A Money-Saving Bottle

A Bottle of Bovril in the kitchen will cut down butcher's bills. It enormously increases the nourishing value of food—in fact, its body-building powers have been proved ten to twenty times the amount taken. It must be Bovril.

Select Your Fall Suit And Overcoat Now

For several reasons the man who buys his Winter Clothing now will be best satisfied.

Prices of all woolen goods are rapidly advancing, and the man who buys now buys at the very best prices. The assortment of cloths is now at its best, and the man who buys now gets the pick of the best patterns and the nicest cloths.

A word about Quality. Notwithstanding the scarcity of real first-class woolens and the tendency to keep prices down by making inferior goods, we have held fast to our policy of "Quality first." All our new suitings and overcoatings are first-class in quality, latest in style, and bought to give that good service to our customers for which this store is noted.

About our Prices. We bought early, and we bought in the best markets, and we can say, with all safety, that no house can sell you first-class suits and overcoats cheaper than we can.

We want you to come in and see our new goods and get our prices.

Certain British Caught Bremen

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23— The German merchant submarine Bremen has been captured by the British, and is now tied up in Falmouth Harbor, according to a story brought here by Dr. R. Tait McKenzie, sculptor and director of the Department of Physical Education in the University of Pensylvania. He has returned to this city after sixteen months in the army training camp at Aldershot, just outside of London.

Dr. McKenzie, who was given the rank of major by the British War Office, said that he heard the story of the Bremen's capture on the fifteenth of this month, one day before he sailed from Liverpool for New York. He added:

"The story reached me from a very reliable source. The Bremen is said to have had a cargo valued at twenty-five million dollars, consisting of dye-stuffs and diamonds. Of course, official circles would not discuss the capture, and the War Office was silent concerning the sudden termination of the Bremen's ill-fated dash for the United States. I heard of the capture through a prominent diamond expert in London, who was called by the British Government to estimate the value of the diamonds in the Bremen's cargo. He told me that some of the diamonds were famous precious stones that belonged in Caanan. Of course, I cannot guarantee the authenticity of his story. Personally however there is absolutely no doubt in my mind as to its truth."

The report of the capture of the Bremen, Dr. McKenzie said, was growing with circulation in semi-official London circles. As a war measure, however, the news of the capture was not officially announced. It was withheld by the British censor. Dr. McKenzie said, a few persons were aware of the feat which under ordinary circumstances would have been heralded in the London newspapers.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On Thursday evening, Sept. 21, a few of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Fidele Perry assembled at their home, the occasion being the twelfth anniversary of their wedding. The party was a surprise, and as most of the crowd were in cheverie attire it created much merriment. However, after the fun had somewhat subsided, and Mr. and Mrs. Perry found out just who they did shake hands with, Mr. Raymond McCarvill came forward, and, on behalf of those present read an address which was accompanied by a suitable gift, the presentation being made by Miss Margaret Perry. Following is the address:

Mr. and Mrs. Fidele Perry.

Dear Della and Fidele: With the coming of September, we travel back in spirit to a time twelve years ago, when you sought the special blessings which God reserves for those who undertake the responsibilities of married life. That the blessings you receivd were abundant may be assumed from the manner in which you performed your responsibilities. Twelve years! How time flies.

Tonight a few of your most intimate friends, nearly all of whom were present at your wedding feast, are here not to take part in any formal celebration, but simply to visit you, to wish you well, and to mark the occasion with merry-making, not only for yourselves and Earl, but for ourselves also.

But the world is a place to which we do not belong, and some of your friends, even some of those nearest and dearest to you, who rejoiced with you at your wedding feast twelve years ago, are missing tonight,—gone from the world, our false home, to our true home, where we will soon rejoin them and where separation and sorrow are unknown. It would be selfishness to be sad at our loss, let us rather rejoice at their good fortune.

We have observed your happy married life during twelve years; we are glad indeed to visit you in your cosy little home which you have made for yourselves in spite of the fact that you have been allotted a good share of the world's troubles and sorrows incident to life on earth. We hope and believe that many years yet remain to you and trust that on some future anniversary we will all again meet to wish you God-speed along life's highway.

We wish you in the years to come, as few of the sorrows and as many of the joys of this world as are consistent with happiness. We offer you this gift and ask you to receive it not as a measure of our good wishes, nor for its intrinsic value, but rather as a remembrance of this happy occasion.

Signed on behalf of your friends.

Mr. Perry, although taken completely by surprise, made a very appropriate reply, thanking his friends on behalf of his wife and child for the kindness shown them, and expressed a wish that on another anniversary all might meet again to spend a few pleasant hours together.

Refreshments were served and the evening pleasantly spent in music, singing and games, after which the guests returned to their homes wishing Mr. and Mrs. Perry many more years of happy wedded life X

::NO SIDE ISSUE. The "YOUNG CANADA" School Shoes are made as they ought to be. In style they are distinctive. The making of this shoe is no side issue with us. It's our specialty and this is the day of specializing. The manufacture of these Shoes is most thorough. We use the smooth, even, close grain stock that combines most softness and durability. Not an ounce of shoddy is ever used in this factory. Did you ever consider why some shoes twist out of shape after a few weeks wear? The reasons are cheap pongy leather, flabby insoles and shoddy counters. A romping boy, a wet day, and you know the rest. Buy the "YOUNG CANADA" School Shoes. They may cost a few cents more but the extra wear and satisfaction they give is well worth it.

YOUR HEART

—Have a care.
—Don't walk too fast.
—And don't work too hard.
—You can make tests yourself.
—Say your pulse is 68 after a slow walk.
—After walking four miles in an hour it will be 78.
—Take a run on a hot day and up it goes to 140 or 150.
—Say your pulse runs 66 to the minute lying down, it will be about 71 sitting and 81 standing.
—Temperment has much to do with it. Napoleon and Wellington had pulses remarkable for their slowness, about 50 to the minute.

Circulation Prestidigitators

The sole object of the "A. B. C"---Audit Bureau of Circulations---is to protect honest advertisers and honest publishers, by doing away with circulation errors and the mis-statements of CIRCULATION PRESTIDIGITATORS.

Those publishers of newspapers, magazines, farm journals and trade publications all over America who form the great bulk of the membership of the "A. B. C.", believe that the man who buys advertising space is entitled to AN HONEST AND UNBIASED CIRCULATION COUNT—a count as dependable as a CERTIFIED CHECK.

These publishers, together with advertisers and advertising agencies, are spending their money to support the "A. B. C.", to pay for the services of TRAINED AUDITORS, and they ask the support and patronage of EVERY MAN WHO BUYS ADVERTISING SPACE AND WANTS TO BUY IT WISELY.

When you place your advertising with a publisher who is a member of the "A. B. C." you are protecting YOUR OWN INTERESTS and helping to place the entire business of advertising on a cleaner, sounder, and MORE EFFICIENT BASIS.
