

Seven times did the Israelites march round Jericho blowing their horns and shouting—which means you must keep advertising that you are there.

It is infinitely better to think of others first, last, and all the time than to grouch over one's own petty grievances.

SECOND TEST SHOWING GOOD RESULTS

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., July 24—A re-est of herds in Prince Edward Island, being conducted by the Federal Department of Agriculture, is showing results that are eminently satisfactory, said Dr. J. H. Grisdale, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, here today. The whole of the province is a restricted area and anti-tuberculosis tests were first applied three years ago. At that time the number of reactors was less than two thirds of one percent. From results already known of the second test, the percentage this time will be greatly reduced even from that small proportion, said the Deputy Minister.

Iceland Rocked By Earthquake

LONDON, July 24.—An Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen relaying a Reykjavik report, said that 4.45 (1.45 E.S.T.) the whole southwest of Iceland was shaken by a severe earthquake. No other details were given. Reports to the Mail from Reykjavik said it was the most severe earth shock experienced in Iceland for 50 years. Big concrete buildings in the capital swayed and the terror-stricken inhabitants abandoned all houses in a few seconds. The shock was most severe near Mount Hekla.

Estimates Provide For Diplomatic Representation

(Special to the Guardian)
CAPETOWN, Union of South Africa, July 24.—The revised estimates introduced today in the assembly provide for ministers plenipotentiary at Rome and Washington at salaries of £3,000 each (about $15,000) and in the Haage at £2,000 (about $10,000). The Union of South Africa heretofore has depended upon Great Britain's authorized representative for its diplomatic representation in the United States and other countries.

ISLAND LOSES POPULATION

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., July 24.—Canada's population totals 9,796,000 as of June 1, 1929, according to an estimate issued this afternoon by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. This is an increase of approximately 138,000 persons over the same date last year when the estimated population was 9,658,000. The report covering the years 1921-29 inclusive, further showed the Dominion's population had increased by more than 1,000,000 persons during that period. In 1921 the census recorded 8,788,483 persons. With the exception of Prince Edward Island and the Yukon all of the provinces enjoyed increases in population during the twelve months ending June 1st, last. Prince Edward Island's estimated decrease was 300 persons. The Yukon lost approximately 500 of its people.

Rubber Substitute Is Successful

SALINAS, Cal., July 24.—(C. P.)—Successful manufacture of automobile tires from Guayule, a rubber-producing plant, has led to an increased acreage of the Mexican shrub in 18 counties of California and Arizona. More than 4,000 acres are planted to Guayule in Monterey county, California, alone.

The development of this new industry has progressed to the point where 1,600 pounds of rubber are obtained from a single acre at one harvesting. Since it requires four years for the plants to mature, this is an average of 400 pounds of rubber per acre yearly.

Use of the Guayule plant, pronounced "Y-U-Lee," for extracting rubber is not new. It has been practiced in Mexico for more than 20 years, and from one to two per cent of all rubber used in automobile tires has been Guayule. However, the California and Arizona undertakings are the first successful efforts to grow the plant commercially. The Mexican rubber products is obtained from native plants that grow wild.

First experiments with Guayule in the United States were conducted by the American Rubber Producers, Incorporated, a subsidiary of the American Rubber Company. In 1926, 200 acres were planted, and each succeeding year an additional area was cut in until this year the company's plantings total 2,200 acres.

J. M. Williams, manager of the operations at Salinas, says Guayule rubber can be produced at a profit on land suited to its culture. It should be of light texture, free from hardpan, in a climate of not less than 10 inches rainfall in winter and level enough to permit the use of four-row planting machines and cultivators.

Guayule rubber is not obtained, as is Para rubber, by tapping the tree or plant. The entire shrub is plowed out and ground up. The fibre water-logs and goes to the bottom while the rubber floats to the top and is drawn off.

LADY ASTOR CENTRE OF STORMY SCENE

LONDON, July 24.—Lady Astor, tonight was told by the presiding officer in the House of Commons that he would be glad "if the Honorable Lady would kindly keep quiet." In discussion of the question of the removal of extravagant Boards of Guardians, Lady Astor had mentioned the word "corruption" in connection with the Westman Guardians. Three members immediately pressed her to name a single instance and on receiving only a general answer, asked her to withdraw the allegation. She declined to do so, and Jack Jones said that it was perhaps because she came from a country where they knew something about corruption that Lady Astor was so glib about it.

In the heat of his excitement, Mr. Jones went so far as to call his feminine opponent a "dirty liar." On the urging of fellow members, he withdrew these words, with the remark: "But they are quite biblical." Deputy Speaker Dunning attempted to make peace whereupon Mr. Jones rejoined: "I have had so many insults from this lady that I am resenting them every time."

Meanwhile, Lady Astor was arguing with another Leader member, whereupon the Speaker said he would be glad if she kept quiet.

"She sprang to her feet and said: 'I really very much resent that remark.'"

The Speaker replied: "The Honorable Lady has interrupted again and again and must keep quiet during debate."

The recriminations continued and Jack Jones again interjected: "I tell her straight to her cheek that I am a better man drunk than she is sober."

Blames Speed Of Modern Life

PORTLAND, Ore., July 24.—The speed and pressure of modern life were blamed by speakers before the American Medical Association Congress here for many physical ailments.

Dr. Joseph Eckel, Buffalo, N. Y., psychiatrist, declared that daily excitement not only affected the mind but the mental disorders due to the pressure of environment "may actually produce deafness, blindness or serious gastric symptoms."

Studies at the Cornell University clinic of patients suffering from ailments of the digestive system brought on by emotional strain were presented by Dr. George S. Stevenson of New York.

The pace of modern educational methods was deplored by Dr. Lloyd Mills of Los Angeles, who declared that its speed was not only conducive to ill health but also made accurate thinking impossible.

Dr. Lovell Langstroth of San Francisco told the congress that while most Americans had advanced beyond the fried-potatoes, sweet deserts and pie breakfast diet, the liking for menus conducive to degenerative diseases remained.

The speaker declared that out of 501 ailing persons studied, 88 per cent had been living on a diet chiefly of bread, meat, potatoes, sweet deserts and other foods poor in vitamins. Many of them improved on a diet of milk, fresh fruits and vegetables, he said.

VATICAN CITY, July 24.—Pope Pius XI will be protected from cameras by a smoke screen when he passes through St. Peter's Thursday bearing the Holy Sacrament. The Pope does not approve of pictures of the consecrated host being shown in theatres.

By a merger of bus lines in Scotland one company will control 500 buses.

Russia And China Are Mobilizing

Hostilities May Be Averted Through The Kellogg Anti- War Pact.

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, July 24.—Russia and China continued today to mobilize their fighting forces, concentrating them along the Manchurian border, and to make menacing gestures from behind their frontier lines in spite of the repeated promises of Moscow and Nanking that they were seeking a peaceful settlement of the war-charged dispute arising from China's seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway. Suggestions were made in London today that the Chinese nationalist government had asked the Japanese government to intervene to avert actual hostilities between them. The visit of the Chinese minister, Mr. Wang, upon Baron Shidehara, Japanese foreign minister, at Tokio, yesterday, was believed to have offered the opportunity for such request. There was no confirmation from any source, however. Attention still was centered here upon attempts of the United States to intervene. General belief was the invoking of the Kellogg anti-war pact would be successful in averting hostilities.

Japan is the last of the original signatory powers to deposit its ratification in Washington and upon this deposit, by its own terms, the treaty will go into force. Ratifications have been deposited by 31 other nations which were invited to adhere to the pact. Three ratifications for formal deposit at the state department were tonight enroute to Washington, those of Greece, Honduras and Persia. Action on the treaty either legislation or by an indication of intention to adhere has been taken by 16 other nations. Only two countries, Argentina and Brazil, have so far refused to associate themselves with the treaty by not signifying their intention to adhere. The treaty, under which the nations renounce war as an instrument of national policy, has already played a large part in world affairs. The United States has adopted it as the corner stone for future naval reduction discussions. The pact has played a large part in preserving peace in the troubles between China and the Soviet over the Chinese Eastern Railway. This movement toward world peace becomes an actuality in a little more than two years, after the first suggestion for renunciation of war was made by Foreign Minister Briand of France.

WILL FIGHT AGAINST SOVIETS

NICE, France, July 24.—Nobody has followed the developments of strained relations between Russia and China more intently than exiled officers of the old Czarist regime living along the Riviera or in Northern Africa.

Some of these men, ardently desiring a war in the hope that it might further weaken the Russian monarchy, have even pawned their jewels and borrowed money recently in the hope of starting to China as soon as war broke out.

A list of officers credited by the local press with having agreed to depart for the scene of hostilities at any moment and at their own expense, includes former Vice Admirals, Generals, Colonels and lesser commissioned ranks. Many of these men have spent recent years working as gardeners, masons, carpenters and chauffeurs.

Canada's Advance On The North Is Now In Full Swing

OTTAWA, July 24.—Canada's annual advance on the north is now in full swing. Four steamers are hurrying north in connection with the government's plans for the development of that great territory. Three of them are bound for Hudson Straits and Hudson Bay to provide aids to navigation so that all will be ready when the Port of Churchill is opened. The fourth, the steamship Beothic, is on her annual cruise to the Canadian Arctic Archipelago, where the various outposts will be visited.

A radio from the Beothic to the director of the Northwest territories and Yukon branch of the Department of the Interior today announced that the ship was headed for Disco Island, North Greenland. God-hava, the capital of North Greenland, will be the first port of call for the expedition.

NEW RESPIRATION DEVICE

PARIS, July 24.—At the international life saving congress at Trouville, France, it was demonstrated that it was possible by means of a new apparatus to revive persons, who previously would have been considered dead from drowning. Thirty-five nations were represented at the Congress.

GET BOGUS CASH FOR RUM CARGO

MAHONE BAY, July 24.—One of the biggest frauds ever perpetrated in the liquor traffic in Nova Scotia is believed to have been uncovered here today with the presentation, it is stated, at a local bank of $15,000 in spurious United States banknotes. The money is said to have been part of a $21,000 payment for liquor made by buyers from across the border for contraband handed over ship's side a considerable distance off the coast. The balance of the $21,000 was reported tonight to be in the hands of the captain of the vessel involved.

WELLS-BRIAND TREATY

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The Kellogg-Briand treaty, renouncing war, will become binding upon 46 adhering nations when the instrument of ratification of Japan is deposited at the State department and President Hoover formally proclaims the treaty at a solemn White House ceremony. Former President Coolidge, former Secy. Kellogg and a distinguished gathering of diplomatic representatives of the adhering nations, will witness the ceremony.

Japan is the last of the original signatory powers to deposit its ratification in Washington and upon this deposit, by its own terms, the treaty will go into force. Ratifications have been deposited by 31 other nations which were invited to adhere to the pact. Three ratifications for formal deposit at the state department were tonight enroute to Washington, those of Greece, Honduras and Persia.

Died In Hospital

(Canadian Press)
LAWRENCEVILLE, N. S., July 24.—James Rumsey, 18, of Lawrenceville, died in the Middleton Hospital today from injuries sustained when two motor cars, driven by Edward Archibald, 16, Halifax, and Leslie Beals of Bridgetown, collided near Paradise Crossing. Six other persons were injured, three seriously. They are: Leslie Beals, Mrs. Beals, Phyllis Beals, 5, Allan Beals, 11, Barry Rumsey, 15 and Edward Archibald. The crash occurred when Beals' car appeared as Archibald turned out to pass another car. Both automobiles damaged beyond repair, went into a ditch, throwing out all the occupants. An infant in Beals' car was uninjured. Five youths were in Archibald's car.

MANY TREASURE HUNTS BUT ALL FAILURES

PAPEETE, Tahiti, July 24.—(C. P.)—Treasure hunting may be on the decline in more populous parts of the world but in southeastern Polynesia the mirage of buried loot ever is an attraction.

The failure of one expedition to find anything resembling the riches supposed to have been brought to these parts by freebooters during the revolutions of the last century in Peru and Chile does not seem to deter the organization of a new expedition. They follow, one after another at regular intervals.

The atoll of Pinaki, in the Paumotu or Dangerous Archipelago, has been virtually honeycombed by treasure seekers. One man has lived there eight years dogging the coral sand from end to end, but the millions in gold and jewelled vessels that legends had stolen from rich church treasuries of Peru never have materialized.

One small island near Bora Bora was almost literally blown out of the water with dynamic planted by a yachting expedition from the United States, the grief stricken owner of it discovered when he visited his possession after the departure of the treasure seekers.

Panama and Nicaragua are to be connected by an air line.

Hogs weighing over 220 pounds were slow sellers and were not wanted.

Willingdons Call On Chief Justice Taft

(Special to the Guardian)
MURRAY BAY, Que., July 24.—On the steps of his modest cottage today Chief Justice Taft, ex-president of the United States, greeted the governor-general of Canada and Lady Willingdon. Their Excellencies who travelled from Quebec this morning for a holiday on the Lower St. Lawrence lost no time in calling upon Murray Bay's famous veteran settler resident. For more than an hour they chatted with Mr. and Mrs. Taft on the verandah of the cottage overlooking Murray Bay and later posed for press camera men who invaded the garden.

Later in the morning Their Excellencies went to Manoir Richelieu, where they were the guests of W. H. Ceverdale, President of the Canada Steamship Lines, for lunch. Their excellencies inspected the new hotel and particularly enjoyed watching the midday sport at the swimming pool where the orchestra plays while the water sports are proceeding. Lord and Lady Willingdon were especially interested in the collection of old prints, engravings and paintings of early Canadian scenes which decorate the manoir. Among the guests were Dr. J. C. Webster and Dr. A. Doughty, Dominion architect, whose advice was sought in the assembling of the famous collection.

HAS MADE STEADY PROGRESS

(Special to the Guardian)
LONDON, July 24.—The opinion of the royal household tonight was that removal of the court to Sandringham will not be much longer delayed by reason of the illness of King George. His Majesty sat up for the first time yesterday since his recent operation and tonight after he had again left his bed a satisfactory bulletin was issued that was highly welcomed. The bulletin said: "During the week which has passed, since the operation His Majesty has made steady progress. The purulent discharge from the abscess cavity has now ceased." The bulletin was signed by four physicians.

MACDONALD ANNOUNCES PROPOSALS

(Canadian Press)
LONDON, July 24.—(By Geo. Hamblton, Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—The House of Commons today swept from drama to drama in the most momentous sitting since the advent of the new Labor government to power. In attentive silence the House heard Premier Ramsay MacDonald announce the government's proposals of reductions in naval shipbuilding and in a veritable turmoil it also learned that in effect the government had dismissed Lord Lloyd, High Commissioner to Egypt.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Henderson, foreign secretary, said he had sent Lord Lloyd such a telegram as most people would have accepted as an invitation to terminate his services. His resignation had been received and accepted. Premier MacDonald first told of his conversations with the United States ambassador, Gen. Chas. D. Dawes, who was himself seated in the Distinguished Strangers Gallery along with other diplomats. The government's purpose he said, was to make the Kellogg anti-war pact an effective influence in international relations.

For the present the government proposed: 1.—To suspend all work on the cruisers, Surrey and Northumberland now under construction. 2.—To cancel the building of the submarine depot ship Maidstone. 3.—To cancel the building of two submarines already contracted for. 4.—To slow down dockyard work at other naval stations.

MacDonald said the British naval construction programme of 1929-30 would further be considered before any further commitments are entered into. First Lord of the Admiralty Alexander endorsed in the House a statement of Sir Austen Chamberlain of Feb. 8, 1928, that "preparations for war with the United States have never been and never will be basis of our policy in any case." The statement of the first lord of the admiralty was made to rule out entirely the United States as a possible enemy.

The prime minister said: "I am now in a position to make a statement as to the immediate intention of the government regarding the naval building programme. The government's general position is that the defence of the country must be devised with two main considerations in view.

"First, the chances of defences having to be used and then the efficiency and economy shown in their magnitude and character. The government has kept in view the changes in policy and in the problem of national security as affected by the peace pact if that pact is to be made an effective influence to international relations."
