QUICK ACTION IN FRENCH HOUSE URGED

Country Peaceful As Doumergue Prepares to Face Parliament With "Political Truce" Cabinet.

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

PARIS, Feb. 14.—Premier Gaston Doumergue, upsetting precedent, plans to face Parliament tomorrow with a demand that it talk less and vote faster toward a solution for the nation's troubles.

The Cabinet today agreed to ask Parliament for the first time in its history to vote on the budget without debate.

At the same time, it was learned that the Premier plans to omit the income-raising provisions from the Bill, and left-wing leaders immediately expressed the fear that the new government of veteran statesmen may attempt to obtain the necessary revenues by the issuance of decree-laws.

Country Quiet

As Premier Doumergue prepared to take his "political truce" Cabinet before Parliament, France quieted down today for the first time in nine days. The country was relatively peaceful. Paris was quiet. The death toll of a week's rioting in the capital and environs stood at 20.

"Quick action on the 1934 budget is imperative," the Premier said.

He is apparently so sure of a majority in the vote on the measure that he cast all precedent aside and made a flat demand that Parliament act with no debate.

Limit Debates

He also requested a sharp curtailment of debate on all ministerial policies, to permit the government to tackle France's many urgent problems quickly.

Premier Doumergue will seek the approval of Parliament on Friday of a resolution providing for an investigation of the Stavisky scandal by 44 members.

On Saturday, he will ask a vote on the budget without discussion.

The Cabinet during the day studied the debt situation and its relationship to the devaluation of the United States dollar, but took no action.

Ottawa Pacts Not Affected

(C. P. Cable by Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, Feb. 14—Reports were current tonight that the new Anglo-Russian trade agreement which will be ready for signature tomorrow contains a provision that Russia accept the spirit of the Ottawa Economic Conference agreements that no goods would be sent to the United Kingdom which would undercut British goods through aid of subsidies in the country of origin.

THE WORLD DAY OF PRAYER will be held in St. James Church on Friday, the 16th, at 3.30. L-473

EXCURSIONISTS ATTENTION. —With every five dollars of cash purchase at our store on Friday we will give one ticket for the Hawks—Abbie game. Kelly & McInnis. L-456.

FINED—A man charged with being intoxicated appeared before Magistrate MacKinnon yesterday and was fined ten dollars.

FLIGHT CANCELLED — The Moncton flight which had to be cancelled yesterday owing to the severe storm will be made early this morning.

STREETS CLEARED—The large snow plough was busy all day yesterday and until a late hour last night patrolling the principal streets. This enabled automobile traffic to continue throughout the city, although considerable difficulty was experienced and numerous cars became temporarily stuck in the heavy drifts.

LENT AT BASILICA—The series of special Lenten services opened last evening at St. Dunstan's Basilica. Rev. A. A. Murray, C. S. P., Paulist Father, of New York, who is delivering the sermons, last evening preached the first of a series of sermons on "The Beatitudes." Music was provided by the Corpus Christi Choir, under the direction of Mr. W. J. Brown. Miss Bessie Blanchard was the organist.

LENTEN SERVICES — The first of the special Lenten services was held last evening in the Holy Redeemer Church. During Lent devotions are held on Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays, with special sermons on Wednesdays and Sundays. The first of these was delivered last evening by Fr. Kelly, of St. John, N. B., who will preach for the first three or four weeks. He will be followed for several weeks by Fr. Enright, and the final sermons will be preached by Fr. John Gallagher, also of St. John. Music was rendered last evening by the Boys' Choir.

SHORT COURSES — The short course in Agriculture being conducted in Prince of Wales College by the Department of Agriculture is now in its fifth week and has maintained its high standard of progress made other years. The number of students remains about the same as at the beginning of the course; some who finish their work and return home are replaced by others who arrive to begin different subjects. So successful has been the course in Home Economics, conducted by the Women's Institute Branch and so large the number of applications for enrolment that it is planned to begin another course immediately at the conclusion of the present one.

Reichstag and Reichsrat of an enabling act, giving him dictatorial powers for four years.

Under provisions of the enabling act, the Reichsrat became practically superfluous because administrative measures, previously communicated to the states through the Federal Council, were sent directly to the Statthalters, or State Governors.

The council, like the Reichstag, has for some time been 100 per cent Nazi, and if it met at all, it merely said "yes" to any request of the Hitler regime. The Reichstag does the same, and may, in the near future, also be abolished.

Intercolonial Race Won By N. S. Schooner

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana, Feb. 14—The fleet trading schooner Mona Marie raced into Georgetown Harbor today an hour ahead of the former Lunenburg fisherman Glacier to win the annual intercolonial race from Barbados.

Her time for the 385 mile run—42 hours—was the best made in 20 years of racing. The contest, inaugurated last century, is followed keenly by residents of both colonies, and rivalry over which possesses the fastest schooner is intense.

Barbadians had hoped the one-time Nova Scotian banker would be able to show her heels to the champion Mona Marie. Built in Lunenburg, she was bought by a Barbados trading company to replace the Marguerite, wrecked off St. Lucia on her maiden trip last year.

To The Electors Of Ward Five

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Accept my sincere thanks for the wonderful support accorded me in yesterday's election.

Lowest Temperature On Official Record

SAINT JOHN, N. B., came within a fraction of beating its all time low temperature record on the 9th of February—32 degrees below. And with this low temperature, many soft coal users broke records for warmth and comfort by the use of a new coal introduced this season.

Broken to Nut and Cobble sizes at the mine and screened, this new fuel is sprayed with a secret compound—a new discovery. "Treated" in this way, the coal simply will not create dust in shovelling, nor, will it make soot.

As a result, heating surfaces are cleaner, combustion is nearer perfect and each pound of coal does a bigger job of heating than raw coal can possibly do. The product is known as Bradore Treated Coal. Ask for it by name. W. D. Gillis & Co., and A. Pickard & Co., have a stock of this new fuel and are anxious to serve you.

REFORM

Unless pardoned, his execution by hanging was set for 48 minutes after midnight Thursday.

Weissel was charged with supplying the staff of the fire station with arms and directing their attacks against loyal troops.

In outlying districts meanwhile Government forces appeared victorious after blasting the insurgents from their strongholds and seizing Socialist headquarters.

Claims Victory

Spokesmen for both the government and the dissidents claimed ultimate victory: 36 Societies were outlawed as being Socialistic; the gallows claimed its first victim among those who led the evil conflict.

In the ruined Floridsdorf factory and workers' district across the Danube a survey indicated that at least one woman or child was killed to every 20 male casualties.

Women in that teeming area fought with their husbands, brothers, and fathers through the night—loading guns, carrying ammunition, and firing from windows while around them bullets whizzed and walls crumbled under the shrieking shells.

Government troopers gained control of the Floridsdorf section and there followed a momentary lull in the strife. But this evening the fratricidal struggle resumed, the Socialists retreating from barricade to barricade as the firing continued.

The soldiers then turned upon nearby Garden City and forced defenders there to surrender.

In Linz, the capital of Upper Austria where the fighting started Monday when Socialist quarters were raided and Socialists defied a "government Fascist threat" and declared a general strike, soldiers and police had control.

Services Restored

The force of the strike waned today. Street cars were running and vital services were being restored.

Socialists were routed from their North Railway Station stronghold after a fierce encounter. Thereupon troops invaded the Vienna municipal apartments, shortly after dawn driving the stubbornly fighting Socialists before them.

From that point until a mid-afternoon lull skirmishes took place when the defenders, pushed into traps during running battles, renewed their resistance.

The Government gave out no details of victims, fearing that the public excitement would be aroused to an even higher pitch.

All Austrian schools, meanwhile, were closed for an indefinite period under a government decree, issued to keep children off the hazardous streets.

A re-organization of the Dollfuss Cabinet was considered in government circles. Men of rightist beliefs, it was expected, would replace three members, Finance Minister Karl Buresch, Social Welfare Minister Richard Schmitz, and Dr. Robert Kerbert, Minister without portfolio.

In Flight

Socialist forces near Bruvtanderdmur, Styria, were reported to have fled into a nearby forest. Fighting continued this afternoon between troops and Socialists at Fuchsenfeld.

Vice Chancellor Emil Fey, meanwhile, offered a reward for the head of the Socialist leader at Bruckandermur, Koloman Wallach.

Chancellor Dollfuss declared this morning that "the position of the Federal Government is stronger than ever" and that the Socialists' uprising was "madness."

"One may see already that this undertaking has entirely failed, and that the position of the Federal Government is stronger than ever," he told the Associated Press.

He added that railway traffic has been punctual and that utilities services continued. Dollfuss, apparently in good health but tired, inspected troop operations in Vienna suburbs.

Simultaneously police with bayonets fixed were deployed about the central savings bank of Vienna to keep in line thousands of frightened depositors who rushed to rescue their savings. They were apprehensive for their funds because of the ejection of Socialists from the Vienna Government.

Moving swiftly to punish the guilty in the disorders, a court martial tried a 43 year old cobbler and sentenced him to be hanged. He was executed two hours later, even though he was seriously wounded in Monday's fighting and was carried from a hospital to the courtroom.

Italian Troops Sent To Austrian Border Says Paris Report

(By Andrue Berding, Associated Press Foreign Staff)
(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

ROME, Feb. 14—Reports of Italian troop movements near the Austrian frontier were published today by the usually well informed newspaper Giornale d'Italia under a Paris dateline.

The newspaper added a footnote to the story saying that it did not know whether the reports were true.

The Foreign Office issued a denial that such troop movements had taken place.

Such a story in Giornale d'Italia—considered the Roman newspaper closest to the government—created widespread interest here tonight.

The reports, which originated in Rome and were sent to a Paris newspaper by a French correspondent here, and were wired back to Rome for publication in Giornale, specified, however, that the movement was made in pursuance of a plan adopted by the general staff of the Italian army several months ago for strategic purposes.

A plan to move 20,000 men from Verona to Bolzano, much nearer the frontier, was made known by military circles here last October.

The Paris report which the newspaper here published said additional troops also were being sent to Trieste and Padova.

Italy is viewing the Austrian situation "cooly," the Giornale said today.

Unofficial circles, however, reported concern existed here lest the Nazis seize the power in Austria.

Semi-official newspapers said the Nazi rule in Austria would not be tolerable to Italy, as an Austro-German union likely would follow.

THE WOMEN'S MUSIC CLUB

The Women's Music Club held its regular meeting in the Canadian National Hotel Jan. 27, Mrs. Reymond, the president, was unable to be present owing to illness in the family. The vice-president, Mrs. H. S. Henderson, capably handled the business of the meeting and in a nicely worded speech welcomed Prof. Roy Kendall, who was the guest speaker of the afternoon. Prof. Kendall divided his remarks into two sections—a brief resume of the romantic period in music, and a short sketch of the life and works of Robert Schumann. The paper was unusually well prepared and was presented in a most interesting manner. This was the first time in the history of the club that a gentleman was invited to give the address, and Prof. Kendall's efforts were greatly appreciated by the members.

The following programme of Schumann's compositions was carried out:

Soprano songs: (a) Thy Lovely Face, (b) The Cottage, (c) He's the Noblest of the Noble, by Mrs. Fred Nash.

Piano solos: (a) Why, (b) Nocturne Number 4, (c) Novelette in E Major, by Miss Nan Alberta Shaw.

Contralto songs: (a) I Will Await Thee, (b) The Lotus Flower, by Mrs. James A. MacMillan.

Soprano songs: (a) Du Bist Wie Eine Blume, (b) The Walnut Tree, by Miss Margaret Sterns.

Contralto solo, The Green Hat, byMiss Lillian MacKenzie.

Miss Jacqueline Macdonald, who had recently returned from a visit to Boston, gave the club a real treat in her vivid descriptions of the orchestra concerts and recitals that she had attended while there.

The next meeting will be held in the hotel on Saturday, Feb. 17, at 3.15 p.m. This will be an open meeting and anyone interested will be most welcome.

Board Of Trade Council Meeting

A Council meeting of the Board of Trade was held last evening with the President, Mr. T. E. McNutt in the chair.

Letters of complaint regarding the service on the Souris line were read.

Mr. S. A. MacDonald stated that he had received a wire from Mr. W. U. Appleton, stating that it would be impossible for the train to leave Murray Harbour earlier than it did at present. He believed that the Board should continue to press the matter, as the people were paying for a service which they were not receiving.

Mr. R. E. Mutch expressed the opinion that there was a certain element in Montague, Georgetown and Souris who did not wish customers to come to Charlottetown to shop. It was the people along the line who must be considered.

Mr. S. A. MacDonald thought that the Board should get an expression of opinion from the people along the Souris and Georgetown lines.

Mr. R. E. Mutch read a letter which he had prepared re assistance to the fishing industry in this province, and which he had sent to Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M.P., in Ottawa.

In the letter Mr. Mutch pointed out that efforts made on behalf of agriculture and of fishing by the government were disproportionate. He suggested the establishment of one or more co-operative packing and curing plants at each fishing centre in order that the catch might be properly packed, cured, and marketed, thus larger catches and better quality products would be produced.

It was decided to write Mr. McLure, informing him of the present situation with regard to the Murray Harbour branch service.

Mr. R. E. Mutch announced that an organization meeting of the Maritime Transportation Commission would be held on March 8th at Amherst. The Prince Edward Island Government would decide shortly whether or not it would participate.

Mr. Mutch made reference to an address by Mr. B. W. LePage, and stated that the Dominion Government was taking notice of the chain stores which were extending across Canada, and that an investigating committee had been appointed.

Mr. Mutch said that in as much as Hon. H. H. Stevens was taking up the matter, Charlottetown should be in a position to present information.

It was decided that Mr. S. A. MacDonald be appointed chairman of a committee to get information with reference to the investigation being conducted by the Federal Government with regard to alleged unfair practices being used by large corporations.

Two thousand prematurely retired railwaymen in Durban, Natal, petitioned parliament for full pensions despite the fact they were discharged, owing to depression in railway business, before the usual superannuation age.

NEW YORK EXCHANGE

(By John L. Cooley)
(Associated Press Financial Writer)
(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Stocks were quiet and wishy-washy until the last hour of today's market when a rally enlivened trading and brought a higher closing for most favorites. Volume, at 1,938,360 shares, was under the 2,000,000-mark for the first time since mid-January.

Metals again did the leading when the market decided to improve. Otherwise, there was a rather noticeable preference for automotive equipments, some motors and merchandising issues and a few oils. Net gains averaged into a rise of half a point for the price composite.

Tobaccos bogged down heavily, perhaps because of reports that one of the pacent cigarette manufacturers might market a new type of package at a lower retail figure. Cigarette shares sagged around one to three and were off at the finish, although above their lows. Alcohols had another dip, then firmed. Aircrafts found speculative currents more favorable and united rose more than two net while Douglas was up one. Mining issues still reflected expectations of beneficial action for silver; also national lead's earnings last year, equal after preferred dividends to $6.98 a common share against $2.92 in 1932 were encouraging; the company's stock did not trade.

Consolidated oils "recovery" dividend of 26 cents a share and a 1 per cent extra by Seaboard Oil gave the petroleums some lift. Consolidated figured in heavy volume but made little progress. Though Seaboard was up nearly two. Miscellaneous strong and active issues included Montgomery Ward, Eaton manufacturing Pierce Arrow, Hayes Body, Mullins, Park Utah Mines, American Smelting, Howe Sound and International Silver, which rose fractions to a couple of points.

American Telephone came forward toward the finish when it was learned that the company's December gross representing earnings on the long lines, had increased over a year ago. Steels were cheered by a higher overrating ratio, American Rolling Mills, U. S. Steel, U.S. Pipe, Gulf States and Youngstown gaining about a point each.

The weekly report of "iron age" placed steel production at 47 percent of capacity, a rise of three points. The review noted heavy specifications for tin plate and large releases from the automobile makers. Steel scrap is stronger following its recent reactionary tendencies. Pig iron shipments from middle western centres are said to be running 35 per cent ahead of January, suggesting that December inventories are in progress of liquidation. Electric Power figures for last week represented a gain over the previous period.

TO THE ELECTORS OF WARD FIVE

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Kindly accept my most sincere thanks for the magnificent vote accorded me in yesterday's election. It was a splendid tribute of confidence, especially in view of the fact that I made no personal canvass. I sincerely thank all voters, particularly the ladies who braved the blizzard and suffered such inconvenience getting to the polls. My untiring efforts will be directed towards proving worthy of the trust reposed in me.

Congratulations to Mayor Kennedy and my successful fellow Councillors. Regrets to defeated candidates, better luck next time boys.

Faithfully yours
PERCY W. TURNER.

GIVES VERDICT IN TRAGEDY AT TRACADIE

The coroner's jury impanelled to enquire into the cause of death of Annie Power, 18, whose body was found in a refrigerator car at Tracadie on Tuesday morning, found that she met "accidental death by asphyxiation."

After the verdict was given it was decided unnecessary to hold an inquest on the body of John Corrigan, aged 27, who had also been found in the car, as the cause of death was the same.

The first witness examined was Dr. Farmer, of Mount Stewart. He had been called at ten a. m. on Tuesday and found the body of the girl in the Clark Warehouse near the station at Tracadie. He felt a faint quiver in the heart and tried artificial respiration but without success. He then went over to the car and examined the body of Corrigan. He was dead, rigor mortis having set in. He could not say how long he had been dead. Then he went back to see the girl and found she had died. On being asked why one should have lived longer than the other, he said probably it was because Miss Power was found nearer the door. He believed the cause of death to be asphyxiation from carbon monoxide gas.

John Power, father of Annie, testified that she had been keeping company with Corrigan. On Tuesday morning he asked his son, William, where she was and he told him she had gone to a dance the night before. Later he was notified that her body had been found and he went down to the station and carried her body out of the car.

Alfred Smith, testified that on Monday evening he had met Annie Power and Edith Corrigan and went to a dance together at Corran Ban. They left the dance between two and three a. m. accompanied by John Corrigan. They all drove together in one sleigh and got lost on the ice. They reached Tracadie Station together about 5.30, accompanied by Fred Corrigan, who had joined them on the way from the dance. When they reached the station Jack Corrigan said he would escort Annie Power home, as she only lived a few hundred yards away. Witness left the station about six o'clock.

Edith Corrigan testified to going to the dance with Alfred Smith and Annie Power and driving back to Tracadie after the dance. They arrived at the station about 5.30 and she arrived home at six o'clock, leaving John Corrigan and Annie Power at the station. Witness did not miss her brother John until about half past ten and eleven on Tuesday.

John Edward Power, brother of the deceased, said that he saw her at 6.45 p. m. on Monday getting ready for the dance. On Tuesday morning witness went down to the station looking for sacks to bag some potatoes. He went to the refrigerator car about nine o'clock. The door was almost shut. He thought it would be airtight. When he opened the car he saw his sister sitting down in a vacant space opposite the door. Corrigan was along side of her, his feet towards the door. He moved him out of the way, as he was lying across her feet. He could smell the gas when he went in.

A. J. MacDonald, merchant at Grand Tracadie, said he was loading potatoes in the refrigerator car. He tended the fire on Monday morning. The fire lasts twenty-four hours. He did not know whether Corrigan had any experience with refrigerator cars. This car had been tagged "dangerous."

Fred Corrigan, brother of the deceased, saw the latter at six o'clock on Monday. Later he met him at the dance at Corran Ban. After the dance he drove as far as Vincent Lacey's where he joined the other four and all drove in the one sleigh to the station together.

The Coroner, Mr. James B. Johnson accompanied by Corporal Cordwell of the R. C. M. P. who went to Tracadie to investigate the case returned home by train yesterday afternoon.

Of the wheat in storage at Rotterdam, 58,810 tons is of Canadian origin, the largest quantity of Canadian wheat to be held in Holland for many years. The bulk of it is in transit.

Card Of Thanks

To the Electors of Ward Three:
Ladies and Gentlemen:

Kindly accept my sincere thanks for coming to the Poll under such adverse weather conditions and by your vote electing me as your Councillor. Those who through sickness or on account of the storm were detained at home or were absent from the City, I thank for their moral support. To my loyal workers I also say, thank you.

Now Electors, I trust that your confidence in me will not be misplaced, and it will be my endeavor to uphold the trust that you have placed in my hands.
