TO PERFECT WIRELESS.

LONDON, June 4—The second international conference of wireless telegraphy opened here with twenty-five nations represented by delegates in attendance. The British government is acting as host to the conference. All of the sessions will be secret, but it is known that the chief problem discussed will be concerned with better wireless conditions at sea. Of the nations represented all had sea coasts and the use of wireless by vessels since the initial conference in Berlin six years ago has increased to such an extent that new regulations are needed. According to a high official of the British post office, the problem of securing uniform wave lengths, whereby there may be no repetition of the confusion which prevailed at the time of the Titanic disaster, will be of the leading matters discussed by the conference. In this connection it is considered likely that international action will be recommended to compel the various systems of wireless now in use to operate with each other in the case of disaster and weather messages. Although some of the nations concerned have practically solved the troubles caused by amateur operators this will be discussed by the conference. The delegates were officially welcomed by Postmaster-General Herbert Samuel. The only social diversion of the delegates will be informal in character and the only trip will be made to the wireless station at Poldhu.

WIRELESS TELEPHONE.

LONDON, June 5—Paris correspondent of The Daily News says remarkable experiments in wireless telephony are said to be proceeding at Toulon on board the yacht Hironde, belonging to Prince Albert of Monaco. By means of an apparatus invented by Mde Lepel, the Marquis played at Algiers, was registered and definitely heard aboard the Hironde. The application of the discovery, which is said to consist in registering sounds instead of merely conventional signs, will prevent it is claimed, the interception of messages and lead to the simplification of the transmitting and receiving apparatus. "The opinions of two French scientists, M. Branley and Vivian, were sought by La Liberté M. Branley, one of the discoverers of wireless telegraphy, declined to offer an opinion on the ground that he knows nothing about Mde Lepel's apparatus, or the inventor himself. M. Vivian, of the Marconi Company, declares that similar experiments have already been carried out at a distance of 250 miles by two French officers, Jance and Colin."

DEMOCRATS WILL WIN.

The national chairman left tonight for Albany, and after a few days up state will go to Baltimore to open his headquarters there next Monday. If half what Roosevelt and Taft are saying about the Republican party is true, then that party ought to be indicted by the Grand Jury, said Mr. Mack. This country has never witnessed such a spectacle as has been given by President Taft and Col. Roosevelt, in the last two months. The American people have made up their minds to kick the Republican party out of power and it doesn't make any difference whether they nominate Taft, Roosevelt or a dark or brown horse.
