Rumors of Royal Divorce Are Coming From Austria Following War Scandals

A FEW months ago several official or semi-official denials were made regarding charges against Emperor Charles of Austria and his wife, Empress Zita. What these charges refer to is becoming known by degrees. The Austrian censorship has so far prevented a full statement reaching the wires in neutral countries, but the news is filtering through telling of a scandal in the imperial palace which is likely to lead to a divorce.

The Empress is accused of shielding and protecting the Italians. The disaster on the Piave was the result of a plot engineered by Empress Zita, the people believe. In Vienna the excitement of the people knows no bounds. When the Emperor appears in the streets he is received with cat calls and curses. Recently a man ran after the automobile in which the ruler was driving, calling out: "Fie upon thee, Parma!" Empress Zita is a daughter of the House of Parma, one of the royal families formerly reigning over parts of Italy. Zita's brothers are accused of betraying Austria. There is no end of denials coming from official sources. These denials, proclaimed even from ministerial benches in Parliament, show the seriousness of the situation caused by the reports, rumors and gossip affecting the imperial family. While some of the reports no doubt are extravagant the Austrian people insist that where there is smoke one is bound to find fire.

The first Swiss newspaper which prints anything about the scandal in the Hofburg, aside from the official denials which were cabled to all parts of the world, is the Thurgauer Zeitung of July 11. It says: "According to semi-official and press reports coming from Vienna, there are sinister rumors and accusations regarding the imperial family afloat in Austria and Hungary. In these rumors scenes are mentioned which are said to have taken place in the imperial palace. These scenes are alleged to be the forerunners of a divorce that would sever the marital relations of Charles and Zita. The great mass of the people hold the Emperor responsible for the defeat suffered on the Italian front. Emperor Charles and his wife, Zita, are said to have forbidden the use of stifling gases and flame-throwers for the offensive in Italy. Italian prisoners of war are receiving preferential treatment, it is charged.

"Other members of the imperial family are not spared. They also are accused of being implicated in dark plots. Two brothers of Empress Zita, Princes Sixtus and Xavier of Parma, are singled out as most dangerous conspirators. The fact that they were in the enemy's country during the war and the part they played in the affair of the Emperor's peace letter are being brought up against them. "The excitement is growing in Vienna, it is reported, leading to an incident in the streets of the capital where a man ran after the imperial automobile, shouting: 'Fie, Parma!' The Emperor was at that time driving from his palace at Schoenbrunn to the Hofburg. Finally the reports and rumors became so widespread and dangerous in their character that both Governments, in Vienna and Budapest, were compelled to public denials and corrections in the newspapers. Besides the charges were officially denied in the Hungarian Parliament, and Dr. von Seydler, the Austrian Premier, referred to the accusations in a speech delivered at a reception to the Austrian Deputies and at a meeting at the Vienna City Hall."

Emperor Carl's Titles.

The Austrian Emperor bears seventeen hereditary titles, representing the seventeen distinct parts or provinces making up the family lands of the House of Hapsburg. They are as follows: Kingdoms, Bohemia, Galicia and Dalmatia; Margravates; Moravia and Istria; arch-duchies; Upper Austria, Lower Austria; duchies; Salzburg, Styria, Carinthia, Silesia, Bukovina; "land" simply; Vorarlberg; counties, raised to principalities; Goetz-Gradiska and Tyrol; special crown land; Trieste and district. The tiny principality of Liechtenstein is a dependency of Austria. The Austrian emperor, therefore, is Duke of Styria, Count of the Tyrol, etc., bearing the title of each province separately.

A STATEMENT AND AN APPEAL TO YOU ON BEHALF OF THE PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND HOSPITAL

More than thirty five years ago the Prince Edward Island Hospital was started through the efforts and contributions of a number of generous and public spirited men and women. During all these years the Hospital has been the means of alleviating suffering and of saving precious lives and by receiving many very generous contributions the Institution has been kept up to date in equipment and enlarged to meet the growing demand for hospital treatment until today it is one of the best equipped hospitals in the east of Montreal. Up to the end of the year 1914 the receipts from patients fees, interest from endowment fund and some small contributions from the city and country districts were just about sufficient to meet all running expenses but with the tremendous increase in prices of everything used in the Hospital the financial problem became a serious one and we have had to face a rapidly increasing deficit which now amounts to nearly $6000.00.

Here is an illustration of the increase in cost of five items.

| Year | 1917-18 | Year | 1913-14 | Increase |
|---------------|-----------|---------|---------|----------|
| Coal | $3960.59 | 1798.15 | 2162.41 | |
| Groceries | 4038.36 | 1629.84 | 2408.52 | |
| Meat and Fish | 2084.91 | 764.41 | 1320.50 | |
| Milk | 976.10 | 603.60 | 372.50 | |
| Medicines | 1495.52 | 1098.09 | 397.43 | |

Total increase in five items $6661.59

And no saving can be made on any one of these items. The Hospital must be kept as warm, the patients as well fed as before prices advanced. No great increase can be made in patients fees as it has been the aim of the management to provide first class accommodation at as low a price as possible. Those who are unable to pay are treated free.

It is therefore up to you to say by your response to this appeal whether the Hospital shall lessen, maintain or increase its usefulness.

In order that you may have an opportunity of contributing Queens and King's Counties have been organized by school districts, an executive of three appointed in each district and this executive will appoint collectors who will call on you on or shortly after the first of November. Please be ready for them with liberal and increased subscriptions in proportion to the increased cost of everything the Hospital has to buy. It is up to you.

Give the collectors a hearty reception.

W. K. ROGERS,
Chairman Board of Trustees.

"Whatever is the Matter, Jack, You Don't Look Well!"

"Oh, I'm all right."
"But you're not. You look so worried and tired."
"Well, I haven't been sleeping very well lately."
"No, and you don't seem to have any appetite. I think you ought to take something to tone up your system."
"Oh, no, I don't need any medicine. I guess I will soon be all right."
"But you should not neglect yourself, for that is just the way I was before I had nervous prostration, and you know what a long time I was laid up."
"Well, I haven't any time to be laid up, that's a sure thing."
"I know what I am going to do. I am going to buy half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and see that you take it regularly."
"You know, Jack, that nothing seemed to help me like Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I am sure it will be just as good for you."
"You will take it, won't you?"

"I'll do most anything to get feeling better, for I know I have been losing my grip on business lately."
"I get up feeling tired in the mornings, and have to drive myself to do the work that used to be a pleasure for me. I have got in the way of putting matters that need attention, and hate to meet people when I know that some energy will be required to discuss business deals with them."
"You'll take the Nerve Food, won't you?"
"Oh, I'll let you be the doctor, and if the Nerve Food builds me up like it did you I'll soon get back my old-time vigor and be able to make things hum. I have been rather discouraged lately, but I can see now that the trouble is in the condition of my nervous system. So you get the Nerve Food and we'll see what it will do."
