THE people of Victoria and adjoining communities were shocked to hear of the death of Mr. Calvin Howatt on the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 5th. His demise came as a shock to his family and friends as he had been enjoying his usual good health and was attending to his business as usual, when he complained of not feeling well, and despite the best medical attention, he passed away on the above date. The subject of this sketch was the third son of the late Alexander Howatt, and was born in Tryon seventy-two years ago. When a young man he emigrated to California, where he remained for several years. He returned to his native land when yet a young man, and took up farming in Tryon. In conjunction with his farming he carried on a large machine business, and representing the leading companies he handled all kinds of farm machinery and wagons. Retiring from the machine business, he engaged in the lobster packing industry which he carried on successfully for many years. He was also a large dealer in smelts, which he packed and shipped to American markets. Disposing of his interest in his son, he moved to Victoria, where he took over the business of the late Angus Breen, where he operated to the time of his death a coal and lumber yard, and general grocery business. A man of more than ordinary intelligence, he was well versed on the current topics of the day. Honest and upright in all his dealings, his word was as good as his bond. In politics, a life-long Conservative, in religion a Presbyterian, one of the most hospitable of men, none were ever turned from his door hungry or in need. He was a friend to young and old, rich and poor, and there are many who can attest to his generosity and kindness of heart, and a helping hand in time of need. It can be truly said of him: Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto Me! Two brothers, Artemus and James, and two sisters, Mrs. O. M. Mutart, and Mrs. E. Mutart, predeceased him some years ago. The funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Mr. McPherson, the well known pastor, Messrs. James Mullins, J. Smith, Thomas Howatt, K. C. Holms, D. Cameron, E. B. E. B. Interment was made in the Tryon Presbyterian Cemetery, followed by a large cortege who joined in tendering their last tribute of respect. He is mourned by a sorrowing widow, one son, R. A., of Tryon, and one brother, C. S., of Summerside and one sister, Miss Libbie, of Augustine Cove, and a host of relatives, friends and acquaintances, who feel in the passing of Calvin Howatt they have lost a friend.

Each package tagged with the name of the donor also contained a suitable verse of poetry. The packages were opened and the verses which were mostly original, read by the bridegroom and caused abundance of amusement. After the presentation of presents dancing was indulged in and during the evening refreshments were served. At the conclusion best wishes for a happy journey through life were extended the guests of the evening.

A motion was passed empowering the Mayor and Clerk to sign an agreement with the local government re the street improvement project. A number of other matters were dealt with after which the meeting adjourned.

MUSICAL TROUPE ENJOYED.—Summerside was treated on Monday evening by a series of musical entertainments features of exceptional interest. Those who were fortunate enough to be at the Capitol Theatre and see the clever work of the Musical Eckardts are nimous in their appreciation of both good music and skilful performance throughout. The comedy acts were both interesting and amusing to a degree combined as they were with musical talent are voraciously not often seen in the large theatrical circuits. The equipment which consisted of everything from a saw and broom to a five octave xylophone was of the finest quality but the crowning feature of all was the magnificent peal of Swiss hand bells which take the whole company of five to operate producing in a most exquisite manner anything from popular airs to standard selections. The entertainment is one of the best that has come this way for some time and we believe that the Capitol Theatre would be taxed to capacity on a return visit of these high class entertainers.

At her home, Newton, Lot 26, on August 22, there occurred the death of Mrs. John Murtagh, aged 62 years. Although she had been ailing for some time her death came as a shock to her many friends. The deceased lady was kind, considerate and charitable, forgetting self in her desire to comfort others. The esteem in which she was held was amply testified by the numbers who visited the home and the large concourse which followed her remains to its last resting place. She was attended during her illness by her pastor, Rev. M. J. Smith, who administered to her the last rites of the Holy Catholic church, of which she was a devoted member. The funeral, which was very largely attended, took place on August 24th, at St. Malachi's Church, Kinkora. The Requiem Mass was sung by the pastor, Rev. M. J.
