There are a lot of Condition powders on the market but when you have come to try them—test them side by side—you will come down to the one right kind, MacKinnon's Condition Powders—the best in the world. They are made after a formula used and endorsed by one of the most prominent veterinary surgeons in the United Kingdom and are really working wonders in Island barns and stables. Put up in sanitary tin cans at 25c. The MacKinnon Drug Co., Corner Great George and Kent Sts. Mtl.

IN MEMORIAM.

On the 12th of last month there passed away to her eternal rest, Anne, beloved wife of Michael McPherson, Cardigan Bridge, aged 79 years. She was born at Orwell, Feb. 5, 1834, and was the daughter of John and Mrs. Lemont of that place. The members of that family who survive Mrs. McPherson are—two sisters, Mrs. Peter MacMillan, Vermont, and Minard's Liniment Co., Limited. Gentlemen.—My daughter, 13 years old, was thrown from a sleigh and injured her elbow so badly it remained stiff and very painful for three years. Four bottles of MINARD'S LINIMENT completely cured her and she has not been troubled for two years. Yours truly, J. B. LIVESQUE, St. Joseph's, P. O., 18th Aug. 1900.

THE EVOLUTION OF THE OXO CUBE.

When Oxo Cubes were first invented they started out as a substitute for beef tea. Doctors and trained nurses found that Oxo Cubes were much better and more nutritious than beef-tea for invalids. People who drank Oxo instead of ordinary beef-tea when they were sick continued to enjoy Oxo when they were well. Soon it was newsed around that Oxo Cubes made a splendid drink when one was tired, restless, or could not sleep at night. Then athletes took to drinking Oxo on cross country runs, Marathon races, and other tests of endurance. Suddenly, the world awoke to the fact that not only did Oxo Cubes provide a stimulating drink, but they were nourishing and strengthening in the highest degree. In fact, that they contained all the strength-building properties of the choicest fresh beef, and were a positive aid to digestion.

Then some clever woman put on her thinking cap, and reasoned in this way—"If Oxo cubes are concentrated beef, and if they have the flavor and strength of prime beef, I ought to be able to use Oxo Cubes for cooking—I will try them." She did. Then she told her friends. They told their friends. And a demand for Oxo Cubes was started that has gone around the world, and put these wonderful cooking conveniences into thousands and thousands of homes. Ladies find that Oxo Cubes can be used not only to restore the strength and flavor to cooked meat but that Oxo Cubes are, in addition, an excellent substitute for meat, for curries, stews, and savory dishes of all kinds.

Another, and perhaps the feature which has made Oxo Cubes so popular, is their wonderful handiness. None of the disadvantages of the old-fashioned meat-extract and fluid beef are found in Oxo Cubes; with the result that jar and bottle are disappearing, and everywhere one sees, instead of them, neat, handy, tins of Oxo Cubes. They occupy hardly any room—do away with the need for measuring—and are always ready for use.

Garden Province whose efforts are attended with success at home. The Prince Edward Islander who is successful at home is a far better Provincial asset than the man who goes abroad to help build up other communities. The man who succeeds in making two blades of grass grow where but one grew before is in every way worthy of recognition.

Thoughts like these come to us when we think of the splendid work you have done for the Province which gave you birth. When we think of the Provincial Seed we always associate yourself with it, for it was largely through your efforts that this institution developed into the success it is today. When you took hold of this Seed Fair it was in a moribund condition; but you attacked it with the determination to make it a success, and how well you have succeeded the fair this year is a striking instance. Much of the great ability and energy you undoubtedly possess was put into the Fair; and the optimism exhaled by you became infectious. The Fair grew by leaps and bounds until today it is recognized as the best show of its kind in Canada.

But your efforts for the public good have not been confined to the Seed Fair here. As Vice-President of the Amherst Fair you have also done a great deal for the Island Province. The dairying industry, the raising of poultry, and other things pertaining to the agricultural development of the Province have all benefited by your word and example. In discharging the duties of the high office to which you have been called by God you have not been unmindful of your obligations as a citizen and have given unsparringly of your time and talents to the promotion of the public good. A broad spirit of tolerance has characterized all your efforts which accounts in a large measure for the success which followed you.

In asking that you accept this address from the Summerside Board of Trade, and the small mark of appreciation which accompanies it, we feel assured that we express not only the sentiments of the Board but of the people of the town and province as well. That you may be blessed with health and strength sufficient to continue the good work for many years is our sincere wish. Signed on behalf of the Summerside Board of Trade. WM. STEWART, CREELMAN MACARTHUR, HUGH McINNIS, Committee.
