now."
Premier Jones maintained that the amount was $75 cents. (Later he explained that a regrettable clerical error had occurred. An order-in-council had been passed on April 25 last year, fixing the amount at 50 cents, but on the following May 20 this order had been rescinded and the grant to each hospital raised to 75 cents per patient per day. Through an oversight the order-in-council did not change the original figure, and the hospitals have only been receiving the original grant. This matter would be rectified at once, and the increased grant paid as from the date of the order.)
The Government, Premier Jones maintained, had treated Charlottetown generously. Last year it paid the city a bonus of $150,000 per head, also amounting to $150,000 per head. He said the engineer states that if the conditions are favorable, there would be no difficulty of putting the city getting the fines which amounted to another $110,000. R.C.M.P. Report On Enforcement Of Prohibition
Indications of a "satisfactory improvement" in liquor conditions during the calendar year, 1947 are reported by Superintendent N. Anderson, commanding "L" Division of the R. C. M. P., in a statement to the Attorney General which has tabled in the Legislature this week. The statement follows:
"During the period under review 2032 investigations were conducted resulting in 329 seizures, 519 prosecutions, 477 convictions, 9 withdrawals and 16 dismissals; compared with 1519 investigations, 304 seizures, 571 prosecutions and 543 convictions during the year 1946. The decrease of 62 prosecutions from the previous year may be attributed to the vigorous enforcement during the previous year of 1946 and to a more settled condition existing in 1947 with consequent greater regard for the Prohibition Act.
"The aforementioned investigations include 1458 non-resultant Searches conducted, chiefly in the city of Summerside and the town of Summerside.
In addition to the investigations, etc. made under the Prohibition Act, there were 837 investigations including non-resultant Searches and 62 convictions under the Excise Act. Seizures included 29 complete stills and 5 motor cars.
The total wash, beer, spirits and extracts seized under the Prohibition Act and Excise Act during the year 1947 is approximately 3974 gallons as compared with approximately 3323 gallons seized during 1946.
Total fines imposed under the Prohibition Act during the year amounted to $23,689. This amount on appeal was reduced by $300 leaving the net fines imposed $23,389 as compared with $30,793.25 imposed during the year 1946. The total fines collected and deposited amounted to $17,678.00 as compared with $22,333.25 paid during 1946. This is a decrease of $4,655.25 collected from the previous year, but does not include convictions wherein appeals have been entered or the defendant given time to pay. Of the fines paid, $3,040.50 was deposited through the Clerk of the Charlottetown City Police Court for convictions obtained by members of the R. C. M. P. Police in the City of Charlottetown.
Magistrates costs collected amounted to $997.05 as compared with $1022.70 during the previous year. In addition to these costs $33.25 in fees were retained by the adjudicating Magistrate. $692.00 was deposited direct to the credit of the Provincial Treasurer by the R. C. M. P. and $304.50 through the Clerk of the Charlottetown City Police Court.
From the foregoing it will be noted that there is a decrease in the number of convictions obtained, fines imposed and monies collected as compared with the previous year of 1946. This as previously stated, may be due, in large measure, to the very vigorous enforcement of the Prohibition Act during the year 1946, and a betterment of conditions coupled with a greater regard for this law.
It will be noted, however, that there was an increase in the number of investigations made and gallonage seized as compared with 1946, and while there appears to be a limited amount of liquor available to the bootlegging fraternity including attempts to smuggle Government liquor for the Province of New Brunswick, there was no traffic of liquor in large quantities. The general liquor situation indicates an improvement and is considered to be satisfactory.
