

Control Your Coal Expenditure

In the Gurney-Oxford range you will find more exclusive features, more essential improvements that appeal to the thrifty housewife than have ever before been found in any one kitchen range.

But most important of all is the Economizer. This clever device for regulating the drafts saves 1 ton of coal in every 6 that you would burn in the ordinary range. It takes the smell of cooking out of the kitchen and sends it up the chimney. You know what that means.

The Economizer enables you to absolutely control the amount of coal you wish to consume and still have a perfect heat for cooking. It will enable you to keep your fire going while you go out shopping or visit your neighbor, and all that is necessary for you to do on your return is to press the small lever and you are assured of a hot fire in a very few moments.

A Gurney-Oxford stove is sanitary—no dirt can accumulate on its beautifully smooth surface.

Its top is polished steel which abolishes forever that dreadful operation—blackening the stove.

Of paramount interest also are the other remarkable and exclusive attachments—the Special Grate, the Divided Flue and the Broiler.

Every woman who knows owns a Gurney-Oxford.

PRESIDENT SENDS MESSAGE TO CHILI

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—In recognition of the anniversary of Chilean independence, President Wilson sent this message of felicitation to the President of Chili:—

"I take pleasure in extending cordial felicitations on this national anniversary, and at the same time I offer to Your Excellency my best wishes for your personal welfare and for the continued peace and prosperity of the Chilean nation."

GUARD INNOCENT GIRLS. HOW IMMIGRATION OFFICIALS

"There's a pretty looking girl," said a United States immigration official to a Telegraph reporter last night in the I. C. R. depot as a finely dressed and most attractive looking Italian girl about 18 or 19 years of age, boarded the Montreal train accompanied by another immigration officer.

"Such girls," continued the official, "require more attention on the part of the immigration authorities than other class of people. This young lady for instance has been held in the city for three days, before being allowed to cross the border, in order for us to make sure that she will be safe when she gets to her destination."

MAN WHO HEARD SERMONS OVER PHONE IS DEAD

HOLLAND, MICH., Sept. 19.—Ryer Van Zwaluwburg, 81 years old, a pioneer, is dead from heart trouble after an illness of five years. He was the only Hollander in this city who had written a complete account of attending public worship. He never missed a sermon preached by his pastor, this being made possible through the installation of a telephone equipment between his home and the church.

LONDON BUS MEN POSTPONE STRIKE

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(Special.)—The strike situation in London was improved last night. The bus men who had not already gone out agreed to a truce pending arbitration of their demands on the employers by the Board of Trade. Meanwhile, however, the motor men and conductors of the Tilling Omnibus Company will remain idle, which will keep 500 buses off the street. Two of the motor bus companies which have agreed to recognize the men's unions will continue to operate their vehicles, even if arbitrator fails.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Windows that stick can be made to move very freely by rubbing the sides of the jams, where the window slides, with soap or paraffine.

When the feet of stockings are worn out, cut them off and slit the legs clear down. Sew several together and use them to polish stoves.

Stains can be removed from wicker chairs and tables by using oxalic acid and an old tooth brush. Dip the brush in the acid and brush the stained parts well.

If stockings become stained from the leather on the inside of the shoes, put one teaspoonful of borax in the water in which they are washed. This removes the stains.

When frying oysters, try adding a little baking powder to the flour in which they are rolled. The oysters increase greatly in size, are "puffy" and altogether very delicious.

If the common weedy golden rod is transplanted into rich soil and given thorough cultivation, it will develop into a magnificent plant, five or six feet high, bearing great feathery plumes of bloom to beautify the garden.

Light colored slippers can be cleaned by taking a piece of clean white flannel, dip a piece in menthylated spirits and rub the slippers all over, being careful to rub the way of the satin. Do not rub them with any part of the flannel which has become soiled.

Bread should be removed from the tins as soon as baked and cooled in the fresh air uncovered. When cool it should be kept in a tightly covered tin box or stone jar. The bread box should be scalded and dried in the sunshine once a week. A cloth should not be kept in the bread box.

PICKED UP IN PASSING.

"What makes you stand on your foot and move your shoulders in that way?" asked the snipe.

"Well," replied the crane, "there's no chance of my learning to sing, so I'm practicing to see if I can't become a classic dancer."—Washington Star.

"What's the trouble, old man?" "I'm up against it for fair."

"As to how?"

"My liver doctor expressly orders me to eat sugar, and my stomach specialists positively forbid it."—Kansas City Journal.

"My," said the little mermaid, "what's the cause of all this commotion?"

"Oh," replied Neptune, with a smile, "it's merely an ocean greyhound chasing a couple of catboats."—Florida Times-Union.

"Are you superstitious?" asked the bachelor.

"Well," replied the father of a large family, wearily, "I certainly think it's unlucky to have thirteen children."—Judge.

"When I was your age," the self-made man complained, "I was not spending money that had been earned by somebody else."

"Well," his son replied, "you missed a good thing."—Chicago Record.

"Did the fish bite freely while you were out?"

"No, but everything else did."—Indianapolis Star.

"What becomes of your dash-hund?" asked the grouch.

"My wife got tired of swatting flies, and she gave him away," replied the old fogey.

"What had he to do with swatting flies?"

"It took him too long to get in and out through the screen door."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

"Yes, I enjoyed the voyage," said Mrs. Twickembury, "but on the whole, I think I prefer terra cotta."—Christian Register.

OLDEST PARROT IN THE WORLD.

At Tom Ugly's Point, New South Wales, there is said to live the oldest parrot in the world. According to a correspondent of the London Sketch this ancient bird has been 116 summers. At the time its photograph was taken the parrot, whose name is Cocky Bennett, was living at the Sea Breeze Hotel at Tom Ugly's Point. Its photograph was originally published in the Queenslander and was cut out and sent to the Sketch. Expert bird fanciers have been known to doubt Cocky Bennett's claim to having passed the century mark, but agree that the bird looks well and wise enough to be in complete accord with statesmen of about eighty. It is said that parrots, like human beings, after they have arrived at an unusual age, have a tendency to exaggerate their years instead of underrating them, as is the case with younger persons.

OF COURSE.

"Now, Johnny," said the teacher, "if you had six pennies and Charlie had four and you took his and put them to yours, what would that make?"

"Trouble."

It's no wonder Maple Buds taste good, and it's no wonder mothers everywhere are encouraging the little folks to spend their pennies for them.

Maple Buds are nothing more than the best of chocolate, pure milk and sugar—things the doctor would recommend to build up a sickly child. The most delicate child can digest them.

The distinctive flavor of Maple Buds is entirely due to the use of only the best chocolate. The fine velvety texture comes from grinding and grinding through innumerable steel rollers.
