Produces Chemical Working Cell Model

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, N. Y., Feb. 25.—Dr. D. T. MacDougal, director of the Tucson, Arizona laboratories for plant physiology of the Carnegie Institution, has produced a chemical working model of a cell, the unit of living matter. The model, however, has no power of reproduction.

When a "point of balance" is reached, growth stops and has to be started over, whereas in a living cell reproduction by division or other means to upset the balance would take place automatically, causing continuance of action.

The chief point of scientific interest, the article declares, is that the artificial cell will absorb five times as much potassium as sodium from a mixture containing equal proportions. A living cell will absorb 60 times as much. But, according to chemical precedent, the absorption should be in equal proportion, and Dr. MacDougal expects to gain valuable information as to the operation of the life stimulus from the fact that there is any difference at all.

Based upon the construction of an egg, the artificial cell has an outer protective covering of paper like cellulose. Inside is a sugar solution containing several chemicals, which attract other food chemicals through the cellulose, causing growth.

When a "point of balance" is reached, growth stops and has to be started over, whereas in a living cell reproduction by division or other means to upset the balance would take place automatically, causing continuance of action.

He was one of the founders of the Milan Rotary Club.

Falling Tree Kills Man, 24, Hurts Lad, 17

(Canadian Press)

SHERBROOKE, Que., Feb. 25.—Andre Pettit, 24 years of age, was instantly killed and his 17-year-old brother, Jean-Marie Pettit, was very painfully injured when a work yesterday on their father's farm about a mile past the village of Waterville and about 10 miles from here. They were struck by a falling tree.

European Trip

these played in the great fight. Visits were made to the cemetery and the graves of island heroes, and the speaker said that he was told here that positive identification of the bodies was necessary before the name was placed on the cross that marked the grave. He felt that it was a great inspiration for the patriotic spirit of Canada to be able to view the place where so many of our Canadian youth gave up their lives. It was pardonable for the Canadian people to keep alive the memory of their forefathers, but it behooved them to bear in mind that while all their ancestors were not of one race, they were all Canadians, and a visit to the battlefields was calculated to inspire greater patriotism toward Canada and to dissipate racial prejudices. To foster in the minds of the children the idea of one day becoming worthy Canadian citizens. Today Canadians were respected in Europe as never before, and the lecturer said that in Plymouth he had been told that the troops landing there from the Peninsula had been the most exemplary of all in their conduct.

Speaking in the same vein Father McDonald said that Rome was today a city of art because the Roman youth was taken at an early age and shown the works of genius that were to be found in the city. He himself had seen a professor guiding some thirty tots about eight or nine years of age, through St. Peter's Cathedral, and pointing out to them the beauties of the mosaics, paintings, and other decorations, to which they responded with the greatest appreciation. In this way was instilled in the young Italian the instincts of art, and in the same way the young Canadian could be instilled with patriotism and affection for their country.

A visit to Lourdes and its miraculous shrine, about which lay cast aside bandages and crutches as proof of its power in the cure of invalids and hopeless cripples, was the next event in the itinerary. Marselles they travelled through, the latter district being the playground for the wealthy and subsisting entirely on its tourist revenue.

The speaker in telling of their arrival in the Eternal City, Rome, said that he could not expect to give an adequate idea of the impression created by the first view of the goal of their pilgrimage. This was a task that many had tried in vain to discharge. Situated on the Tiber, all the native beauty of that river had been destroyed by the erection of high walls to prevent the flooding of the banks. The visitors viewed the Coliseum, the Forum, the Catacombs and other places of great historical interest. The Catacombs were particularly interesting as the hiding place of early Christians, and the place where their bones were deposited. The tunnelling reached a length of a hundred miles.

In Rome there were forty churches, all of them larger than St. Dunstan's Cathedral, and of these the largest was of course St. Peter's. The speaker told something of the history of the edifice, which was constructed under the direction of such famous artists as Raphael, Julian, and Michael Angelo. He then gave a detailed description of the Church which rises to a height of 448 feet and can hold between sixty and eighty thousand people. Its facade itself is a marvelous work of art and even writers of the greatest genius have been unable to adequately describe the beauty of the interior which is so well protected that at first one does not realize the colossal proportions of the works of art that it contains. Its lighting is carried out with the same eye for beauty and the whole effect is one that is not easily forgotten. By telling of some of the ceremonies that he and his fellow travelers assisted in at St. Peter's, by giving his impression of the funeral of the late Queen Mother of Italy, and their memorable trip home over the stormy Atlantic.

At the conclusion of the lecture a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Rev. W. B. Miller, and seconded by Rev. D. MacVicar, was given to the lecturer by the chairman Mr. John Anderson, and it was announced that the next lecture on Thursday week would be by Mr. D. Edgar Shaw, on Robert Service, the Poet of the Yukon.

Wants Ban Lifted

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The following statement was issued here late this afternoon by J. M. Patterson, president of Liberty Magazine which has been banned from Canada because it published articles alleged to be misrepresenting the life of Queen Alexandra and the Prince of Wales:

"We are surprised and sorry to hear that Liberty has been banned from Canada on account of its historical narrative. 'The Heart-ache of a Queen,' and we sincerely hope that before long this ban will be lifted."

DEATHS

McPHEE—At Bellevue, Feb. 25th, Angus Murdoch McPhee, aged 21 years, son of John Alex. McPhee. Funeral Saturday at 7 o'clock.

Song Recital and Radio Talk From C. F. C. Y.

CFCY broadcast last evening a brief song recital by Mr. A. G. Bruce, tenor, which was greatly appreciated by the radio audience. Judging from the large number of telephone calls received at the station and studio during and after the program, "Danny Boy" and "The Bells of St. Mary's" were apparently the favorite selections. Mr. Bruce's voice registered beautifully for the radio and it is hoped that he will consent to sing again in the near future.

The address on some problems of the fox rancher delivered by Dr. J. A. Allen, the third in the series of agricultural talks from this station, was most interesting and instructive and no doubt will prove very helpful to a large number of fox ranchers who were known to be listening. Reports from various parts of the island, as far west as Summerside and east of Souris and Murray Harbor, report good reception of CFCY in the last few weeks while in Nova Scotia a special request has been made for the resumption of the station's Sunday afternoon broadcasting, which was so popular last summer and fall. This request has been made through the leading newspaper of the town of New Glasgow.

Large Lumber Merger Announced

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The wave of consolidations which has swept through many lines of industry has touched the lumber business. Twenty-five lumber firms with a capitalization of approximately $40, million have agreed upon plans to join forces it was announced today.

Peter C. Warwick, Jr., of Richmond Va., is chairman of the committee arranging details of the consolidation which is expected to lessen costs of production and transportation. The names of the firms involved were not made known but they include mills retold firms and producers. This proposed consolidation, it was announced, was entirely distinct from a reported combination of companies on the Pacific Coast.

Bottom of Bay of Biscay Reported to be Changing

(Canadian Press)

BORDEAUX, Feb. 25.—Whether the bottom of the Bay of Biscay is suffering from a state of instability is a problem that has been given to scientists to determine. It would appear from reports of navigators during the past few years that the crust of the earth under the famously agitated waters of the bay oscillates with such frequency that it is impossible to keep records of water depths straight.

The captain of the French liner La Bordonnaux on his last trip from New York says he found 35 yards of water where Dr. Charcot, the explorer, recently found four thousand yards and where Lieutenant Cornets of the French navy, a few months ago found 135 yards. The accuracy of the soundings taken by three persons is admitted. The question is what caused the differences in depths between the soundings. Old maps which were long accepted as official gave depths in the region sounded as from 4,000 to 5,000 yards.

Not Treating Canada Fairly

(Canadian Press)

MANCHESTER, Feb. 25.—"Nationality in this country is not treated fairly," declared President Saville of the Manchester Butchers' Association at the Association's annual meeting here last night. "Why should Canada's cattle be treated as foreign, when Irish cattle are treated as English?" President Saville asked.

"Even if Canada's cattle are not given full freedom here," the president of the Butchers' Association continued, "it might reasonably be stipulated that the Canadian cattle should be brought to the abattoir under license to be killed."

President Saville said that if such freedom were given to the importation of Canadian cattle as is given to the importation of Irish cattle the butchers here could save considerable money.

General Brancker outlined the plan for a commercial air service to link Egypt with India and possibly with Australia. The British Government he stated, has granted a contract to the Imperial Airways Limited, to establish a service between Cairo and Karachi, India. Biplanes of 1,300 horsepower with a capacity for ten passengers, a pilot, freight and mail would be used over the route, which would be over Jerusalem, across the Syrian desert, Bagdad and the Persian Gulf, a distance of 2,500 miles. The Government will encourage the extension of the service from Karachi to Calcutta and Rangoon, and from there if possible, to Sidney, Australia. General Brancker said.

The Customs

the R. C. M. P. had done good work wherever they were placed but thought their training was not suited to the work. Criminal investigators were needed "not men with spurs."

It was also brought out in evidence that if the department was not satisfied with the work of officials at certain points owing to their having become too familiar with the local residents they could not be transferred save by application through the Civil Service Commission. It was inferred that the preventative officers might better be removed from the jurisdiction of the Civil Service Commission and be appointed by police trained officers rather than by examinations held by the commission at Ottawa.

Stillman Puts Up Trust Fund For Jay Leeds

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—"Substantial trust fund in behalf of Jay Leeds, son of Pio Leeds, former actress, has been established by James A. Stillman, banker. It was admitted early today by his attorney, Wm. M. Sullivan, who said that the fund, established last November, was purely voluntary on the part of Mr. Stillman. Mrs. Leeds, he said, accepted the settlement and made no provision. He declined to give the amount of the fund, but unconfirmed reports placed it at $20,000, with a principal of $150,000 upon his coming of age. Mrs. Leeds, however, will be taken care of after that time.

Many Americans Would be Barred

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—A bill amending the immigration laws to admit to this country all aliens except those found guilty and convicted of a felony has been introduced by Representative Berger, Socialist, Wisconsin. Commenting on recent exclusions based on grounds of moral turpitude and political attitudes, Mr. Berger said in a statement that the barring of the Countess of Cathcart, the Countess Karolyi, and S. Sakatava, Communist member of the British Parliament, discloses the danger of conferring discretionary powers upon officials who "may exercise it in the way our officials have."

If exclusions of aliens on the ground of indiscretions were to become the settled practice of all Governments, he said, many wealthy and prominent Americans would find themselves barred from other countries.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 25.—Ross W. Johnson, railroad detective, was shot four times by a man with a 22 calibre rifle in the railroad yards in Southeast Council Bluffs late last night. He probably will die, physicians said. Police of the two cities were working on the theory that the shooter was the so-called "maniac rifleman" who has terrorized Omaha five days.

Pope Rejects

the solemn occasion of the Consistorial allocation, December 14, 1925. But no fitting negotiations, or no legitimate accord has occurred nor can occur, so long as the iniquitous condition imposed upon the Holy See and the Roman Pontiff still exists."

This sudden and unexpected stand taken by the Pope is interpreted here in two ways. Some believe it shows the utter failure of the policy of concessions hitherto pursued by Mussolini, which has not succeeded in moving the Vatican a single inch from the position taken in 1870 when Italian troops entered Rome, depriving the Vatican of temporal power and giving rise to irreconcilable antagonism between the Church and State. Others believe the Pope's letter is in reality an indication of his willingness to come to an agreement with the Italian Government and should be interpreted as a clear invitation to Mussolini to speed up his offers as to the basis on which such a reconciliation might take place.

The Pontiff's letter certainly clears the situation between the Church and State of all its non-essential features, and leads the discussion back to the fundamental points of the problem. Reconciliation cannot be reached by half measures, is the substance of the Pope's letter, and the problem can be solved only radically or not at all. The next move is now up to Mussolini.
