

NUNS SEEK EMPLOYMENT.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Dues in the past few weeks it is estimated that 18,000 nuns have applied at various parts of France for domestic work in any capacity. They explain that by the closing of the convents by order of the Government they are homeless and penniless.

COMPLETE CURE OF ITCHING PILES

Brought about by the only absolute cure—Dr. Chase's Ointment.

The wonderful soothing and healing effects of Dr. Chase's Ointment brings almost instant relief for the sufferer from piles and its continued use makes a thorough and lasting cure.

Mr. John D. Martin, carriage builder, Kinross, P. E. I. writes: "I beg to state that being troubled with piles and having tried several remedies without avail I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box from Mr. D. E. Clark, of Orwell and am happy to say that after a few applications I find relief and am now completely cured."

DROWNED IN COLLISION.

ROCKLAND, Me., Aug. 8.—A special from Norfolk (Va.) states that the schooner Ella F. Neal, of Rockland, Me., was sunk off Cape Cod on Saturday by the steamer Nantuxet bound from Boston to Norfolk. Captain Thordike and three members of the crew of the schooner were drowned.

VERY REMARKABLE CURE OF DIARRHOEA.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller, of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. It was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Bosque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in a local paper. I bought a bottle and tried it. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me." For sale by all druggists.

WILL THE JAPANESE BE CAUGHT IN THE JAP MESH?

The above map shows more clearly than ever before the danger which has almost encircled General Kuropatkin and the only big Russian army in Asia. Three Japanese armies are now pointed toward a common centre, and that centre is the Russian army base at Mukden, with strong outposts at New Chang, Liao-an, and Hsiao-an. No hurry is being shown by the Japanese in their advance. They are convinced that the Russian army is a vast supply of men and arms headed for Kuropatkin are mere lies out of the whole cloth. Moreover, a large force of Siberians behind him, it is a solitary garrison would be madness. The wild country of the Amoor region would mean disaster on his armies and an impossible march of hundreds of miles, with starvation nearby.

HIPPOPOTAMUS HUNTING.

A hunter of big game in Africa writes: "Hippopotamus hunting, as a rule, is not exciting, except from a canoe or boat, where the animal has a chance of turning the tables. If a clean shot is made, he sinks like a stone, and beyond a few bubbles on the surface nothing more is seen till he rises to the surface, belly up, in from one to four hours. One can generally tell by the third of the bullet if the shot has told. It is mostly snap shooting as they blow, and a novice or excitable person will often waste a lot of ammunition banging away at every noise he sees bobbing up, irrespective of distance or position. The vulnerable spot is the brain, and it is advisable to wait for a side shot, when a bullet in the neighborhood of the ear will surely find it."

This hunter writes further: "When we camped on the Kafue, schools of from ten to thirty hippopotami were found together, but after being disturbed several times they shifted to a huge swamp to the north, where the only way to get at them was by poling canoes through about a mile of reeds and narrow channels to the lake-like patches of open water, whether they had retired. The only canoes we could get were dugouts, capable of carrying not more than three men, very narrow, mostly rotten and parched with lumps of moist clay to stop leakage. I carried my rifle, my gun, and my gun. The place was full of crocodiles, we had always a spare canoe at hand. We hunted them successfully several times in their swamps."

Being useful as butcher's meat, the hippopotamus were hunted so extensively. The hunter, Mr. W. C. Peck, says: "All the fat which we used for cooking was procured from hippo. We had to feed from forty to fifty natives living on the station during the rains, when grain and native foods were difficult to get, so that a hippo, even if he weighed three tons, soon disappeared into bilging. Hippo make splendid tracks across country between bends of the river, and the natives dig round, deep pits on these and cover them with branches and earth. The hippo, traveling along at night, drop head first into them."

British Peers Who Are Foreigners. There are several Peers of the realm who, while still entitled to enjoy all the privileges of their order in Britain, have become, to all intents and purposes, foreigners. Lord Taaffe is head of a house which was connected for generations with the noblest families in Ireland, but has now for more than two centuries been seated in Austria. The present Viscount, who holds a commission in the Kaiser's Franz Joseph's Dragoon, has no property in Ireland, but owns large estates and two fine castles in Bohemia. Another expatriated Peer is the Earl of Newburgh and Viscount Kinnaird in the Scottish Peerage, who is known in Rome, where he has lived all his life, as Prince Giustiniani-Dandini. He proposes to re-establish a connection with Britain by sending his grandson and heir-apparent to finish his education at Christ Church.

Important Social News. The Archbishop of Westminster has become a total abstainer, says The London Chronicle. That is an important piece of social news—the most important of its class made public for many a day. The Archbishop would be the last person to claim any credit for the sacrifice involved by the renunciation of wine as such; but, like Cardinal Manning, Archbishop Bourne has recognized the havoc made among his flock by drunkenness, and as he must preach, teetotalism to those who need it, he has decided to practice what he has to preach. The Archbishop's example will, no doubt, be followed, in course of time, by many of his clergy; and it wins for him immediately an increase in the loyalty the Roman Catholic laity has, from the first, ungrudgingly yielded him.

BAD BLOOD

Reveals itself in many ways. Sometimes the impurities in the blood mark and mar the skin with blotches, pimples, boils or other eruptions. Sometimes the result of bad blood is a debilitated condition which is popularly described as "feeling played out, hardly able to drag myself around."

The impurities and poisons which corrupt the blood, clog the liver and cloud the skin are removed by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does more than eliminate the poisons; it increases the activity of the blood-making glands so that there is an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It brightens the eyes, cleanses the skin, and gives new, physical energy.

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. "I thank God for the good your medicines have done me," writes Mr. James M. Sizemore, of Mitchell, Lawrence Co., Ind., Box 501. "I was not well for two years. My throat was always sore, head ached, and back ached nearly all the time. My weight was 155 pounds. I was taken sick with typhoid fever and when the fever left me I had such a pain in my side I could not breathe without pain. I thought I must die. My wife took me to the drug store and procured a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and a vital of his Pleasant Pellets. I discontinued the use of my doctor's medicine and began with the Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets. I at once began to feel better; the pain soon left my side and I could breathe with ease. In a week or so I felt so good I could not stay in the room. I began to walk about the streets. I felt better each morning. After a month's use of the medicine I was well. That was over a year ago. Now I weigh 184 pounds and feel better than ever in my life."
