

Spring Medicine

Is a yearly necessity because of a yearly certainty,—the return in spring of such troubles as

- Impure Blood,
- Pimples, Boils, Eruptions,
- Scrofula, Eczema, Psoriasis,
- Biliousness, Headache,
- Loss of Appetite,
- That Tired Feeling, etc.

The perfect Spring Medicine, renovating and building up the whole system, is

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Which, acting thoroughly upon the blood, reaches and benefits every part of the system. Take Hood's this Spring.

My brother took sick last spring. After he had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla two days he felt better, and six bottles completely cured him. He recommends Hood's to all his friends." F. H. DENSMAN, P. O. Box 995, E. HAYNES, 4471 St. Catherine St., West-Montreal, Que.

The death occurred March 11, after a lingering illness from consumption of Andrew H. son of Rev. R. M. Bynon, Bishop at Law, at Lewisville, N. B. Deceased was a clever young man, being valedictorian for his class on graduation from high school, 1905, and was for a time a student at Acadia College. During last summer's vacation he was engaged by the home mission band to take the church mission at Metapedia in connection with the Campbellton circuit. Rev. R. M. Bynon, is a son of the late John Bynon, Tryon.

Rev. Mr. Bates, of Malpeque gave his lecture on London, in Alberton on Thursday last. D. Montgomery occupied the chair. The attention of the audience was captivated for nearly two hours while the learned lecturer discoursed on the historical, political, social and architectural wonders of the great metropolis. The scope of a renowned city offers for graphic description was taken advantage of and the salutary lessons on every new consideration pointed out not soon be forgotten by this fortunate audience. A vote of thanks moved by Father Burke, and seconded by Rev. Mr. Miller, was duly recorded. Mr. Bates is a man of fine presence, possessed of fine literary sense, and free from taint of narrowness. When he returns to Alberton he will have a crowded house.

The Harridan-Ormsley Elopement

Katrina listened meekly, for she saw that no suggestions were needed. The Ormsley blood was up. Yet even she was surprised by the suddenness with which Miss Harriet seized her by the shoulders and half swung her round as she cried, "If you had any spirit in you you would marry without my consent!"

"Elope!" Katrina's tone was horror-struck. "But what would people say?" the girl objected. "An Ormsley is above the vulgar criticism of the general public," Miss Harriet answered majestically. "And indeed you can scarcely call it an elopement when I will see you married and give a reception at the Larches in the evening."

So finally Katrina and Thorndyke allowed themselves to be won over to Miss Ormsley's way of thinking. That very old lady insisted on making all of the arrangements and was filled with exultation whenever she thought of Mr. Harridan and his discomfiture. She was the only witness at the ceremony, for when she suggested a few guests Katrina demurred.

"If I cannot have my own family I do not want any one but you," she declared. "I would have liked to have had those twelve bridesmaids," she added, with a self-sacrificing sigh. "They will all be there in the evening." Miss Harriet comforted.

So they were, but it was an eleventh hour guest that had the place of honor. It was on the way home from church that Katrina begged Miss Harriet to break the news to her father and to implore him to forgive her on her wedding night. Softened by the sight of the youthful happiness, Miss Harriet could not refuse.

In this embassy she was successful. Mr. Harridan presented a bold front, but he speedily capitulated before her eloquence. Miss Harriet almost forgot her former obduracy since it made her victory the more signal. Thus it happened that Mr. Harridan kissed the bride and drank to the health of the groom with equal fervency.

When Mr. and Mrs. Thorndyke Ormsley were driving to the station, the first step on their wedding journey, the groom gave voice to a presentiment which all evening had clouded his happiness.

"I noticed that young Croxton was very attentive to Pamela tonight. Does that mean another elopement?" Katrina gave a happy laugh as she held up a slip of paper.

"Did you not see this stupid boy? It is Aunt Harriet's present to me, a check for $5,000. She said she wanted me to be sure of my welcome in a family. Dear Aunt Harriet! It was a shame to fool her. Yet I think she enjoyed it, and it was absolutely necessary. Part of this check shall go for Pamela's wedding. I can promise you that this shall be the last Harridan elopement!"

Dark Brown Taste
Your Head Aches
Tongue is Coated
Mouth Tastes Bad
Stomach is Sick.

The Gastric Juices Are Not Doing Their Duty and You're in the Grip of Nervous Dyspepsia.

A hot bitter fluid, and sour indigestible food rise in your mouth. Your vision is crossed with specks that float before the eyes. Very shortly you'll have nausea, rank breath, and sleepless nights.

What you need is Ferronone. It regulates the gastric juices, breaks new life into the stomach, braces digestive powers, gives the aid that's so badly required.

Ferronone is the best treatment because it goes to the root of the trouble, remedies the conditions that cause dyspepsia and thereby cures permanently.

If you want proof, read the experience of Mr. E. P. Davidson, a well known resident of Portland, who writes: "Ferronone is beyond doubt the most powerful cure for indigestion and weak stomach. I feel so badly diagnosed with me that I was almost afraid to eat. Peas and starch foods fermented, caused sour risings and gave me headache, brown taste, offensive breath, I grew weak, my weight ran down fifteen pounds and my looks fully indicated all that was wrong. Ferronone put me on my feet again. It braced me up, renewed my digestion and made me a well man."

Doctor and patients alike speak of the merit of Ferronone; it is different from other remedies, different because it cures so you stay cured. Try it sold everywhere in 70c. boxes.

Rev. Wm. Debon, President of the Conference, will speak in the Bedeque Methodist Church, on Tuesday the 19th inst. A collection will be taken on behalf of Education Fund.

His many friends will be glad to hear of the promotion of M. S. Brennan, son of J. P. Brennan, formerly of Alberton, to the management of The Metropolitan Bank at Wooler, Ontario.

Those who read the last Agriculturist, are now fully convinced of the truth of the diseased beef story, and are wondering if the disease wasn't hydrophobia, and if the editor didn't get hold of some of it.

Arrangements have been made to have the Rev. Tennyson Smith lecture in Alberton in the Town Hall to begin on Sunday afternoon the 24th inst, and continue during the 25th, 26th, 27th and 28th in the evening.

J. H. and Mrs. Bell of Summerside, after spending a most delightful winter in Charleston, South Carolina, are now on their way home. Mr. Bell expects to be on the 1st inst about April 1st. It is pleasing to learn that Mrs. Bell has greatly improved in health by her sojourn in the South.
